Models, Mannequins & Media Collections

Media & Models

AISR's Learning Resources Department is responsible for non-print media collections, and the equipment necessary to work with them. The collections include over 2,000 video/CD-ROM/DVD titles, anatomical models, bone boxes and full-size skeletons.

Faculty may place materials on course reserve for use by Jefferson students. Most materials may be checked out for use; some are restricted to use on site.

Search the Collections

Most materials are cataloged, and may be found in ThomCat, the library's online catalog.

JEFFLINE

http://jeffline.jefferson.edu

JEFFLINE is the campus-wide information system of Thomas Jefferson University. Available 24 hours a day, JEFFLINE provides access to Scott Memorial Library services and other academic resources.

Anatomical Models & Charts

The LRC provides access to a variety of anatomical charts and models. Examples of the models available for individual or group study include heart, leg, arm, brain, and thorax. Charts include brain, heart, lymphatic system, and nervous system. There are also skull/bone boxes and full size skeletons. These items are generally for use in the Library or Edison LRC.

Open Access Computers

Open access computers are available in the LRCs and throughout the Library, Edison, and Jeff Hall. Computer classrooms are located in 307 Scott, 1300

Edison, and 311 Jeff Hall. Computers in the Scott LRC (Room 306) can be reserved for two-hour blocks of time when the LRC Classroom (Room 307) is occupied. To reserve a computer, call 215-503-8407. Faculty members can reserve any LRC classroom by completing the online form located at: http://jeffline.jefferson.edu/Services/Classroom Reservations

PDA Workstations

PDAs can be synced at stations in the Scott and Edison LRCs. Applications such as Epocrates and Nursing Central may be installed and updated with staff assistance.

Call or stop by the LRCs for details.

Scanners

Scanners are available in both the Scott and Edison LRCs for producing digital images from slides, negatives, pictures, and text. The digital images can be manipulated in Adobe Photoshop and used in applications such as Microsoft Word documents or PowerPoint presentations.

Wireless Laptop Computers

For those who want to be mobile while using a computer in Scott Library, the LRC has Dell and Apple laptops for loan. Full access to Pulse and JEFFLINE resources and printing are supported.

Laser Prints

Printing in the LRC is available with a VendaCard which may be purchased at the Circulation Desk on the 2nd Floor of Scott Library, or from the vending machine at the Edison LRC. Cash is not accepted in either LRC facility.
