

Against the Odds

MAKING A DIFFERENCE IN GLOBAL HEALTH

Against the Odds: Making a Difference in Global Health is a banner traveling exhibition highlighting the role of communities in improving health at home and all around the world.

The exhibition explores the shared basic needs required for a good quality of life, including nutritious food and clean water, a safe place to live, and affordable health care. Using historical and contemporary photographs, the banners tell stories of collaboration between families, scientists, advocates, governments, and international organizations, all taking up the challenge to prevent disease and improve medical care. This exhibition raises awareness of the sources and effects of health inequalities and invites each of us to join the global campaign for health and human rights.

SCOTT MEMORIAL LIBRARY

February 13 to March 25, 2017

2nd Floor Gallery Area

Join us for a reception to celebrate the opening of the exhibition on Monday, February 13th at 3:00pm in Scott, Room 200A featuring remarks by:

Richard Derman, MD, MPH, FACOG

Associate Provost, Global Affairs, Director, Global Health Research

Professor, Obstetrics/Gynecology

An exhibition brought to you by National Library of Medicine, National Institutes of Health

www.nlm.nih.gov/againsttheodds