JEFFERSON NURSES ALUMNI ASSOCIATION 1995 - 1996 MEETING DATES

The President’s Message

There are two things which the President must do each year. One is at the beginning of the year and it is very pleasurable; it is the recognition of forty years membership in the Association. The second thing is the acknowledgment of the member who has “ceased to breathe”. That is sad because we have lost a friend and colleague.

It also reduces our membership number and this, too, is sad. I’m sure you know that it is the dues of the members, plus the annual giving which finances our operation and maintenance.

The University provides us with office space, meeting room, ordinary postage, telephone, and printing which helps us a great deal. Our office staff is our responsibility which we provide via the dues and annual giving. Fortunately, our staff are our Alumnae which adds that additional touch of interested personal attention and care. The University staff is very supportive and helpful, but it is so nice to hear a cheerful voice we remember from our "training days".

So, you see, we really appreciate the funds you send for annual giving, and we hope you continue your good response to this request.

Sincerely,

Alice C. Boehret, ’42

ABINGTON FACULTY MEMBER RECEIVES WRITING AWARD

Mary T. Wolfenate Stec, "73 of Chester Spring has won first prize in the American Journal of Nursing-Pennsylvania Nurses Association 1994 writing competition. Ms. Stec's manuscript, "Influences of Nurse's Beliefs on Simulated and Actual Pain Management of the Pediatric Postoperative patient," has been submitted for national publication.

Ms. Stec is on the faculty at Abington Memorial Hospital School of Nursing, Willow Grove. She earned her diploma from Thomas Jefferson Hospital School of Nursing, and her master's degree in nursing from Gwynedd Mercy College.

The AJN/PNA writing competition is held annually. The purpose of the program is to encourage nurses to write and to improve writing skills. Ms. Stec will receive an award certificate from the American Journal of Nursing as well as the opportunity to compete for the biennial national award.

The Pennsylvania Nurses Association represents 8,000 registered nurses serving hospitals, businesses, schools, colleges and universities across the commonwealth.

"GRANDMA IS A QUILTER"

It happened when I took a quilting class in 1979 and I got hooked. Being a working nurse at that time I couldn't get much quilting done but when I retired I went full speed taking classes, reading books, exchanging ideas with other quilters.

My husband took me to Lancaster often on fabric buying trips. He helped me with colors and fabric selections. My daughter cooked and kept house while I quilted. I made wall hangings, baby quilts, quilted vests and jackets and many full size quilts.

When my granddaughter would visit she would sit at my frame and put in huge stitches. She's better now.

I joined the "Pennsylvania Quilters" a group of about three hundred. On one of our quilt trips I heard a girl say she was a Jeff nurse. I turned around to find out who she was. It turned out to be one of my classmates Joan Shaver Herman.

What a thrill, a fellow nurse quilter. I then found out quite a few members are nurses. I guess the patience required in nursing is also needed in quilting. It takes many hours to make a quilt.

One of the magazines I subscribed to asked for pictures of scrap quilts to be entered in a contest. Scrap quilts are just what they say, made out of small pieces of assorted scraps. I never entered a contest but had made many scrap quilts so I sent in three pictures of different quilts. I received a notice saying all my quilts were winners and one would be on the cover of the summer issue 1994 of "Quilt" magazine.

To my surprise the "Sunbonnet Sue" quilt I made for my granddaughter's eighth birthday was the winner. They also wrote a beautiful article about me.

Quilters are wonderful people, I exchange blocks and letters with quilters all over the world. I especially enjoy their letters.

I've made wooden friendship quilts with blocks I received in the mail.

I recently received another honor, my "Bear Paw" quilt is featured in the fall (1995) issue of "Old Fashioned Patchwork" magazine. Retirement is never boring. It's true when one door closes another opens.

Scholarship Funds at Work

The following letter was written to our President, Alice C. Boobett, R.N., by Pamela G. Watson, S.C.D., Chair of Nursing Department.

Dear Alice:

It is once again my pleasure to provide information to you about the students who benefited from the School of Nursing Scholarship Fund and the Margaret G. Barnett Memorial Nursing Loan Fund at the College of Allied Health Sciences for the 1994-1995 academic year.

This year, the School of Nursing Scholarship Fund was able to award $1,500 to recipient Susan Johnson Lucas, who was married last September. As you know from our last report, Susan has a B.S. degree in psychology from Rutgers University and a graduate degree in clinical neuropsychology from Drew University. Susan will be graduating from Jefferson this May. She was supposed to report that she did not attain straight "A's" for the first time last September - she got one "B"! Susan has applied for graduate studies in the University of Pennsylvania's Pediatric Primary Care Nurse Practitioner Program. She hopes to attend Penn on a part-time basis, and also work part-time. In addition, Susan continues to care for her three children and manage a licensed daycare center in her home.

The following students were 1994-95 recipients of the Margaret G. Barnett Memorial Nursing Loan Fund, who were selected based on their excellent academic standing and demonstrated dedication to nursing care. This year, the fund awarded $10,000 in loans to nine students. Repeat recipients are indicated with an "=".

Jane DeGiulio, a junior from Exton, received a loan of $500
Maudy Fraser, a senior from Philadelphia, received a loan of $1,400
Rachel Garry, a senior from Bryn Mawr, received a loan of $800
Darlene Heimmer, a junior from Deptford, NJ received a loan of $1,000
Maureen Kelly, a junior from Philadelphia, received a loan of $2,000
Ruth Montague, a senior from Philadelphia, received a loan of $1,900
Alex Pugachevsky, a junior from Philadelphia, received a loan of $1,075
Bradley Sheets, a senior from Philadelphia, received a loan of $1,075
Bernardetta Wyant, a junior from Warminster, received a loan of $325
Alice, the generosity of the School of Nursing Scholarship Fund and the Margaret G. Barnett Memorial Nursing Loan Fund has benefited the education of many nursing students at Thomas Jefferson University. These students feel the impact of your assistance now, and will certainly continue to value your support in the coming years. It is therefore a distinct pleasure for me to thank you most sincerely for your kind and thoughtful commitment of the Nurses Alumni Association.

Sincerely,
Pamela G. Watson, S.C.D.

Diploma School Represented on the CAHS Alumni Board

The Diploma School of Nursing is represented on the Board of the College of Allied Health Alumni. This past year the number three to four times each year. This gives us an opportunity to continue to be a part of the College of Allied Health. The Diplomas are recognized for the benefits of our alumni. The CAHS Alumni Organization is 20 plus years old and is trying to get more involvement from the alumni.

We worked on a project, Case Management Program, for a couple of years to bring the various medical disciplines together, since their education keeps them somewhat separate. Last spring (94) we offered to push case management presentation, with farmers representing the various fields, to show how all contribute to patient care. It was well accepted by the students and they felt they learned how each specialty contributes to the total care of the patient.

The program was presented again this spring (95) and was very well received. At present this is an elective for the students and it is hoped that eventually the case presentation program could be made a requirement.

In 1995 for the first time a graduate from the CAHS has been appointed to the University Board of Trustees.

JEFFERSON HEALTH SYSTEM

August 7, 1995 Thomas Jefferson University (TUJ) and the Main Line Health System (MLHS) signed agreements that establish a new corporate entity known as Jefferson Health System. The two organizations have worked toward this goal since they announced their intent to form an integrated health care system more than a year ago.

Paul C. Brucker, MD, president of TUJ, is named chairman of the new Jefferson Health System and Douglas S. Peters, president of MLHS is named the new organization's president and chief executive officer.

Jefferson Health System includes The Bryn Mawr Hospital, Bryn Mawr Rehab, Community Health Affiliates, The Lankenau Hospital, Paoli Memorial Hospital and Thomas Jefferson University Hospital. The system has been created to position its members for the future of health services in the region. The foundation of the network is based upon the combined strength of the network hospitals and Thomas Jefferson University's outstanding academic programs.

Dr. Brucker and Mr. Peters characterize Jefferson Health System as a new model of healthcare delivery.

"Two respected healthcare organizations - Main Line Health and Jefferson are bringing a new type of healthcare delivery," said Dr. Brucker. "It will remain community based on acquisition and collaborative rather than one based on acquisition and control. It will use its strengths to enhance cost effective delivery of care and extend the best medical practices throughout the system, integrating research and education in this process."

Integrated delivery systems such as Jefferson Health System provide all types of care for patients including home care, hospice care, acute hospital and nursing home stays. Such systems improve the efficiency and effectiveness of the delivery of health care.

The new healthcare partnership initially will bring together these two organizations to form a nonprofit, integrated healthcare delivery system. Additionally, both West Jersey Health System and Riddle Memorial Hospital have signed letters of intent to evaluate joining Jefferson Health System (JHS), a nonprofit organization, to respond to these market changes.

JHS will develop into a larger network of carefully selected organizations and linked physician groups that will offer a full range of cost-effective healthcare services that are accessible throughout the region. This is enhanced by affiliation with Thomas Jefferson University and its academic programs.

JHS is planning an aggressive pricing, manage financial risk of capitated populations, document quality and cost-effectiveness, and use resources effectively by sharing technologies and clinical innovations.

Simple Things

The fragrance of the early morning, the sunlight on the sill, the smell of coffee perking, and Outside, the robin's trill.

A friend's voice on the telephone, A child with a smiling face, A letter from a loved one dear, Some flowers in a vase.

Just little things, these treasures mine, And yet, somehow, I find They brighten my entire day peace.
Oldest Woman Veteran Dies

Sunday, May 28, 1995 Mary Robinson Godfrey died peacefully at her home in Ligonier, Pennsylvania, at age 109. A pioneer Navy Nurse, her career spanned 59 years and included serving as director of nurses at three Pennsylvania state mental hospitals. She gradu­ated from the Jefferson Medical College Hospital in 1905 and joined the recently established Navy Nurse Corps in 1910. She served in Washington, D.C., Norfolk, Virginia, Mare Islands, California, and in the Philippines.

In 1918 she became the first chief nurse (military officer rank had not yet been conferred upon nurses) and was appointed superintendent of nurses of the Naval Hospital in Philadelphia. In 1928 Navy nurses were for the first time assigned to shipboard duty and she became the first chief nurse ever to be assigned to a ship of war.

She and her eight nurses served aboard the USS Leviathan, one of the largest and fastest ships in the world, and supervised the care of ill and wounded troops returning home after the war. In 1918, to arrest the great flu epidemic felled thousands of soldiers, including at least 2,000 aboard the Leviathan. The incident con­vinced the Navy that appropriate medical care must be made available to the troops on board ships. At a time when women in the military were very few, the forti­tude of these pioneer nurses in serving on a warship was astounding.

During a 13-year career in Pennsylvania state mental hospitals, she served as director of nurses at Norristown, Torrance and Wernersville state hospitals. Leaving the state hospitals in 1946, she did private duty nursing at Thomas Jefferson Hospital until 1968.

She was a member of the Heritage United Methodist Church of Ligonier, the Helen Fairchild Nurses Post No. 412 of the American Legion, and the Byers-Tosh Post No. 267 American Legion of Ligonier.

In 1994, Harold Bushby, director, Pittsburgh VARO, traveled to Mary's home to present her with the World War I commemorative medal along with letters of recognition from President Clinton and Secretary Brown. Mary will be missed by her family and many friends.

Profile of a Senior

WHO is a senior citizen? WHAT is one? A senior citizen is one who was here before the war.

We are today's senior citizens, a hardy bunch when you think of how our world has changed and the adjustments we have had to make. I'm pretty proud of us.

Nurses' Alumni Association Celebrates 100th Anniversary

1995 marks the 100th anniversary of the Nurses' Alumni Association of Jefferson's School of Nursing. The Alumni Association was formed in 1915 by Miss Susan C. Hearle, who received her early training in Great Britain under Florence Nightingale.

Between 1981 and 1982, more than 500 grad­uates received their nursing diplomas. Countless alum­ni have continued their education and have dis­tinguished themselves in many areas of nursing. Over 80 of our graduates are employed in the department of nursing service at Jefferson Hospital where they help to enhance Jefferson's reputation for excellence in patient care.

When the first male student graduated in 1976, the association dropped the feminine suffix of ae after "alum" to the more comprehensive "alum" form.

The Clara Metalvile-Adele Lewis Scholarship Fund helps graduates from the Diploma School of Nursing Program move up the academic ladder as they purs­ue a baccalaureate or higher degree in nursing. This fund also provides scholarships to the children and grandchildren of diploma grade who are pursing a career in nursing at Jefferson's College of Allied Health Sciences.

We have the Marguerite Barnett Student Loan Fund to assist students pursuing a nursing career at Jefferson. The Alumni Association also established a scholarship fund for the baccalaureate degree student during Jefferson's Decade Fund campaign in the mid 1970's, to assist younger students attending Jefferson's nursing program.

Our commitment to the Jefferson 2000 Fund cam­paign is to establish a new nursing scholarship fund to provide assistance for an outstanding undergraduate student. We sincerely hope and believe that by the year 2000 we will have raised our goal of $150,000.

The Nurses Relief Fund Trust is available to assist diploma graduates who are ill or who have fallen on hard times.

On May 1, 1993, a new memorial fund was estab­lished and named in memory of Elizabeth C. Ernst, Class of 1932. This is funded by gifts sent in memory of one of our deceased graduates. We have given two memorial gifts.

1.) Walnut Home Therapeutics - this organization gives home infusions in the community.

2.) BETAK - an organization to assist people who have AIDS. At the end of each year the Board of Directors of the Alumni Association designates a com­munity organization to receive the money, also at the end of each year $10,000 from the general fund is placed in the memorial fund in memory of each deceased Diplomate or Haveron graduate whose death we have been notified of during the year.

We are proud of all our graduates (space prohibits listing their names) who have served with honor and distinction in the Armed Services of the United States, from World War I up to and including the most recent conflicts involving the Armed Services. We congratu­late you on your loyalty to your country.

May 6, 1995 marked the 62nd annual luncheon for the Alumni Association, with an attendance of 300, they represent all of our 50 states and some even come from foreign countries to renew friend­ships and re-live the good old days.

The Nurses Alumni Bulletin is published yearly (each Fall). This publication helps alumni keep up-to-date on the changing Jefferson scene and in touch with each other.

The Alumni Association has made remarkable progress in 100 years and with your loyalty, support and interest we look to the 21st century for a bright and progressive future.

My Dilemma

Mirror, mirror, on the wall
You're no good to me at all!

When I look into your space
And see the reflection of my face
Is that person that I see
Is that person really me?

Sure, I know it's been awhile
Since I was a juvenile,
But I really feel the same
Keep I'm still and a little lame.
Hair's turned grey, getting thin,
Lots of wrinkles and a double chin.

But I'm really feeling fine,
Work at something all the time.

Still I wonder when I see
That reflection that is me.

Which one of us is really real
The one I see or the one I feel?

Pearl Harbor Remembered

Sara Enrighten, an Army nurse and Helen, a Navy nurse were both stationed in Hawaii and were eye witnesses to the sneak attack on Pearl Harbor. That day remains clear in their memory. Both sisters were invited to Pearl Harbor in 1991 to be a part of the 50th anniversary celebration of that unforgettable day in 1941. They were interviewed while on the USS Arizona Memorial in Pearl Harbor.

Sara graduated from Jefferson Hospital Diploma School of Nursing in 1935. During World War II she served at Hickam Air Force Base and Helen, her twin was stationed at the Pearl Harbor Naval Hospital.

The attack found Helen on duty on a male medical ward at the Naval hospital, and Sara was preparing to go on duty in the emergency clinic. Officers from Hickam gave Sara a ride to the hospital since bombs were raining down, (some of the Japanese planes flew so low they could see the gunners faces). The hospital was located very near the runways of the Japanese planes so low they could see the gunners faces. The hospital was located very near the runways of the Japanese planes so low they could see the gunners faces.

One bomb hit the enlisted men barracks and caused a large number of casualties since it was Sunday and many of the men were "sleeping in".

Sara says the patient load got so heavy that they were overwhelmed, the staff worked 24 hours. Because of the many casualties their 50 bed hospital was turned into a first aid station. The patients were given first aid and then evacuated to Tripler General Hospital in Honolulu.

Helen was also very busy since so many of their casualties were burn cases. Fire from sinking ships spread across the water and the men had to swim through it. The Naval hospital was much larger, therefore, they had more patients and so were very busy. A patient of Helen’s who was well enough managed to get a call through to Sara’s hospital to see if she was okay.

Sara and Helen agree that war is a hideous thing, the loss of life seems so wasteful, and both sisters say they are happy they were able to serve in the military and help in the time of need, also, they feel no animosity toward the Japanese and said if situations were reversed we would do the same.

Excerpts from notes by - Sara Enrighten, '35

This year 1995, has stirred up memories and long forgotten events. Nothing jumps out as a particular year nor are the events in chronological order. They are all jumbled, and to try to keep them orderly is a real chore.

It all started on a Sunday when we went to Atlantic City to visit a roommate who was working at the hospital there. We were walking the boards when a newsboy hawked the bombing of Pearl Harbor. This triggered excitement and decisions which have shaped my life. The whole direction shifted that day. It was December 7, 1941.

The next day the hospital moved rapidly. The Jeff Unit - Base Hospital 38 was on everyone’s lips and talk began about joining up and where it would be sent. Within three weeks the requisite 100 nurses were signed up. As rumors of U-boats off the coast spread, the windows of the hospital were painted black making it dark all the time. We had a forbidden radio hidden under a bolt of gauze in CDR so we could listen to the events as they were aired.

For you who were never in CDR (central dressing room), we had to make all the dressings used in the hospital. Hence the bolt of gauze, we made all the IV solutions, we also washed, dried, powdered and autoclaved all rubber gloves.

Excitement charged the air as we awaited the actual activation of the Unit. Finally, we were directed to an Army recruitment station for physicals. To my great disappointment, I was assigned to limited service because I needed glasses.

Meanwhile, at the hospital, we were busy training Gray Ladies, and trying to stockpile dressings.

The day finally came when we went to Broad Street Station to say “good-bye and God speed” to the 38th. It seemed that half my class boarded that train which headed for Texas.

A notice came for me to go to the Customs Building on July 15th to be sworn into the Army, followed by reporting to Fort Story, Virginia. The young officer who administered the Oath asked why I was joining the WAAC’s. As usual, I was indignant and said it was the Army Nurse Corps I was joining. He apologized, and we went through the short ceremony. My mother was thrilled even more than I, I believe.

The trip to Fort Story was a totally new experience.

Sleeping on a train it was really the beginning of many new experiences.

I reported in, and was assigned a room, and went to supper. Fort Story is really a Coast Guard Post which guards the entrance to the Chesapeake Bay. All sand dunes and pine trees. We had dirt that night, so we could learn to march, something we did when there was a lull in events. I'm told that I looked around and said "My God, stuck here for the duration!"

The hospital was busy. As the war effort really got under way and more recruits were brought into the area, the hospital expanded, a new nurses quarters were built. Because I was a Jeff grad, the head dentist assigned the fractured jaws to my ward. He had spent a dental internship at Jeff, so they were the only nurses who could care for his patients. Thank the Lord I learned to make eggnog at Pine Street.

The time finally came when I was assigned to overseas duty. So I traveled to Fort Jackson, Columbia, South Carolina to join the 74th General. There were four Jeff nurses in that unit, me, VA Hershey, Elizabeth Wiltmeyer and Ann Trostle.

The chief nurse had trained and later worked under a Jeff nurse at Atlantic City Hospital. She made no bones about it. She told me that I thought I knew everything; and she accused with four Jeff nurses.

So, who was the first 2nd lieutenant to be put as night supervisor of a thousand bed hospital? Me!

But that occurred later. We first went to a little town in England, on the Irish Sea and were billeted with families. I was told that I was theessor of two evils - an American sister or a British tommy. He was reputed to destroy everything he touched.

While at Haylake, we marched every day and learned British currency, made friends and awaited our assignment. This came the end of May and we moved to Tynicfield Park to take over a hospital. This was outside Bristol which proved to be our off-duty post.

On “D plus six” we got the first of the casualties. Our wards were extended by 1 or 2 tents. I worked in the operating room and they were long hours. Nescafe was a new product and the circulating nurse would pull your mask down and hold a cup to your mouth to give you a drink of coffee.

I was put on as night supervisor and made the rounds twice a night a night is a Miss Shiffer. I did try to talk to as many patients as possible between 7 and 8 when lights went out.

The night staff slept in tents in the middle of the field. Our cots were damp when we crawled into them in the AM, and we needed our coats on top to keep us warm. We were dry when we waked. I was on a month and shortly after coming off, developed atypical pneumonia. I was sick enough to require nurses around the clock (temp 100 F). As a result I had bilateral bronchi phlebitis and lost my hair. After recovery, I was on half-day duty, 7-12 instead of 7-7.

In June we moved to Francis. By then the war in the ETO was over and all that was needed was clean up. And there was a lot of that. I remember an Italian who had been a POW. He had surgery somewhere along the line but had not healed. When he was opened we found a 6 yard pack had not been removed. On another patient the MD told me to feel the omen tum. It felt fibbly, and I was told it was malignant TB.

In time I was assigned to come home. As usual it was a hurried up and wait operation. But it was a new area and new experiences. When I get home, I had leave which included Thanksgiving, Christmas and New Year. By then, I wanted out. I made up my mind I would take advantage of the GI Bill and satisfy a desire held since 4th grade. Get a liberal arts degree. I had no idea what it was, but that is what I wanted. And I got it.

Identical twins - Sara and Helen Enrighten, served in the Army and Navy during the attack of Pearl Harbor, Dec. 7th 1941.
Janet C. Hindson, RN, Retires and With Her, a Tradition

To paraphrase the 1950 yearbook of Jefferson's School of Nursing, Miss Hindson has a loving personality and is bound to be noticed everywhere. From the time Miss Hindson began her training here until her retirement several weeks ago, she has achieved recognition for many things: her superb organizational skills, her commitment to excellence and, from the 1960s on, wearing her cap. With her retirement, you won't be seeing anymore white caps at Jefferson.

Miss Hindson's commitment to excellence, whether in patient care or the attire of the nurses she supervised, was the gold standard against which she measured her own performance and that of her colleagues," said Mary Ann McGinley, RN, MSN, the hospital's associate executive director for patient services. When Ms. McGinley was a floor nurse, Miss Hindson was a supervisor.

In the 1970s, when nurses nationwide began to shed their white caps, Miss Hindson steadfastly continued to wear hers, as well as her traditional all-white uniform. "I was proud of my cap; I worked hard for it," she says. And she was ever noticed!

Over the years, patients, doctors and nurses have made comments about her attire such as "I love that cap," and "You really look like a nurse." This reinforced Miss Hindson's decision to retain her cap and uniform.

"In the last few years, when Janet's responsibilities spanned the entire nursing department and spread throughout the hospital complex, she inspired respect among other nurses for continuing to dress traditionally," Ms. McGinley said. "When she represented the nursing department on the safety or infection control committees, her cap and uniform made the nursing presence felt strongly."

Along with friends Betty Piersol, RN, and Margaret Summers, RN who staff the Jefferson Nurses Alumni Association Office, Miss Hindson reminisced about what it was like to be a nurse 45 years ago. "We did everything," she said.

"In addition to patient care, we were expected to keep rooms and nursing stations clean," Miss Piersol said.

"We also dished out the patients' food individually from food carts that came to each floor, and came in at 6 a.m. to prepare food for patients with diabetes," Miss Summers said.

"My philosophy about patients was that I looked at all of them as members of my family and wanted them to have the same fine care I'd want my own family to have," Miss Hindson said.

The History of the Jefferson Nurses' Cap

Jefferson graduated its first class of nurses in 1889. At that time, the cap was worn a high crown and a wide brim with a ruffle around it. The cap was made of a delicate material called "lawn," similar to material used for handkerchiefs. The cap resembled the Philadelphia General nursing school cap, which at that time was made of similar material.

In 1894, Susan Hearle, a graduate of Philadelphia General, became director of nurses at Jefferson. When Miss Hearle noticed the similarity between the two caps, she decided that Jefferson nurses should have their own distinctive one.

The crown was lowered, the ruffle was removed and the brim was narrowed, flattened and spread like wing tips across the front of the cap. The material was changed to organdy, which gave the cap more body.

In 1932, the cap was worn with the brim starched and the wings made to stand out - and this is how the cap was worn until the closing of the School of Nursing in June 1962.

Initially, it was traditional to receive the cap after passing the six-month probationary period. In later years, it was given to the students when they entered the school. Wearing the cap was a great responsibility because it symbolized humility and service to humanity.

It was a responsibility also because the Jefferson cap was recognized and respected the world over, being worn by the school's 5,078 graduates. Students were entrusted with the cap and were expected to wear it with dignity and to uphold the Jefferson tradition.

BULLETIN COMMITTEE
The Bulletin committee wishes to thank all who contributed articles and items for our 1995 Bulletin. We hope you enjoy reading it.

I have one request - when hand written information and articles are sent, please write legibly and DO NOT use abbreviations, which can cause printing errors. We welcome and need interesting articles and news items for our next publication in 1996. Let us know what you are doing.

As in the past we try to avoid errors, but, if we "good" please don't think too badly of us. Thanks for all your help.

Chair, Bulletin Committee

SATellite Committee
We are still in the process of organizing a Suburban Philadelphia Satellite Division. If you are interested in membership contact one of the following: Jane Ryan Dietrich '59 (610)272-0109, Barbara Hard Brodovskw '58 (610)825-0707, Mary Jo McMullen 74 (215)645-7055. We hope, with support to establish the Suburban Philadelphia Division, and that in time it will be equally as enjoyable and purposeful as the Central Pennsylvania Division.

The Central Pennsylvania Division remains very active under the able leadership of Dorothy Ranck Long '39. They meet in Hamburg. I attended one of their meetings, it was revealing, an enjoyable social as well as educational meeting. Dot Long says it takes time and perseverance to establish satellite divisions.

South Jersey Division has had several productive meetings over the past several years, none this past year, seems as if it has fallen by the wayside. The following areas have so far been unsuccessful in establishing satellite divisions: Baltimore Area, Eastern Allegheny County (area), N.E. Philadelphia, Bucks and Lower Montgomery Counties area, and Wilkes-Barre, Scranton area.

SociaL Committee
Dear Fellow Alumni,
The Social Committee had a wonderful time planning the 60th Luncheon for May 6, 1995. This year represented the 100th anniversary of the Alumni Association and we wanted to make the luncheon especially memorable and special. From the compliments we received our goal was achieved.

The basic format of the day was maintained. The membership meeting took place at 10:00 AM in the Solis-Cohen auditorium, the cocktail/social hour was in the Eakins lounge and the West courtyard; and the luncheon was in the Jefferson Alumni Hall main dining room. The special part of the day is always seeing our classmates, but it was enhanced by pictures of Jefferson nursing sights and surroundings of years gone by. The pictures were presented on a repeating carousel slide projector so fellow nurses could reminisce throughout the entire day. Many of the approximately 300s attendees remembered many of the old buildings and nursing care areas. It was surprising how easy it was to recognize everyone in the slides. I guess we really haven't changed that much after all.

The main dining room was decorated like an English garden with a beautiful variety of plants on the tables. The variety provided us with a luxurious bouquet scent. The people taking the plants home were able to have them planted in the ground and will continue to enjoy seeing them bloom for many years.

The gift for each attendee to commemorate the 100 years anniversary was a digital clock with the Jefferson logo on it. I use my clock all the time, hope everyone else does.

Grace E. Eissely

Relief Fund Committee
Please remember, the Jefferson Nurses' Alumni Association has a nurses "Relief Fund Trust," and we have money to help any of our graduates who are in need. They can be any of our 67 who live here in the Philadelphia area or any of those from our past and present graduates who live here in the Philadelphia area.

If you need monetary assistance complete the application in the back of the Bulletin. If you know of any one needs help, please urge them to fill out an application.

PLEASE NOTE

The Board of Directors of the Nurses' Alumni Association met with our attorney Ann Loftus on May 27, 1992. The Scholarship Fund (a restricted fund) was reviewed. After review, the attorney advised us that, legally, the fund is restricted for use to graduates of the diploma program only. However, if representatives of the diploma graduate plan to attend Jefferson's Nursing Program, a scholarship could be granted, provided all other requirements are met.

Margaret Smith, 4693 Pembroke Place, Orlando, FL 32811-7252. I've moved to Texas this year, where I am still working as a school nurse practitioner during the week, but I work at Walt Disney World on weekends. Everyone here is friendly and the weather is great.

Margaret (M) Ollin Martin (Michael), 4201 Green Gables Road, Austin, TX 78746. I can't believe it's been twenty years since graduation. If anyone remembers me, please contact me in Austin, Texas call me 210-423-3456.

Susan Sheaffer Cantwell (Jeffrey), 804 Plumtree Drive, West Chester, PA 19380. I'm a student nurse practitioner at Lankenau Medical Center in June I'm there for a weekend. Our son Matt will be a senior at Malvern Academy. Nancy Ruht, does this bring back memories? I think of you often. I'm still working part time. Our son is starting 7th grade at our elementary school, does this bring back memories? I think of you often. I'm still working part time. Our son is starting 7th grade at our elementary school, does this bring back memories? I think of you often.

Teresa Delucca (Leopoldo), 2606 Woodland Drive, Dallas, TX 75205. I'm still in the city working, heading north to Maine. We are in the process of selling our beautiful New Hampshire home. After doing some RN agency work last year, I'm back to full time nursing. I enjoy home schooling our children. Emily finished 2nd grade and Daniel kindergarten. Noah is an active 3 year old. Steven graduated our 10th anniversary in May, time goes by so quickly.

Bette Kristin (Jim), 515 Woodlane Drive, Belmont, NC 28012. John has completed his pain fellowship at Bowman Gray and has accepted the position of director of pain services at Gaston Memorial Hospital in Gastonia, North Carolina. We have purchased a home in Belmont, which is about 20 minutes outside of Charlotte. We love the area, very green and close to Lake Wylie and Fort Mill. Jeff continues to work in the clinic of the Bowman Gray Comprehensive Cancer Center. It was a great year for us last year. I had bone marrow transplant. We saw anywhere from 100 to 150 patients per day. Sometimes it's hard to believe we have taken some time off and spent it with Todd, who is now 3 years old. We are also trying to have one more child, I'm considering graduate school, probably a master's degree in nursing, hoping to make some new plans at the moment. My best to everyone.

Susan Ellis (Timothy), 1240 Garden Avenue, Allentown, PA 18103. I've been a nurse practitioner working for Planned Parenthood Association of Northern California since 1981. I have 2 children, Aaron, 4-1/2, and Meredith, age 2.

Terry Mayne Colella (Tom), 2945 Arborwoods Drive, Alpharetta, GA 30004. Jeff and I are enjoying our 5th year of marriage. Our son, Christopher, is 3 years old and our daughter, Ashley, is 18 months old. I'm still working at Dekalb Medical and kept busy at home with Lisa, 11, David, 9, and Michael, 5. It's been a great family quality time, despite our daily hassled stressful day.

Dianne Olesiewicz Retay Ebersole (Thom), 317 Oakwood Drive, Marlton, NJ 08053. We are in the process of selling our home in Moorestown, New Jersey. We are looking for a new home in the area, but are not sure where yet. It will probably be in the city, or about 20 minutes outside of Philadelphia. We are trying to make lots of changes this past year which include a new job, a new family member, a new home, and a new car. It's been a busy year for us. We are really excited about the future and hope to keep in touch with you all.

Karen Retay Ebersole (Thom), 317 Oakwood Drive, Marlton, NJ 08053. We have a new addition to our family, our son, Andrew. He was born on September 4, 1994. Gabrielle Ann Marie, Dan, Alex, Gabrielle and Andrew are all doing well. We are still working at our respective jobs, but we are looking forward to spending more time together as a family.

Linda Passmore (Robert), 5531 Woodside Drive, Belmont, NC 28012. Sharon (Sheryl) Motley Yurs (Richard), 12731 Buliders Road, Hemonton, VA 20170. I finished my MA in counseling in August 1994, and will start as a school counselor in December, Julius, is 5, and Chris, is 14. Hard to believe! I remain busy with my counseling, baseball, band, piano and church. Hi to Marty, Rosemary, Deb and Janet.

Alice Leisungi Garra (Carl), 15 Oak Glen Drive, Malvern, PA 19355. Sandy and I are all doing well. We are trying to do our part in helping to keep our elementary school, Joe, is 13, and Chris, is 10. They'll both be bigger than we are soon. We are looking forward to starting a nursing school program in a community health center. It was a great time for us last year. I had bone marrow transplant. Unsolved Mysteries of Anatomy
Where can a man buy a cap for his knee,
Or the key to a lock of his hair?
Therefore are pupils there?
Is the crown of your head where jewels are found?
Who travels the bridge of your nose?
If you wanted to shingle the roof of your mouth,
Would you use the nails on your toes?
Can you sit in the shade of the palm of your hand
Or on the drum of your ear?
Can his eyes be beat on the drum of your ear?
Know do you?
An End Must Come

"Once a nurse, always a nurse" is a cliché that must be laid to rest. Like most clichés it sounds simple and clear. It is really obscure. Always is a long, long time. Just as a cliché needs to be laid to rest, so do nurses eventually. Sometimes nurses need a time-out, a short period away from nursing to prevent burnout. Returning after time-out, they are less mechanical and more perceptive. Their reentry into nursing brings a freshness and new perception. Burnout is avoided and this is good.

Sometimes nurses need time-out permanently. Just as the day comes when the saddle and stirrup must be hung up, so is it with the nurses' cap. The cliché "once a nurse, always a nurse" and the nature of the profession make it a difficult career to end. Nursing is a service of healing and nurturing. Putting an end to that makes one feel like a traitor. That is yours always.

Nostalgia will always be there. The romance and dreams are yours forever.

Nursing is also hard work, demanding energy and stamina. When the demand is too great the body sends out signals. For example, print seems to get smaller and corridors seem to get longer. Ask what that means. The mind also sends you signals.

When a recovery room nurse goes to the phone to confer with the doctor about a patient and forgets to take the patient's message your mind is sending. The clarity of the signals from the body and mind are immediately obscured by defensive rationale. This rationale comes so easily, but the price tag is complex and difficult.

Nursing demands explicit reasoning. No matter what area of nursing you are in, you are interacting with patients who rely on your expertise, energy and caring. One of these three by itself is not enough. All the caring in the world will not be enough for the nurse in an emergency department crisis. Expertise and energy are also essential. All expertise, but lack of caring is not enough. Patients in pain and patients whose lives are threatened need expertise first and fast. But the caring must be there. The combination gives patients the quality of nursing they deserve. The OB patient giving birth needs the caring, loud and clear, right from the first contact. The expertise must also be there backing up the caring through her labor and delivery.

The list is endless. The point is, there comes a time to all nurses when they can't give all. The stamina is just not there any longer. The body and mind send the signals, and they must be heeded. When the time comes to retire, let go. When you do retire, admit it to yourself. The retired nurses I interviewed all said it took years to give away the uniforms and caps. It was hard to say, "I will not be going back."

Nostalgia will remain. You belonged to a profession that is part of a vital health service. You had a vennacular all your own. Many nurses communicate on a level all their own. They do not need to finish sentences because they understand each other so well. To enter the lay world full-time is a cultural shock. Hence the reluctance to leave the world of nursing. Your role enriched you. You can continue to belong to your professional organizations. Now you will have more time to be really active in them. Your journals will continue to educate and enrich you. Because of your background and experiences you have many advantages.

You have a knowledge of anatomy and physiology that surpasses many. You have a mind that has been honed and sharpened and is rich with intellect. Use that intellect to recognize when you have had enough. To everything there comes an end, even nursing.

“IF YOU”

If you are pleasant, you are too familiar; if you are sober-faced, you are a sourpuss.

If you are young, you don't know anything. If you are old, you are an old stiff.

If you drink, you are an old souse. If you don't, you are a tightwad.

If you talk to everybody, you are a gossip; if you don't, you are stuck up.

If you insist that Association rules be kept, you are a nit picker; if you don't, you don't care enough.

If you look around, you're snooping; if you don't, you're unavailable.

If you try to settle all complaints, you must have the wisdom of Solomon: If you worry about them, you'll be crazy.

A "manager" should have the patience of Job, the skin of a rhinoceros, the wits of a fox, the courage of a lion, be blind as a bat, silent as a sphinx. You must know all; see all, say nothing, but solve everything.

STUFF

Every fall I start sifting in my stuff! There is closet stuff, drawer stuff, attic stuff, and basement stuff. I separate the good stuff from the bad stuff. Then I stuff the bad stuff anywhere the stuff is not too crowded until I decide if I will need the bad stuff.

When the Lord calls me home, my children will want the good stuff, but the bad stuff — stuffed wherever there is room among all the other stuff — will be stuffed in bags and taken to the dump where all the other people's stuff has been taken!

Whenever we have company, they always bring bags and bags of stuff. When I visit my children, they always move their stuff so I will have room for my stuff. Their stuff and my stuff — well, it would be much easier to use their stuff and leave my stuff at home with the rest of my stuff.

This fall I had an extra closet built so I would have a place for all stuff too good to throw away and too bad to keep with my good stuff.

You may not have this problem, but I seem to spend a lot of time with stuff! Food stuff, cleaning stuff, medicine stuff, clothes stuff, and outside stuff. Whatever would be like if we didn't have all this stuff?

Now there is all that stuff we use to make us smell better than we do. There is the stuff to make our hair look good; stuff to make us look younger; stuff to make us look healthier; stuff to hold us in; and, stuff to fill us out. There is stuff to read, stuff to play with, stuff to entertain us, and stuff to eat. We stuff ourselves with the food stuff.

Well, our lives are filled with stuff — good stuff — bad stuff — little stuff — big stuff — useful stuff — junky stuff — and, everyone's stuff. Now, when we leave all our stuff and go to Heaven, whatever happens to our stuff won't really matter. We will still have all the good stuff God has prepared for us in Heaven!

P.S. The author of this treatise is unknown — or maybe, he/she is stuck in his/her own stuff!

For Senior Citizens to Chuckle Over

There is nothing whatever the matter with me
I'm just as healthy as I can be.
I have arthritis in both my knees
And when I talk I walk with a wheeze.
My pulse is weak and my blood is thin
But I am awfully well for the shape I am in.
All my teeth have had to come out
And my diet I have to talk about,
I'm overweight and I can't get thin
But I am awfully well for the shape I am in.
Arch supports I need for my aching feet
Or I wouldn't be able to walk on the street.
Sleep is denied me night and day
But in the morning I find I am alright.
My memories failing, my head in a spin
But I am awfully well for the shape I am in.
Old age is golden - I've heard it said
But sometimes I wonder as I go to bed.
With my ears in a drawer, my teeth in a cup
And my eyes on a shelf until I get up.

And when sleep dims my eyes, I say to myself
Is there anything else I should lay on the shelf.

The reason I know my youth has been spent
Is that my get up and go has got up and went.
But, really, I don't mind when I think with a grin
Of all the places my get up has been.
When I get up each morning and dust off my wits
I pick up the papers and read the Obits
If my name is missing, I'm therefore not dead.
So I eat a good breakfast and jump back in bed.

The moral of this, as my tale doth unfold
Is that for you and me who are growing old,
It is to say 'I'm fine' with a grin,
Than to let people know the shape I'm in.
