The President's Message

Dear Alumni,

Time certainly flies when you're enjoying a new experience. Learning the intricacies involved in the management of our association is achieved through various avenues. Fortunately dedicated professional alumni officers are readily available and who willingly offer advice and opinions when requested.

Briefly some of the Boards accomplishments this year include revision of the By-Laws, making scholarship monies available for certification in a nursing speciality, and attending several of the satellite meetings in Harrisburg and Philadelphia.

This year Peg Summers and Betty Piersol relinquished their seats on the Board of Directors. I extend my heartfelt thanks and appreciation to Peg and Betty for their many years of unselfish dedicated service on the Board of Directors.

Looking forward to meeting more fellow alumni, especially at the meetings and luncheons.

Sincerely,

Sally Hindson Wagner, '54

Trivia and News About Our Graduates

The first time:

...two graduates from the same class served as president of the Alumni Association.

Mary Ann Stauffer, '54, president 1964-1965
Sarah Hindson Wagner, '54, president 1996 -

...two sisters served as Alumni Officers at the same time.

Janet Hindson, '50, vice president - attended 1997 luncheon
Sarah Hindson Wagner, '54, president - attended 1997 luncheon

We have quite a few mothers and daughters and sisters among our alumni.

The following attended the 1997 luncheon:

Anna Woodring Crofford, '33 - Mother
Bonnie Crofford, '66 - Daughter

Margaret Spatz Gauger, '30 - Mother
Fay Gauger Wuchter, '61 - Daughter

Elinor Farber Brosious, '36 - Mother
Joann Brosious, '63 - Daughter

Mary Greenwood Schaal, '63. Pamela Watson, ScD, RN, Professor and Chair, Department of Nursing writes: It is my great pleasure to announce the arrival of Mary Schaal, EdD, RN, '63, to the Department of Nursing. As of January 6, 1997, Dr. Schaal will assume the role of Vice Chair and Director of the Masters Program in Nursing. As a graduate of both Jefferson Hospital's Diploma Program, and subsequently our BSN program, Dr. Schaal brings unique perspective and insight to this dual role.

Dr. Schaal comes to us from Allegheny University of the Health Sciences, where she served as the Director of the Graduate Studies Division and the Nurse Practitioner Program. Under her direction and initiative, Allegheny successfully instituted six new graduate nursing programs within a one year period, and has grown its graduate nursing program to more than 120 students over only two years. We are confident that Dr. Schaal will bring the same brand of creative leadership and focused energy to leading our Masters program.

Dr. Schaal's practice background includes experience in community and home health, and she boasts a distinguished career in education, serving in both teaching and administrative capacities at Rutgers and Hahnemann/Allegheny Universities. Dr. Schaal also boasts a history of receiving significant grant awards related to her ability to creatively mobilize community partners into the education process. Her current research agenda involves community-based interdisciplinary education and recruitment of registered nurses for community health nursing. We anticipate that these demonstrated areas of expertise will assist Dr. Schaal in her efforts to redirect our graduate program.

Audrey R. Titlow Priga, '55, graduated from Jefferson Hospital School of Nursing in 1955. February 29, 1972, Audrey started work at Community General Hospital, 145 N. 6th Street, Reading, PA 19601. She started as prn float 11-7 part time. May 20, 1973 she worked as RN Med-Surg 11-7 part time. January 1, 1978 Audrey was promoted to Supervisor prn 11-7 part time. May 28, 1995, she became ADON 7-3 full time, and November 24, 1996, became Director of Clinical Services. February 28, 1997 Audrey retired after working 25 years. Audrey is very proud that she worked 25 years in the same hospital.

Sally Little Danyo, '59, 960 Upland Road, York, PA 17403. During the month of March, 1997, the York Art Association presented a return exhibit by Sally Little Danyo at the York Art Gallery, 220 South Marshall Street, York, PA. The opening reception was held on Sunday March 2, from 2 to 4 p.m., the public was invited to attend.

Sally has lived in York for 28 years with her husband and five children, and has pursued her love of artistic expression over the years taking classes at the York Academy of Arts, York Art Association, and York College. She is known for her abstract art, but she has been honing her skills doing more traditional work including florals, landscapes, and animals. Her dominant media is oil, but she also works in water color and pastel with the emphasis on light and shadow, rhythm and motion. She is a long-term board member at the York Art Association, is Hanging Committee Chairperson, and is in her second term as first vice-president of the Board. She is also a member of the National League of American Pen Women, York Branch.

Marie Oesterle Thiers, '47, Wrote the following letter to us: Dear Betty, Peg and Betty Prisnock, Enclosed you will find a picture of my cabbage patch doll with my cap and school pin. She is on display in my living room at all times. A resident at the Nursing Home where I work made the uniform for her.

Yes, I'm still working. Only part time now, due to medical reasons. I have worked at this nursing home for 18 years. I was a supervisor for 4 years, then an ADON for 8 years, and now I'm staff charge nurse for the past 6 years. I worked 12 years at another nursing home before this one. From 1947 until 1961 I worked at Jeff, from 1947 till 1950 I did private duty. then after I had my first child (at Jeff) I worked only week ends for the next 11 years, on staff. Even though I lived in Bucks County, I still went back to Jeff to work. Also six of my seven children were born at Jeff.

My daughter-in-law, Lori Thiers, worked at Jefferson maternity for 8 years until she was laid off last year. However, she also went back to Jefferson to deliver her four children. She just had twin boys at Jeff on February 13th. My only daughter is also a nurse. She graduated from Sacred Heart Hospital in Allentown. She just got her BS degree 2 years ago and kept a perfect 4.0 for the two years. She is now at Abington Hospital, short procedure unit.

It was good to see you last fall at Williamson's Restaurant in Willow Grove, for the Bucks County Satellite meeting. I am looking forward to seeing you both again at our 50th reunion in May. It is hard to realize that it has been that long. I remember my student days very well. Where do the years go?? Best regards to all. Marie Oesterle Thiers, '47.

Lois Craft Dunlap, '47, 2822 Audubon Court, Santa Rosa, CA 95403 (707)523-0474. The following letter was received from Lois: Dear Betty and Peg: As much as I would love to attend the alumni luncheon on May 3, 1997, I cannot for health reasons. I wrote the following letter to my classmates celebrating our 50th anniversary. Though not in body, I will certainly be there in my thoughts on that day.

Hi to one and all! How I wish I could be with you today to celebrate this great occasion. When I look back on the ups and downs of my life journey so far, just to have reached this day seems somewhat of a miracle.

I have always been extremely grateful for my basic nursing education and the hands-on experience we received at Jeff. I continued with my education when I left there, all the way to the doctorate level and ultimately taught in a university setting for 25 years. I retired as Professor Emeritus from the University of San Francisco in the mid-eighties for health reasons. I loved academia, the students, writing, publishing, research, the stimulation of it all. In teaching I never lost contact with the patient. It was all difficult to give up.

I always felt that my students in a university setting were at a distinct disadvantage. They lacked the clinical experience and so many had difficulty transferring the theory to the bedside. If I were still teaching, I would find it very frustrating today with the current situation in our health care system.

My own experience as a patient through frequent hospitalizations and numerous surgeries has taught me that in order to survive today, the patient must be taught to be involved in his care, to take charge, and to have a good advocate who can speak, ask questions and make demands on your behalf when you are unable to do so yourself.

Despite my disability (mostly due to rheumatoid arthritis-lupus type auto-immune disease which eats away at my joints and various other parts of my body), I still lead an active life. I am a widow and live alone in a big house. Rehab has taught me how to live independently. I garden intensively—flowers, vegetable, many fruit trees, etc. I teach classes in meditation and imagery for healing purposes and am very involved in church activities, much of which I do in a very light weight wheelchair. I volunteer in a convalescent hospital teaching stroke patients wheelchair skills. I have found that an old nurse/teacher never dies. There are always those who need your help.

My daughter, Kathy, and I still camp every summer in the high country of the Sierras; about 7,000 feet elevation, tent and all. It restores my soul for another year. And my latest find and love is the computer, which has opened up a whole new life for me—travel anywhere on the internet visiting libraries and museums, E mail, etc. Are any of you out there in cyberspace? My address is AngelLoisC@aol.com. Please write.

Have a wonderful time together sharing memories and catching up on events of the years gone by. If any of you find yourself in California, please come to visit. This is beautiful wine country and there is much to see.

My best to all,
"Craftie"

A letter to Sally Wagner, Alumni President from Pam Watson, Chair, Department of Nursing.

Dear Sarah:

Please extend my special thanks to the Nurses Alumni Association of Thomas Jefferson University for the generous contribution to the Acute Stroke Unit on behalf of my husband, Barry Watson. Please know that I am very touched by this generous gesture.

The members of the Nurses Alumni Association have always been most supportive of my efforts here at Jefferson. Thus it was particularly moving to note that the membership was also supportive of me during a most difficult time.

Once again, my thanks,

Alumni Association Receives Largest Gift Ever

A $50,000 gift from the estate of Margaret Armstrong Tunnard, class of '35, the largest ever, received by the Alumni Association, will be placed in the Diploma School of Nursing Alumni Association-Mabel C. Prevost Scholarship Fund, also known as the Jefferson 2000 Fund.

Ms. Tunnard, for many years a loyal supporter of the Annual Giving Fund, left the unrestricted gift to the Alumni Association which, in turn, allowed the Board of Directors to use the gift in a way that would best benefit the Association's programs.

The Alumni Board of Directors unanimously agreed to add the gift to the Jefferson 2000 Fund, bringing the fund that much closer to the goal of raising $150,000 by the year 2000. When fully funded, this new scholarship will provide support for a current student or an entering student, enrolled in the Department of Nursing at Thomas Jefferson University.

"Ms. Tunnard's exceptional generosity is another fine example of the continued commitment of our graduates and the important role that Jefferson has played throughout their lives. This extraordinary gift is very exciting news for all of us," says Sarah Hindson Wagner, '54, president of the Alumni Association.

"Scholarship assistance is crucial to providing the excellence in nursing education that has been a hallmark of the Jefferson experience. I'm grateful to the Alumni Board for directing Ms. Tunnard's gift to the Jefferson 2000 Fund and including it with the support of so many other alumni," adds Pamela G. Watson, Sc.D., Chair, Department of Nursing.

Margaret Armstrong Tunnard resided in Doylestown, Pennsylvania. After receiving her diploma in 1935 she did not pursue her nursing career. Margaret went to New York, where she met and married her husband. After his death she returned to Doylestown and lived in the family home. Ms. Tunnard is survived by four cousins.

In addition to her support of the Annual Giving Fund, she regularly attended the Annual Alumni Luncheon when her health permitted.

Editor's note:

Diploma Nursing Alumni have always been generous donors. We appreciate all gifts, the small gifts just as much as the large ones, and we thank you for your interest in the Alumni Association. However, you may not be aware of some of the ways, in addition to outright gifts of cash, that you can give—ways that benefit our alumni efforts and Jefferson as well as you and your family and reflect your needs, interests and economic circumstances. These options might be including Jefferson in your will through bequests or trusts, pooled income funds, annuities, life insurance and securities. In addition, many of the methods can result in tax benefits. For more information, please contact the Alumni Office. We can introduce you to a member of the University's Development Office staff who will be happy to work with you and your financial advisor.

Peg Summers, Chair, Bulletin Committee.

Alumni Office Moves

Mid October 1997 will find the Alumni Office packing and moving to: 130 South 9th Street, Suite 702, Philadelphia, PA 19107-5233. Telephone number (215) 955-8981.

After seven and a half years at Ben Franklin House we say farewell. We have enjoyed being with the people in the Development Office and made many new friends.

The very idea of packing makes us groan, however, we feel this is a good move. Once we are "settled in" our new office it will seem like home.

New Name

January 27, 1997 a special announcement was made by Lawrence Abrams, EdD, Dean College of Health Professions and Vice President for Student Affairs, Thomas Jefferson University and Linda G. Kraemer, PhD, Senior Associate Dean, College of Health Professions.

The name College of Allied Health Sciences with the approval of the Board of Trustees has been changed to the College of Health Professions. The new name more accurately reflects the position of nursing in the College and the growing recognition of the independent nature of each health profession.

Your status as an alumnus is not effected by the change and your current alumni identification card will continue to be honored.

Letter to Sally Wagner, President, Nurses Alumni Association

Dear Mrs. Wagner:

I am writing to express our great appreciation to the Board for so generously directing the recent bequest of Ms. Tinnard to the Mabel Prevost Scholarship Fund, as part of the Jefferson Nurses Alumni Association's campaign 2000 efforts. As you know, with the need for student scholarship funding becoming even more critical, this endowed fund will provide vital financial support for select nursing students.

On behalf of the Department of Nursing and the College of Health Professions, I offer personal thanks to the Association for its continued support. Your generous contributions will help to ensure the continued legacy of superlative educational access for future generations of Jefferson nurses. You explained to us at our last luncheon meeting that the Association has never failed to meet a fundraising goal, and that you were confident that you would meet this latest one; obviously, you are way ahead of schedule!

Please extend our heartfelt thanks to the other officers and board members, as well as to your membership. We are planning to invite the Board for another luncheon in September, and will hope for better weather than at the last one! We will contact you shortly to arrange a convenient date.

I look forward to seeing you then, and thank you once again for your continued support of Jefferson's Nursing program.

Sincerely,
Pamela G. Watson, Sc.D.

Keeping Kids Healthy After Hours

Maggie Tetreault, RN, BSN

Paula J. Levine, CRNP, MBA

Paula Levine

Usually a bouncing, healthy two-year-old, Tamira hadn't been herself lately. Her fever had been coming and going for the past two days and despite regular doses of acetaminophen, the fever persisted. It was 2 AM when Tamira's mother decided to call the pediatrician. To her surprise, instead of the usual answering service, she was greeted with a pleasant, "Hello. this is the After Hours Program at the Children's Hospital of Philadelphia."

The person on the other end of the line was a trained pediatric nurse, not an operator.

The nurse introduced herself and asked Tamira's mother to describe her child's symptoms. After hearing the answers to a series of questions, she was able to reassure the mother that the symptoms she was describing were common with pediatric ear infections. While it was not necessary to bring Tamira to the emergency department (ED) that night, she offered to make an appointment for her to be seen in the primary care center the next morning. The call ended with Tamira's mother being reassured that she was appropriately caring for her child.

A problem in primary care today is getting a consistent, quick, easily accessible response to patients' nonurgent healthcare needs. We are still seeing hospital EDs being used for nonurgent types of problems and physicians being called during the evening, night, and weekend to provide advice over the telephone. What's a parent, physician, or hospital to do?

The After Hours Program at the Children's Hospital of Philadelphia is a new service that uses nurses with special training to provide telephone triage, advice, and to access care information for parents when their children are injured or ill and the pediatrician's office is closed. The program also provides a unique opportunity for experienced nurses to work in a coordinated manner with primary care pediatricians.

Who Can You Call at 2 AM?

When parents call participating primary care pediatricians' offices during the evening, night, or weekend, the call is forwarded to the After Hours Program. The program's nursing staff use standardized protocols approved by the patient's pediatrician for providing the telephone triage and advice. The nurse, speaking directly with the caller, assesses the complaint, taking into consideration the severity of the problem and any other on-going medical conditions. Using the computerized protocols, the nurse determines whether the child needs to be seen immediately, within a short period of time, the next day, or can be cared for at home. If the child can be cared for at home, the After Hours nurse provides personalized advice, and instructs the family to call again if the condition worsens or persists, or new symptoms appear.

If the caller does not agree with the proposed care or wishes to speak with the on-call physician, the request is immediately satisfied. A report of the phone call is faxed to the pediatrician's office, and to an ED if necessary.

What it Takes

After Hours nurses have at least two years of recent pediatric experience and an interest in expanding their role. They receive specialized classroom and hands-on computer training.

The qualities that make a nurse a good candidate for After Hours telephone triage include excellent communication and assessment skills, and the ability to navigate through a software program. It is important that keyboarding skills are second nature because the nurse must be able to give undivided attention to anxious, tired callers during the entire conversation. The nurse offers reassurance and information about how to provide appropriate care.

The nurse must readily accept the challenge of offering advice over the telephone without actually seeing the patient. Knowing that the physicians have reviewed and approved the guidelines for use adds security, and there is always a primary care provider-on-call for each practice to assist in the triage as necessary.

Nurses are required to familiarize themselves with all of the currently used guidelines. Special attention is paid to protocols focusing on the most common pediatric symptoms. Calls are reviewed for content, clarity, and appropriate choice of guidelines. The nurses are given routine feedback related to their calls.

Ensuring Quality

The After Hours Program has established a comprehensive, two-part quality improvement program. First, primary care pediatricians or their designates at the individual facilities review encounter documents for accuracy of triage disposition, clarity of documentation, and appropriate selection of guidelines. If questions arise regarding a specific encounter, the reviewer contacts the program manager or medical director for additional review. The manager and medical director have access to a taped recording of each call. Recordings are reviewed to compare the paper printout with information contained within the caller's conversation with the triage nurse. Follow-up with the primary care site, the nurse, or the family is completed by the appropriate individual as needed.

The second part of the quality improvement program is a monthly interdisciplinary meeting, including pediatricians, nurse practitioners, and management staff from the various primary care sites and the ED. The committee focuses on issues common to all the primary care sites, such as follow-through of treatment for patients triaged with the treatment disposition of "being seen immediately."

The After Hours Program is a natural development in providing appropriate triage for children. As the medical problems cared for on the telephone continue to diversify, this program will be at the forefront of care for children.

Maggie Tetreault, RN, BSN, is manager, After Hours Program, and Paula J. Levine, CRNP, MBA, is administrator, emergency medical services, at The Children's Hospital of Philadelphia.

A Happy Day

A heart full of thankfulness,
A thimbleful of care;
A soul of simple hopefulness,
An early morning prayer.

A smile to greet the morning with;
A kind word as the key
To open the door and greet the day
What'er it brings to thee.

A patient trust in Providence,
To sweeten all the way,
All these, combined with thoughtfulness
Will make a happy day.

Scholarship Funds at Work

The following letter was written to the Alumni President, Sally Hindson Wagner, by Pamela G. Watson, Sc.D., Chair, Department of Nursing.

Dear Sally:

I am delighted once again to provide information to the Nurses Alumni Association of Thomas Jefferson University regarding the School of Nursing Alumni Scholarship Fund and the Marguerite G. Barnett Memorial Nursing Loan Fund at the College of Health Professions for the 1996-1997 academic year.

This year, the School of Nursing Alumni Scholarship Fund was able to award $1,500 to Ms. Maria Joyce from Voorhees, New Jersey. Ms. Joyce was enrolled in her junior year during 1996-1997. She will return in September to complete her senior year.

The following students were 1996-1997 recipients of the Marguerite G. Barnett Memorial Nursing Loan Fund, who were selected based on their excellent academic standing and demonstrated dedication to nursing care. This year the fund awarded $7,000 in loans to three students. All three of these students received this scholarship both their junior and senior years of nursing school.

Catherine Magee, a graduating senior from Clifton Heights, received a loan of $2,000

Beth L. Lloyd, a graduating senior from Collegeville, received a loan of $1,500

Heather Lloyd, a graduating senior from Collegeville, received a loan of $1,500

Catherine Magee was extremely involved during her nursing program. She worked as an office aide in the Dean's Office for the College's Longitudinal Study. She was also a member of SNAP (Student Nurses Association of Pennsylvania). Cathy was a nurse extern for one year on the Intermediate Neurosensory Intensive Care Unit (INICU) at Thomas Jefferson University Hospital. After graduation, she accepted a full-time nursing position on the INICU where she continues to work. She has plans of furthering her nursing education by starting her master's degree next year.

You will notice that two of our recipients are sisters, identical twin sisters, to be exact. Beth and Heather come from a family of nurses. Their mother worked for several years as a nurse in a Maternity Unit before Beth and Heather were born. Seeing many twins brought into the world,

Mrs. Lloyd refused to believe the notion that twins were any more alike than other siblings...until, that is, she was blessed with twins of her own.

While they were at Jefferson, the likeness and similarities between the two girls served to confuse many of our faculty members and their classmates. Both Heather and Beth are exceptionally bright students and were very involved in leadership activities including the student ambassador program, SNAP and National Student Nurses Association. Both Beth and Heather graduated with honors at our commencement exercises; Beth graduated summa cum laude and Heather graduated magna cum laude. Both were nurse externs at Magee

Rehabilitation Hospital during their senior year. After graduation, Beth and Heather accepted nursing positions at Lehigh Valley Hospital in Allentown. Beth works as a Critical Care Nurse on the fifth floor while Heather works as a Critical Care Nurse on the seventh floor. Their mother told our alumni office that when the girls began a different rotation, their positions were exactly reversed. Needless to say, their co-workers and patients could not tell the difference between Beth and Heather and were slightly confused at first. Both girls seek to continue their education and pursue a Master's degree in the near future.

We want to thank you Sally and the Nurses Alumni Association for the continued support to the School of Nursing Alumni Scholarship Fund and the Marguerite G. Barnett Memorial Nursing Loan Fund. Jefferson is so proud to have this endorsement, and I am certain that recipients like Maria, Beth, Heather, and Catherine are honored and grateful to be so designated.

It is wonderful to have resources like these scholarship funds to help us recognize the outstanding efforts of our nursing students. The generosity and thoughtfulness that brought these opportunities to Jefferson will always be appreciated. Once again, thank you for your kind commitment.

Sincerely,
Pamela G. Watson, Sc.D.

Words of Wisdom

An optimist is one who makes the best of it when he gets the worst of it.

Success usually comes to those who are too busy to look for it.

He who is wrapped up in himself makes a small package.

It isn't necessary to blow out the other person's light to let your own shine.

The person who knows everything has a lot to learn.

Courage is not the absence of fear, it's the mastery of it.

Tribute to Tanya

Tanya Zatzariny, '57 At Peace

by June Reginak Dupnock '57

Although Vineland High School and Sacred Heart High School in Vineland, New Jersey were only blocks apart, it took Jefferson's School of Nursing to bring Tanya and I together. I don't even recall that we ever roomed together or worked together, but the fact that we both came from little towns in South Jersey and were from Eastern European backgrounds seemed to bring us together.

After nursing school Tanya joined the Navy, and we corresponded—not often—but enough to keep in touch. Tanya never wanted to “bother” anybody. I just searched my attic for a few of her letters however, I only saved those from my husband when he was in the Army during our training. One letter I remember, was about a helicopter that had just landed with wounded on rough seas during the Vietnam war and fell off killing everyone aboard. She often wrote about how the helicopters and their pilots should be credited for saving the lives of many wounded, because they could fly into the combat area, get the wounded (often while under fire) and get them to a field or ship hospital quickly. Her 20 years in the Navy went quickly and Tanya retired as an LCDR. She had not married, returned to Vineland, and purchased a town house. We would see each other occasionally—or call—again, Tanya never wanted to be a “bother”. I usually called her. I saw her more often in the recent years because she would stop by to get pyrohy (Ukrainian for pierogies) that our little church would sell. I kept after Tanya to come to our class reunions at Jefferson. She would say “no one cares about seeing me” and I would try to convince her that this was not so—that everyone would ask me about her! Finally, she came to our 1992 reunion and had a wonderful time promising to come with me again in '97.

After I returned home from Ukraine with the teacher exchange program sponsored by Rowan University's Hands Across the Water program, she and I talked about the changes. Her parents came from Russia and were poultry farmers in Vineland, and my grandparents were poultry farmers in Millville. My husband, John, who was to be interpreter, had a stroke a few weeks before the teachers I lived with in Ukraine were due to arrive in America. —And Katia, my Ukrainian teacher's wife, spoke mostly Russian, because during the time Ukraine was under Soviet domination, her schools were only permitted to speak and write Russian. So, I called Tanya. Again, she was humble, saying she could not speak educated Russian, (my husband only knew the simple farm language of Ukraine) but she went to the schools with me and was such a big help!

About two years ago on Orthodox Christmas, I invited Tanya to dinner. We got together with friends to party and remember the days when we celebrated Christmas in December and January. Now our church follows the new calendar and celebrates only on December 25.

I invited Ann Paxon Ross '57 and her husband, John. Ann and I have kept in touch, and I'm godmother for one of her three daughters. Ann and Tanya had not seen each other in 38 years, and we had a great time. After everyone left, Tanya told me she had something to tell me privately, so we went upstairs.

I was stunned when she gave me the news that she had inoperable lung cancer. What a shock after such a nice evening! I kept calling Tanya often and so did other members of our class, like Kay Eichman Cowan. Tanya did everything possible to fight the cancer. She was going to do it herself because she didn't want to be a “bother”. Although she didn't call me often, she was always so happy when I called her.

By May she was fighting against her final relapse. She wanted to come to our 40th reunion, but she was vomiting a great deal—and two days before we were to come to Jeff, for the luncheon, she told me she just couldn't make it. I stopped by afterwards and saw death in her face! I stopped in again, and she went upstairs to get me an article on Ukraine that was in National Geographic. We always talked about Jefferson—what she remembered—what I remembered! We looked at the pictures from our 40th—several of us gave her photos of the luncheon. She never complained—she didn't want to be a “bother”. She walked me outside on that last visit and told me she was afraid of dying, and I told her I was too, we hugged and she pointed to the full moon and told me to make a wish. I did, but it didn't come true. She died peacefully at home the next week on June 30th, 1997.

Even in dying, she didn't want to be a "bother". She wanted no services and ordered her body to be cremated and buried with her parents in a Russian corner of Siloam Cemetery in Vineland.

But her sister, Viola Harris, called me to say that the family decided to have grave side services. It was very hot and yet there were many people there. Her twin brothers Edgar, and Tim Zatzariny, are police detectives in Vineland were there (and, of course, their wives and children).

Many people at the cemetery spoke of Tanya. One teary-eyed man who had dated her, met her while he was her patient in our local hospital. Her nephew spoke of the care she gave Lewis Puller during her years as a Navy Nurse. Lewis Puller, Jr., wrote about Commander Tanya Zatzariny (even though her name is misspelled in his book) in his prize winning autobiography called "Fortunate Son"—about the healing of a Vietnam Vet who lost both legs during the war. He speaks of her on page 167.

Tanya was so happy when the Nurses War Memorial was unveiled a few years ago in Washington, D.C. She felt that women who served in the Armed Forces never got just recognition until the memorial.

Tanya was an artist, and I never knew it, until she made me a dozen Ukrainian eggs (pysanky) just because I took her to a show at Harrah's Casino when my John was in Poland. I told her I would treasure them, and think of her whenever I saw them—and I do. I haven't put them away yet because I still want to remember my friend and classmate Tanya Zatzariny who was a good, decent, and strong willed human being, who helped our nation fight its most controversial war as a proud Jefferson graduate.

I will miss her!!!

Faith and Hope

Hope is a thing of beauty,
Faith is her sister soul
Hope sees a dream
and seeks it:
Faith can make it whole
Hope may tremble or falter,
Seeking the way to go;
Faith points a steady finger,
The chosen path to show.
Hope may smile in sunshine,
With all the world in bloom;
Faith will carry her candle
Into the darkest room.

Minna Martison

Medical Mission Outreach

Guatemala 1996

God made a way where there was no way...to do the impossible: to ship 1407 pounds of cargo—medicines, baby formula, clinic supplies, eight cases of "little paper missionaries" (scripture tracts for distribution to patients) into Guatemala on 17 June 1996, when the nation of Guatemala had placed an embargo on all boxes and cargo coming into the country from 15 June to 20 August 1996. Having learned of the embargo at 0600, 17 June 1996 caused no small amount of anxiety, and because of prayer support prior to this adventure and prayers that morning, God enabled the American Airlines ticket agent to make sixteen phone calls and supernaturally locate a person in Miami, Florida, who alone had the authority to waive the restriction, which he graciously agreed to do. This time, entry into Guatemala through customs was impeded by airport authorities on arrival in Guatemala City airport and we were required to show papers documenting the cargo and to open one of the boxes. At last and to our immense relief and joy, we were waved on through customs and went on our way to the Living Waters Ministry Headquarters in Antigua, Guatemala.

During the ten days we spent there, we learned of the needs of the staff, and were privileged to be channels of blessing to meet some of the needs, such as: providing a check for two hundred dollars for the concrete floor for one of the adobe brick homes; a check for one hundred dollars for assisting in fundraising for an adequate sound system for the Tunaja church; income supplements for several of the Guatemalan ministry staff. What a joy to be privileged to share donated blessings.

A new aspect of the outreach was, the opportunity to take along six puppets to enhance health teaching and Bible teaching sessions with the children and the adults. People donated funds to purchase the puppets which came from Rice's Christian Bookstore. Everywhere we went, children were immediately focused on the puppets and their messages.

The Bacone College Chapter of Nurses Christian Fellowship (one of 81 on college campuses nationwide) sponsored the outreach and were represented by two nursing students and one faculty member. Over the past year, contacts were made to pharmaceutical companies, hospitals, local physicians, churches and individuals, in order to gather medicines, baby formula, supplies and tracts for use in the children's feeding programs, churches, a mountain village clinic, a charity hospital, schools, and homes. In addition to working in the doctor's clinic, assisting with health assessments and treatments, the nursing team went to five homes, four feeding stations, two schools and two hospitals. Over 700 children were deloused and many were given referrals to the clinic for much needed follow-up care: scabies, impetigo, diaper rash, dehydration, upper respiratory infections, anemia, malnutrition, conjunctivitis, and dental conditions were treated.

Because American Airlines donated their services to ship the cargo without charge, the physician's village clinic was replenished and as Dr. Pablo said, "it has been many years since the pharmacy at this clinic was so well stocked." Such appreciation expressed by this physician made the trip well worth while.

At the feeding stations, the nurses observed children who were sponsored receive wholesome diets of hot, clean, balanced lunch menus, the nurses and ministry staff also ate from the menus. The nutritional assistance these sponsored children receive occurs two times each week in each of four feeding stations, after the lunches the children have classes, covering the same content as presented in a daily vacation Bible manner, along with supervised recreation. Between 450-

Catherine L.
Bulkeley York '60

500 children come to each feeding station twice weekly and are recipients of health care at the clinic, when this care is needed. Many, many children, however, stand outside the fence looking into the feeding station, because these children lack sponsors, which would allow them to receive the food and teaching and care.

Donations of money and prayers and cargo came from many sources: MRMC Retirees Club, Three Rivers Surgical Center, Muskogee Regional Medical Center Pharmaceutical Department, Kings Pharmaceutical in Tennessee, Mead Johnson Pharmaceutical in Indiana, local physicians and churches—Tulsa All Tribes Baptist, Keefton Assembly of God; Muskogee churches (First Presbyterian, First Baptist, Evangel Assembly of God, York Street Christian, Ark of Faith, Indian Baptist Church), and many individual donations.

A small amount of time was available for being a tourist and seeing ancient cathedrals and some architectural ruins due to earthquakes and volcanic disasters, seeing the tortilla factory, the silver factory and the wood factory. Going to the city market for souvenirs was enjoyed as well.

In retrospect, the team was appreciative of the opportunity to be agents of health care which met the needs in a small, partial way of many precious Guatemalan children and families. The team is grateful for the means whereby this shared adventure became a reality.

What is NCF? (Nurses Christian Fellowship)

Nursing has traditionally been a caring vocation. Originally, nursing was based on Judeo-Christian principles, but now nursing is in a state of change and transition. Nurses are seeking new values and ethical standards, thus developing changing philosophies of care based on those values.

In this era of uncertainty and transition, NCF accepts the Judeo-Christian heritage to handle the challenge to better prepare nurses to assist patients spiritually, psychologically, and physically. The philosophical base of NCF is the Bible. The concern of NCF is to promote the quality nursing care which includes the spiritual dimension and reflects Jesus Christ. NCF aims to encourage nurses and students in nursing to become increasingly aware of their potential as Christians in the practice of nursing, and to recognize their responsibilities for active participation in the nursing profession.

In 1935 three nurses began to meet to pray at Children's Hospital in Chicago. By May 1935 the group had grown so that 19 nurses met at Lawson YMCA to consider establishing an organization which would help meet the spiritual needs of nurses. This group continued to meet monthly at First District Headquarters in Chicago.

Similar things were happening in other areas. When students who affiliated in Chicago hospitals discovered these groups, they often returned to their own schools and started such a group. City-wide fellowships in Minneapolis, Chicago, Flint, Philadelphia, San Francisco in the early 40's often called themselves "Christian Nurses Fellowship", but in 1952, the name was changed to "Nurses Christian Fellowship", so that non-Christians and Christians nurse could belong. The national movement of NCF was formed in 1948 and has had four national directors over the years. The organization's publication is known as The Journal of Christian Nursing. NCF is an inter-national organization and is a department of Inter-Varsity Christian Fellowship.

December 1988 is the date on which a chapter was formed on the Bacone College Campus, the first one in Oklahoma. The chapter met and will continue to meet weekly for one hour for purposes of prayer, Bible study, evangelism and discipleship.

*H*istory Of The Jefferson Pin

The seal of the school of nursing was a specially designed gold pin, bearing the head of Florence Nightingale, surrounded by the name of the school, with a small edge of blue enamel encircling the pin. This pin did not meet the approval of all the graduates in the class of 1910, consequently an entirely new seal was designed. It has a gold scroll, containing a blue cross, surrounded by black enamel and lettered bearing the name of the institution. These pins were first presented in 1910 to each member of the graduating class by Dr. W.M.L. Coplin, as the personal gift of the Board of Trustees of the Hospital and each graduate nurse has received the pin to the present time.

The above information obtained from:

the "History of the School of Nursing of The Jefferson

Medical College Hospital" by Clara Melville, R.N.,

Class of 1910, Directress of Nurses, 1915-1937*

Miss Anna E. Laughlin, Class of 1906, a graduate of the Training School of the Jefferson Medical College Hospital and chief nurse in the operating room of the hospital was named Directress of Nurses of the Training School at Jefferson in 1908. The pin was apparently designed sometime between 1908 and 1910 when the design was changed.

The name on the pin was JEFFERSON HOSPITAL. In 1969 when Jefferson was granted university status the name on the pin was changed to, THOMAS JEFFERSON UNIVERSITY SCHOOL OF NURSING.

Each graduate of the Diploma School of Nursing received a pin at graduation, up to and including 1982 when the last graduation was held. the School closed in 1982.

Over 5,000 Diploma Nurses have received the pin described above and they are very, very proud of their pin.

From 1910 to 1969 the Jefferson Nurses pin was purchased from J. E. Caldwell and Company on Chestnut and Juniper Streets. From 1969 to 1982 the pin was purchased from Neal Abrams, Inc., 740 Sansom Street.

Facts Not Fiction

1825

The State of Pennsylvania granted an extension of the charter of Jefferson College, Canonsburg, Pennsylvania to include the granting of medical degrees. The newly created medical school was known as the Medical Department of Jefferson College of Canonsburg, Pennsylvania.

1838

On April 12, the Governor of the State of Pennsylvania approved an Act of the Legislature by which the Medical Department of the Jefferson College at Canonsburg was created a separate and independent body corporate under the name of "The Jefferson Medical College of Philadelphia" with the same powers and restrictions as the University of Pennsylvania.

1891

The Training School for Nurses was established in connection with the Hospital. There were three nurse executives to supervise the thirteen students who were enrolled. The course of instruction covered two years. The Directress of Nurses, Ella Benson was assisted in the teaching of the students by members of the attending staff who gave a prescribed course of lectures.

1893

In March, the School consisted of three nurse executives and thirteen students. The course of instruction was lengthened to three years.

On May 22, the first Nurses Home was formally opened at 518 Spruce Street.

On November 24, the first Graduation Exercises were held in the clinical amphitheatre of the Hospital when five nurses were awarded the Diploma of the Training School, Miss Benson remained but a short time and was succeeded by Effie Darling.

On November 10, Miss Susan C. Hearle assumed charge of the Jefferson Medical College Hospital Training School for Nurses with 30 student nurses. Miss Hearle received her early training under Florence Nightingale; later she graduated from the Training School of the Philadelphia General Hospital. For 14 years she wisely and thoughtfully guided the administration of the School and laid the foundation for its future success.

By this time the Nursing School had become firmly established. Its conduct was in charge of the Directress of Nurses, subject to the General authority of the Board of Trustees. The Nurses Residence was moved to 226 South 7th Street.

Jefferson Nurses Alumnae Association was organized by Susan Hearle.

During the Spanish and American War, the mortality rate of the American troops was high, due to the epidemic of typhoid fever and inadequately trained nursing personnel. Two of our graduates, Misses Adelaide O'Laughlin, '99, and Katherine Baker, '98, were detailed to "train service" and were sent on a service train to Camp Fernandina, Florida. They returned with 50 very ill soldiers, with one death in transit. A number of our graduates volunteered their services at this time without remuneration.

1900

During the Galveston flood, a leading Philadelphia newspaper sent a group of Jefferson graduates to render aid and assistance to the sick and injured.

1903-1904

In answer to the call for nurses sent out from Butler, Pennsylvania, to care for the victims of the severe epidemic of typhoid fever then at its height, four of the pupil nurses, Margaret Hicks, '05, Jessie Mitchell, '05, Katharine Shaw, '05, and Elizabeth Supplee, '05, were detailed for this emergency duty. Charlotte Lane, was assistant to the Directress of Nurses. Miss Hearle was in charge of the group.

nurses were enrolled. Additional living quarters were needed to properly house the nursing staff. To meet this need, the old Hospital was renovated and refurnished as the Nurses' Home.

The first classroom at 1020 Sansom Street provided for the introduction of the first audiovisual aids - the Chase doll and a skeleton.

1908

Anne E. Laughlin, '06, a graduate of the School and the Chief Nurse of the Hospital's operating room, succeeded Miss Hearle as Director of the School, serving until February 1915. She made only a few changes and continued with the policies upon which the School was founded.

*1910

The seal of the School of Nursing was a specially designed gold pin, bearing the head of Florence Nightingale, surrounded by the name of the school, with a small edge of blue enamel encircling the pin. This pin did not meet the approval of all the graduates in the class of 1910, consequently an entirely new seal was designed. It has a gold scroll, containing a blue cross, surrounded by black enamel and lettered bearing the name of the institution. These pins were first presented in 1910 to each member of the graduating class by Dr. W.M.L. Coplin, as the personal gift of the Board of Trustees of the hospital. Cosmetics

A dear old Quaker lady was asked to explain her obviously youthful appearance, her appealing vivacity, her winning charm. She replied sweetly, "I used for the lips—truth; for the voice—prayer; for the eyes—pity; for the hands—charity; for the figure—uprightness; for the heart—love."
 How's that for a makeup kit?

It's Great to Be Eighty!

by Ethel Peairs Brandon

Will you hear the good news from the horse's mouth? The first eighty years are the hardest! The second eighty years, so far as my experience goes, are a succession of great parties.

Everybody wants to carry your packages and help you up the stairs. If you forget your name or any body else's, or forget to fill an appointment, if you promise to be two or three places at the same time or spell words wrong, you need only explain: You are eighty.

It's a great deal better than being sixty-five or seventy. At that time everyone expects you to retire to a little house in a warm climate and become a discontented fumbling, limping has-been.

But if you survive until you're eighty, everybody is surprised you are still in the land of the living. They are amazed you can walk and astounded that you can be so lucid.

At seventy, people are mad at you for everything. At eighty, they forgive you for anything...YES, if you ask me, life begins at eighty!

Retirement—a Child's View

A teacher asked her young students how they spent the holiday. One small boy wrote the following:

We always used to spend the holiday with Grandma and Grandpa. They used to live here, but Grandpa got retarded and they moved to Florida. Now they live in a place with a lot of other retarded people. They ride on big three-wheeled tricycles and they all wear name tags because they don't know who they are. They go to a big building called a wrecked hall, but if it was wrecked, they got it fixed because it's alright now. There is a swimming pool there. They go into it and just stand there with their hats on. I guess they don't know how to swim. As you go into their park, there is a doll house with a little man sitting in it. He watches all day long so they can't get out without him seeing them. When they can sneak out, they go to the beach and pick up shells. "My Grandma used to bake cookies and stuff, but I guess she forgot how. Nobody cooks, they just eat out. They eat the same thing every night—early birds. Some of the people don't know how to cook at all, so my grandparents bring food into the wrecked hall and they call it "pot luck." "My Grandma says Grandpa worked all his life and earned his retardment. I wish they would move back up here, but I guess the little man in the doll house won't let them out."

Mama Will Protect Me

There are three feral cats living under a neighbor's deck. The father, a gray and white Tom who marks his territory repeatedly. I dubbed him Haggendoss, because he isn't a very attractive cat. The mother, Belle, is a really beautiful Tiger with no white, and Baby, who I have named L'Infante, because I don't know if it is a he or a she, is mostly Tiger and white, a very pretty kitten.

We noticed the two older cats a while back, and I put out some food, which was lovingly shared by the two adults.

Meanwhile, the kitten was discovered by the children next door, and they wanted to take it in. The cats started to go up on the deck, much to the agitation and rage of the two house bound cats. My neighbor's patio door (inside) is splattered with saliva from her cats hissing at the intruders.

Finally L'Infante and Belle came to eat at the food I put out. L'Infante is about half grown, but follows mama's orders carefully.

One day, as I was reading the paper, I heard Reynard (my cat) talking. He usually uses this vocalization when I'm not in my usual place, and he wants me there. I looked out the patio door to see what he was meowing about.

There was L'Infante, approaching the pile of food. It stopped, looked in and saw Reynard, turned tail and ran home. A few minutes later I looked again, and there sat Belle about three feet from the closed door, and L'Infante behind her, eating.

L'Infante had obviously gone home to get mama, who would protect him/her from the yellow monster inside the house.

Is there a moral to this story? I think so. We know the female of all species will defend her young against all odds—at least animal females. What I did not expect was a young animal, other than a human, going home to get a parent to protect it.

Maybe we humans aren't so far above animals after all.

Sharing some “Thank You” notes from our 80 and over graduates. The notes were all hand written by the recipients.

I want to express my heartfelt thanks for the very beautiful flower arrangement you sent me for my 88th birthday. The flowers were so lovely and so fresh, I had them for almost 10 days.

Dear Alumni, Thank you so much for the gorgeous flower arrangement you sent for my 92nd birthday. It is such a gracious and thoughtful thing to do. It is much appreciated. Please pardon this scribble, I'm legally blind and my eyes just won't behave.

Dear Alumni, Thank you for the beautiful cut flower arrangement that arrived to commemorate my birthday. It's nice to have friends. Happiness to all of you.

Dear Alumni, The birthday flowers were beautiful. Thank you very much, they made my day complete.

Dear Alumni, Thank you kindly for the beautiful bouquet of flowers I received from my Alumni Association in remembrance of my 86th birthday. They have been a delight.

Dear Friends, Thanks again for the beautiful flowers. They always bring fond memories of the many friends I gained, and the good times and some unpleasant experiences that taught us patience and tolerance. I keep well at 95 years and enjoy a pleasing environment among old friends and new ones. I really appreciate the flowers and the thoughts behind the gift. Keep up your good deeds.

Dear Folks, Thank you many, many times for the beautiful flowers for my 95th birthday. They were a pleasure to look at and a surprise to have a horn and three noise makers among the flowers. The flowers lasted a long time.

Dear Nurses Alumni Association, How nice to be remembered with a beautiful floral arrangement and greeting card on my 85th birthday. My very best wishes to all “Jeff Girls”, the best in the land.

Dear Alumni Association, Just wanted to thank all of you for my lovely birthday card and for the beautiful flower arrangement. What a nice surprise! It was so nice to be remembered.

To the Alumni Association, Thank you for the beautiful flower arrangement. I had a lovely 85th birthday, but I don't feel that old. I enjoy receiving the Bulletin with news of my classmates and friends.

Too Busy

My body may age but my mind will stay young.
 I've much left to do, many songs to be sung.
 Many roads to be traveled, much love to express,
 Many souls that need aid, who are now in distress.
 I will do what I can to help brighten your day,
 I will spread cheer and love as I pass by your way.
 The world is my oyster, to have and to hold,
 Why, I'm really to busy to ever grow old.

The Diploma School of Nursing Alumni Association—
Mabel C. Prevost Scholarship Fund
(referred to as: Jeff 2000 Fund)

We are pleased to announce that as of August 15, 1997 we have approximately $125,000.00 in this fund. The response to the mailing in late August has been good.

At this point we are optimistic that we will reach our goal of $150,000.00 by the year 2000. However, this will only be possible with the continued loyalty and commitment of our alumni.

The scholarship which will be established when we reach our goal, will help highly talented students who want to follow in the tradition of clinical excellence represented by the Jefferson nurse. For many of these students, however, the lack of scholarship assistance means they may not be able to reach their goal.

Betty Piersol
Chair, Development Committee

Nominating Committee

The entire slate of officers was approved at the Annual Meeting in May.

Four vacant Board of Director positions were filled: Nancy Dunkle Konstanger '50 and Carole Ferry Rosle '56 were reelected to serve another two-year term, Mary Schaal '63 and Jeanne Kane '58 were elected to serve a two-year term.

At the Annual Meeting in May 1998, two new board members will be elected. If you would like to serve as a member of the Board of Directors, please send your name to the Nominating Committee, % Nurses Alumni Association, 130 South 9th Street, Suite 702, Philadelphia, PA 19107-5233.

If you are elected, you will be expected to attend three of the five scheduled meetings.

Vera Paoletti
Chair, Nominating Committee

Relief Fund Committee

We, the Jefferson Nurses' Alumni Association, have a Nurses' "Relief Fund Trust," the money in this trust fund is available to assist the graduates of the Diploma School of Nursing and the White Haven School of Nursing. The Trust Fund was established many years ago by our nurses who were concerned about helping any and all of us meet expenses incurred due to illness or any adversities that might befall us. The purpose of the Trust Fund remains the same today as in the past. It is really our nurses helping our nurses.

If you need assistance, or know of another nurse who needs assistance, please write us a letter or fill out the application in the back of the Bulletin and mail it to the address on the application. The Relief Fund Committee will evaluate the application and appropriate action will be taken. If you continue to need assistance, a second application will be mailed to you. When it is completed and returned, the Committee will evaluate the request. The applicant will be notified as soon as possible of the amount she/he will receive. (The amount will be determined by the Committee). All information on the application is confidential.

This year we have been able to assist six of our graduates with a monthly stipend and several with a one-time check.

The Relief Fund also sends monetary gifts at Christmas time to those graduates known to be homebound or in a nursing home. Birthday flowers are sent to our graduates who we know will be celebrating their 80th or over birthday.

Lorraine McCall
Chair, Relief Fund Committee

Satellite Committee

There are two satellite divisions of the Jefferson Nurses' Alumni Association. The one located in Harrisburg is presided over by Joan Keller '58. The one serving the Philadelphia suburbs, primarily Bucks and Montgomery counties, is presided over by Jane (Ryan) Dietrich '59.

If you wish information concerning these organizations or wish to start one in your area, you can contact the Alumni Office at (215) 955-8981, and Peg or Betty will help to contact the appropriate person to help you.

For either professional or social purposes it is a great way to keep in touch.

Jane P. Dietrich
Chair, Satellite Committee

Social Committee

Dear Fellow Alumni,

Can you believe that for the first time in who knows how many years, it rained on the day of the Alumni Luncheon, May 3, 1997 !!! Don't worry, no one's spirits were dampened. The laughs, hugs, and constant conversation let us know that absolutely everyone was not paying attention to the weather.

The basic format for the day was maintained. While the memberships meeting was in the Solis-Cohen auditorium at 10 AM; the cocktail/social hour was in the Eakins lounge. (The West courtyard was available, the rain kept everyone indoors). The luncheon was in Jefferson Alumni Hall's main dining room. The special part of the day was seeing our classmates and fellow alumni. This year, our 102nd anniversary, we again had the slides showing us as Jefferson nursing students, nursing sights, and surroundings of years gone by. The pictures were on a repeating carousel slide projector so everyone could reminisce throughout the entire day. Many of the approximately 300 attendees remembered the old buildings and patient care areas. It was surprising how easily everyone was recognized on the slides. We haven't changed that much after all! !

The main dining room had a vast array of plants on the tables with multi-colored silver wrapping. The colorful plants and wrappings presented a festive sight.

Hugs and thanks to Jeanne Kane, Vera Paoletti, Hope Russo Schooley, Joann Brosious, and Joy McGann for their part in having the luncheon flow so smoothly. Special thanks to Betty Piersol and Peg Summers who again took care of the invitations and money. The luncheon continues to be a huge success because we continue to work so well together. We would enjoy having additional alumni join us in the planning and hosting of the luncheon. Please contact us through the Alumni Office (215) 955-8981. We welcome your ideas and assistance.

The 103rd anniversary luncheon is Saturday, May 2nd, 1998. Please mark your calendars; we'll be looking forward to seeing you.

Clara Melville – Adele Lewis Scholarship Fund Committee 1996-1997

Six applications were sent and five returned. Scholarships were granted to the following graduates of the School of Nursing.

Ann Curcio - 1980
Kate Felix - 1973
Vera Paoletti - 1969
Barbara Leedom Russo - 1977

One scholarship was granted to the daughter of a graduate who is enrolled in the baccalaureate program at Thomas Jefferson University, College of Health Professions.

A close relative (daughter, son, granddaughter/son, niece or nephew) of a graduate of the Diploma Program planning to attend Jefferson's Nursing Program could be eligible to receive a scholarship, provided all requirements are met.

Please note: The Board of Directors extended the use of scholarship monies, for our alumni, to include certification in a Nursing Specialty.

At the September 1997 Alumni Meeting, the Board of Directors was presented with the guidelines for application for money for certification, a decision was made to accept the application form as presented.

The application form is in the back of this Bulletin.

If anyone is interested in receiving monies from this fund, please direct all inquiries to the Alumni Office.

Respectfully submitted,

A True Friend

A friend is one who's on your side someone in whom you can confide
One who consoles you when you're sad and turns depressing days to glad.

A friend is there through thick and thin, caring, concerned and genuine.
A special someone with the gift to give your heavy heart a lift.

When you're down and in despair a faithful friend is always there.
They do not scold or reprimand and always seem to understand.

So, if you have but one true friend to be there for you to the end,
Thank the Lord and say a prayer you're richer than a millionaire.

Two Paths

Two paths lay before me.
Once long ago,
When summers were long,
And I didn't yet know
The meaning of heartache
Or recognize pain,
And I took it for granted
That youth would remain.

Two paths lay before me,
And each of them lead
To what I could only
Imagine, ahead.
Though I wanted to wander
Down both, for a bit
Life just shook her head,
And would have none of it.

For one path alone
Is given each man,
And we must journey down it,
The best that we can.
And whether we win,
Or whether we lose,
Largely depends on
The path that we choose.
