American Red Cross Base Hospital No. 38 in the World War - XXV: Adieu - A Poem

2-1923

American Red Cross Base Hospital No. 38 in the World War. United States army base hospital no. 38, organized under the auspices of the Jefferson Medical College and Hospital, stationed at Nantes, France, 1918-1919, by W. M. L. Coplin.

Recommended Citation
"American Red Cross Base Hospital No. 38 in the World War - XXV: Adieu - A Poem" (1923). American Red Cross base hospital no. 38 in the world war. United States army base hospital no. 38, organized under the auspices of the Jefferson Medical College and Hospital, stationed at Nantes, France, 1918-1919, by W. M. L. Coplin. Paper 2.
http://jdc.jefferson.edu/american_red_cross_base_hospital/2

This Article is brought to you for free and open access by the Jefferson Digital Commons. The Jefferson Digital Commons is a service of Thomas Jefferson University's Center for Teaching and Learning (CTL). The Commons is a showcase for Jefferson books and journals, peer-reviewed scholarly publications, unique historical collections from the University archives, and teaching tools. The Jefferson Digital Commons allows researchers and interested readers anywhere in the world to learn about and keep up to date with Jefferson scholarship. This article has been accepted for inclusion in American Red Cross base hospital no. 38 in the world war. United States army base hospital no. 38, organized under the auspices of the Jefferson Medical College and Hospital.
ADIEU

Farewell, fair France, with all thy ancient glory,
   Crusaders new have trod thy sacred soil,
To weave again the warp and woof of story—
   Of death and life—of wartime’s tortured toil.

For once again beneath fair triumph’s graceful arch,
   Brave men in khaki have held their steady tread;
Entombed below thy poppies and thy larch,
   In sleep eternal, lie our heroic dead.

Hold sacred those who with us may not go,
   Who with thee strove that all might evermore be free,
Whose loved ones’ hearts are bleeding now with woe—
   Whose holy dust we leave to lie with thee.

With mingled grief and forward-looking joy,
   Thy storm-swept shores in mist may slowly fade away,
But through the years, when memory’s wings deploy,
   Our hearts shall faster beat as we recall this day.

W. M. L. C.
The war cost the United States a little more than $1,500,000 an hour.

After the associate hand of America went in, it lasted 14,000 hours more and cost all of the European Allies combined, out of their own resources, a little less than $2,750,000 an hour.

Garet Garrett.

War is not paid for in war time, the bill comes later.—Benjamin Franklin.