PROJECTS — THOMAS JEFFERSON UNIVERSITY HOSPITAL

Thomas Jefferson University Hospital continuously examines its programs and services to insure that each is delivered in the most efficient and effective manner, and consistent with the latest advances in technology. This past year was no exception. Our 664 bed hospital offered a variety of levels of patient care which ranged from primary through tertiary, and also a comprehensive scope of outpatient facilities and programs.

The primary goal of the hospital is to render high quality health care while concurrently providing a setting that complements the University's education and research programs, all of which have a major impact on our capability to provide health services to the community. The health care field is constantly in a state of flux and it is incumbent upon hospitals to adjust in a positive fashion to change. Jefferson's programs reflect the positive attitude of the University.

The Curtis Clinic outpatient program is currently undergoing a major transformation. The final plans call for the relocation of all former clinic activities into the University's new Health Sciences Center, one city block to the east of the hospital. This relocation will permit Jefferson to offer high quality, personalized, comprehensive outpatient health care services at the lowest possible cost. The broad-based ambulatory care center was planned to meet the comprehensive and preventive health care needs of the community we serve, to complement the educational function of the University, and, in appropriate instances, to provide a setting for clinical investigation.

The new Health Sciences Center will permit a focus on primary family medicine in the ambulatory setting, integrating laboratory, x-ray, pharmacy, and other ancillary services in order that patients may enjoy "one stop" medical care. Equally important is the fact that one level of care will be provided for all patients, regardless of the payment mechanism available to them.

A number of physical plant improvements in the Hospital were completed during recent months. Included among them were renovations to the 6th and 9th floor patient floors, the completion and dedication of the Radiation Therapy Center, the relocation of the Heart Station to completely remodeled modern and attractive facilities on 4th Main, and the addition of an ACTA Scanner to be used by the Radiology Department in computerized axial tomography. Each of these improvements took place while the planning for a new 400 bed Hospital (Clinical Teaching Facility) also proceeded at a rapid pace. During the past year, design drawings for the inpatient and outpatient areas were prepared as well as plans for a renovated Foerderer Pavilion. The plans for the Clinical Teaching Facility were also reviewed with groups both inside and outside of the Jefferson Family. More recently, demolition and a groundbreaking ceremony for the CTF have taken place.

Complementing these physical changes were the institution of a variety of new patient care programs. The Department of Rehabilitation Medicine has expanded its services to include an orthosis treatment program, rehabilitation for cardiac patients, and, in conjunction with the Departments of Neurosurgery and Orthopaedic Surgery, a spinal cord clinic. A rehabilitation workshop for graduate nurses was also conducted.

A Belzer Kidney Profusion Machine was acquired with a grant from the Foerderer Foundation, and expanded dialysis services are being planned. Other services initiated include a federally supported Breast Diagnostic Center using thermography and mammography which should provide approximately 20,000 free examinations, and a new screening program for patients suspected of having emphysema.

Jefferson will continue to strive to be a leader in the health field by not only conforming to change, but also by seeking to initiate change in response to burgeoning technological and social demands. We invite you to return to see these exciting developments which have recently taken place in our Hospital.
SCHOOL OF NURSING
ANNUAL REPORT TO THE ALUMNAE ASSOCIATION

This time last year we had just breathed a sigh of relief ending our visit to Washington, D.C. We will be pleased and proud to know that the school continues on the accredited list.

Last year three major changes took place within the school that reflect changing times and growing needs. The need for the Martin Student Residence building was identified by the Director of Auxiliary Services at Thomas Jefferson University as the Martin Building.

August marked the beginning of another new era—the School of Nursing moved its offices and classrooms into newly renovated facilities in the Health Sciences Center. This move offered updated office and classroom facilities, the major advantage being an increased number of offices and classrooms, better ventilation and lighting, and better communication within the school since more offices are together in the same building. We are still working on two major weaknesses in the new facility, one being too small a space for the classroom designated to hold the entire freshman class and the other being the lack of a lounge for students.

An organization change in September created two new positions: assistant director for administration and student affairs and assistant director for curriculum. This change committs delegation of responsibility for these areas and establishes new lines of communication with our thirty-seven faculty members, which to date seems to be most effective.

Currently we are engaged in curriculum revisions in relation to our courses in medical-surgical nursing in an effort to avoid repetition, and to develop content in a more meaningful manner under overall concepts of patient care. In addition to faculty, students are represented on our curriculum committee and have additional input into the program through clinical evaluations, course evaluations and senior interviews.

In recent years research in nursing has received much attention. In line with this we have about completed three rather extensive projects. The last to be completed is a five-year follow-up on our graduates. We are in the last year of the study. Results to date are gratifying and indicate that we must be doing something right because employers are still satisfied with our product.

The 32nd Commencement for the School of Nursing on June 21, 1975, with 85 graduates, of the graduating class, will bring the total number of graduates to 1973. As graduates, we hope that you continue to be interested in the progress of your school and that you will stop by to see us if you are in the area.

With many diploma programs phasing out or closing, you probably wonder about the status of our school. Current plans are to continue the diploma program for as long as we can attract qualified students.

My best wishes to you for a happy, successful and healthy year ahead. I am,

Doris E. Bowman

DEPARTMENT OF BACCALAUREATE NURSING

A Continuing Education Conference for Registered Nurses was held on Friday, May 2, 1975. The theme for the day was "The Professional Nurse: Rights and Responsibilities." Dr. Clifford Jordan, President of the Pennsylvania Nurses' Association and Dr. Miriam Lundgren, Board Member, Pennsylvania Nurses' Association spoke during the morning session. Faculty members in the baccalaureate nursing program and Thomas Jefferson University Hospital personnel participated in the afternoon session.

The Conference was very well received. We expect to schedule similar sessions more frequently next year.

Department of Baccalaureate Nursing

ANNUAL REPORT OF THE SCHOOL OF PRACTICAL NURSING

The School of Practical Nursing has entered its second decade of existence after graduating its largest class of fifty-four women and three men on September 9, 1974. After the same period of time the school has also been removed from its quarters in the old Junto Building to the pleasant attractive and very adequate 10th floor of the Health Sciences Center. Student nurses from the School of Nursing and School of Practical Nursing have been sharing new classroom facilities on this floor since last September which is certainly an improvement over the former areas available for Instruction.

Increasing interest in vocational nursing education is quite evident from the large number of applications from prospective students each year. Although the number of male applicants has been very small in the past there are indications that a substantial increase will be received and accepted this year. Female applicants have included a few daughters of School of Nursing alumni who for personal reasons have chosen to be educated on this level rather than become part of a professional educational program in nursing. Classes are planned to provide instruction for between 60 and 70 students each September and it is anticipated that we will have no difficulty reaching our goal.

ANNUAL REPORT OF THE NURSING SERVICE DEPARTMENT

During the past year at Jefferson nursing has seen a period of much growth. Several decisions were made which will have long-range effects on the department.

In April 1974, we decided to phase out the Exchange Visitor Program and this was begun in October of 1974. At present we have only four Exchange Visitors remaining. This summer, when we employ the graduating classes, we will have a full complement of Registered Nurses. Because of the decision to phase out the Exchange Visitor Program, there were periods this year when staffing was a little bit tight. However, the staff nurses, practical nurses and supervisions worked very well together to provide excellent patient care. We have received many compliments concerning the type of care which we are giving at Jefferson.

In order to maintain a high quality of care, we implemented a Quality Assurance Program. The nurses involved with a special project of Illness are developing criteria by which they can measure the care they have given to their patients. An example of this is the criteria developed for the care of the patient with a total hip operation. In May, at the Annual Alumni Day, the staff from the orthopedic unit presented their criteria and demonstrated the care which they give. We are very proud of the accomplishments of this group of people and of the others who have done criteria for measurement of care. It is our belief that it is only by continuously evaluating what we are doing and determining the effectiveness of our actions that we will improve care.

Primary nursing has continued to develop at Jefferson. As you may be aware, there are three stages in its growth and development. One of the things we find most difficult to teach is the idea that one nurse is responsible and accountable for the care of a group of patients. Patients will continue to enjoy following the same patients from their admission to their discharge, but at times they find it difficult to accept the responsibility. Most of this is due to their youth and as they gain experience in caring for patients, they do seem to enjoy the responsibility.

The Cardiac Rehabilitation Program also continues. This year we received a grant from the United Fund to develop a teaching program for the patients in the Cardiac Rehab. This will begin in July 1975. There will be one nurse responsible for interviewing patients to determine their needs for teaching, and for developing a teaching program which will meet these needs. Finally, she will interview them again eight to ten weeks post discharge to see if the teaching has been effective. We think this is a major step forward in patient care and we are very proud that Jefferson has received the opportunity to do this.

For the next year we plan to work on such areas as improving our discharge planning and doing some follow-up care, especially when patients will be coming back to the Health Sciences Center for their medical outpatient care. The move to Health Sciences Center from the outpatient area has also proved to be a very interesting one. Virginia Arcomello, Clinical Supervisor in Medicine, at present goes over to the Health Sciences Center every Friday to teach diabetic classes for the patients who come there. We are also planning to do this in some of the other practice groups such as Pediatrics and Oncology. In this way we hope to provide more continuity of care between the inpatient and outpatient areas.

The Joint Commission visited Jefferson this year and in their accreditation of Nursing Service, had only one recommendation for improvement. We are very proud that we have continued our retrospective audit and do a joint audit with the physician staff. It was most gratifying to us to know that these were the only areas in which we felt we needed to progress. They were very pleased with our documentation of care and our documentation of patient planning. They felt that last year's patients and staff at Jefferson had "a very contented appearance."

All in all, I feel that much progress can be made at Jefferson and that we have many people who are very dedicated to patient care. We have had a very pleasant year, although a very hard one, for those of us who work at Jefferson, and we are very proud of our accomplishments.

Carol Hutelmyer
Director, Nursing Service
OPERATING ROOM NURSING

Our intensive orientating and rotating program has encouraged many nurses and graduating senior students to choose the operating room as their specialty.

During the first six to eight weeks the newest team member is under the direct supervision and guidance of the Clinical Specialist in charge of the staff development programs. The purpose during this period is not to make the nurse overly familiar with the staff, but to provide the basic methods of operation and to evaluate his or her technical capabilities.

One month rotation for each surgical service follows (exception — open heart — two months). Each service is supervised by a Unit Specialist for that particular area.

The final team placement is predicated upon capability, staffing needs and individual's selection.

Plans are now being formulated for an on-going pre and post operative visitation program. This type of patient involvement, we feel, should make for a more meaningful operating room experience.

Director Operating Room Nursing

THE DIPLOMA NURSING PROGRAM

This has been a year of changes for the School of Nursing. In August, the administration offices in the Martin Building and instructor offices and classrooms in the Curtis Clinic moved to the newly renovated offices and classrooms in the Health Sciences Center at 150 South 9th Street.

There has been some reorganization and additions to the curriculum. Operating Room Technique is now presented to the junior students as part of surgical nursing. The Community Health Nursing course is being developed into an eleven week experience for the senior year. This will include the emergency room, outpatient department plus an experience in geriatric nursing at the Lutheran Home in Germantown.

The Martin Residence is now under the supervision of the Director of Housing of the University. The director, along with a Student Affairs Council, meets periodically to develop residence rules and to discuss concerns of dormitory living. A few changes in rules have occurred this year; curfews have been extended, overnight female guests are permitted and open house is held monthly.

Since Student Council no longer had responsibility for enforcement of residence rules it underwent reorganization with its prime concern now being coordination of all school social activities. The names of the group was changed to Student Affairs Council.

The Council began the year in September by orienting the 112 incoming freshmen to the various activities available to them. The first Council social event, a Halloween Party, was held Thursday, October 30th, at Jefferson Alumni Hall. Many of the students attended and dressed appropriately for the theme, "A Fifties Night." Taped music of the fifties was provided by a disc jockey and refreshments were served; everyone seemed to have an enjoyable time. A Valentine's Day Party was held on February 13th.

Several Council projects helped to make holidays in the Pediatric Department a little more enjoyable. At Christmas new and used toys were collected and distributed in the department. The Council also sponsored an Easter Egg Decorating Party. Results of this party were fifteen beautifully decorated baskets which were greatly appreciated by the children.

Other functions of the Student Affairs Council include holding funds for the cheerleaders so they could make new uniforms for the squad, helping to plan the Valentine's Day Dance and a Continental Breakfast in addition to candy and poster sales. The Senior class put forth their final effort in order to raise money for the purchase of their yearbook. Among some of their activities were sales of baked goods, white elephants, plants and popcorn. A very successful class project was the Senior Play. Written by a group of Seniors, it was a spoof of daytime TV shows. With some help from a local disc jockey and the many students who took an active part it was an evening of real fun. The Annual Senior Spaghetti Dinner was held at Jefferson Alumni Hall on April 9th. With this event the Seniors ended their fund raising as they reached their goal of three thousand dollars.

A most popular student activity still seems to be basketball. The team finished in third place this year in the Southeastern Pennsylvania League for Nursing Student Nurse Basketball League. They also won their fourth consecutive exhibition game at the Spectrum. Donna Ranieri was this year's recipient of the Women's Board Award for Athletic Achievement.

Our cheerleaders are still quite active at all the games. Even though they did not bring home a trophy this year, they were a valuable source of spirit not only to the team, but to the Student Body.

This year has seen a slight increase in student interest in SNAP. Junior student, Nancy Molloy, attended the SNAP Area No. 1 Convention, March 8th, at Philadelphia General Hospital. The National Student Nurses' Association Convention was held in Philadelphia from April 24 to 27th and Terry Mayne, Freshman, attended as the school SNAP representative. The convention theme was, "Rights with Responsibility."

A new group on campus, the University Forum, convened in November for the first time. It is composed of students from all of the schools of the university; there are four representatives from the diploma school. The Forum is concerned with matters, both social and academic, which affect all students of the university.
The mandate of this group is to develop an atmosphere of a true university embodying ideals of free expression and exchange of ideas, education, research and social mixing.

While some things have continued as traditional activities at the school others have changed as the diploma program participates with other programs within the University.

Respectfully submitted,

Donna Ranieri
Student Affairs Council
THE BACCALAUREATE NURSING PROGRAM

The Baccalaureate Nursing program graduated its second class in June and awarded fifty-six students a Bachelor of Science in Nursing. This new program has experienced its share of growing pains and probably will keep on reworking certain aspects of the curriculum for some time to come. However, the basics such as core courses in nursing and several sciences (both social and natural) coupled with some fine team-teaching are there.

The emphasis in the Baccalaureate program seems often to be on "modern society." Do other nursing programs visit the CHOICE Abortion Counseling Agency or explore homoeopathy by viewing films and discussing openly? The program deserves credit for making an effort to expose students to reality and previously taboo subjects.

The elective taken in the senior year is attractive to students who need to develop the confidence and deliberate, and planned part of what being a bachelor of science in nursing is all about. Those who thrive on three or more days on the floor (five in the summer) might want to investigate other programs available. Surprisingly enough to outsiders, many baccalaureate programs do not stress the loss of clinical time. They are here because the program appeals to them. A conservative estimate at best, 25% of the class of 1975 held weekend jobs in hospitals... in some cases more for the experience than the money.

The program, as any other, has its idiosyncrasies, some laughable and some not. Female students wearing navy polyester dresses with white collars (the standard uniform) have been mistaken for elevator operators and nuns in short habit. White shoes are not mandatory—a ghastly thought to some, and the wearing of pantyhose has been sanctioned for next year.

Not until the last quarter of the senior year did students in the class of 1975 spend eight-hour days in patient setting in two years sheds some light of modern society. But this is a reason behind feelings of incompetence. But this is a shift a bit delayed in some people's eyes. But again, the basic emphasis here is to provide for the physical and emotional comfort of the patient as well as his safety. She will also be knowledgeable in the reporting and recording of physical and mental conditions of her patients along with an awareness of signs and symptoms indicative of any undesirable change.

Contrary to what many believe, the academic instruction cannot be regarded lightly. Serious study is absolutely necessary to progress as quickly as the course demands.

The student practical nurse is able to carry out general bedside nursing care in a variety of hospital units such as Jefferson and an affiliate, James Hospital. Such units include: general medical-surgical, orthopedics, gynecology, maternity, nursery and pediatrics.

Along with routine tasks such as bed making, bathing, vital signs, and assisting with meals, the nurse has time to observe overt symptoms and emotional circumstances affecting the patient's progress.

She is also encouraged to assist the physician in routine examinations, and often obtains and study the more technical diagnostic studies done. She is able to assist the team leader or registered nurse as investigator of situations, events and patients' response to therapy or treatment.

Because the hospital has three distinct schools of nursing, cooperation is learned early if efficient and harmonious operations are to continue. Much can be learned in a spirit of inter-dependence.

Time is allotted to the study of the patient care plan; therefore, problem solving becomes an essential component to patient progress. Not only the today of a patient is considered. Research into his past medical, psychological and social history becomes important as it has influenced his present state of health.

Utilized with benefit is the nursing kardex. Through this, continuity of care is clearly defined as each nurse may freely contribute.

THE PRACTICAL NURSING PROGRAM

The practical nursing program at Jefferson, twelve months in length, includes various nursing disciplines. Accordingly, fundamentals are presented in body structure and function, pharmacology, nursing skills and techniques, nutrition with diet therapy practice, family living, community health and also communication skills. Along with these, general medical-surgical nursing procedures are taught. Also, a topic of continued interest, maternal and child health nursing.

Through earnest attention to the course of studies the student will be prepared to provide for the physical and emotional comfort of the patient as well as his safety. She will also be knowledgeable in the recording and recording of physical and mental conditions of her patients along with an awareness of signs and symptoms indicative of any undesirable change.

Family Practice at Jefferson

Family Practice became a recognized specialty in 1969. With specialty status, Family Practice has become an attractive alternative for medical school graduates, but a more demanding one as well. For example, a three-year graduate residency program and recertification every six years are required of Family Practice specialists. This year, twenty percent of American medical school graduates will enter Family Practice residency programs.

Jefferson started its Family Practice program by establishing a Division of Family Medicine in 1971. Dr. Willard Kreil, Professor and Chairman of the Department of Community Health and Preventive Medicine, along with enthusiastic representatives from the Pennsylvania Academy of Family Physicians, organized a new Division by essentially twenty-five Board-certified family physicians who helped to establish an undergraduate curriculum in Family Medicine.

In January 1973, Dr. Paul C. Brucker, a faculty member in the Division of Family Medicine, was appointed to chair a new, separate Department of Family Medicine in the Medical College. The new Department has been responsible for developing programs in the undergraduate, graduate, and post-graduate areas.

Undergraduate Programs

With the development of the new Medical College curriculum in the Spring of 1974, the Department of Family Medicine is now part of the Departments of Psychiatry and Human Behavior, Community Health and Preventive Medicine, Physical Medicine, Pediatrics, and the Office of Medical Education helped to design... the new "Medicine and Society" course offered weekly to freshmen and sophomores. In addition to helping plan the course that pays attention to such subjects as epidemiology, growth and development, human sexuality, ethics, medical jurisprudence, and psychopathology, members of the Family Medicine faculty helped to teach, host, and conduct both lectures and seminar discussions. In the Fall of 1974, the first mandatory six-week clerkship in Family Medicine was started. Every six weeks, approximately twenty-seven students were assigned to primary care patient activity where they participated in the ambulatory care of patients and their families. Students were assigned to programs in Family Medicine at Jefferson and three of its affiliates—i.e., Wilmington Medical Center, Latrobe Area Hospital, and Chestnut Hill Hospital. In addition, some of the students were assigned to preceptorships with Family Medicine faculty members in Delaware, New Jersey, and Pennsylvania.

Beginning in September 1975, approximately forty senior students have elected to spend their senior year in a track in Family Medicine. During this year, the students will participate in twelve weeks of ambulatory care, where he or she will be expected to pass the Board examination for certification in Family Practice. It is hoped that the resident will then enter the field of Family Practice in one of the many areas where they are desperately needed. In all cases, the resident's training is individualized in order to help the resident establish his or her own educational and professional goals, particularly with respect to the medical needs of the community in which he or she plans to practice. Jefferson's program encourages the concept of group practice.

Philosophically, the Department attempts to instill in the learner to continue his or her medical education programs, by extension of and reinforcement of necessary professional skills, by participation in medical audit and by involvement in teaching health staff, preceptor students, and peers. It is anticipated the resident will feel comfortable and enjoy delivering quality, comprehensive care.

Post-Graduate Programs

The Department of Family Medicine and the faculty at Jefferson have worked with the Pennsylvania Academy of Family Physicians to design annual, continuing education programs. Such programs are designed to meet defined deficiencies and/or interests of primary physicians. The programs allow practicing family physicians the opportunity to review current concepts in such traditional fields as Pediatrics, Obstetrics-Gynecology, Oncology, Psychiatry, Internal Medicine, and Surgery.

It is hoped that Jefferson's efforts in the field of Family Medicine will eventually ameliorate some of the health care delivery problems in the United States that are related to mal-distribution of physicians and an undersupply of family physicians. Hopefully, as the program grows and matures, more and more individuals will consider going into Family Medicine and, in turn, become superbly trained individuals who will help to meet and resolve some of the general health requirements of the population. The unserved support of the administration, faculty, and student body, the encouragement received from professional organizations, from legislatures, and from society in general should prove invaluable in assuring the success of the Department.

Alumnus Professor and Chairman

IN SEARCH OF NURSING

The nurse I knew was so very young, so very shy. She started her new life beneath Philadelphia's cloudy gray sky. Schooling taught her care, coordinating and cure. But somehow she knew she was unsure. Advance she did up the ladder despite the noise and the clatter. She reached out, she grew, the sky began to turn blue. For history, language and science were more than fun. Now she knew the preparation of a nurse had only begun. Once again, she took the plunge. She improved her skills, she added the necessary theory. Believe it or not, by this time, she wasn't even weary. For now she knows the nursing process includes learning. Strength in teaching is now her yearning.
There followed a gradual evolution of ideas in preventive medicine resulting in a more practical approach to the technique of assessing patients to ascertain their health, screen out those at high risk for a variety of diseases, and refine the knowledge necessary to apply preventive measures to the个体, to make improving life expectancy and delaying serious disability. In addition, automation of some of these systems resulted in a reduction in costs for screening examinations. While the public has responded to the idea of preventive health care, funding for such a program, including government and private insurance, has been very slow in responding. Currently, much of the cost must be assumed by the individual receiving the examination. This appears to be short-sighted, in view of the fact that even evidence that at least with certain diseases, a dollar spent in prevention can save, in some instances, nearly ten times that amount necessary to treat later stages of the disease. These results have been established for carcinoma of the cervix, but may apply to other diseases as well.

The current health maintenance program at Jefferson has been designed as a comprehensive evaluation with emphasis on the primary prevention and early detection of disease, particularly as it relates to the more serious diseases encountered in our population, such as coronary artery, other premature vascular disease and certain cancers. Briefly, the process of screening in the health maintenance program involves the use of questionnaires which screens patients time and enables a more complete assessment of the individual's history, measurements taken during the physical examination, laboratory tests and other assessments. Patients are able to reverse bad health habits. It is my experience that the overall yield in detecting risk factors important in primary prevention of cardiovascular disease, for this program and cancer is more than justifies the annual examination in the age group we are studying, who are mostly over 40. Multiple risks are often encountered. In a background of emotional distress, including marked anxiety and often depression, which makes compliance a difficult problem, we are beginning to recognize and attempt to delineate the causes of poor compliance in our health maintenance program. However, it is my impression that often enough patients heed advice and are able to reverse bad health habits.

With respect to the overall annual yield in our health maintenance program at Jefferson, I have only space enough for a few broad generalizations. Approximately 10-20% of persons have significant abnormalities in blood sugar, cholesterol and other serum lipids, and blood pressure, uncovered by the comprehensive examination. Nearly 20% of persons have significant obesity underlying the preceding metabolic problems and this overall yield constitutes almost 30% of the population in our program. In addition, another 20% of people continue to smoke heavily, with obvious implications including the original program'sPROGRAM. persons have serious depreason hitherto masked and these require treatment, and finally, three percent of persons have abnormal ocular tension, which makes them prone to premature blindness.

The role of the nurse in the health maintenance program can be extremely important. We have experimented in a limited way with nurses as educators to receive pledges to reach this goal. I can visualize a new role for the nurse in a health maintenance program.

YOUR SESQUICENTENNIAL CAMPAIGN
ONE HUNDRED FIFTY PLUS ONE

It is with pleasure and pride that Jefferson congratulates its Alumni.

The excellent support of all to the Sesquicentennial Campaign is deeply appreciated and a great credit to the future of the University as well as establishing a reputation of unity and alliance with all the Colleges. We still welcome with open hearts and hands any gifts to come our way. At present, our Nurses have contributed $85,892.00 of our own goal of $100,000.00. It would indeed be wonderful to receive pledges to reach this goal. The total campaign has now reached $12,818,962.00 of the planned and expected $15,000,000.00 goal.
BICENTENNIAL CONSORTIUM EXHIBITION — PENN MUTUAL BUILDING
(facing INDEPENDENCE SQUARE)

"Twelve Philadelphia area colleges and universities have announced plans for a bicentennial exhibition that will chronicle the contributions of higher education in the Delaware Valley from colonial times to the present. The exhibition, to be housed in the new Penn Mutual Building facing Independence Square, will include documents, momentos, artifacts, art work and antique scientific equipment. Among the diverse objects on display will be:

— The 1783 writ by which University of Pennsylvania trustees conferred a honorary degree on George Washington.

— "Jug books" from a century ago, in which are recorded the misdeeds of Villanova students and the punishments meted out to them.

— A ceremonial sword presented to Temple University founder Russell Conwell when he joined the Union Army in 1862.

— Letters from Bryn Mawr College's first president regarding the development of graduate education for women in America.

— An 1873 photograph of students arriving from Liberia to study at Lincoln University.

Participating in the unusual cooperative venture with the schools mentioned above are Drexel and Thomas Jefferson universities, Haverford, Lo Salle, St. Joseph's and Swarthmore colleges; and Medical College of Pennsylvania. The schools have banded together in a consortium group, coordinated by Dr. Varton Gregorian, dean of the Faculty of Arts and Sciences at the University of Pennsylvania.

Entitled "Learning, Revolution and Democracy," the exhibition will tell the story of the role of learning in social, political and economic change over a two hundred year period.

The institutions' archival contributions will be displayed in four categories: "Learning in the Colonial Era: "Revolution in Education," "Democracy in Education," and "Contributions to Mankind.

We like all Alumnae to receive the year book of the Class 1910, also the book written by W. M. Coplin, M.D. "American Red Cross Hospital 38". It proved a new road and afforded many opportunities for enlarging the growth and bettering the facilities of the school. More student nurses were added, a consider-
