We have all been wishing for a new nursing home and now it has become a reality. When we move this coming September it will be like starting all over again. We will be moving into a new building and getting acquainted with other students some of whom we have never met. Some of us are used to rooming alone while others have had room-mates but no other rooms in close proximity to theirs. Since there will be more students on the same floor there will be more working different shifts, we will need to be more considerate of others and keep noise down to a minimum. This does not mean only after midnight but during the day also, as the night girls need their sleep. We are hoping that participation in clubs and various other activities will increase, due to the fact that it will be more convenient for students to attend. Pleasant new surroundings coupled with increased activity will bring us closer together thereby heightening morale.

THE HONOR SYSTEM

Some of us know about the new honor system proposed for our school of nursing. Many have heard it mentioned vaguely and a few know nothing at all about it. There will be rules to follow as before, some of which may be different according to the changes found by living in the new nurses' home.

This system deals with each student personally. You It is based on your maturity and sense of responsibility. Do You possess the ability to do things the right way, and if you miss the mark to be able to own up to the consequences. It is not an easy thing to do. The right way is rarely found to be so.

Look around you, You will find among your fellow students those who see only the dull, drab side of life and soon to jump at the chance to defy authority. Don't stop there! Look further and you will find the girl who views her training and life in general as a chance to better herself. This may be you.

SPOTLIGHT

It is sometimes hard to sit down and point out all the things which make the kind of girl we like to put in our spotlight. It is always so hard to cover everything.

First of all with the girl we chose for this one we thought it necessary to consider what she has done. We found that she is active in the Dramatic Club, the Newspaper Club, her class projects and various school projects. We also know that she supports our incoming honor system very strongly.

Secondly, we might consider the type of person she is. We didn't have to dig hard to find out that she is bright, neat, even-tempered, straight forward, and that she is, of course, an excellent nurse.

The third phase of this article is a little different than most of our Spotlights have been. We are going to predict that Judy Isemhour will make one of the best and most active Student Council Presidents we have ever had.

We want to add our thanks for what you have already done for the school, Judy and our support to all that you plan to do in the future year.

Song To Remember

By E. Byers, Former Patint on Urology Ward

When I'm dead and other loves will take my place, When summer too is gone and winter's snows begin, When beneath your feet you tread upon my grave, And I'm all alone beneath the barren trees; Will you remember then for just a fleeting moment, And remembering say, "That was love, I know it now, because I let it die.

ATTACHED, MATCHED

AND HATCHED

Congratulations to T. J. Cahen on the birth of her first child, a girl, Kelly Lynn and to Barbara Newcomb on the birth of her first child, also a girl, Cherie Joanne. Hope they both will soon be back at Jeff to finish.

Congratulations are also in order to:

Key Berry-Mrs. David Stoudt
Arlene Rechens-Mrs. Donald Baumann
Joanne Longfellow-Mrs. Edward Collins

Best wishes and happiness to the following who will be married during the remainder of our school year:

Sandy Davis to James Marsden
Polly Kreuse to Frank Persons
Mary Lynn Moser to David Shank
Betty Rockfellow to Vernon Laird
Sandy Wisotzkey to James Hall
Judy Wright to Walter Elocs, M.D.

Barbara Phelps to Fred Flanders

Our thanks to Marie Longworth for helping to give us such a magnificent yearbook. The best Jeff has ever produced in our estimation.

IT COULD HAPPEN TO YOU

"What? You say the change list is out and I'm starting O.B. Miss Shank you just can't start me in the delivery room. I've never even seen a kitten born. Good night, the illustrations in my book leave me with a squirmish feeling.

Gee, this Monday morning for some known reason I just don't want to go to work. O.K., so here I am! When do I start?

Thank my lucky stars we're shown a complete delivery and then supervised on one before we're on our own. Hey, don't leave me in here alone. Yipes, where's the doctor? Now honey you don't really mean your baby's coming right this minute. Can't you wait? Oh, you can't! Please don't bear down the doctor's scrubbing and will be right in. Is that a head I see? Maybe I should be ready to catch it just in case. Oh! Who ever said they aren't slippery little characters!

What a day.

GOSSIP COLUMN

T. Capofarello—Who was that Einstein I saw you with in Atlantic City?

S. Lipton—Have you collected any more souvenirs from the drive-in?

D. Cale—We haven't seen you around the dorm lately. Must be a pretty big attraction!

N. Ackerman—What's Methodist got that Jeff hasn’t? Harvey?

V. Longhiotto—We understand that you're considering graduate work at Detroit Memorial. Are we correct?

J. Romack—Have you heard of the "up and coming hermaphrodite"?

J. Dutton—We've noticed a new twinkle in your eye lately. How come? Couldn't be a man could it?

D. Stone—It's an old joke but bless my soul, you're still going Barefoot?

N. Newton—Twenty pounds less but he still looks like Peter Lorre.

D. Dougherty—Congratulations and good luck on your recent engagement.

R. Deangelis—Word has it that a certain someone's P.J.'s have taken a turn for the worse.

A. Hill—Understand you're having problems, in fact piles of them.

C. Webb—You can't love six and still play tricks!

W. Parrish—Number one tune on the hit parade—"Canadian Sunset"

R. Tumolo—Are we correct in assuming that M.D. on the back of that since means Mischievous Doctor?

M. Frank—You're in the Army now. Any difference?

J. Salter—Most girls sleep with stuffed animals, but not this one—She sleeps with Cigarette butts.

M. Henly—A quiet silence seemed to fall over the sitting room the other night. It couldn't have been that you were entertaining a guest and male at that!

B. Hamps—Cheer up! It isn't every student that experiences two B.O.M.'s in two successive nights.
Dear Sairy,
What is the other name for third floor Gyne?

J.B. and T.L.

Dear J.B. and T.L.
Must be the Montgomery Ward!

Dear Sairy,
If an EKG measures the heart beat, and an EEG measures a brain wave, what is an EKG?

RESEARCHER

Dear Researcher,
Something a hen lays.

Dear Sairy,
What happened to the window washer in the Pavilion? I never see him anymore?

GLASSY-EYED

Dear Glassy-eyed,
Guess he got to feeling too many "peins".

TREASURES OF THE O.R.

Sterile gloves with fingers stuck
Bloody clinics and no buckets
Two left handed gloves in a rack
Scrubbing for ten minutes before realizing your mask isn't on.

Doctors who think they breathe sterile air.
Tangled and knotted sutures
Ties that unravel

Holes in your gloves.

Doctors that use forty different sutures on forty different needles
A broken needle in an abdominal incision
Flies in the O.R.
The missing sponge
Left handed doctors

Time for lunch and no relief
A line of doctors all waiting to be gowned and gloved at once
Fuzz in your mask

Bristly scrub brushes
My allergy to Septisol

Eight D.C'S in a row
One missing circulating nurse
Redhot autoclave trays and no towels

Dear Sairy,

Everyday in the lunch line I get egg salad. It seems they run out of everything else when I get there. What can I do?

I hate egg salad!

STARVED

Dear Sairy,

Don't get "egg-sighted". Try to eat them or the yoke will be on you!

STUDENT COUNCIL NEWS

The mass meeting of student council was held July 21st in the pit and presided over by Jane Hudson the outgoing President. Jane deserves a hearty thanks for the swell job she has done in the past year.

The treasurer's report was given and on hand there is approximately $350.00. Reports on the progress of the various clubs, Dramatics, Newspaper, Card and Sp Sp, Science, French Club, and a member of each. It is hoped that as much and more students will participate in their activities in the coming year.

The honor system is to begin upon entrance of the new nurses' home before which time each student will receive a letter of explanation. A honor pledge is to be placed in the 1014 building and the signature of each student placed upon it.

IMPRESSIONS OF THE O.R.

BEFORE:

Once upon a time, as most stories go, there was a girl, who on one fateful day in June of 1959 made her grand entrance into that remote and mysterious section of the hospital known as the O.R. A poet could not describe accurately the excitement that filled her and her seven tense companions as they pushed half fearfully and anxiously into the classroom on fourth O.R.

After five rather rushed and puzzling days, this particular student had decided she was by far the most clumsy, awkward, stupid, nervous, and scared person this side of the international date line. All her romantic and idealistic dreams of being an O.R. nurse had faded into a dim, intangible memory. This impression was further confirmed after her first actual day on fifth O.R. She completed the day with the runs, two new ulcers, and nervous frustration. In case this sounds like a rather dismal picture, it WAS, from her viewpoint and probably the doctors whom she assisted after fumbling through three major operations as, supposedly, first scrub nurse. Her mistakes were many but not drastic and she managed to flounder through the remainder of the week feeling much like a canary trapped on the backpack with the cat.

INTERMISSION:

Who ever said recovery room was a resting place during your O.R. period? All day long there is a continuous line of oris, oxygen head tents, messy tissues, axillary thermometers, charts, infiltrated I.V.'s, bed sides, B.F.'s, and drainage bottles. Nowhere else is the Trendelenburg position more frequently used. And nowhere else do you get a more helpless feeling when it comes to relieving the physical and mental discomforts of your suffering patients. But the week passed on and once more her thoughts turned to another four weeks in the O.R.

AFTER RECOVERY ROOM:

Sixth floor—a sanctuary for nail biters and a rehabilitation center for nervous student O.R. nurses. It was here that our problem child developed skill, knowledge, and above all, confi-

Newspaper meetings are held every Wednesday at 5:30 P.M. in the dining room of 1010. Everyone is invited and urged to attend. We need typists, news and feature writers, layout people and anyone else who may have suggestions to offer so that we can make the newspaper even better next year. Contributions for Dear Sally, gossip if this girl could make it, anyone and Alumni news would be greatly appreciated.

So take comfort all you worry warttributions for Dear Sally, gossip if this girl could make it, anyone and Alumni news would be greatly appreciated.

Science. The experience she acquired scrubbing for abortion hysterectomies prepared her for the forthcoming majors on the lower O.R. floors. From here on in things went pretty smooth, not perfect, but alright. She could now move with much more precision and facility; even had time to relax and make friends.
