ANNOUNCEMENTS

Join Us for Summer Writing Time

Do you need to keep writing this summer but wish you had a buddy to keep you going? Although the First Friday writing retreats are paused for the summer, a group of researchers are still meeting online twice a month to write. Drop in to any of these if you need some accountability! 7/12, 7/26, 8/9, 8/23. Email Pamela.Walter@Jefferson.edu for the zoom link.

For FY24-25, the Open Access Publishing Fund process is changing.

Jefferson's Open Access Publishing Fund reimburses Jefferson authors up to $2,500 for article processing charges (APC) for publication in qualified, fully open access journals. Please read more about how to apply here.

Jefferson has funding agreements with specific publishers

Besides the OA Fund, Jefferson supports open access publishing through transformative (read-write) agreements with publishers. These agreements provide no-fee open access publishing with a small group of publishers, so learn more about it as you consider journals (live links):
