THE PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE

Dear Friends,
What an exciting year for our Alumni Association!

As of June 15th, 1976, The Diploma School of Nursing had its first male student graduate, and ---theoretically---we will be known as The Jefferson Nurses' Alumni Association.

In April of 1976 it was my privilege to spend an hour with the graduating class, to tell them about our Alumni Association and how they could become members. The graduating class has been accepted into the Alumni Association as Active members for the remainder of the year 1976.

The view from my office window shows the steady progress that is being made on the new hospital. It is almost unbelievable how rapid the "mud hole" has been transformed into solid floors, ribs, girders, walls, and the green campus buildings to grow and grow. I'm sure many of you would be amazed at the physical changes if you were to visit.

Thank you for your confidence in me by re-electing me to serve as your President for another two years. My office is always open for your calls, and always eager to hear from each one of you.

To the Officers, Committee Chairpersons and their members, I would like to express my gratitude and thanks for your help and guidance.

Best wishes and good luck to each one of you.

Sincerely yours,

PROGRESS
PROGRESS — THOMAS JEFFERSON UNIVERSITY HOSPITAL

The past year has been a very exciting one at Thomas Jefferson University Hospital with many changes and improvements and the culmination of many years of planning for a new Hospital Building. It was a year of accomplishment, of meeting many goals and setting new ones to meet the ever changing needs of both our patients and staff.

During the year most of our former outpatient clinics were physically relocated to Jefferson's new Health Sciences Center at 9th and Sansom Streets, a complete one stop ambulatory patient care center, including supporting diagnostic and ancillary services in an attractive and modern setting. Under construction and to be opened within the Health Sciences Center is the Division of Nephrology's new 12 station outpatient dialysis unit and the new Department of Family Medicine's complete Model Family Practice Unit.

Within the Hospital itself, a substantial number of significant changes have also been made. A new Surgical Cardiac Care Unit, an Intensive Care Nursery, and new Protective Care Unit were opened and a number of Respiratory Intensive Care Unit is nearing completion. Three patient floors of the Thompson Building were completely remodeled and three more are scheduled for the coming year. With support from the Foerderer Foundation, a project to refurbish all patient rooms in the Foerderer Pavilion was also initiated. Hours for visitors were expanded to allow visiting from 11 A.M. to 8 P.M. and the change has been met with great satisfaction of patients and their visitors and has caused little additional problem for the staff.

With a continuing growth in the numbers of patient admissions and days (to 196,469 adult patient days and 12,982 nursery days during fiscal year 1975), a comprehensive study of bed requirements was undertaken by a special task force. As a result of the task force study, beds were reallocated by clinical department according to need. The reallocation has permitted consolidation of designated patient floors of each department's beds and concentration of patients by category to significantly improve efficiency of the staff and attending physicians.

To continue to meet our responsibilities as a teaching hospital, the numbers of residences and fellowships were again increased during the past year. Training programs with affiliated hospitals were expanded in several disciplines and a new affiliation agreement was concluded with Magee Memorial Hospital which will greatly enhance training programs in physical and rehabilitation medicine.

The administrative staff of the Hospital was expanded to include a new Assistant Hospital Director for Surgical Programs and more recently, a new Assistant Hospital Director for Diagnostic and Therapeutic Programs. These new positions permit closer coordination and cooperation between administration and the nursing and medical staffs. This closer coordination will be invaluable as we begin to develop and refine the operating protocols necessary for the move to the New Hospital in 1979.

Perhaps the most exciting single event this past year was the beginning of construction of the new Hospital on the square city block between 10th and 11th Streets and Sansom and Chestnut Streets. Following the successful sale of an $81.6 million municipal bond issue in October, 1975, ground was broken in November and construction began shortly thereafter. Occupancy of the new 411 bed clinical teaching facility which will be connected by a bridge over Sansom Street to the Foerderer Pavilion is planned for January 1, 1977.

Over the next three years we shall plan not only for the move to the new Hospital, but also toward the future use of our existing Hospital structures to meet the challenges of new technologies and changing social needs.

SCHOOL OF NURSING ANNUAL REPORT TO THE ALUMNI ASSOCIATION

For two hundred years the name Jefferson has been related to significant contributions to our country — first through the authorship of the Declaration of Independence, then as President Mutual United, and later as the Medical College bearing his name grew to university status. During this Bicentennial year, the university community has been reminded of his legacy through special lectures, a history course devoted to Thomas Jefferson, a special Bicentennial exhibition located within sight of Independence Hall, and the breaking of ground for the new Thomas Jefferson University Hospital.

Thomas Jefferson was honored on the occasion of his birthday with a birthday lecture entitled, "Mr. Jefferson and Dr. Jefferson" by Professor W. Duglison, on April 14th, the day following his birthday. A royal style reception followed.

Twelve institutions of higher learning from the Philadelphia area are participating in "Learning, Revo­ lution, Democracy," an area University's Bicentennial Exhibition. The huge display is housed in the second floor of the college's building at 510 Walnut Street. Each institution has its own display area. Jefferson's display is 22 feet in length and includes a large color reproduction of "Thomas Eakins' famous portrait, "The Gross Clinic." On display below the portrait is Dr. Samuel Gross' amputation kit, as well as biological material concerning Dr. Gross and other memorabilia.

On November 13, 1975 ground was broken for the 411-bed clinical teaching facility. The nine-story complex, to be completed by 1977, will occupy the entire block bounded by Chestnut and Samsom, Tenth and Eleventh Streets. It will replace the outdated Main and Thompson buildings. It will be connected to the existing Foerder Pavilion by bridges at every level. The major innovation in the facility will be the treatment of inpatients and ambulatory patients on an integrated basis. Physicians' offices will be located on alternate floors from inpatient floors. Ambulatory patients will also receive care in these offices rather than in the "public clinics" of the past.

Two events occurred during this Bicentennial year which affected the university as well as the school of nursing. On December 31st, 1975, John W. Goldschmidt, M.D., Dean of College of Medicine, resigned to assume a position as Associate Director of the Rehabilitation Center at Northwestern University. Lawrence Abramson, Associate Dean, was named Acting Dean, effective January 1, 1976. Abruptly, on March 31st, 1976 Dr. Peter Harburt's life came to a close. George M. Norwood, Vice-President for Planning, was named Interim President, effective April 5, 1976. Sensational news for us have been brought to the Board of Trustees and are actively seeking the best candidates for appointment to these positions.

The university was surveyed by representatives from the Middle States Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools in December 1975, and accredited by the Association at its meeting on February 28, 1976. All programs within the university took an active part in this accreditation visit and the diploma program, therefore, was required to submit a rather lengthy report. The director of the program, in conjunction with the directors of the other nursing programs, met with a member of the accreditation team. Among the eleven recommendations forthcoming from Middle States was the recommendation that an Advisory Committee with faculty representation from all nursing programs be formed to consider the development of nursing education in the university. As you know, we have three nursing programs — the Diploma Program from which all graduate programs are based, the Baccalaureate Program, and the Practical Nursing Program.

The diploma program continues to have the unquestionable support of the Board of Trustees and the administration of the university. However, the administration and faculty of the school recognizes that in view of trends in professional nursing education, an in-depth study of the future of nursing education at Jefferson is in order. The present diploma program has, since its very beginning in 1891, been one of the best and that it has produced graduates well qualified to assume their role as beginning prac­titioners. We are also aware that our graduates have received preferential consideration in many areas throughout the country as well as in foreign lands. State Board results continue to be above the state and national averages and we are especially proud of the Class of 1975 whose mean scores in all areas were above 600. We, therefore, will not willingly relinquish a program built upon so strong a foundation.

The 83rd commencement for the School of Nursing on June 12, 1976, with 86 students in the graduating class brings the total number of our graduates to 4,656. Dr. Roberta G. Scudder was the commencement speaker. The exercises were held in the Sheraton Ballroom at 1725 J. F. Kennedy Boulevard. Among the graduates was our first husband-wife team and, in addition, the first mother to be in school throughout her pregnancy, deliver, return to school within two weeks and graduate with her class. This year for the first time an "Alumni Bicentennial" is synonymous with quality education and care and why throughout the remainder of this century it will be an exciting place to be as you, our fellow student, faculty member, practitioner, administrator, and, if need be, patient.

My best wishes to you for a happy, successful and healthy year ahead!

DIPLOMA STUDENT ACTIVITIES

The Student Affairs Council of 1975-76 began the year by compiling a student orientation handbook for the incoming freshmen. At the same time a Senior Farewell Party was arranged for the Class of 1975. It was a real success and very much enjoyed.

In September, with the arrival of the new freshmen came orientation. Student Affairs Council officials introduced themselves and their roles to the freshmen at a special meeting, and Residence Hall Council spent time discussing rules and regulations of the dorm. In addition a Student-Faculty get together was held. The first social event for the entire student body was our Halloween Party on October 30th held in the recreation room of the residence. Refreshments were supplied by Student Affairs Council members. Throughout the remainder of the year there were several other social affairs to celebrate the holidays. At Christmas, a student party was held December 18 as well as Student-Faculty Party on December 17. In February, Valentine's Day was brought in with a small gathering for the single. A small Faculty get together of students and faculty on April 14. All of these occasions helped to create an even better relationship between faculty and the student body.

Different projects were sponsored by Student Affairs Council throughout the year. Our favorite project was at Christmas when students sang carols throughout the hospital but mainly on the oncology unit. All of the students were given cards with coins and small gifts to help brighten spirits at this time of year. Other functions included sailing stationery and sponsoring an "Open House" in the residence.

Individual classes were quite busy raising funds for their yearbooks. The freshmen were very successful in a "7 T-shirt sale" and have a great start towards their goal. Juniors sponsored numerous events such as plant, candy, and bake sales. The seniors included bake sales, pretzel sales, a small spaghetti dinner in the Fall and then the Annual Spaghetti Dinner in April.
As in the past, the basketball team had a very successful season. We ended the season with the first place in our league. Also sponsored was the First Annual Alumnae Game. Although the alumnae put up quite a struggle, they were overcome by the talents of our present team. Finally, our Annual Spectrum Game was a huge success as the Jefferson squad defeated Roxborough. In April, thanks to funds appropriated by the School of Nursing Department of the Women's Board of the Hospital, the team and cheerleaders enjoyed a delightful bus trip to end a great year. Suzanne Tominson was this year's recipient of the Women's Board Award for Athletic Achievement.

Our cheerleaders, as always, provided the utmost encouragement to help the team have a successful season. Even though they didn't place in the competition sponsored by the American Legion Post, they will always be number one in the eyes of Jeffersonians.

This year, several students have been very much involved in the SNAP organization. Our two student representatives, Terry Mayne and Sue Burrell, attended meetings in the area and reported back to the Council officers and school on the whole. They also participated in the First Bicentennial Seminar for the History of Nursing Project which was held February 28, 1976, at Strawbridge and Clothier Auditorium.

It was also with a great deal of pride that our junior class president, Luisa Picco, was chosen to speak on the topic of "Student Rights and Responsibilities" at the November 14th meeting of the NLN Council of Diploma Schools which was held at the Belleville Stratford. In addition, Barbara Eminire, also a junior, represented Jefferson in the Southeastern Pennsylvania Heart Association Queen of Hearts contest which was held in February.

On the whole, the year has been quite eventful for all involved. It has been filled with various activities to make each student's "spare time" more worthwhile and enjoyable.

Respectfully submitted,
Suzanne Tominson
Chairman,
Student Affairs Council 1975-76

HISTORY OF NURSING MUSEUM AND LIBRARY

The History of Nursing Museum and Library is located in the Pennsylvania Hospital, 8th and Spruce Streets. It is open for the Bicentennial year and is to become a permanent repository for important memorabilia of the nursing profession and for documentation of nursing history. It is located in the historic, east wing of the Pine Street building.

SEMINAR

A Seminar on Crisis Intervention presented by the Nursing Service Division of Thomas Jefferson University Hospital and the Department of Baccalaureate Nursing College of Allied Health Sciences was held on May 7, 1976.

Alumnae, staff from Thomas Jefferson University Hospital and other hospitals, community health agencies, faculty, and students attended.

The purpose of the Seminar was to provide seminar participants with knowledge of crisis intervention theory and demonstrate its relevance to the nursing process and to provide opportunity for seminar participants to apply crisis intervention theory in the formulation of a nursing care plan based on a videotape demonstration of a potential crisis.

More seminars will be planned for the future.

THE BACCALAUREATE NURSING PROGRAM

The third class graduated on June 11, 1976. The Baccalaureate Nursing Program has evolved to be an array of many and varied educational and social experiences.

After completing at least two years of undergraduate liberal arts and sciences prerequisites, students enter the program as juniors. They then undertake an intensive program of study and clinical experiences totaling six quarters over a two year period. The Baccalaureate program's philosophy focuses on the holistic concept of man. Individuals are perceived as a whole being greater than the sum of its parts, and are dealt with as such in the clinical areas. The curriculum enables the students to work with the people being first in the normal life cycle, i.e., childhood, adolescence, adulthood, and then in abnormal or pathologic states, i.e., illness. Thus the continuity of the human life cycle is preserved throughout the nursing major.

Since its beginning in 1972, the curriculum of the Baccalaureate Program has evolved from a study of health and illness to the present holistic approach. Such revisions are in keeping with the changing roles in nursing and evolving approaches to baccalaureate education. Recently the University was accredited by The Middle States Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools and the Department was accredited by The National League for Nursing.

To an incoming student, the philosophy of the Baccalaureate Program can be quite unusual, especially to one who has been accustomed to the traditional concept of "nursing the sick".

Knowledge of the humanities, various forms of creative expression, and the natural, behavioral, and social sciences is essential to understanding of nursing theory. The focus of the program is on maintaining health as well as on providing care during illness. In addition to aiding the students in attaining their academic and professional goals, the program facilitates students' continued personal and social development.

The curriculum of the Program certainly lends itself to following these concepts through its use of various clinical experiences, ranging from nursing care in hospital patient units, to out-patient psychiatric clinics, to community health nursing. In the last quarter of the second year, each student chooses a clinical nursing elective. The clinical experiences in the elective have proven to be of tremendous value to the students' concepts of nursing in the "real world".

The men and women of this year's graduating class have come from various backgrounds. Many are married, some have several children, and quite a few have received, in the past, bachelor's degrees in other fields. The diversity inherent in the group has facilitated the development of rather well-rounded personalities among the students.

At present, the graduating seniors understand that it will be necessary to adjust to their roles in the nursing profession. Hopefully, the future will hold a fulfilling career in service to mankind.

SCHOOL OF PRACTICAL NURSING

The School of Practical Nursing is twelve years old in this bicentennial year and continues to provide a vocational nursing education for men and women of many varied backgrounds. Since September 1, 1975 the 1199 C Union, to which the nursing assistants employed by Thomas Jefferson University Hospital's Nursing Service belong, is now providing the funds to sponsor qualified candidates from that group to be upgraded through our program to become licensed practical nurses.

The faculty of the school now boasts the acquisition of a third person from the School of Nursing Alumnae as a faculty member. OPERATING ROOM NURSING

The basic goal of operating room nursing is to improve the quality of care given to the patient undergoing surgery.

To accomplish this goal, the following steps were taken:

1. To update and implement the team concept

Each nurse and operating room technician was given the privilege of choosing the area of specialty he or she desired to be assigned. These choices were given every consideration. The selection was made according to the individual's ability, potential, need for coverage in the area, and with suggestions from and approval of the surgeons in each discipline.

The staffing levels and the request for the surgical procedures determines the assignment of the team members. Hopefullv, with the increase in staffing levels and some much needed adjustments of the scheduling system, each team member would routinely be assigned to the discipline of choice.

The team assignments include nurses' aides in two of the surgical specialties.

Additional call personnel have been assigned, not only to weekends but at times that require such coverage, but also on a daily basis during the evening and night hours.

2. Development of a formal staff development program

A staff development program has been established by assigning a qualified nurse solely to the orientation of new personnel and the continuation of staff development goals. Goals for the orientation period have been implemented, assignment of instructional responsibilities to the experienced nurses, and a formal evaluation at the completion of the orientation period has been implemented. The development of operating room nursing staff has been accomplished by giving each person an opportunity to develop his capabilities individually to provide more coordinated care of the surgical patient.

An informal in-service education program is conducted once a week utilizing physicians, hospital personnel, films and operating room staff. Depending on the daily operating room schedule, the head nurses and unit specialists meet with their staff to discuss and review procedures, techniques and equipment. In order to formalize and expand the existing program, a committee has been selected; however, due to the demands of the daily schedule, the committee has not been able to function.

NEW SURGICAL CONCEPTS FOR LARYNGEAL CANCER

LESLIE L. PRATT, M.D.
Professor and Chairman of the Dept. of Otolaryngology

Surgery upon the larynx for malignant tumors has undergone dramatic changes in the past ten years. Through the pioneering efforts of Dr. Joseph Ogura, Professor and Chairman, Department of Otolaryngology, Washington University in St. Louis, Missouri, the concept of partial removal of portions of the larynx has become accepted in the medical community.

Prior to the acceptance of partial removal of the larynx, the total larynx was removed, and all patients with cancer of the larynx had a total laryngectomy. The estimates are that 60% of patients who previously had their total larynx removed, may now have their larynx preserved by employing partial laryngectomy procedures.

The partial removal of portions of the larynx referred to as conservative laryngectomy is possible because of the embryologic development of the larynx. Embryologically, the larynx develops from two different areas with a central transition or neutral zone. The lymphatic drainage from these two different areas of the true larynx is not linked together. Each area has its own separate lymphatic drainage; consequently a tumor in one area will not spread to the other area of the larynx.

Anatomically, if we take the true vocal cords as the area of transition, the area of the true vocal cord, consisting of the epiglottis, the aryepiglottic folds, the arytenoids, and the false vocal cords is called the supraglottis. The area below the true vocal cords is referred to as the subglottis. Any tumor involving the structures in the supraglottis can be effectively removed by performing what is referred to as a supraglottic laryngectomy. All the structures above the true vocal cords are then attached to the base of the tongue. A tumor of this area can be safely removed, and the true vocal cords and subglottic area may be safely left behind because their lymphatic drainage is separate.

Tumors of the true vocal cords can be successfully removed by performing what is referred to as the hemilaryngectomy. However, many of these tumors can be equally successfully treated through the administration of x-ray treatment.

Tumors involving both the true vocal cords and the subglottic region cannot be removed by any kind of partial laryngeal surgery. Whenever the true vocal cord is fixed and the subglottic extension of the tumor is greater than 1 cm, below the margin of the true cord, a total laryngectomy is necessary.
Aside from surgical treatment, x-ray therapy can be employed with some types of tumors of the larynx and the use of therapy in conjunction with the surgery has been widely accepted as good treatment practice. It has been the accepted procedure in a patient with carcinoma of the larynx in which a partial laryngectomy type of operation is contemplated, to receive preoperative radiation therapy prior to surgery. Following the preoperative radiation, the larynx is operated upon within a 4-5 week period of time.

Laryngeal lesions are frequently associated with metastasis or spread to the regional lymph glands in the neck. With the increased effectiveness of radiotherapy, many of these glands which are not palpable, but contain tumor, referred to occur lymph mode metastasis, can be sterilized very effectively with radiation therapy. No surgery is needed for these metastasis. However, if the lymph glands are 2 cm. or larger, it is felt by many authorities that even though preoperative radiation is administered to the lymph glands, surgery should be performed as well. The neck tissues including the lymph glands are removed at the same time as the larynx.

The postoperative course of patients having partial laryngeal surgery compared to the total laryngectomy patients, the average total laryngeal postoperative course is approximately 10 days, while that of the partial laryngectomy is 3 weeks. This is because the type of healing process that is necessary following a partial laryngectomy is much more difficult than that following a total laryngectomy.

In summary, the advancement of partial laryngeal surgery, for removal of only a portion of the larynx containing the cancer, has been a marvelous advancement in the treatment of laryngeal cancer. Most authorities feel that 50% of the laryngeal cancers which previously had to be removed by a total laryngectomy, can now be treated successfully with a combination of radiotherapy and partial laryngectomy.

BULLETIN REPORT

Those of us who have visited the Graft House where Thomas Jefferson, age 33, wrote the Declaration of Independence, are privileged people. We have read and reread numerous accounts of those famous days during the hot and humid Philadelphia weather. We are very proud to have graduated from an institution of learning and healing bearing the name of such an important statesman. Mr. William W. Bodine, Jr., a former President of Jefferson and presently Chairman of the Board of Trustees, has presented a bust of Thomas Jefferson to the University. This bust may be seen on the first floor of the Scott Library.

Another piece of sculpture, The Winged Ox of Saint Luke, may be seen between the Orolowitz Residence and the Scott Building. This sculpture carries the name of fifty famous men and ONE WOMAN — FLORENCE NIGHTINGALE.

Instead of going back 200 years, lets take a glance at more recent happenings in the Diploma School at "Jeff". The newer policies allow Males, Marriages and Maternity — not necessarily in that order, however. For further information — be sure to read Miss Bowman's excellent article.

The Bulletin Committee has endeavored to give our sister alumni members and one brother alumni member — varied articles about Jefferson. We have published most of the articles as written, a few were condensed and several pictures were included. May we remind graduates that colored photos do not show up well in this type of black and white publication.

YOUR SESQUICENTENNIAL CAMPAIGN
One Hundred Fifty Plus Two

Our accomplishments — 1975 and 1976:

Last year’s picture “Demolition of Buildings” is changed in this year to “Building of Buildings”. This has been possible only through the work, interest and giving of each one individually, but united in the total picture. This is not only the frame work of the Jefferson look, but the frame work to new education for the improvement of Health care and the advancement of medical science and knowledge. It is also a peak into the twenty-first century, when most of the people entering into the Health Educational Fields today will be offering their services and caring for our lives. It is those students who will be educated here and will take from the frame work the ability and knowledge to cope with the next century’s problems. All these things arrive only with our basic and continued direction and commitments to make it possible.

The new building north of Locust Street, between 10th and 11th Streets, is finished. It is beautiful. It is also a self-supporting 410 car garage — but more than this — it is a magnificent pedestrian esplanade to connect Jefferson Alumni Hall, the Scott Library, the Martin Nursing Home, and the Orolowitz Residence Pavilion. It is a comfortable open area in which to relax in the center of our University. It is also the foundation on which to build additional stories when needed for educational purposes.
The southeast corner of Walnut Street is the nearly completed university student housing building. It is also self-sustaining and consists of efficiency to three-bedroom apartments and adds greatly to the overall appearance of the university.

The great new building arising on the entire city block between 10th and 11th Streets is Jefferson University's new replacement Teaching Hospital. This nine story complex will feature two enclosed central courts which will bring beauty and country to our patients and to the center of the city. The hospital will be connected to the existing Foerderer Pavilion by bridges at each level. The majority of the rooms will be private, with the remaining rooms semi-private. The traditional nursing stations will be replaced by nursing command posts serving 8 to 16 beds with patient care.

The facility was designed with efficiency as a prime consideration, since with efficiency comes economy. Each in-patient floor is largely self-sufficient - with self-contained administrative, diagnostic and medical surgical units. Therefore, patients can be admitted, treated, and released on the same floor.

The new hospital will be headquarters for the clinical education of future students in the Medical College and College of Allied Health Sciences. The goal of the new hospital is to provide a total range of patient care and professional clinical education without requiring the patient, the professional or the student to leave the facility to receive, administer or observe this care.

The Programs missing from the Programs and would like to give to the Association, or if you want it returned we will make a copy and return the original to you.

I am in the Alumni Office on Tuesdays, 10 to 4, of each week. The Alumni Office is on the Mezzanine Floor of Jefferson Hall, 11th and Locust Streets, Room M-2. Telephone No. 829-6881.

ADMINISTRATION

This has been another busy year in the Alumni Office. There were 2075 letters mailed to graduates for the Alumni Giving, and the same number for the Annual Luncheon, May 6, 1976. Also approximately the same number of mailings for the University activities for 1975 and spring of 1976.

It is really very important that all graduates send their change of address and change of name to receive information and the activities of the Alumni Association and University.

I wish to thank the anniversary classes for sending addresses of their classmates, that we had no record of for several years, nice to have them back on the Alumni files.

We would like to complete the collection of Graduating Exercises Programs for the Alumni Association records. The Programs missing from the collection: 1941 — 1947 — 1950 — 1964.

We have received programs for 1949-1951. We thank the graduates for sending them to the Alumni Association. We have a special portfolio for the Programs.

If any Alumni has in her Possession one of these Programs and would like to give to the Association, or if you want it returned we will make a copy and return the original to you.

We have reviewed the various activities of the Association, and we are pleased to report that the Association is in good shape.

I am in the Alumni Office on Tuesdays, 10 to 4, of each week. The Alumni Office is on the Mezzanine Floor of Jefferson Hall, 11th and Locust Streets, Room M-2. Telephone No. 829-6881.

After her basic nursing education, Colonel Wilson joined the Army Nurse Corps in 1945. Her assignments took her to Army hospitals in Europe, Japan and Korea, as well as the United States.

The Anita Newcomb McGee Award is of special significance to the Army Nurse Corps. Dr. McGee, at the request of then-Surgeon General George M. Sternberg, wrote a bill which eventually served to establish the Nurse Corps as a permanent part of the US Army in 1901. The Army Nurse Corps is presently celebrating its 75th anniversary year.

The award ceremony will take place during the annual Continental Congress held by the Daughters of the American Revolution in Constitution Hall, Brigadier General Madelyn N. Parks, Chief of the Army Nurse Corps, who will attend the presentation, cited Colonel Wilson’s "exemplary service to her country and the nursing profession ... (and is) most deserving of the award."

Colonel Wilson is a native of Tyrone, Pa. She has three brothers and two sisters.

NEW MEDICAL TRAINING PROGRAM

Debra A. Freeman, a resident of Ridgefield, and a professional representative of Pfizer Laboratories Division, Pfizer Inc., recently completed a sophisticated medical information program at the company's New York Training Center.

The course represents the final phase of a four-phase, 21-week training program which Pfizer created to insure the greatest flow of pharmaceutical product information to doctor, pharmacists, and other medical personnel.

Pfizer's centralized, self-instruction learning facility in New York features an advanced multi-media system. It permits students to proceed at their own pace in assimilating extensive medical and product information, and speeds learning while significantly enhancing information retention.

According to Ralph Kauffman, Director of Manpower Training and Development, "The new system standardizes the knowledge our professional representatives receive; lets them gain knowledge and skills at their own rate - they all learn regardless of prior training and skills; learning and retention are maximized; and even dry subjects generate high interest because of the nature of the program."

Kauffman also notes: "Based on our experience, retention of knowledge via the new system appears to be greater than that achieved by straight programmed instruction."

Debra Freeman will now join the ranks of Pfizer's nation-wide corps of highly trained professional representatives, which is the primary channel of information between the diversified pharmaceutical company and America's health care team.

IN DEFENSE OF NURSING HOMES

EVENING TRIBUNE — San Diego, Thurs., April 10, 1975

By TERRY LAMBRETH — Class of 1962

In recent months, many articles have been written regarding conditions in convalescent hospitals and other related health facilities.

It is my sincere opinion that these items have a poor composition and grossly underrate the quality of care which is rendered in these institutions. Without any doubt, it is certain to depict a very grim picture to the public.

Having been professionally involved with these types of institutions for the past eight years, in several areas, in the state of California, I feel capable of offering an objective study, and feel it is time that a counterpoint be offered.

There are, I am sure, those facilities which have warranted the published criticism; however, they are few and it is not in the general interested to make blanket remarks and falsely generalize the charges against a few to make them appear to be an indictment of all such health care units.

The public is not aware of the services available in modern convalescent hospitals, which have had a rapid growth in the past decade. Those of us who have been associated with their growth have striven to achieve a high level of professionalism as well as a high quality of patient care. We take pride in this occupation and its accomplishments. Geriatrics is becoming a recognized specialty like pediatrics and orthopedics.

The employees are fully qualified and have had all the same academic background as required for all licensed personnel. Other employees are trained in the care they render to our patients. As in other fields, no one can do a good job if not personally suited and interested in this type of patient care. Therefore, only those who genuinely care are usually found administering to our senior citizens.

All those who have had previous experience with these health care units are aware of these facts, I'm sure. To those who are not, it is hoped that they have not already formed opinions of what our hospitals are without suitable research.

In past years, most of the patients in these units had been quite terminally ill and beyond any hope of improvement or cure. Not so in recent years. We now see more people accepting these facilities and recognizing the need for them. Consequently patients who are not so ill are more frequently seen as well as those who come for brief periods to convalesce.

The units are prepared to administer skilled nursing care of many types excluding detailed diagnostic work — intensive care-type nursing as well as surgical needs. Nurses work closely with physicians to ensure proper care, and maintain a close relationship with families.

These patients are not being abused, starved, mistreated, oversedated or being housed in unsafe or substandard buildings.

Again, if specific units have been found to be unsuitable, the proper action should follow. But do not damage the fine reputation our facilities now enjoy as well as the sincere people who staff them.

We are proud of the excellent care we administer to our patients. And, happily, society is now accepting our units and recognizing the need for our services.
Lastly, the most important aspect of the overall picture is the human element, the knowledge that we care.

Although nurses and nursing personnel should not become emotionally attached to patients, it is difficult to take care of patients for one, two, three, or more years and not begin to regard them as friends. We cannot deny the close relationships that evolve.

Our patients are not referred to simply as room numbers, case numbers, or "the stomach case". We become aware of their needs and quite interested in them. It is not unusual for a staff member to provide for some of their personal needs.

We give love where there is none. We offer what families cannot or will not provide. We are frequently the only family a patient may have.

Patients warmly speak of the facility as their home and express pleasure at their care and confidence in us. Often they go home and return if the need arises and also return to visit. These are not the words or actions of dissatisfied people. Nor are the families unhappy about the care their loved ones receive.

And it is not at all unusual for us to feel greatly saddened by the loss of one of the patients, because we do care.

In conclusion, I submit, there most definitely is a counterpart. It should be presented to the public. Many of us have and will have a need to utilize the services of our facilities. It is always a most difficult time for those involved.

Be assured that we are concerned and prepared to provide our services to you, our community.

Mrs. Lambirth is the director of nurses at a convalescent hospital in La Mesa. She has worked in nursing homes in California for eight years. She is a graduate of the School of Nursing at Thomas Jefferson University Hospital in Philadelphia.

SAGA OF A PRAIRIE NURSE

The date was Sunday, January 23, 1976, when we packed up our worldly belongings and left Pennsylvania for the prairie lands of Canada!

For the prairie lands of Canada! This was not to be one of our everyday adventures; this adventure would last a long time, for now we were to establish a new home-stead in Winnipeg, Manitoba.

What's a Manitoba? Well, it is a province considered to be part of western Canada; it is bordered on the south by Minnesota and North Dakota, to the east by Ontario, to the west by Saskatchewan and lastly to the north by the Northwest Territories. Its name is truly Manitoba, not Manitoba or Manitoba and Winnipeg is not in Canada as some of our United States might think. Yes, it is a long way from home — 1750 miles from Philadelphia.

The Sunday we left home was a cold, bitter, rainy day. The weather was so bad that we had to stop several times to adjust the tire chains and put on side windows. This was in Pennsylvania, no less; and we were headed for a colder country. The trip lasted for 4½ days with stopovers in Ohio, Illinois, Minnesota and North Dakota. By the time we had reached Grand Forks, we knew that we were only one step away from what must be the Arctic! The temperature was well below zero and there was plenty of snow.

Finally, the big day arrived: it was Thursday, January 27, when we reached the border at Emerson, Manitoba. Customs detained us for about 1½ hours, and then we were off for the last 60 miles of our trip.

Gradually, weather conditions changed. The temperature dipped to — 30° Celsius (or minus 20° F.) and there was four feet of snow on the ground. Most of the snow was blowing quite heavily. We had trouble seeing the road on the way to Winnipeg and there was a deep ravine on either side of the road. Get the picture?

Arriving safely and rolling into the city around noon, a cosmopolitan city laid in front of us blanketed with a white winter covering of snow. The common occurrence of subzero temperatures with additional blankets of snow was a routine sight for the next two months. Long thermal underwear was the fashion rage for this time of the year.

Now that we had reached the city, our first task was to find temporary lodging. We spent the next four days in an efficiency motel. These four days were quite hectic and looking for a suitable apartment, meeting Michael's boss and just trying to entertain ourselves.

Sunday proved to be fruitful. We had found the apartment which was to be our new home while in Winnipeg. With all the activity and traveling before we left for Canada, it was great to once more have a place to call our own — even if we waited four weeks for our furniture to arrive. Have you ever slept in a sleeping bag for four weeks? I wonder if that's some kind of record?

Meanwhile back to the reality of work, Michael was adjusting to his new position as a research scientist. The physiology department at the University of Manitoba's Health Sciences Center is one of the largest and the best of its kind in Canada, and as a result it attracts people from all over the world. We have met people from Australia, Tanzania, Switzerland, Spain, Japan, Germany, China and many other parts of the world. The fun part is tasting the specialty foods from the various countries.

Time passed and before we knew it, our furniture was arriving from Philadelphia. Time to play house again! Oh, but it felt good to sit on a sofa (or as they say in Winnipeg, a Chesterfield)! My aching back!

Now settled in, it was the right time to explore the world — the world of nursing! Due to the mail strike in Canada, I did not receive word that I was eligible for registration in Manitoba. Fortunately, nurses with master's degrees are in great demand in the province. Knowing little about nursing in Manitoba, I set out for the provincial nurses' association. What better place to start? I now hold a position with the Manitoba Association of Registered Nurses as a nursing consultant. My task is quite challenging since I am charged with developing standards of nursing practice for the province.

Well it's spring and the snow has long gone; the temperatures range from +16° to +29° Celsius (60° — 80° F.) and the days are magnificent and mostly sunny. The city has blossomed from under its winter blanket of snow demonstrating to everyone what a beautiful city it really is. It has most everything that a typical city would have, including parks, a zoo, hockey and curling rinks, a football stadium, an art museum, and a cultural arts center. They are famous for their well known Royal Winnipeg Ballet as well as the Winnipeg Jets (their hockey team which just won the WHA championship in '76).

Ethnically, Winnipeg is diverse; Ukrainian, French, Greek, German, Chinese, and native Indian are represented, to name a few. The province of Manitoba reflects a rich, cultural mosaic because of this diversity.

Physically, Winnipeg has a population of over 500,000 people with another 500,000 people comprising the rest of the province. The total population of Manitoba is about one-half the size of Philadelphia. The landscape is comparatively flat. One of the province's outstanding features is the many and beautiful lakes where fishing is not only a luxury, but also a way of life for many of the northern people.

Because of the various cultures and the expansiveness of Manitoba, its needs are very unique. Its people are just as unique. Because of this, nursing in such a province is quite diversified. Although the urban areas have their hospitals, much of the nursing in Manitoba is done in northern nursing outposts — a team of one to four nurses with a two to four bed room. Some areas attended by nurses can only be reached by air.

Fortunately, although some customs are different, the principles of nursing here are the same.

Mary M. Robinson Godfrey, 300 N. Market St., Lancaster, Pa. 15583. My great-grandfather, Pandora George, a graduate of Cornell University, is married in Pennsylvania. She ran the U.S. Information Service for Canada Zone.

The Editor of The Bulletin visited the History of Nursing Museum and the Library at the Pennsylvania Hospital in June. We were fortunate in meeting Mrs. Matthews, R.N., B.S., who was in charge that day. After talking with her we decided to write Mrs. Mary Robinson Godfrey, requesting a copy of her letter that she wished to give us regarding her interesting career. Mrs. Matthews spoke to us at the January meeting about the Army and Nurses Museum. Below is a copy of the letter Mrs. Godfrey was kind enough to write.

July 9th 76
Dear Mrs. McCracken:

Your letter of June 25th was received. I think it is just a proof that Mary Robinson Godfrey 09 was a great nurse who has been so long ago. Since coming here, I am conscious that the World War I had better be forgotten. I am now closing my mind to that era.

I have had so much about my interesting experiences — some to an author that Mrs. Matthews met. I have written much about some of it in a book called "The British" which was 1917 in New York in 1914, and later made into a transport on which I was Chief Nurse from Dec. 1920. The author of the book is Frank Boyd. He started the project "Save the Ship," which was shown on TV recently. The project was also shown historically very interesting.

I am having trouble writing. I have crippling arthritis.

The excitement of the Beneficial program has driven all else from my mind to that era. With best wishes.

In Memoriam
Dr. Peter A. Herbut, President of Thomas Jefferson University, died suddenly March 31 at his home in Rosemont, Pennsylvania. He was 63.

Inaugurated as President of Jefferson Medical College on May 3, 1967, Dr. Herbut announced plans for full university status and saw those come to fruition when Jefferson was reorganized as Thomas Jefferson University on July 1, 1969.

Dr. Herbut devoted the years of his presidency to the growth of Thomas Jefferson University as a health-related, medically-oriented institution, comprising a College of Allied Health Sciences and a College of Graduate Studies in addition to Jefferson Medical College and Thomas Jefferson University Hospital.

An internationally recognized pathologist, Dr. Herbut has written four textbooks in pathology and more than 100 scientific papers.

Born July 6, 1912 in Alberta, Canada, he received his medical degree in McGill University in Montreal in 1937. He completed internships in Montreal and in Wilkes-Barre, and a residency at Medical College of Virginia in 1938-39. He joined the faculty at Jefferson as Assistant Professor of Pathology in 1939. Later, he served as Professor and Chairman of the Department of Pathology from July 1, 1948 until his inauguration as president.

Over the years, Dr. Herbut held office in more than 25 professional organizations. He was awarded honorary Doctor of Science degrees by the Philadelphia College of Pharmacy and Science in 1968, and by Washington and Jefferson College in 1974.

Other honors he received include the McClure Award by the Jefferson Society for Clinical Investigation, the American Society of Clinical Pathologists Ward Burdick Award, and the Schaffrey Award by the medical alumni of St. Joseph’s College.

Upon hearing the news, Dr. John V. Templeton, president of the Jefferson Medical College Alumni Association, said, “We have lost not only a president, but also a devoted and beloved friend.”

Dr. Herbut is survived by his wife, the former Margaret Ferksko, two daughters, Mrs. Linda Foulkrod, and Paula Herbut; and three grandchildren.
Katherine Childs graduated from Trinity College, Texas, after which she entered Johns Hopkins School of Nursing. After graduation in 1926, she spent five years with the Presbyterian Board of Foreign Missions in Iran. On her return to the United States, she joined the staff of Lake Forest Hospital, Chicago.

Later she moved to Barnes Hospital in St. Louis where she first met Miss Helen McClelland, who prevailed upon her to come to Pennsylvania Hospital, Philadelphia, as Assistant Director of Nursing Service in charge of the women's building. She held this post for fourteen years.

Miss Childs left this position to head the School of Nursing and Nursing Service at Jefferson Hospital, Philadelphia. Her forward-looking approach to the education of nurses was very much evidenced throughout Pennsylvania.

After six years at Jefferson, she then went on to Eastern Memorial Hospital, Maryland, where she remained as Director of Nursing until her retirement. While here she saw the hospital enlarged, the nursing school enrollment increased and she was responsible for having the school accredited by the National League for Nursing.

Katherine Childs combined energy, intelligence and unswerving strength of purpose with the personal magnetism and gentleness of character which made her so warmly loved and respected.

Katherine Childs, Honorary Member of the Jefferson Nurses Alumni Association, died January 22, 1976.
