A MESSAGE FROM THE PRESIDENT

Dear Alumna,

Now, that my first year as president is completed, I can look back and realize how rewarding and challenging it has been. I would be less than truthful if I said it has all been a bed of roses; however, with your support and the help and advice of our Board of Directors, the problems have been successfully resolved.

We now look forward to another year with hope and anticipation of better things to come. The film, recently released and titled, "Of Light and Learning" — is all about Jefferson, and is excellent. It is, truly Jefferson, as it was, as it is, and hopefully with our cooperation and help, what it will be.

My personal thanks to each of you for your loyal support. Let us continue to work together for greater achievements in the years ahead.

Sincerely yours,

Margaret Summers, Class of 1941

ANNUAL REPORTS OF JEFFERSON NURSING PROGRAMS
SCHOOL OF NURSING

Dynamic equilibrium — this is our challenge: to respond to the challenge of change without losing vital functions, traditions or identity.

Our vital function for many years has been to provide a nurse capable of performing as a generalist in beginning positions in hospitals, extended care facilities and health maintenance facilities.

Major curriculum changes have not been made in the past year. While some diploma schools are considering eliminating credit courses our unique position in a medical university allows us to continue to offer college credit in the basic courses in psychology, sociology and microbiology. Students desiring to take additional credit courses may enroll in the College of Allied Health Sciences elective program at their own expense.

Academic excellence is a personal goal of many students; as alumni you help to motivate them toward that goal through the Alumni prize. The 1973 recipient was Virginia Corotto.

One of our most beautiful traditions, the rose arch, was meaningful this year to eighty-eight young women who had been challenged by Jefferson alumni. Dr. Peter L. Eichman, to take their places working for change in health care delivery systems — change that is necessary for the continued growth and up grading of the profession.

As you know, one of the challenges Jefferson has responded to is that of making allowances for married students. Four of the graduates were married prior to the senior year; of these, one was the mother of a two year old son. Forty of the graduates plan to remain at Jefferson. As always, the others will scatter, one going as far as Central Alaska to a mission hospital.

Championship basketball teams are becoming an undergraduate tradition: for the second consecutive year the team won dual titles — The Southeastern Pennsylvania Student Nurses' Basketball League and the 4th Annual Jefferson Invitational Tournament. Not taking a back seat to the team, our cheerleaders won the Southeastern Pennsylvania Student Nurses' Cheerleading Championship. Gold basketball charms and megaphone charms were given to the respective team members by the League. The trophy case is literally filled to overflowing, but there's always room for one more!

Cheryl Steimer, ’73 was recipient of the Thomas Jefferson Award for Outstanding Athletic Achievement presented at the annual basketball banquet at the Three Threes Restaurant, April 25, 1973. Both the banquet and the award are traditionally provided by the School of Nursing Department of the Women's Board.

The School of Nursing Department of the Women's Board plays a major role in supporting traditional activities of the School such as the tea for freshmen and seniors. Being Alumni, you are aware of their contributions and know that they are so numerous the entire report could be devoted to them. Suffice it to say, we are indebted to them.

Identity crisis and youth seem to be synonymous. There are those of you who might feel that the advent of a new nursing program at Jefferson, a baccalaureate program, has created an identity crisis for our school after eighty-two years. Be assured that no such crisis exists. Each school has its own faculty, philosophy, objectives and, of course, students. The faculties have, on occasion, held joint meetings and enjoy rapport that allows for exchange of ideas for mutual benefit.

In September 1973, the School of Nursing will be co-ed with the admission of two male students! Although male applicants have been accepted since 1971, until now none has accepted the appointment.

As Jefferson Medical College was putting finishing touches on sesquicentennial plans the American Hospital Association was celebrating their centennial. As part of the centennial celebration a Centennial film was formed. This group, composed of one student from each member diploma school selected because of clinical excellence, probably will never meet or organize formally but each will wear with pride a special pin symbolic of their unique honor. Jefferson's recipient was Bonnie Zais, '73.

Sesquicentennial activities have involved the school in that students and graduates are seen in the film, "Of Light and Learning," produced here on campus for the kickoff of the fund raising campaign.

Looking back, the past year has been a good year, a year of challenge and change, a year of maintaining dynamic equilibrium.

Looking ahead, one sees the challenge of inevitable change coming with the admission of male students; the writing of a voluminous report so necessary for the anticipated NLN accreditation visit next year; the completion of the Edison Building (former home of Philadelphia Electric) at 9th and Sansom becomes the home of the College of Allied Health Sciences; and the continued preparation of capable nurses like yourselves.

The above By-laws were amended, voted on and accepted at the Annual Alumnae Meeting on January 9, 1973. Margaret summers President A CELEBRATION AND A CHALLENGE A Sesquicentennial in 1974 Anniversaries are a time for reflection. They are a time for looking back to review our progress, and even more a time to look forward and assess the way ahead. As Thomas Jefferson University celebrates in 1974 the 150th anniversary of its founding, Nursing Education at Jefferson celebrates its 83rd anniv­ ersary . Nursing education has been a vital part of Jefferson for more than half of its existence. Jefferson graduates can and should take pride in the fact that their university stands in a unique position among American medical centers. It is unique as a university that is wholly medically ori­ ented, and health-related. It is unique in the Univer­ sity in which the programs range across a broad spectrum of nursing, medical, and allied health profes­sions. It is unique in combining its classroom and laboratory instruction with clinical experience in professional settings and relationships. An obligation of leadership — preparing for change No matter how long it has been since you gradu­ ated from Jefferson, everyone has seen changes affect the nursing profession. Furthermore, you could forecast other changes that seem necessary and desirable. Forecasting change accurately, and preparing to meet it, are obligations of leadership. It is in ful­fillment of these obligations that Thomas Jefferson University has embarked upon its Sesquicentennial Campaign; a commitment to Century 21. No matter what affection one feels for Old Main or Thompson — no matter how warmly one recalls the, hours spent on duty within their halls and lab­ oratories — neither building can compete with the facilities we expect in modern medical center. What is more important is that the educational programs in nursing and other disciplines must change as curricula are updated to incorporate new knowledge and understanding into health care. Almost four years ago, Jefferson addressed itself to the changes we must undertake if we are to meet successfully the medical challenges of the 21st cen­ tury. A Master Planning Committee, comprising representatives from each school and college within the University, has met regularly ever since January, 1970. It has examined specific questions intensively, through task forces and sub-committees, and has agreed upon a Master Plan that Jefferson seeks to implement with support provided in its Sesquicen­ tennial Campaign.
Jefferson's Master Plan

Jefferson's Master Plan represents an $84,000,000 program. Of that amount, $1,953,000,000 will be invested in a new Clinical Teaching Facility to be located north of the present campus, between Sansom, 11th, Locust, and 10th streets. The Clinical Teaching Facility will be financed entirely through bonds.

Between Walnut and Locust streets, east of 10th, new student housing units will be constructed at a cost of $6,000,000.00. This money for this construction has been authorized and provided through the Pennsylvania Higher Education Facilities Authority.

The remaining $25,000,000 will be money required for an Educational Improvement Fund. That fund will assist in reorganizing ambulatory services, establishing community health centers, making improvements in teaching and research, under-graduate programs, and in scholarships and fellowships. These improvements and innovations represent the most important part of the Master Plan—they are the substance that turns bricks and mortar into a medical university. The Educational Improvement Fund is that part of the Master Plan that requires private support from alumnae, alumni, faculty, friends, corporations, and foundations.

The Sesquicentennial Campaign

Trustees of Thomas Jefferson University have volunteered to do their share of the Campaign that is seeking support from outside the Jefferson family. Dr. Peter A. Herbst, as President, is serving as the chairman of the Sesquicentennial Campaign among present members of the Jefferson family, including students, administration, faculty, and alumni. At the time this is written, more than $1,345,000 has been pledged or paid by the Jefferson family who have pledged or paid a total of $53,000,000. This amount has already been pledged or paid to the Campaign from foundations and corporations close to Jefferson.

In the final tally, however, Jefferson's alumnae and alumni will determine how rapidly Thomas Jefferson University reaches its Sesquicentennial Campaign goals. Jefferson graduates are those who chose it for their education, and who know how much that education has contributed to their own professional careers. They are the ones who can provide in this campaign for those to whom an R.N. is only a cherished goal today.

Mrs. Harriet O'Conner has accepted the leadership of the Alumni Division in the Sesquicentennial Campaign. In doing so, she said, "The Sesquicentennial Campaign is not just another annual appeal for funds. It is a once-a-decade chance that alumnae have to participate significantly in shaping the health and health care that will affect thousands of Americans in the next generation."

Mrs. O'Conner has impressed it well. We ask that you along with every other graduate of Jefferson, join in helping to shape the outline of Thomas Jefferson University in the year 1973. In doing so, you will have a direct impact upon the Nursing Education that Jefferson can offer to those who will follow in your footsteps.

In the planning, the needs of the community have not been overlooked. Participation in the Philadelphia Department of Health, Childhood Lead Poisoning Prevention Project, Community Mental Health Services, and the Children and Youth Program provide support of community health programs under Jefferson's leadership. The Volunteer Service through patient care, offers health career opportunities to young people searching for their fields of interest. These youngsters are assigned to the areas of their choice such as Radiology, Respiratory Therapy, Clinical Laboratories, School of Nursing and Practical Nursing, and many other departments interested in promoting the progress of young people and their own areas of responsibility.

Other changes which have taken place over the past year include some major administrative assignments. Mr. Edwin L. Taylor was appointed to the position of Hospital Director, and Francis J. Sweeney, Jr., M.D., was promoted to the position of Vice-President for Health Services in July 1972.

This report highlights only a few of the many changes which have taken place over the past year. Plans for the future are exciting and innovative as Jefferson moves ahead fulfilling her commitment to patients and the community she serves.

For those of you who haven't visited us recently, we hope that you will stop by when you are in center city.

THE PATIENT SERVICES DEPARTMENT

Patient Services continues to seek to communicate and demonstrate to the patient, and his family members, that the personal aspects of patient care are important to Jefferson. The concern and responsiveness of the institution in meeting the health needs of the community is a key factor for present and future patients.

The Department does this by seeking out those individuals who have problems or questions about the services provided. Talking to the patient to identify the problem of difficulty in obtaining service and to then determine an appropriate course of action to provide optimum care is routine practice of the Patient Representative. The hospital policies and procedures are interpreted on an individual basis. Cursory, first impression evidence is evaluated to determine that satisfactory service has been rendered. A big job! Yes, but most challenging and rewarding.

Out of the constant strides in growth, one can say that Jefferson has provided a centralized and consistent patient grievance mechanism. It is anticipated that future guidelines will be built into contracts between Blue Cross and Hospitals will include an ombudsman to handle consumer complaints. Jefferson appears to have guessed. Ours has been in formal existence since 1958.

For the comfort of the patient the comfort has been a Host-Hostess Program started during the past year. Young men and women were hired to meet and take new admissions to their assigned rooms. They introduce the patient to the Head Nurse and make it known that the Patient Services Department is located if he has any questions. This group also takes many patients as accessible to the first floor lobby for discharge. Their friendly, courteous response to these persons gives them assurance and comfort. The Information Desk and Patient Escorts continue to add warmth and cheeriness to the patient whose day is spent in a strange place.

As reported last year, the Society of Patient Representatives was launched and advanced rapidly since early January 1973. There are now more than two hundred members from over the entire United States. Canada and Hawaii are represented.

Area representatives by state have been appointed by the American Hospital Association upon recommendation of the Patient Services Department.

The Director of Patient Services was elected to the Board of Directors, to remain until January 1, 1975. The Director is also a member of the Education Committee and assisted in the preparation, organization and presentation of two major workshops—one in Chicago, October 19, 1973, and one in Miami Beach, May 7, 1973. "Communication is Representation" was the subject for the Miami Beach two day affair.

On October 11th and 12th, the third workshop entitled "Enabling the Patient Representative to Develop A Program to Serve the Community" held in Denver, Colorado. A Board meeting will take place on October 10th to make plans for an active 1974.

The Patient Representative will meet the challenges that will come within the next two years. Representatives will present the "Please Step Forward" in Chicago at the Health Congress, August 1973. A Board member will be a part of that event.

At Jefferson the Patient Representative program has continued to grow. Its challenges have become enormous. In 1967 the Patient Representative was legal in Denver, Colorado. The legal status of the patient-hospital relationship, "Consumerism", remains a key word in the thinking of the public where the Patient Representative is concerned. While it is perhaps more difficult today to create an understanding with the educated thinking public, none the less, the position of Patient Representative remains a heartwarming one with the goal of putting patient care first and keeping the patient aware that "there is truly someone who cares."

Patient Service
Thomas Jefferson University Hospital has made a major dedication to patients with renal disease by constructing a new dialysis facility and initiating a new transplantation program. The new dialysis unit is primarily intended for home dialysis training and to support the transplantation program. Nurses and technicians will be trained in the unit as well. The head nurse is, Margaret Mary Bryan, R.N. and associate head nurse is, Anita Boborsky, R.N.

It is a 5-bed unit which in combination with the old unit gives us a total of 8 dialysis beds. This is the largest hospital dialysis facility in Philadelphia. It has a Pediatric wing and a room constructed for home peritoneal dialysis training. The new unit was made possible by the generosity of the Women’s Board of the hospital, and is dedicated to the memory of Dr. Theodore Tsaltas. Dr. Tsaltas was a Professor of Pathology at Jefferson and was one of the first chronic dialysis patients in the United States. He excelled in teaching and research and frequently utilized himself as a subject for experimentation with new dialytic techniques. He was an engaging human being, who despite his own medical problems was able to give love and comfort to his friends, patients, and family.

The construction of the new unit coincides with the reactivation of the renal transplantation program at Jefferson. The transplantation team is headed by Dr. James Colberg and includes: Drs. Herbert Cohn, Jules Bocken, Stephen Bulova, Ruth Gottlieb, Michael Silverfoot, James Bulova, and Norman Lasker. Eight renal transplants have been performed within the last 8 months, 6 of which have been successful. The 2 patients who rejected their kidneys are back on chronic hemodialysis and are awaiting a repeat transplant.

The transplantation program at Jefferson is fortunate in having the support of an excellent Immunology Laboratory, which is run by the hospital blood bank and the Cardeza Foundation. This has contributed to the excellent results of the transplantation program to date and to our plans for expansion in the future. One of the chief roles of the dialysis unit will be to provide a large number of potential transplant recipients and furnish better matchings for cadaver kidneys. The remarkable re-habilitation of the successful transplant patient has generated much enthusiasm at Jefferson for this procedure.

The facilities of the Department of Radiation Therapy and Nuclear Medicine have been undergoing a dramatic face-lifting, and we are now almost ready to show our “new look” to the world. The waiting rooms and examination rooms on the first floor of the Main Building have already assumed a bright modern air, and our two staff nurses find that they offer our patients greater comfort and privacy.

But it is the new Radiation Treatment Center in the basement of the same building that will make the major new contribution to our patients’ welfare. Installed there will be new, modern and powerful radiation treatment equipment, the most impressive both in size and in usefulness, being the 45-million-volt, 14-ton betatron, one of only five in the United States. This versatile machine, with its high-energy capabilities, can be used to treat the most deeply seated tumors, yet it can also be used for low-energy radiation in the treatment of problems such as skin cancer.

The new equipment, though much more sophisticated than the old, will require little new training for the technologists operating it. The therapy equipment will be monitored by a central computer which will measure and record the exact radiation dosage required for each patient.

We are proud that our department will now be able to provide the most up-to-date radiation treatment facilities for our patients’ care, in addition to the devoted service of our staff which has always been a key factor in the care we provide.

RESUME OF MINUTES OF ALUMNAE ASSOCIATION MEETINGS
September 12, 1972

21 members were present.

Since we have received several school pins Miss Summers has offered to gift the Association a small shadow box so that we can display these pins with the owner’s name and year of graduation.

Representatives to the P.N.A. Convention to be held in Philadelphia in October were nominated.

Presently hospitalized are Violet Orland, Doris Giordano, and Anne Roane.

Thank you notes were received from the following:
Miss Bowman—for the Thomas Shallow and Alumnae grants presented at graduation
Sarah Berg—for life membership
The family of Blanche Keiter String—for the memorial card
The Donaldson family—for expressions of sympathy
Mary Godfrey—for all get well remembrances and for the roses from the luncheon

It was moved and seconded that we send the TB and Respiratory Disease Association the same contributions as last year.

Miss Summers and Miss Piero met with Dr. Harbut, Mr. Graham and Mr. McChesney who suggested that perhaps sending this year’s Bulletin to all graduates would stimulate greater interest in the Association and the University. Because of the decision to do this it was decided to refund the remainder of the $3.00 to each of the 118 graduates who had paid for copies of the Bulletin for 1972.

The following list of recipients of the Reader’s Digest for Christmas was compiled:
Elizabeth Eaton
Emma Knoke
Ethel Faust
Mary Allee
Sarah Berg

The 50-50 was won by Lenora Schwartz.

October 10, 1972

The scholarship committee reported that in light of the absence of scholarship grants in 1971 and 1972 both applicants for the Spring 1973 scholarship were moved, seconded, carried and published the committee’s recommendations and grant scholarships to Betty Lou Simson Woods, ’61, and to Gail McKenzie, ’64, for the Spring 1973 semester.
Miss Pisterer reported that Miss Britschneider is presently hospitalized.

Mrs. Miller, Mrs. Curran, Mrs. Masuda, and Miss Summers met with Mr. Graham regarding consolidation of our funds. There are presently six funds collecting relatively interest. Mr. Graham agreed with the recommendation of the Board of Directors to realign the funds in the following manner:

Relief Fund — Must remain as such by its charter.

Melville Graduate Scholarship and Lewis Student Scholarship — To be combined into the Melville-Lewis Fund. Rules for the new combined fund will be redefined.

Shallow Fund for Operating Room Proficiency Award — To be added to the General Fund with the annual award to be given as long as feasible.

Building Fund — To be added to the General Fund.

Cancelled checks will be considered the receipt for dues payment except when receipts are specifically requested. This will considerably reduce the Treasurer’s paper work and mailing expenses.

The 50-50 was won by Miss Smeeck.

Miss Hindson reported that the Annual Christmas party will be held on December 12, 1972, in the Jefferson Hall Faculty Club. The proposed ballot for First Vice-President, Recording Secretary and Board of Directors was presented by Mrs. Frazier and accepted by the membership.

Miss Bowman presented the proposed requirements and procedures necessary for the granting of the Adele Lewis Scholarship Fund. It was moved and seconded that these changes be incorporated into the amended By-Laws and be presented at the annual meeting for adoption.

The proposed changes in the By-Laws were also presented. It was moved that the proposed changes be presented for adoption at the annual meeting.

A lovely shadow box was displayed by Miss Summers. She indicated that four pins have been donated and will be displayed. A suggestion was made that individual name tags appear beneath the pins to properly identify each pin.

Miss Janice Osterhus and Mrs. Emma Smeck gave interesting and informative reports on the P.N.A. convention held the week of October 29, 1972 at the Bellevue Strafford Hotel. The 50-50 was won by Mrs. Evelyn Frazier.

January 9, 1973

Miss Hindson reported that 42 persons attended the Annual Christmas party. The Auction will be held March 27.

Communications were read from:

Janice Osterhaus — returning money not used at the convention

Elizabeth Heaton — thanking the Association for the subscription to Reader's Digest

Bettie Lou Simonson Woods — thanking the Association for the scholarship

Judy and John Tracy — a Christmas card and letter

Mary Godfrey — a Christmas card.

Rosa Diserode had called to thank the Association for the poinsettia.

Flood damage to the Harrisburg office of the P.N.A. was very extensive and donations for restoration would be appreciated. Miss Staufer suggested sending part of the profit from our Auction in March.

A fascinating presentation of slides by Mrs. Matthews was then given. The collection was made for the Army and Navy Nurses Museum and concentrated on the experiences of nurses during World War I. The collection included many pictures taken by Mrs. Mary Godfrey of her wartime experience.

Results of the election:

First Vice-President — Miss Mary Anne Staufer

Recording Secretary — Mrs. Lenora Schwartz

Board of Directors — Miss Eloise Hippenstein

Miss Betty Piersol

The 50-50 was won by Mrs. Frazier, however, the proceeds were given to the students who counted the ballots.

February 13, 1973

The new By-Laws have been approved by legal counsel, Mr. Sprecker, as written by the committee.

Thank you notes were read from:

Edyth Cypher — for the Reader's Digest subscription.

The family of Edith Kissinger Neille — for the memorial card.

Violeta Emig — for life membership and the Christmas poinsettia.

Emma Knock — for the Reader's Digest subscription.

A $52.50 donation was made to the General Fund from the proceeds of a Rubbermaid party sponsored by Miss Staufer and Miss Hindson. It is to be used for making a new Santa suit for the Christmas party. Several members have volunteered to look into designing the suit.

April 10, 1973

Miss Piersol reported that the response to the Annual Giving has been wonderful this year. To date we have received $1,835.00.

There were 29 reservations and 27 persons in attendance at the March Auction. $145.00 was realized, including a $5.00 donation. A motion was made and carried to donate the funds from the Auction to the Pennsylvania Nurses Association for flood restoration.

A thank you for life membership was read from Flossie Kaufman.

The 50-50 was won by Mrs. Masuda.

May 8, 1973

Miss Hindson reported that 274 persons attended the Annual luncheon. The flowers were sent to Miss Potts, former housemother.

The scholarship committee reported that Barbara Davis, Shrader was nominated for the Fall 1973 scholarship. The recommendation was approved.

Thank you notes were read from:

The family of Elsie D. Tomlin — for the memorial card.

P.N.A. — for the restoration contribution.

Miss Summers announced that the Alumni association will not be taxed a specific amount for the University building fund as has happened in the past. The Association will be part of the general alumni goal of $4 million.

A motion was made and approved that the President and the Board of Directors conduct any emergency business which may arise between May and September.

All of the regular meetings of the Alumni Association were held in room M23 of the Jefferson Alumni Hall.

Respectfully submitted,
Lenora W. Schwartz
Recording Secretary
