

F1000 Workspace (F1000): Exporting from PubMed

1. Select references to be exported from PubMed and the Send to drop-down menu. The Choose Destination option for Citation manager will expand the menu to Create File. In this example, the first three results are selected, but a maximum of 200 may be exported as a batch (not shown here).

The screenshot shows the PubMed search results page for the query "handwashing AND staphylococcus aureus". The search results are displayed in a list format, with three items selected. A "Send to" dropdown menu is open, showing the "Choose Destination" options. The "Citation manager" option is selected, and the "Create File" button is highlighted. The search results list includes:

- 1. A multimodal infection control concept in a burn intensive care unit - outbreak.
Baier C, Ipaktchi R, Ebadi E, Limbourg A, Mett TR, Vogt PM, Bange F

The download will have an NBIB file extension.

2. In F1000, select the project folder in which the PubMed references will be imported to (not shown here). To create a project, select **+.

The screenshot shows the F1000 Workspace interface. At the top, there is a teal button labeled "Import References" with a plus icon. Below this, there is a list of project folders:

- All references
- Unsorted
- Missing data
- Reading list
- Private projects (with a red box around the plus icon)

Name the project (handwashing), and Enter (keyboard).

3. In this example, the handwashing project is selected.

4. After Import References (upper left) is selected, the resultant window will appear. The References menu is expanded, and the option including NBIB is then selected.

5. After successfully browsing and importing the previously downloaded NBIB file, the F1000 display will be:
