ABOUT US

The Center for Teaching & Learning and Scott Memorial Library support learning in the library, classroom, online, and through co-curricular activities. We provide the expertise to integrate the science of learning with pedagogies that work and the knowledge resources and contemporary techniques and technologies to meet learning objectives and goals in partnership with faculty, staff, and students.

Our commitment to faculty and learner success encourages us to meet our constituencies where they are. That means taking a multi-faceted approach to creating and sustaining lifelong learners. We cultivate relationships and community through formal programming, individual consultations, virtual environments, and on-demand services.

In academic year 2016/2017 we continued to serve the Jefferson community with exceptional learning spaces, resources, and staff to support evidence-based best practices in the scholarship of teaching and learning, and we offered special programs and exhibits to expand the educational environment.

Pat Wynne, Associate Director, Library Information Services, presented at the TJUH Nursing Department’s Annual Nursing Research Conference (May 2017).

Dan Kipnis, Education Services Librarian, participated in a panel discussion sponsored by Bepress showcasing institutional repositories and presented a poster on the topic at the 117th Medical Library Association Conference (May 2017).

Julie Phillips, Assistant Director, CTL, Jen Wilson, Medical Writer/Editor, and Pat Wynne, Associate Director, Library Information Services, presented Rock the Talk: Connecting Learners with Resources through Collaborative Programming at Jefferson’s Faculty Days (June 2017).

TJU’s Outstanding Service Recognition Awards 2017

Tony Frisby, Director of the CTL and Scott Memorial Library and Chris Braster, Assistant Director, Educational Technologies (James B. Erdmann Award for Excellence in Interprofessional Education and Collaborative Practice for Administration/Staff presented by the Jefferson Interprofessional Education Center).

“The Outstanding Service Recognition Awards recognizes a Jefferson employee who has rendered exceptional service to the college and its students by demonstrating flexibility, problem solving, attention to the needs of students and other constituents, and going above and beyond the call of duty.”

Presentations

F. Michael Angelo, University Archivist and Special Collections Librarian, presented Florence Nightingale: Transgressive Woman and Military Disruptor (as Seen Through Mid-20th Century Lantern Slides) at The Wagner Free Institute of Science (October 2016).

Kelsey Duinkerken, Special Collections and Digitization Librarian, presented at a panel on Adaptable DPLA: Repurposing Data with PA Digital and the Digital Public Library of America at the Mid-Atlantic Regional Archives Conference, MARAC (April 2017)

University Archives Celebrated 30th Anniversary

Although Jefferson was founded in 1824 and produced scores of notable graduates, the institution had no repository to hold their personal and professional papers until the Scott Library building opened in 1970 and included a Special Collections Room to house and preserve the historic volumes and papers entrusted to its care.

In December 1986 we hired our first professional archivist to tackle the daunting tasks of organizing, documenting, and preserving the expa...

Anatomical Flap Books: Virtual Exhibit

A series of videos highlighting the incredible collection of anatomical flap books from Thomas Jefferson University's Archives & Special Collection.

Available on the Archives website: http://library.jefferson.edu/archives/exhibits/flapbooks/

EXHIBIT: Binding Wounds, Pushing Boundaries: African Americans in Civil War Medicine

A look at the men and women who served as surgeons and nurses and how their service as medical providers challenged the prescribed notions of race and gender and pushed the boundaries of the role of African Americans in America.

Related Program: We hosted speaker Heather M. Butts, JD, MPH, MA, author of African American Medicine in Washington, D.C.: Healing the Capital During the Civil War Era.

November 2016

EXHIBIT: Pictures of Nursing: The Zwerdling Postcard Collection

By documenting the relationship of nursing to significant forces in 20th-century life, such as war and disease, these postcards reveal how nursing was seen during those times. Pictures of Nursing investigates the hold these images exert on the public imagination—then and now.

Related Program: Elissa Della Monica, RN, MSN, NE-BC, Vice President Post Acute and Case Management Services (Abington) presented a talk on History of Nursing from a Public Health Perspective.

December 2016

Rock the Talk!

Kick off of program offering postdocs and graduate students an opportunity to enhance their oral communication skills and expand their teaching portfolio by presenting a 30- to 60-minute “how-to” presentation. Sponsored by the Office of Postdoctoral Affairs and the Center for Teaching and Learning.

Therapy Dogs at Scott Library

Canine visitors offered students an opportunity to de-stress and enjoy some unconditional love. These therapy dogs are always a big hit at Scott Library.

February 2017

EXHIBIT: Against the Odds: Making a Difference in Global Health

Exhibit highlighting the role of communities in improving health at home and all around the world. Historical and contemporary photographs explored the shared basic needs required for a good quality of life, including nutritious food and clean water, a safe place to live, and affordable health care.

Related Program: Opening reception for the exhibit featured remarks by Richard Derman, MD, MPH, FACOG, Associate Provost, Global Affairs, and Director, Global Health Research at TJU.
