Parenting for Emotional Growth: Now in the JDC

Parenting for Emotional Growth, a Textbook, Workshops and Curriculum for Students in Grades K Thru 12 is the result of a multi-disciplinary research project lead by Henri Parens, MD, a TJU Professor of Psychiatry. An intensive study of a group of mothers and their children over thirty-seven years lead to the development of these materials—designed for parents, caregivers, educators and mental health professionals— addressing how to optimize a child’s emotional development and health.

To learn more view The Urgent Need for Universal Parenting Education, a video overview of the research including footage and observations from the participants and the investigators recorded over the life of the project.

All of the Parenting for Emotional Growth materials have been added to the Jefferson Digital Commons and are freely available to download.

The screenshot shows the Jefferson Digital Commons interface. At the top, the Jefferson logo and 'Jefferson Digital Commons' are displayed, along with 'Thomas Jefferson University'. A navigation bar includes 'Home', 'About', 'Help', and 'My Account'. On the left sidebar, there is a search box with the text 'Enter search terms:' and a 'Search' button. Below the search box are links for 'Advanced Search' and 'Help on using Search'. There is also a 'Notify me via email or RSS' option. The sidebar contains sections for 'Links' (Psychiatry & Human Behavior Website), 'Browse' (Collections, Disciplines, Authors), 'Author Corner' (Author FAQ), and 'Scott Library Twitter feed' with a 'Follow' button. The main content area shows the breadcrumb path: 'Home > SKMC > Psychiatry & Human Behavior > Parenting for Emotional Growth'. Below this is a banner for 'Parenting for Emotional Growth: A Textbook, Workshops & Curriculum for Students in Grades K Thru 12'. The text below the banner reads: 'PARENTING FOR EMOTIONAL GROWTH: A TEXTBOOK, WORKSHOPS & CURRICULUM FOR STUDENTS IN GRADES K THRU 12'. The author is listed as 'Henry Parens, MD Professor of Psychiatry, Thomas Jefferson University'. A paragraph describes the project: 'Parenting for Emotional Growth is based on a multi-disciplinary research project conducted between 1970 and 2007.* This intensive study of a group of mothers and their children over thirty-seven years led to the development of the materials here. Designed for parents, caregivers, educators, and mental health professionals, these documents are constructed to spell out in substantial detail how to optimize a child's emotional development and health.' Below this, it says 'The files include:' followed by a list item: '• Parenting for Emotional Growth: Textbook - Explores the psychodynamic theories that address parenting issues pertinent to optimizing the child's psychological development, mental well-being, and abilities to adapt
