

COLLABORATIVE HEALTHCARE

INTERPROFESSIONAL PRACTICE, EDUCATION, AND EVALUATION

2023 JAMES B. ERDMANN AWARD RECIPIENTS

The Jefferson Center for Interprofessional Practice & Education (JCIPE) congratulates this year's interprofessional education (IPE) and collaborative practice (CP) award winners and thanks them for all of their efforts to support and advance this work on campus and beyond. Their contributions are immeasurable!

Excellence in Interprofessional Health Education

Louis N. Hunter, PT, DPT

Associate Professor, Health Sciences
College of Rehabilitation Sciences
Thomas Jefferson University

Clinical Educator Award for

Excellence in Interprofessional Education

Gillian Love, MD - Honorable Mention

Assistant Professor
Department of Family & Community Medicine
Sidney Kimmel Medical College
Thomas Jefferson University

Excellence in Interprofessional Collaborative Practice

The Staff of Jefferson Intensive Care Nursery (ICN)

8th Floor, Pavilion Building
Thomas Jefferson University Hospital

Jefferson Senior Adult Oncology Team - Honorable Mention

Sidney Kimmel Cancer Center
Thomas Jefferson University Hospital

Administrator/Staff Award for Excellence in Interprofessional Education and Collaborative Practice

Megan Voeller

Director of Humanities
Office of Student Life and Engagement
Thomas Jefferson University

Student Award for Excellence in Interprofessional Education and Collaborative Practice

Acclivity Team

Haley DeMartin, Albert Huang and Paarth Jain from Sidney Kimmel Medical College; Julia Ponzek and Ethan White from the College of Design, Engineering & Commerce.

Sara Belko

Sidney Kimmel Medical College
Thomas Jefferson University

Marissa B. Hendrixson

Department of Occupational Therapy
Jefferson College of Rehabilitation Sciences

Ciera Michelle Osborne

Department of Occupational Therapy
Jefferson College of Rehabilitation Sciences

Maria J. Sanchez

Department of Occupational Therapy
Jefferson College of Rehabilitation Sciences