WHAT IS EVERYTHING SEARCH?

SML's Everything Search lets you search across an expansive selection of journals, e-books, presentations, digital objects, and databases using a single search query.

Includes: Annual Reviews, BIOSIS Previews, BMJ Publishing, Elsevier, HathiTrust, Hindawi Publishing, John Wiley & Sons, Johns Hopkins University Press, JSTOR, Mary Ann Liebert, McGraw Hill, Medline, NASA, National Academy of Sciences, Nature Publishing Group, Oxford University Press, PubMed, Springer, Taylor and Francis Group, Thieme Publishing, US National Library of Medicine, Wolters Kluwer Health. Over 70 institutional repositories (including the Jefferson Digital Commons). And much, much more!

This is a great place to start, but when is it better to search in a specific database?

For systematic reviews and advanced searches, we recommend searching within a specific database to take advantage of its unique search features and filters.
