6th Annual Faculty Days presentations now in the JDC

Check out the innovative teaching methods and ideas your colleagues are using in their courses. Access all 14 presentations from the recent 6th Annual Faculty Days in the Jefferson Digital Commons.

Data Management and the JDC

Learn about data management plans and the benefits of storing research data sets in the Jefferson Digital Commons in our new guide.

“Data management” and “data management plans” are phrases increasingly heard within academic and scientific communities. More and more science journals are requiring data sharing as a contingency for publication, and in 2013 the White House Office of Science and Technology released a new policy promoting the deposit in publicly accessible databases.

Two new handouts

Per request from faculty, Education Services and Medical Media Services developed the following two handouts:

- Designing your research poster: Tips and Best Practices
- Using Images in Conference Posters and Presentations: Best Practices

New Grand Round: Department of Medicine

Innovation continues at Jefferson. This quarter brings the additional of our newest department to archive grand rounds: The Department of Medicine. This brings our total number of departments archiving grand round presentations to 7, they include:

- Family and Community Medicine
- Pulmonary and Critical Care Medicine
- Surgery
- Kimmel Cancer Center
- Integrative Medicine
- Otolaryngology
- Department of Medicine

3. 20 minute documentary on Sumner Waldron Jackson, MD

Sumner Waldron Jackson (1884-1945) was a Jefferson Medical College graduate in the Class of 1914. He served in WWI in France and after the war lived a few years in Philadelphia with his French wife but returned to the Continent where he established himself as staff surgeon at the American Hospital in Neuilly, a suburb of Paris, from 1925-1943. He was a hero martyr of the French Resistance during WWII.

"This 20-minute documentary tells how Sumner Jackson, a doctor at the American Hospital of Paris, stood up to Nazi invaders from 1940 to 1944. He and his wife Toquette and son Philip joined the Goélette network of the French Resistance—and paid for it dearly. All were arrested and deported to Germany; Philip and Toquette survived and returned to Paris in 1945, while Dr. Jackson died in Lübeck in northern Germany on May 3, 1945. Drawing on interviews with Philip as well as insights from historians and WWII experts, this is a moving story about the courage and tragedy of an American in Paris in the turmoil of the German Occupation."

Name: Ana Marin

Country: US

Role: Local Public Health

Comments: We would like to thank Jefferson Digital Commons for making articles accessible to Local Public Health Agencies. As you may know, not being affiliated with an academic institution results in lack of access to free peer reviewed journal articles that are essential to our work. Having free access is important since Local Public Health Agencies do not have funding to pay for articles, in addition, access to the latest literature provides opportunities to learn new ways of improving our work. We commend you for providing this incredible resource.

Thank you.

D.Kuczer commented on "Cancer Screening 2014" by Richard C. Wender, MD -

I wish we had such a program in our country. Compliance for breast and rectal cancer screening is still low. All the best for your work.

From Berlin:

We are Medea Film, a production company based in Berlin, currently working on a documentary about breasts.

This documentary will be broadcast on the german-french tv channel Arte probably around september.

R_D_Peterson_MD commented on "Jefferson Alumni Bulletin – Volume 63, Number 2, Spring 2014" - <http://jdc.jefferson.edu/>:

While wondering why I read the Bulletin peppered with corporate presentations and fluff, I read Marianne T Ritchie's Ode to a Mentor. I remember Dr. Goldstein as well during my first year fellowship at Lankenau under Dr. Gabuzda (another icon from the past). Thank you for reviving my memories of this gentleman physician, one who could be a model for so many and yet mirrored by so few.
