A MESSAGE FROM THE PRESIDENT

Dear Alumnae:

Again, it is my pleasure to send you a brief word of greeting and my best wishes.

During the past year we have continued to grow by completing the furnishings of your alumnae room. To complete this project a part time clerk-typist has been authorized to handle the mail and other office functions of our organization. This position has been filled by one of our own alumna, Miss Martha Riland.

As announced the Adele Lewis Fund has been designated to be used as a Scholarship Fund for Student Nurses. Your response to our request for funds has been most gratifying and with your continued support the Fund will continue to grow.

I wish to thank the Board of Directors, the Committee Chairmen and all of the members for their help and support given to me over the last two years.

PROGRESSIVE CHANGES AT JEFFERSON

This past year has, like many previous ones, marked significant progress at Jefferson. Since change seems to be a constant factor, it is difficult for those of us who are on the scene to remember just what took place and when.

Last year, we reported the opening of the new Emergency Room. This Unit has been extremely busy, and we have been seeing a significant daily increase in the number of patients. In her usual tradition, Jefferson is utilizing these experiences for teaching as well as for offering excellent patient emergency care.

In October, the Louis B. and Ida K. Orlowitz Apartment Building was opened, and all of its units were leased, and most of them were occupied within the month. These bright, attractive living accommodations are so popular that there is already a long waiting list for the coming year.

Jefferson Hall, the unique, beautiful combined Basic Science and Student Commons Building, is now fully occupied. This, the largest building of its kind in the country, is functional in its provisions for teaching and learning and yet provides a multitude of recreational facilities such as a swimming pool, game room, music lounges, social lounges and many meeting rooms. Its facilities are available to all students and employees.

If you were to visit the Student Nurses' Residence, you would see still more building and construction taking place. Located between the Residence and the Orlowitz Building is the site of the Scott Memorial Library and Administration Building. The first floors will house the Library collections and the top floor, Jefferson's Administration—the President and Vice-Presidents, as well as the Personnel, Purchasing, Plant Management and other Departments of the Corporation.

Jefferson's real estate is expanding east and west and north and south of its original buildings. Further acquisition of the Washington Square West Urban Renewal area will take place this year and application for finances to build a School of Health Sciences, a Center for Continuing Education, and a Central Underground Garage have already been submitted. Our School of Nursing administration and educational facilities will be located in the School of Health Sciences. Several Task Forces are meeting to discuss the needs of Jefferson in the planning of a new hospital building and the expansion of many programs.

As is the case in other large teaching hospitals, Jefferson is becoming more and more involved in community problems and activities. Several years ago, the Children and Youth program was begun and more recently the Community Mental Health Center was established. Both of these offer services and counselling to the population in city health districts south of Market Street and between the two rivers. In addition, four patient buildings at Philadelphia State Hospital have been assigned to us for patient care. Our psychiatric staff and student nurses on affiliation serve these patients, and many when discharged are followed up in the Community Mental Health Center.

A Committee has been appointed by the President and is charged with the responsibility of planning and seeking educational opportunities for disadvantaged youth. The Hospital, College, and Corporation are represented in this Committee. Medical School Faculty and medical students are currently working with some college students who do not currently meet the qualifications, but who have the potential to do so and who are interested in a career in Medicine.

We are also actively involved with the Philadelphia Urban Coalition Group and with the Health and Welfare Council in the matter of providing assistance to disadvantaged youth in job training and opportunities.

A new approach to the Hospital Volunteer Program enables high school students to learn about the many health careers available in the Hospital and provides experience in a selected area of interest so that the student may learn at first hand what the career really involves. Forty students participated in this program in 1968, and seventy are enrolled for the summer of 1969.

As you can see, Jefferson has emerged from its shell of a medical school and a hospital to become an institution vitally involved not only in the advancement of medical sciences but also with the living, everyday human problems which beset our nation.

The foundation laid by the expansion of her physical facilities and the broadening of her philosophy and concepts has brought Jefferson to her next great change. The Board of Trustees has given its official sanction and it will become effective on July 1, 1969, that Jefferson Medical College and Medical Center will henceforth be known as The Thomas Jefferson University.

While all this broad planning for the present and future of Jefferson has been taking place, changes are occurring within the Hospital.

The 6th Floor of the Main Building was renovated a year ago and during the past year the last of the open wards disappeared when the 4th Floor was completely renovated. These areas now provide two-bedded units for patients, giving them more privacy and greater comfort. New nursing stations, lounges, bathrooms and pantry areas facilitate patient care and provide pleasant working conditions for the staff.

Construction of a Cardiac Care Unit will begin this summer and is expected to be completed by January, 1970. This Unit will occupy the entire 4th Floor, Thompson Building, displacing the present Bronchoscopic Department, which will be transferred to the 9th Floor of the same building.

As a preliminary move to prepare for this project, the Bronchoscopic operating rooms have been transferred into the 4th Pavilion Operating Room suite. Other changes within the Operating Rooms necessitated by this project now provide an additional surgeons' dressing room and two new dressing rooms for the nursing staff. All of the operating rooms are now located on the 4th and 5th Floors of the Pavilion.

The Cardiac Care Unit will provide the latest electronic monitoring and other equipment for the care of patients with cardiac problems and for the post-operative care of those who have had cardiac surgical procedures performed.

Plans for the reconstruction of the 10th Pavilion and 9th Main Building nurseries have been submitted to the Philadelphia Department of Public Health.

During the past six months we have been admitting as transfers from Philadelphia hospitals and from those on the eastern seaboard premature and other high risk babies for whom Jefferson's Pediatric staff and facilities are being requested. These babies are being cared for in the Intensive Care Nursery and the new facilities will provide much needed space for an increased number of infants.

The proceeds of the first three Old Market Fairs as well as contributions from other Women's Board Committees will finance the Nursery project.

The Inhalation Therapy Department, established a year ago, has more than lived up to our expectations. Trained therapists now give all patient treatments, relieving nursing service of these responsibilities. The Inhalation Therapy Department with its new respirators and other up-to-date equipment, coupled with its increasing staff of trained therapists, has "sold" itself to the physicians as evidenced by the increased number of requests for this type of patient treatment.

You may have heard of the Max Cart—Jefferson has two of them. These carts are equipped with life-saving resuscitative equipment. Special classes in resuscitation have been and are being given to physicians, nurses and students, and a procedure adopted for the prompt response to "Code Blue" alerts the Code Blue being a patient emergency signal. "Max" also responds to Code Blues.

Two pilot programs which relieve nurses of some of their non-direct patient care responsibilities are underway. One provides a unit manager who reports directly to Hospital Administration and who handles such administrative responsibilities as the ordering of supplies, the maintenance of equipment and the handling of interdepartmental problems affecting patient care. The second project provides the assignment of pharmacists to the Nursing Unit, these being responsible for checking drug orders and preparing unit doses of medications. Both of these programs appear to be very successful and the new budget provides for some expansion of the projects.

While this report has dealt primarily with plans and projects for patient care, teaching and research, the personnel within the institution have not been overlooked. A benefits package provides for a pension plan for everyone, continuation of the wage and salary program providing annual merit increments and full paid Blue Cross and Blue Shield coverage for every employee. Cost of living increases will bring the minimum wage being paid at Jefferson to $2.00 per hour. These increases do not affect the merit increment program, but are in addition to it. All members of the nursing staff will receive a substantial increase in salary on July 1. All of these steps have been taken at considerable cost so that income must be increased and costs controlled.

While it may seem that hospital charges to patients are too high, we must remember that over the years with the very low salaries paid to hospital employees, these employees were in fact subsidizing patient costs. Hospital employees' salaries are now competitive with those in other industries, and patients are being required to pay the cost of their own care. Salaries comprise nearly 70 percent of hospital costs. We must remain at a competitive level in this area if we are to recruit qualified personnel.

Further changes within Jefferson are always apparent as people retire, resign or are promoted. Several Search committees are looking for replacements for several professors who are planning to resign or retire.

Our Alumnae Association can proudly report the promotion of one of its members to a Department Head position. Mrs. Elizabeth Stephens Stone is now Director of Patient Services Department and is in charge of Escort Service. You will want to congratulate her on the excellent job she has been doing in this capacity.

This report has been far too long and yet has only touched upon the exciting events which seem always to be taking place at Jefferson. Do visit us, or better yet, return to your Alma Mater in one of the many different positions which are available in many departments. In other words, Come and See for yourself!

My best wishes go to each of you for a prosperous and happy year until we meet at the next annual meeting.

SCHOOL OF NURSING

ANNUAL REPORT TO THE ALUMNAE ASSOCIATION

Three major events occurred during the year which are in keeping with the progressive development of the School of Nursing—a visit by the National League for Nursing for continued accreditation, the Opening of Jefferson Hall Commons and the introduction of elective subjects which carry college credit.

As you know, the School of Nursing has been fully accredited by the National League for Nursing since 1959. Return visits are periodically scheduled for the purpose of re-evaluating the program in relation to certain established criteria. Our six year re-evaluation visit was conducted October 28 to 31, 1968. The report of the visit was evaluated by the Board of Review for Diploma Programs in December and the Board took action to continue accreditation of the program and to schedule a revisit in six years, the maximum type of approval granted by the League.

The members of the Board of Review commended the administration and faculty for continuing to satisfy the current evaluative criteria and for their active participation as nurse educators who have committed themselves to the improvement of diploma education for nursing in general and to the continued self-study and self evaluation of their own diploma program in particular.

Jefferson Hall Commons, between 10th and 11th Street facing Locust, was opened in the summer of 1968 and has facilities for many types of activity, not available to our students previously—swimming pool, gymnasium, game room, art gallery, etc. Beginning in the Fall of 1968, the class presidents serve on the Jefferson Hall Commons Board with representatives of all educational programs within the institution. This provides an opportunity for them to share in the formulating rules and regulations governing the use of the facility. The first two floors of the building are occupied by the Commons and the remaining four floors house the basic science departments of the Medical College. Nursing students' classes in microbiology and drug therapy are conducted in the new classrooms, whenever possible.

Jefferson's affiliation with the Philadelphia College of Pharmacy and Science made it possible for the School of Allied Health Sciences to offer students the opportunity to begin or continue working toward a baccalaureate degree in courses of study leading to advancement in the allied health professions and occupations. Basic courses were offered beginning in the Fall quarter of 1968. All classes are conducted at Jefferson. These courses are open to students in the School of Nursing, students in other allied health programs and all employees meeting the criteria of the admissions committee of the School of Allied Health Sciences. Approximately eighteen of our student nurses have participated in this program. It would be possible for a freshman student in the diploma program who enrolled for electives each quarter to complete work for a baccalaureate degree in two years following completion of the diploma program.

Other activities within the school remain much the same.

There are currently 220 students in the School of Nursing, 79 of whom were admitted into the school in September 1968. Recruitment of students into diploma schools of nursing continues to be a problem. Many diploma schools have closed during the past few years and quite a few are shortening their programs. Of the 501 diploma programs throughout the country accredited by the National League for Nursing there are only 58 programs which continue to have the traditional three year program, i.e., 144 weeks. Thirty-five of these programs are in Pennsylvania. The average program length is 121 weeks exclusive of vacations.

In view of the continued need for more nurses, we have stepped up our recruitment activities considerably. During the year approximately 42 schools have invited us and we have visited approximately 35 schools.

We now have 33 full time faculty members in addition to the Medical College faculty who teach the basic sciences. The committee structure of the faculty organization permits each member to participate in the development of the program.

Curriculum changes include a complete block rotation beginning with the class of 1970; assignment of an instructor to Philadelphia State Hospital to teach the course in psychiatric nursing to our students assigned in the Jefferson unit at Philadelphia State; inclusion of two weeks at Eastern State School for Children in the psychiatric experience; a six week vacation for freshmen; and a change in operating room experience from a six week experience in operating room to a six week experience of which two weeks is in the operating room and four weeks is an assignment to a surgical care area for a complete follow through of a minimum of four patients from pre-operative to post-operative care.

We continue to encourage the use of varied teaching methods and feel that our most valuable recent acquisitions are the videotape recorder, the overhead projector and a new combination film strip/record player. The film strip/record player was purchased for the school by Miss Ada Zimmerman, one of our members, in memory of Dr. Louis Sheffey. There are extensive supplies of materials available for all three teaching aids and, in addition, we continue to develop our own videotapes.

We have recently received the latest national and state means for the State Board Examination and believe you would be interested to know that our graduating classes of 1967 and 1968 exceeded both state and national means.

Many activities were sponsored by Student Council with Miss Carolyn Carey as President and Miss Margaret Mackenzie and Miss Judy Stoddard as Faculty Advisors. These are described more fully in the student report.

Five students attended the SNAP Convention in Philadelphia in October 1968 and two plan to attend the National Student Nurse Association Convention in Detroit from May 16 to 19. Money was provided by the Alumnae Association.

Commencement Exercises were held on Saturday, September 7, in the Ballroom of Sheraton Hotel. Dr. Theresa I. Lynch, Dean Emeritus of the School of Nursing at the University of Pennsylvania, was guest speaker. Her message to our 62 graduates was stimulating and timely. Jill Ann Reichard was the recipient of the Jefferson Medical College Hospital Nurses' Alumnae Prize and Carol Ann Johnson was the recipient of the Thomas A. Shallow Award.

We, at Jefferson, are proud of our graduates who, in turn, as alumnae have been such a potent factor in providing stimulation and direction in the development of the School of Nursing. We hope that you will continue to support us in the recruitment of students as well as faculty for our school, and that some of you might possibly be interested in joining the staff of the School of Nursing in the development of your Alma Mater.

STUDENT ACTIVITIES

This year, the Student Council has worked to bring about several changes within our school. The Student handbook was reviewed and evaluated. Many regulations were changed to meet the needs of the students to a greater degree. The Constitution was also reviewed and some adjustments were made. A Freshman Orientation Manual was drawn up and will help to acquaint the new students with the school.

Council members also represented the Student Body by attending the meetings of the Student Common's Board which endeavors to provide many activities for the girls and stimulate an interest in functions held at the Jefferson Commons Building.

President Herbert recently issued a document concerning students rights, freedoms, and discipline. Several of the Council members worked with a committee to review this document and represent the nursing students views on the ideas presented.

At the start of the year, welcoming envelopes were distributed to the Freshmen students. They contained a handbook, pamphlets of places to see in Philadelphia, and other forms of literature. A party was held for the new students and several upperclassmen spoke concerning each extracurricular activity within the school.

A Student-Faculty picnic was held in October at Fairmount Park. It proved to be very enjoyable and aided in fostering a good student-faculty relationship. At the end of this month, a Halloween party brought many new and unusual faces to the Residence. Prizes were given for the best and for the most original costumes.

The school store was opened this year to service the girls with needed articles. Sweatshirts, and nightshirts were also available.

Candy bars and donut sales helped to increase the Student Council funds so that more events could be initiated.

The Christmas dance was held in December in Jefferson Hall Commons. A live band and refreshments added to the fun.

This year the students once again supplied toys for the children at the Segers Christmas Party. Many girls assisted in making the afternoon a success.

The Christmas season also found the student nurses decorating the Jefferson Hall Commons. The ornaments were chosen and arranged by the girls.

A variety of articles were collected for the patients at Philadelphia State Hospital. These were brought to the Jefferson Unit there. Many of the girls who have seen the great needs of these persons were anxious to participate and stimulate participation in this drive.

A Valentine party was held in February in the residence for the students. Each class provided entertainment and refreshments were served afterwards.

The annual school show was a great success. Students from each class participated and all who attended it seemed to enjoy it.

Student-Faculty volleyball and basketball games were held this Spring. The Freshmen and Juniors proved to be too much competition for the Seniors and Faculty. Food was provided for all following the match.

A formal is planned for June 28th. It will take place at the Jefferson Hall Commons and a buffet supper will be served at eleven o'clock. A live band will be present to brighten the evening.

As a result of the generous support of the Alumnae Association we are sending two students to the NSNA Convention in Detroit, May 15, and we sent five representatives to the SNAP Convention in Philadelphia, in October. We appreciate the support of the Association in this as well as in many other activities.

CAROLYN M. CAREY
President, Student Council

SCHOOL OF PRACTICAL NURSING

ANNUAL REPORT TO THE ALUMNAE ASSOCIATION

During the fourth year of operation the School of Practical Nursing, associated with the newly created School of Allied Health Sciences, graduated one more class which was its smallest with seven graduates. However, the large class of twenty-eight students admitted on August 21, 1968 will be graduating twenty members in August, 1969. The school continues to experience some success in retaining these graduates for hospital employment at Jefferson, but of course a number go elsewhere from Florida to California.

In February 1969 the school recruited the smallest number for any class beginning a year's program (eleven) since its inception. This event has made it increasingly evident that most students would prefer to begin their program in the fall of the year. Acting on this premise the faculty plans to accept as large a class as it is possible to recruit to begin in early September 1969, with the object of eliminating the need to accept students for a class beginning in the winter of 1970. At this writing recruitment is again very good and a class of at least forty students seems quite possible.

The faculty continues to work on curriculum revisions and also plans to submit an application for national accreditation under the sponsorship of The National Association for Practical Nurse Education and Service, Inc. This goal should be feasible by early 1970 and with diligent effort and help it will be possible to keep pace with the accomplishments of the School of Nursing.

THE JEFFERSON MEDICAL COLLEGE AND MEDICAL CENTER EXPANSION PROGRAM

The past three years at Jefferson have been trying, exciting and rewarding. Those of you who have visited us have seen the tangible results of our progress. Your James R. Martin Student Nurses Residence was the first new building to go up in the block between 10th and 11th, Walnut and Locust. Now we have the Orlowitz Residence Hall and, well underway, the Scott Library and Administration Building. Jefferson Hall, on the South side of Locust Street, is a real gem—the student recreation facilities we have needed desperately for years, as well you know who went through days and nights darting back and forth from the old Spruce St. student residences with no place to relax in your hours off.

Just as we are becoming more visible with our buildings, we hope to become more visible nationally. Hardly a day goes by that we do not hear of some new advance in the medical field—medicine and nursing—that was pioneered at Jefferson, but we have not received adequate recognition for it. This recognition is important, we have learned, because it engenders support from sources of substantial money and we cannot continue to exist without that support. Jefferson has much to be proud of. You have much to be proud of in upholding the traditional excellence of the Jefferson nurse.

We have many problems as we face the changing picture of medical care in modern society. Much is expected of us. Much imagination and effort will be needed to produce not only the physicians and nurses, but all the other paramedical personnel required for modern medical care.

There is no precedent to follow in achieving the goals we have set for Thomas Jefferson University. We shall welcome your suggestions and your support.

N. RAMSAY PENNYPACKER

CLERK - TYPIST

I was asked by the Board of Directors of the Jefferson Nurses Alumnae Association to accept a position as clerk-typist to work one day a week in the Alumnae Room. I started to work in the Alumnae Room February 1, 1969.

It has been a busy time this spring with many changes of addresses and addressing the envelopes for the annual giving letters and also for the reunion and luncheon invitations for May 3rd.

The envelopes are addressed by addressograph equipment. During the time the envelopes were being addressed and ready for mailing it was necessary to be in the Alumnae Room more than one day a week.

Please send in changes of address and if married give your maiden name and year of graduation, this helps to keep the records up to date; everyone will receive information from the Alumnae Association. The Alumnae Room is in the Nursing Service Dept. on the 2nd floor of the Thomson Annex.

SOCIAL COMMITTEE REPORT

December 3, 1968 was the date for the Annual Christmas Party and Buffet Supper. Cocktails and dinner were served in the Faculty Club Room, Jefferson Hall Commons with everyone having a most enjoyable evening. Christmas greens and festive ornaments decorated the lounge and dining area. Santa Stauffer paid her annual visit with a pack full of gifts, one for each guest.

With March came the traditional Buffet Supper and Auction sale. The Faculty Club Room again was the setting for fifty-three guests. Auctioneer Mary Ann Stauffer rallied to the gavel and the Association was one-hundred-ninety-one dollars and ten cents richer. The auction proceeds were delegated to the General Fund by recommendation of the Board of Directors.

Alumnae Day, Saturday, May 3, 1969 found three-hundred and seventy-nine guests gathered in the Crystal Ballroom of the Benjamin Franklin Hotel. The anniversary years were well represented. Members gathered from twenty-six states. One Alumnae was on hand from Tokyo, Japan.

Eighty-seven members of the Class of 1969 were the invited guests of the Alumnae Association. Thirty-nine were able to attend. Class President, Miss Dolores Hughes was honored with the presentation of a corsage.

The following members were honored with presentation of corsages:—

Mary Godfrey—1909—oldest member
Elizabeth Heaton—1915
Lydia A. Cannon—1916

Three Alumnae members were ill in the hospital on Alumnae Day, two of whom received the floral arrangements from the head table. They were Mrs. Annie Lynch, class of 1907 and Miss Dorothy Groman, class of 1941.

Coffee was faithfully served at each monthly meeting held in the Nurses' Residence Recreation Room. For this courtesy "thank you" is extended to Mrs. Isabel Hoffman, Supervisor, Nurses' Residence and her staff.

For her devotion and outstanding contribution to the Nursing Profession the Assistant Director of the hospital, Miss Mabel C. Prevost, was honored by President, Catherine Saunders. Miss Prevost continues to give much time to community affairs, is active in many organizations as well as being an active member in the Army Reserves with rank of Lieutenant Colonel. Miss Prevost was also honored for her untiring guidance in all phases of the Jefferson Medical Center's daily life.

A sincere "thank you" is extended to all members from the Social Committee for their splendid interest and support. This interest made each function truly worth-while.

My small contribution as your Social Chairman the past two years was most rewarding and stimulating. It was my pleasure to serve you.

ELIZABETH STONE
Social Chairman

PROGRAM

On November 5, 1968, Miss Beth Reed addressed the alumnae with a presentation on the "Heart-Lung Machine." Slides were shown of a heart-lung machine; and the nurse was discussed as to her role with this machine.

Mr. H. W. James Evans, Public Relations Manager of Trailways Incorporated, entertained the members on February 4, 1969, with his topic on a "Cents of Humor." Mr. Evans, nationally known humorist, emphasized the value of a good sense of humor and its importance in our modern world of today.

On April 1, 1969, Dr. William Quinlan and Mr. Eugene Banks, President and Secretary of the Philadelphia Branch of the Hypnotism Society, presented us with a program on the "Use of Hypnosis in Medicine." Dr. Quinlan informed the members of the various situations to which hypnosis may be applied. Recordings of the GSR and EEG were also discussed. The power of suggestion was demonstrated on the members as a whole and two of the members volunteered to be hypnotized.

BULLETIN

The Editors of the Alumnae Bulletin are most appreciative of the many news items and articles which have been received. We have endeavored to publish all that were submitted. It was necessary, however, to give only excerpts from certain news items.

Since most Alumnae are interested in the hospital happenings, we have tried to cover all phases of the activities there. Miss Prevost's article regarding the over all coverage is well worth detailed reading. Miss Bowman has given an up to date report from the School of Nursing and has covered the major events in the progressive development. The President of the Student Council has written a general report of their various activities. Mr. Pennypacker has been kind enough to give us a report of the Jefferson Expansion Program and has submitted a picture of the Scott Library and Administration Building. Miss Sweeney has made us more aware of the recruitment problems and also the goals of the School of Practical Nursing. Officers and Committee Chairmen have compiled reports of the functions of their own particular office.

And—most important—YOU—ALUMNAE—have sent in news items covering the events in your lives and by doing so have made us more aware of each other as individuals. We thank you!

The new Adele Lewis Scholarship Fund for Student Nurses was discussed. Committee membership was of importance on the agenda. It was thought best that the Clara Melville Scholarship chairman and her committee could also handle this Scholarship Fund. It was stressed that the Director of the School of Nursing was invaluable to the new Fund due to her acquaintance with the problems of the students involved. The Board agreed that she, plus the Alumnae President and the Scholarship Committee, try to draw up some basic plans, requirements, etc., as the outline for the scholarship. The group agreed with the Board's recommendation.

A motion was made and approved to send two students as S.N.A.P. representatives to the N.L.N. convention May 12th - 17th in Detroit, Michigan. $350 will be allotted to each girl for expenses. Any monies left over will be returned to the Association along with reports from the girls sent.

CLASS NEWS

1911—Esther Moser "Mother" of 40 foster children died at the age of 95 in Johnson Home, Royersford, Pa.

Pottstown-Mercury, Nov. 11, 1968—excerpts:

"Miss Moser had been a guest at this home for five years."

"She was 17 when she entered Kutztown Normal School to pursue a teaching career. While attending school she took charge of a one room school on Squirrel Hollow Road. After graduation she taught in Stowe. She graduated from Jefferson Hospital School of Nursing and served with the Army Nurse Corps in France during World War I. When she returned to the U. S. in 1919, she went to Brooklyn, N. Y., to work as a nurse. She began raising foster children after finding a deserted child in a New York Hospital."

"Most of the youngsters which she raised 'out of pure love for those poor abandoned children' were from Lutheran Children's Bureau, Philadelphia. She was honored for her service by the board in January 1954. At that time she said: 'God gave me the ability to love other people's children as deeply as if they were my own.' She said that neither her teaching nor her nursing careers gave her the satisfaction that she found in her foster family.

"When Miss Moser resolved to devote the rest of her life to children, she returned to Douglass Township, built a small house on a hill and raised 40 children prior to 1960s."

My daughter, Janet, is 14 and in 8th grade. I am not nursing and haven't been for quite a few years. I am kept busy doing Private Duty from 11 to 7 plus having a lot of company from home during the year. I still keep busy sewing plus the Private Duty Section and District #8 F.N.A. keeps me busy making favors, etc., for the Christmas parties and the graduation party for the Student Nurses from Orange Memorial Hospital. Our son is working in Pittsburgh for the H. J. Heintz Co. He spent the Christmas holidays with us this year.

I am still employed as an Industrial Nurse at Birdsboro Corporation; it will be 19 years in June. I work generally 6 days a week and in my spare time visit my children and help them when I can—including baby sit. The highlights of my life during these past 5 years was winning a trip to Hawaii in 1966. You read about people winning these trips, but actually I did for writing 24 words about "Tide." The prize was a First Class trip for 2 by Jet to Hawaii plus $1,000.00 in Travelers Checks. NURSES' ALUMNAE ASSOCIATION OF
JEFFERSON MEDICAL COLLEGE HOSPITAL
PHILADELPHIA, PENNSYLVANIA. 19107

May 28, 1969

Peter A. Herbut, M.D.
President,
The Jefferson Medical College and Medical Center,
Philadelphia, Pa. 19107

Dear Dr. Herbut:

Upon the protest of many of the members of the Jefferson Nurses' Alumnae Association, as President I called a meeting of the Board of Directors. The purpose of this meeting was to discuss the degrading portrayal of all nurses as depicted in the CLINIC of 1969, and the resultant adverse publicity which followed the publication of this book.

While it may be the privilege of any student group to express the convictions of its own profession, it appears to be in poor taste and unethical to transgress and downgrade another profession, pornographically.

Professional nurses are taxpayers, helping to support medical education through scholarships and loans. In addition, as an Alumnae Association, Jefferson's nurses have contributed generously to Jefferson's expansion programs. In view of the 1969 CLINIC, perhaps all of this money has been misspent. The publication of pornographic trash would seem to be the work of immature adolescents rather than professional men and women entrusted with the dignity of the medical profession as well as the well-being of the community.

Nurses traditionally have been taught to respect the medical profession. However, if there is no reciprocal respect, how can a medical-nurse team function on a professional basis?

We cannot help but believe that this publication will prove a deterrent of recruitment of nurses at all levels, particularly the young students and staff nurses whose parents will question the desirability of Jefferson either as a school or as a place of employment.

We realize that the damage has been done and that some of our graduates will not be satisfied with any statement, but we do feel that a public apology will assuage some of the outraged feelings of the group. We hope that future publications will be in better taste.

This letter is written with the unanimous consent and approval of the Board of Directors.

Sincerely,

Signed: Katharine Saunders
President of the Board of Directors
Jefferson Nurses' Alumnae Association

Dear Mrs. Saunders:

This will acknowledge receipt of your letter of May 28 pertaining to the Clinic 1969.

I agree with what you say in your communication and can assure you that I, too, was most unhappy with the publication. The fact that no one in Administration or on the Executive Faculty was consulted, approved, or had any forewarning as to the contents of the CLINIC does not help the situation, except to indicate that the inclusion of the picture was not condoned and had no official sanction.

Two things you should know. Only limited issues had the picture. My copy of the Clinic does not contain it. Also, after the story was disseminated and displeasure was quite apparent, the Editor came to me and apologized. He assured me that he meant it only as a gimmick, that he had no intention of abasing or slurring the nursing profession, and that using the cap was pure thoughtlessness on his part.

These are unusually difficult times. Since the damage has already been done and since the incident is almost forgotten, except for those whom it hurt, I honestly believe it would be better to bury the whole affair instead of fanning the dying embers with public apologies and statements.

I had intended to speak with you in person rather than write to you but, since you work from 11 p.m. to 7 a.m., this makes it rather difficult. If, however, you happen to stay a few minutes some morning, or are staying in town for one reason or another, I do wish you would drop in to see me. I am usually in my office between 7:45 and 8:30 in the morning.

Sincerely yours,

Signed: Peter A. Herbut

Dear Mrs. Saunders:

Dean Kellow has kindly given me a copy of your recent letter to Dr. Herbut concerning the association's displeasure with the '69 CLINIC. As Editor I take full responsibility for the "fold-out"—no college official had previous knowledge concerning the matter.

I wish sincerely to apologize to those who were offended at the cap and nude figure. It was certainly not my intention to degrade anyone—especially the nursing profession. Having worked rather closely with nurses for the past nine years as orderly, private duty nurse, lab tech, and medical student, I have nothing but respect for the work you ladies are doing.

Thank you for your comments,

Signed: John H. MacIndoe, M.D.
