LH: My name is Lois Highsmith. That is my married name. Biographical background, let’s see. African American female, born and raised in Philadelphia. I went to school, high school, at Martin Luther King High School. Graduated, midway top of my class, not top. I’m a mother of two daughters. Um, who are very smart too (LG). What else do you want to know? Tell me. Like what?

KD: Yeah, I mean, maybe a little overview of your career path, where you went after Jefferson.

LH: I started, I started at Penn State. I went to Penn State for two years, like I said I started, I got accepted to college, uh, I didn’t want to go to college. Really, I didn’t. But I got, I had nothing to do when I graduated high school (LG). I really, I really didn’t want to go. My professor convinced me to study chemistry because I was good in chemistry, so that’s what I studied. Chemical engineering. Bored out of my mind. I just was bored (LG). So I changed my major. Really, I liked nursing, in my mind, because I used to watch General Hospital (LG).

KD: (LG)

LH: That’s why I wanted to be a nurse, really. I liked helping people and I thought nursing was what I wanted to do. I was good in math, I was good in science, but I didn’t want to go to Hershey, like I said, Hershey was too far from home, I missed home. I was at University Park and I was bored. So, like I said I started looking at open houses. I went to, came to Jefferson’s open house, and I guess they just talked about all the things nurses was doing, and it was just fascinating. Jefferson just, I remember I went to Jefferson’s open house, and I think it was another one. It was Community College and somebody else, but Jefferson just, it just sparked my interest. And the way it was at that time you had to have two years of the sciences, and I had the sciences. So, it worked out for me, and I just took the other sciences I needed at Abington campus. And um, I got accepted here, and it worked out. I came here, and I wanted to be a pediatric nurse because I used to babysit a lot as a young person. I loved children, I really loved
Dear Bro. John,

It comes out that this national holiday finds me here Last year same & I were travelling in Ill. & reached the southern end of that state at evg. This year with my wife Louisa & two children Mary Pomeroy 3 yrs old & Olivia Pomeroy 7 mos. old. We are at this hospitable corner enjoying as we may the society of all the sisters save Jo & of A.H.G. cause of thanksgiving all the way along we have. I was in Chicago & about two weeks ago brought hence my little family whom in Feb. I left in Southern Illinois with a sister of Lieutenant's. I am doing a little here to keep things going till things matters pick up in the W. so as to warrant our being there – which time I hope will soon come, as I like the W. for a home. Sisters are very kind and so is A.H.G. whose interest in the family remains still strong. News of the day here covers the Great Easter's arrival, 680 fl. long & every way big in proportions. Much we shd. find to talk of should we meet I do not doubt but to write news or items of interest to you who never get the letters, or if you get them, about never answer them. Allow me to kindly ask, what pleasure you suppose it to be to us to write year after year, mail by mail, & yet have you let mail after mail go by, without your sending us even your signature. You have been gone some dozen years & yet have never even by intimation told us whether you have saved a dollar or a fortune, a matter of less consequence to us than to know you are happy, contented, living a yourself-fulfil life, & [pres] by a life of faith & active service.
