FROM THE EDITORS

We are proud to publish the 14th issue of the Jefferson Medicine Forum. The editorial staff would like to acknowledge the support of Dr. Diemer in producing this year's forum. We appreciate your guidance and support in bringing this issue to print.

Over the years, the Medicine Forum has provided a unique opportunity for our housestaff and medical students to not only share scholarly activities, but also to pursue their interests outside of the medical field. This year, we are proud to announce the addition of medical application reviews as well as an opinion piece on the use of opiates in primary care – a controversial topic that often leads to heated debates. We have also been fortunate enough to include interesting travel experiences, unique case reports, and exciting review articles, along with some breathtaking photography and original cartoon.

We would like to thank our internal medicine residents and colleagues, for without their endless enthusiasm and passion for medical knowledge, we could not have produced this wonderful issue. We hope you enjoy this year's forum with all of its new glitz and glamor.

Regards,

Rina Shah, MD and Mitul Kanzaria, MD
