A Message From The President

The past twelve months have produced many changes in our Alumni Association, both physically and historically. As you read the Committee reports on the following pages you will see the landmark decisions which were made during the year, with the approval of those present at the annual Luncheon meeting in May. The foundation has been laid. It is up to all of you to help those of us who are still here to build and secure our Alumni Association as we know it today. My fondest wishes to all of you in the coming year.

NURSES' RELIEF FUND

The Nurses' Relief Fund is available to all Diploma and White Haven graduates. The purpose of the Relief Fund is to provide a sum of money annually toward hospital bills and or bills incurred at home due to an extended illness and requiring the services of a physician. The fund is also available for use in cases of adversity.

If you know of any Jefferson or White Haven graduate in need of assistance, please let us know as soon as possible.

An application for Relief Fund benefits can be found in the back of this booklet.

NURSES' SCHOLARSHIP FUND

The Clara Melville-Adele Lewis Scholarship Fund continues to provide four scholarships a year to Diploma and White Haven graduates. Two for the Fall semester and two for the Spring semester.

April 1 is the closing date for application for the fall semester, and September 1 for the spring semester.

Each application received will be reviewed by the Scholarship Committee; preference will be given to the applicant who has been a member, who is most active in the Alumni Association, and who has most nearly completed requirements for a degree.

A Scholarship application can be found in the back of this booklet.

ARCHIVAL MATERIALS

Miss Sarah Zimmerman of Havertown, Pennsylvania (sister of Ada Zimmerman, class of 1913) recently presented to the library archives the Jefferson Medical College diploma of her father, Plus Zimmerman, M.D., JMC 1883, his pre­scription booklet, and his senior thesis on scarlet fever. She also gave the textbooks used by Ada when she was a student at Jefferson Medical College Hospital School of Nursing. Submitted by Robert T. Lentz.

Baccalaureate Nursing at Jefferson

On June 5, 1974, forty students walked across the stage at the Academy of Music to receive their bachelor of science in nursing degree. These individuals were recognized at this ceremony as the first graduating class of the Department of Baccalaureate Nursing at Thomas Jefferson University. On June 8, 1944, approximately 185 students will attend the dedication of being members of the eleventh class to graduate from this Department. All of the students who have passed through the Department's doors during this period have participated in a decade of planned change in nursing education.

The establishment of the Department of Baccalaureate Nursing at Thomas Jefferson University was approved by the Board of Trustees during their meeting on November 20, 1970. The decision to initiate an upper division collegiate nursing program was a direct result of the University's commitment to assume a leadership role in responding to changing patterns in higher education.

Charlotte E. Voss, R.N., Ed.D., the first chairman of the Department of Baccalaureate Nursing, received Pennsylvania State Board of Nurse Examiners approval to begin its program in June, 1972. Dr. Voss and five faculty members opened the classroom and clinical doors to forty-six students in September, 1972. The program was accredited for the full eight-year term by the National League for Nursing in April, 1978.

In September, 1978, the first group of registered nurses from diploma or associate degree programs were admitted to the Department. Six of the first 11 students completed the requirements for the degree in June, 1979. During the 1982-83 academic year, a total of 39 registered nurses were enrolled in upper division nursing courses. Ten of these students were graduates of Jefferson's School of Nursing. An additional 50 registered nurse students are expected to begin nursing courses in the Fall, 1983.

All of the students admitted to the Department of Baccalaureate Nursing must have earned a total of 57 credits in lower division courses. These include course credits in English (6); Psychology (6); Sociology (3); General Biology (4); General Chemistry (8); Anatomy and Physiology (8); Microbiology (4); Statistics (3); Interpersonal Communications (3) and General Poltical Science (3). General Education courses may be taken to meet the requirements through transfer of previously earned credits, earning a passing score on the College-Level Examination Program (CLEP) or by achieving a grade of "C" or better in the course at an accredited college or university.

While in the program, students will earn 18 credits in upper division supporting courses: Biochemistry (3), Social Organization (3) and upper division electives (12). Registered nurse students may transfer previously earned credits or challenge all of these courses through CLEP. In addition, these students may earn 26 of the 53 credits in nursing by successfully passing the advanced placement examinations administered by the Department of Baccalaureate Nursing. The vast majority of registered nurse students are successful in passing these examinations during their first try. Two opportunities are provided to pass the advanced placement tests.

The nursing courses for the registered nurse students are designed to capitalize on prior learning and to develop increased knowledge and skills in addressing a variety of patient care situations. Twenty-four of the 33 credits remaining after advanced placement are devoted to clinical nursing courses—Community Nursing, Family Nursing and a clinical nursing elective. Five of the remaining credits are devoted to expanding students' knowledge base in issues related to professional nursing and health care. Two credits are devoted to a study of nursing research; the student can select from a number of nursing electives to earn the remaining two credits.

Full-time students who are pursuing their first course of study in nursing complete our requirements in two academic years. Registered nurse students can complete the nursing major in one academic year of full-time study or two years of part-time study. In January, 1984, the Department will initiate an evening program for registered nurses. When this program is opened, the registered nurse will be able to choose from part-time day or evening options or select this full-time day program.

A tremendous effort has been made by the faculty to offer a professionally enriching and personally satisfying educational experience for registered nurses returning for their degree. Dolores Hilden, R.N., Ph.D., Registered Nurse Course Director, has developed a booklet which describes the course of study for registered nurses and addresses many of the questions commonly asked about the program. The faculty have been assisted in their efforts to plan an outstanding course of study for registered nurses by a number of individuals who formally taught in Jefferson's School of Nursing; Betty Alexy, Joan Amick, Diane Diametis and Sharon Renshaw. The faculty have also received excellent suggestions related to the plan for registered nurses from current students and alumnies. The registered nurse course of study and the students in this plan have added consider-dable dimension and strength to our total program.

In addition to the current program options the Department is currently completing a feasibility study related to graduate education in nursing. Consistent with the plan for nursing education approved by the University Board of Trustees in October, 1980, the Department is very interested in initiating programs for individuals who wish to pursue graduate degrees in nursing in the near future.

The priorities for nursing education in the 1980's at Jeffer-sion as stated in the Report of the Ad Hoc Committee on Nursing Education, are as follows:

1. To assure the preparation of clinically knowledgeable and competent professional nurses.
2. To promote the integration of nursing education and nursing practice.
3. To foster collegial, collaborative interactions with medicine and other health professions.
4. To encourage innovation in nursing practice and education systems.

These priorities have defined the direction for the next decade. The faculty in the Department of Baccalaureate Nursing look forward to working with all interested in nursing education at Jefferson to meet these challenges.

Mary Naylor, R.N., Ph.D.

(Facing article was written for our bulletin by Dr. Alexy, Mary Naylor and Associate Professor of the Department of Baccalaureate Nursing, College of Allied Health Sciences, Thomas Jefferson University.)

FROM RN TO BSN

Fifteen years ago I thought I had it made. I was a graduate of a hospital school of nursing that was part of a large teaching medical center. The school had an excellent reputation; its graduates were said to be skilled, moral, and obedient. According to the admission bulletin, students would "become proficient in those skills necessary to care for the patient in a general hospital setting." What was promised was delivered, and I could take my rightful place in nursing.

No reality shock for me! I easily made the transition from student in pink to graduate in white. As a student I had had responsibilities on the units and I felt amazement at being paid for doing much the same work I had done before receiving my diploma.

After graduation, I practiced both as a civilian and a military nurse. I made four lateral moves, each time hoping to find a place where I felt satisfied with the care I was giving. But there were problems everywhere I went. I felt taken advantage of by the hospital system, and I felt I was cheating myself and my patients. There was rarely enough time for inservice programs, and a feeling of stagnation developed. My practice had become too ritualistic, with tasks being dictated by an inflexible system. I hated being "task-oriented," but I also disliked the books I received from the oncoming shift staff when a task was not completed, even if the reason was valid.

After years of avoiding the truth, the solution became quite clear to me. I needed more formal education. I would pursue a BSN.

What was not clear, however, was how I would do this. Internal conflicts were the first I had to resolve. I recall conjuring up all the reasons why full-time study was impossible. I might have a stroke, my children would resent competing for my time, my savings might run dry, my car might fall apart. I finally decided that I really was afraid — afraid to give up some security and try a new role.

Recognizing, accepting, and dealing with these fears left me free to face the external conflicts. I am a divorced mother of two young children. Continuing to take one course at a time in night school made sense. To plunge into full time day school, resign my job, and seriously apply myself — that was risky. But that was what I decided to do. My decision prompted looks of disbelief from friends and words of caution from family. "How can you?" "That's crazy!" "How will you pay the bills?" Friends pointed out that having a BSN would not increase my salary nor change my hospital job description. "That's probably true," I said. But somehow I was confident that it would make a difference to nursing and to me.

I registered for full time study. I knew finances would be tight, but I applied for and received four scholarships over a three-year period. I was eligible for GI benefits for one year, and I received child support. My savings were there for unexpected expenses, and I continued to work at the hospital on call.

My first real step toward a BSN was taking and passing all six NLN Achievement Exams. I had been out of school for 12 years and facing two days of testing to validate lower division nursing knowledge was intimidating. Like many other nurses, I had not been associated with pediatrics, obstetrics, or psychiatry since my school days. I spent one weekend with a review text and did far better in the exams than I had anticipated.

I thought diploma nurses had an edge on associate degree nurses (based on state boards test results and hospital administration statements) until I went back to school. I was shocked to realize I was being given so little college credit for three years of diploma schooling, while AD nurses recieved so many! There seemed to be an endless number of prerequisites — courses I felt I had already had. At first, I felt some bitterness, as most diploma nurses do, toward the educators who set the requirements. It did not take long, however, to discover that they were right. The information was new to me and the instruction was on a higher level than my basic program had been.

After a year of such prerequisites as microbiology, chemistry, statistics, psychology, and sociology, I began upper division nursing courses. I heard that the content of these courses repeated lower division nursing knowledge. I found the opposite to be true. The ideas and theories were brand new to me and initially I was lost in new terminology.

In time, I felt totally comfortable in the student role. The work was demanding and the midnight oil burned a few times, but I, like most other RN students, had no difficulty maintaining a high grade point average. We all brought different experiences to the classroom, and faculty members respected our uniqueness and showed a genuine concern for our futures.

Perhaps the most important discovery I made was that nursing can be anywhere. For me, the expansion of nursing beyond the hospital setting was exciting. Nursing, I found, can be more than a collection of technical skills. Nursing needs all types - researchers, administrators, educators, lawyers, primary care practitioners. It is a large, multi-faceted profession. These were my thoughts as my degree was being conferred.

There are many nurses who also have known the thrill of obtaining a BSN. With them I feel a kinship. There must be many nurses who are contemplating taking the step, but who need encouragement. This I freely offer.

The People's Republic of China

In the spring of 1981, I was invited to participate in a trip to China with the People-to-People Mission. This organization was instigated by Eisenhowen and the purpose was to exchange knowledge and ideas with countries which were developing or introducing new ways of doing things. Our delegation met in New York to be briefed and to become acquainted. We would be together for three weeks. The group consisted of thirty-five nurses, one husband, and two sisters. All were from the East Coast with the exception of one from Arizona and one from Oregon. The areas of practice included education and service. The three types of educational programs were represented, and nursing administrators were from five to fifteen hundred hospitals. Our mission was to study the health care delivery system and nursing education.

The flight was long; we had a two-hour layover in San Francisco and flew over Japan on our way to Hong Kong. We left our hotel in New York at 8 AM and arrived in Kowloon at 11:15 PM.

At 6 AM the next morning we were introduced to a Chinese breakfast, and the Chinese version of an American breakfast. Then we left by train for mainland China. Our first stop was Guangzhou (Canton). There we took a trip to a fair before a fairly early dinner at the airport. It was the worst meal we had in China. We boarded a plane and arrived in Beijing (Peking) at 10 AM after a very long and exhausting day.

Our first day in China was spent visiting the Great Wall and the Ming Tombs. Both were exciting and educational. Our delegation was comprised of nurses and nursing supervisors. Our three type system rather confused them. Their main interest was in baccalaureate education only. Their rationale was that doctorates were almost the same thing, so the education should be equal.

They do have a system which could be described as a central school diploma program. Although we asked, repeatedly to visit a school of nursing, we did not get to see one until the end of our trip.

Many of the venerable nurses (those over 55, the age of retirement) had advanced education here in the States. Although they spoke excellent English, our guides would translate. This did take additional time. The younger nurses did not appear to speak English.

The China Nurses Council gave us a banquet in the oldest restaurant in Beijing and that was our introduction to Peking Duck. We did not understand why our hosts were not present, nor were our guides. We learned later that the Council could not afford more guests. The food was abundant and could have fed another ten people easily.

The next day we went to the People's Square, the Forbidden City, and the Summer Palace. We stopped first at the Zoo to visit the pandas. There was a three-month old or who performed just like a child for his audience.

The Forbidden City is beautiful beyond belief. The designation Forbidden indicates that the people were forbidden to enter on threat of death. Only the royal family and servants lived there. Parts of the palace were used for ceremonial occasions.

At the Summer Palace, I got separated from the group and experienced panic! No one could speak English and I was alone. Finally a Chinese woman asked what was wrong and escorted me toward the gate where our bus waited. When I found our group, I gave the lady a picture of the Liberty Bell. We had been told to bring pictures of our home towns with us as token gifts. I had often wondered what she thought of that card. I was relieved to see our group, but it was the only one who had gotten to the top of Longevity Hill. And, I was so upset I never took a picture.

We went back to the Beijing Hotel for a rest before continuing to Tianjin. Some of us took a taxi to the Friendship Store for shopping. The cab waited for us and returned us to the hotel. From there we were taken to the train station for the trip to Tianjin. When we arrived there we were met by a delegation of the nursing organization and escorted to the Tianjin Guest house.

The next day we visited a Children's Hospital and a Home for Retired Workers. The residents receive a pension from which they buy their food, clothing and incidentals. Some of them have no savings. The family structure of the Chinese is very strong; therefore the residents of the home are those who have no children or their children live far away from the parents they cannot get to them. Families are most important to the Chinese. Small children were usually in the company of the older grandparent who shares the home.

On our next train trip, overnight, to Nanjing (Nanking) we passed through many small villages and farm lands. We were four to a compartment with two upper and two lower bunks. The ride was comfortable and pleasant.

In Nanjing, we visited a maternity hospital. It was clean and cheerful, and the newborns were delight to behold. However, the dichtum of one child to a family was made very clear when we saw the women lined up for abortions. In 1980 the hospital had 5000 deliveries and 10,000 abortions. We also learned that women marry at 22 years and men are 24 years old when the marriage can be doubled. Any. Children are the preferred child. Planning is carried out by the hospital. The laboratory does genetic diagnosis and long term genetic research.

The hospital also sponsored a midwife course which is three years in length. The midwives do the abortions on women who are-teenage pregnant.

The next day we went to Suzhou, the 'Venice of China', so-called because of the many canals. The city is best known for its many gardens and its embroidery, weaving, and silk industries. We took the tour of the National Embroidery Research Institute which was founded in 1975. The tour was beautiful. The young women who embroidered the fabric have a fifteen minute break every two hours to do eye exercise to relieve the strain.

In the afternoon, we visited the Humble Administrators Garden. This garden was built in 1513 and the main feature was water. There were ten houses and bridges over the ponds and streams.

The next day was a visit to a commune and typical home of the commune members. The commune raised fish, pigs, shell, and flowers. The home was a two story, two bedroom house. We were taken to the bedroom and, then talked with the owner and his wife. They had two children. We also saw the school of the commune.

The following day found us in Shanghai where we visited a clinic and an elementary school of an urban community. English was being taught to the fourth grade. Later in the day we visited a Psychiatric Hospital which had nearly 1000 patients.

Sunday morning was spent on a boat ride through the harbor. The afternoon was spent at the Shanghai Arts and Crafts Fair. We were all surprised and impressed by the number of people who were studying, or wished to practice English.

We finally visited a Nursing School. We saw the laboratories and the residence. There were seven girls in one very small room. There were eight bunks, one was used for storage space. The educational system is very similar to the hospital programs as we knew them.

We also visited the Jade Buddha Temple. It was very beautiful and the vegetarian lunch was excellent. The jade statues (2) of Buddha are of white jade from Burma. Buddhism is the main religion among the Chinese, and the temples receive support from the government because religion is part of the culture.

In the afternoon we flew to Quinlin, a beautiful city amidst jagged mountains. The next day we took a boat excursion down the Li River. It was pure delight. The mountains reflected in the river were breathtakingly beautiful.

Our last stop in China was Guangzhou (Canton). There we visited a traditional Chinese Medicine Hospital. A visit to the herbal garden was interesting. We did learn that although they use traditional herb medicines, and acupuncture, they also practice western medicine.

We left China and spent two days in Hong Kong where we met with representatives of the Nurses Association.

Impressions of China abound. Their medical practices, and nursing are mostly western, but they are twenty to thirty years behind us. That will not be true for very long as they are sending physicians and nurses to the U.S. and to other countries to learn and to return to their home land.

All physicians did tell us that it was a mistake to have followed the Russian pattern because it is not as advanced as American medicine.

It was a Wonderful Trip. People-to-People had planned well. We were a large delegation, but there were no obvious errors made. All went smoothly, and we all had good memories of those twenty-one days.

Jefferson Hospital on the Move

On June 20, 1978, the first patient moved into our beautiful new hospital. One hundred and four patients a day were moved in for four days. That move created four floors of a mini hospital on each floor. Doctors' offices and auxiliary services gradually moved into the remaining five floors.

Two years ago, plans were readyed for renovations to start on the Thompson and Pavilion Buildings. Last year, the floors in the older buildings were re-numbered starting with the sixth floor, for compatibility with the new hospital. As a result, there is no longer a sixth floor in the older buildings. After 5th, there is 6th, 7th, 8th, etc. Renovations were begun, and to date the following changes have been made.

The Delivery Room Suite has been beautifully reconstructed and is in full operation on the 7th floor of the Pavilion. Its expansion extends over the entire floor to provide single bed labor rooms, a "birthing room", and a recovery room. The Intensive Care Nursery and Transition Nursery have been re-located to the floor above, on 8th Pavilion. The Pediatric Unit on 10 Main has been relocated to 10 Pavilion and will enjoy "rooming in" space for parents and isolation capabilities not available in the past. The Obstetrical Inpatient Service will be expanded to include both 11 and 12 Pavilion, provide more single rooms, and provide enhanced visibility to the Term Nursery from the Nurses' Station. Medical/Surgical patients will be located on 9, Star and 14 Pavilion, and a holding area will be relocated to a Thompson Building floor.

In the near future, the Clinical Labs which are now located throughout five different buildings will be consolidated to the first four floors of the Pavilion.

Other changes in the entire Pavilion and which are most noticeable are: complete renovation of the elevators, which will now all open on the Sansom Street side on the ramp; modification of core services including heating, air conditioning, ventilation and plumbing system as well as emergency power capability and fire safety programs.

Patients in the Thompson and Pavilion Buildings are being served meals from newly constructed decentralized pantries located on 3, 9, 10, 11, 12 Thompson and 12 Pavilion.

Upon completion of the renovation project, which is anticipated by Spring of 1984, there will be decentralized pharmacies on 15 Thompson, 9, 10 and Star Pavilion.

The Supply system will be an exchange cart system for medical-surgical supplies as is used now throughout the new hospital.

The hospital information system will extend its computer systems to provide terminals on the patient units, in the not too distant future.

Hopefully, when the next Alumni Bulletin is printed all the renovations will be complete and a final report can be sent to you about our "jet age" hospital in a "jet age" world.

Scholarships Granted from 1948 to 1983

The Alumni of the Thomas Jefferson School of Nursing has offered financial assistance to its graduates as they further their education, for many years.

In 1942 finances were offered as a Loan Fund in Memory of Clara Melville, to be repaid in four years at a 1% interest rate. The amount has increased with the needs of the times and has changed from a loan fund to a scholarship fund.

Working at Jefferson in the early fifties, I recall the increasing emphasis to obtain a Bachelor’s Degree for advancement from staff nursing positions. This is what prompted me to begin to pursue a Bachelor’s Degree for Professional Nursing. I would encourage you to take advantage of the assistance offered by your Alumni.

I felt that my basic nursing education obtained at Jefferson was the best and it prepared me well for the additional education I have obtained and for a variety of nursing positions I have held over the last thirty years.

Following a period in the Air Force, with the GI Bill for assistance, I started to pursue the necessary requirements for a Master’s Degree. This was quite difficult since, I had left a number of years lapse from the time I had obtained my BS Degree.

With the present trend in nursing to require a Bachelor’s Degree for Professional Nursing, I would encourage you to take advantage of the assistance offered by your Alumni.

I recall the increasing emphasis to obtain a Bachelor’s Degree for advancement from staff nursing positions. This is what prompted me to begin to pursue a Bachelor’s Degree for Professional Nursing. I would encourage you to take advantage of the assistance offered by your Alumni.

I felt that my basic nursing education obtained at Jefferson was the best and it prepared me well for the additional education I have obtained and for a variety of nursing positions I have held over the last thirty years.

TJU Announces Decade Fund

To meet the challenges of this decade in education, health care, and research, the Board of Trustees of Thomas Jefferson University has recently established the Jefferson Decade Fund.

Embracing five vital areas, the Decade Fund seeks support for faculty, students, basic and clinical research, health care delivery, and facilities improvements.

The ten-year program seeks a year-by-year, steady increase in gifts to the University. The Fund will include all gifts to Jefferson in the decade 1980-1990. The goal is 65 million by the end of the decade.

You will be invited to support the Decade Fund through the 1994 annual giving campaign of the Nurses' Alumni Association.

Scholarship Report 1982-83

Ten applications for scholarship assistance were sent, seven were returned and reviewed by the committee.

Committee members wish to take this opportunity to encourage graduates enrolled full time in a program leading to a degree in nursing to apply for scholarship assistance.

WASHINGTON AND WELFARE COMMITTEE

"SATELLITE" COMMITTEE REPORT

A growing concern regarding sparsely attended meetings and its inherent ramifications upon our Alumni Society was expressed by many of our actively participating members during the last year. A "Satellite" committee was formed to research the causative factors, develop a plan of action, and provide a forum not only for an exchange of Business/Social information, but for professional enrichment as well. Our basic goal was to develop a plan for taking the "meetings" to all of you; having first tested your initial response on a local, then regional, and finally national level. While we envision sending alumni to the various area encompassed by our widely diversified membership, the realistic expectation was to start slowly, evaluate presentations for content and reflected interest, and subsequently tap your own interests rather than offering a "canned" presentation.

To undertake such a task requires unceasing coordination and a concerted effort by all of you to provide us with the means to reflect your needs. We need to have current mailing lists. If you are aware of the locations of Alumni who may not have contacted us for any variety of reasons, let us know where we might send them new information. We have been reviewing current mailings to see what regional Alumni distribution patterns might already exist and noting these for early consideration as meeting sites. Our committee looks to all of you for our successful effectiveness.

In accordance with our initial goals, as stated above, we wish to announce a Fall program directed to the membership of the GREATER DELAWARE VALLEY but not to the exclusion of any member who might wish to attend. Our location will hopefully offer an incentive to those of you from Delaware, New Jersey, Pennsylvania, Maryland, etc. Registration will, however, be limited to two hundred twenty-five participants (225).

Respectfully submitted,
Valerie M. O'Donnell, R.N.
Assistant Director SPD
AGREEMENT COMMITTEE

The Agreement Committee has been meeting with the Nursing Alumni Council for nearly three years to determine the best way monies in the Relief Fund and in the Scholarship Fund may be used for the benefit and welfare of the graduates of the diploma program in nursing. Both of these funds have been invested in the Jefferson Medical Fund which is handled by the University financial advisors. Accrued interest income is used to provide relief and scholarships.

On May 14, 1983 at the annual business meeting held before the annual luncheon of the Association, our legal counsel outlined the proposed provisions of both funds. She explained that it was necessary to consider Internal Revenue Service requirements in all the planning and in the decisions made.

The Relief Fund established in 1937 provides for medical expenses, support or maintenance for those graduates in need, and who apply for assistance. Under the original plan, the treasurer of the Alumni Association was empowered to supply funds to applicants as directed by the Board of Directors, using the interest income from the Fund.

The Scholarship Fund was established in 1932 to provide financial assistance to graduates as approved by the Scholarship Committee of the Alumni Association. As much of the net income and the principal may be paid to the above-named graduates as the welfare of the graduates of the diploma program in nursing. The amounts to be awarded for any scholarship shall be determined by the Scholarship Committee. The contributions brought the total to $15,067.00.

Mabel C. Prevost, Chairman
Agreement Committee

News from the Alumni Office

On June 10, 1983 the Alumni Office moved from Jefferson Alumni Hall to the Allied Health Sciences Center (Edison Building). The office is situated on the first floor in a large, bright office. All of the furniture, file cabinets and pictures fit in very well, and there is plenty of work space for the mailings that go out at various times of the year.

Approval of this move was actuated by the previous overcrowding of our original office, and the need, and who apply for assistance. Under the original plan, the treasurer of the Alumni Association was empowered to supply funds to applicants as directed by the Board of Directors, using the interest income from the Fund.

We appreciate the promptness of our alumni in sending address and name changes which helps to keep our files up-to-date. Because we have a cross file, as computerized lists, we can provide you with the latest data on approximately 3100 alumni.

In 1982-83 we have seven graduates in their nineties who celebrated their birthdays. Flowers and cards were sent to each of them from the Alumni Association. If you know of any graduate who will have or recently had a ninetieth birthday, please contact the Alumni Office with that information.

In the past year, we have received requests for information about the Nurses’ Relief Fund. The Fund can help you to pay for hospital or medical bills, or for special treatments. Our Association wants to assist alumni in regaining their health. If you need financial assistance, or know of anyone who does, please write to the Nurses’ Alumni Association. The names of graduates requesting or receiving assistance will be held in strict confidence.

Photos sent by some of you in conjunction with the writing of the history of the School of Nursing are in portfolios in the Alumni Office. Thank you for requesting that they be given to the Alumni Office for safe keeping.

All graduates are invited to visit our new office to see our interesting collection of memorabilia consisting of scrapbooks and photographs. We are located in Room 105, 130 South Ninth Street, Philadelphia, PA 19107 (on Ninth at Sansom, between Chestnut and Walnut). Our phone number is 929-6861.

On Wednesday, 10:00 A.M. to 3:30 P.M. When I am away from the office, calls will be answered by the CAHS Alumni Office, Room 924, Jefferson Alumni Hall, 130 Locust Street.

The History of the Jefferson Cap

Jefferson graduated its first class of nurses in 1893. At that time the cap that was worn had a high crown and a wide brim with ruffle around the brim. It was made of a delicate material called "lawn," similar to material used to make handkerchiefs. The cap resembled the Philadelphia General Cap, which at that time was made of a similar material.

In 1894, Susan Earle, a graduate of Philadelphia General, became Director of Nurses at Jefferson. When she noticed the similarity between caps, Miss Earle decided that Jefferson Nurses should have their own distinctive cap.

The crown was lowered, the ruffle was removed and the brim was narrowed, flattened, and spread like wing tips, across the front of the cap. The material was changed to organdy which gave the cap more body.

In 1932, the cap was worn with the brim starched and the wings made to stand out—that is the way we wear it today. Initially, it was traditional to earn the cap by passing the six month probationary period. Now the cap is given to the student to wear as soon as she enters the school.

This was a great responsibility for the student, knowing that the Nurse's Cap originated historically from the veil worn by women who traditionally covered their heads in public, and the cap is a symbol of humility and service to mankind. A responsibility because the Jefferson Cap is recognized and respected the world over, being worn by more than 4,500 graduates of the school; many of whom earned their cap and consider it an honor to wear it. (With the closing of the School of Nursing in June of 1982—the total number of graduates will be 5,078).

The student is entrusted with the cap and must wear it with dignity and respect for the tradition that is to be upheld.

(The above article was presented at Capping Exercises for the Class of 1982, by Patricia Zarella '51, R.N., B.S.N., Instructor School of Nursing, September 16, 1982. A total of 1,268 students graduated that year.)
