Highlights of June Alumni Activities

The days of June 10th, 11th and 12th were busy ones this year for Jefferson alumni, with a cocktail party at the Traymore Hotel in Atlantic City during the Convention of the American Medical Association, Reunion luncheons and dinners, Clinics, the Dean's Luncheon, the Annual Alumni Dinner and Graduation.

ATLANTIC CITY COCKTAIL PARTY

Because of the conflict in dates of the AMA convention and activities here, it was decided not to have a dinner this year but, instead, a social hour where Jefferson Alumni attending the Convention from all over the United States could meet and visit for a short time. The party, which was held in the Skyline Terrace of the Traymore Hotel, was very well attended, some 150 Alumni and guests being present.

At the request of the Alumni Association, the Vice Presidents of a number of States had written to graduates in their areas, urging that they attend this party, and the response to these invitations was excellent.

Dr. Aldrich C. Crowe, Class of 1921, of Ocean City, New Jersey, made the arrangements with the Traymore for the affair and the Entertainment Committee of the Alumni Association is very grateful to him.

CLINICS

Representatives of each of the Reunion Classes presented scientific papers during Reunion Day Clinics on Wednesday, June 10th, and on Thursday morning Faculty members spoke and senior students participated in a Clinico-pathological Conference during the Alumni Day Clinics. Attendance at the Clinics was somewhat curtailed because of meetings in Atlantic City and the excessive heat on those two days, but presentations were very well received by those present.

CORNERSTONE CEREMONIES FOR NEW STUDENT NURSES’ RESIDENCE

At 12 noon on Thursday, June 11th, immediately following the conclusion of the Clinic program, the new student nurses’ residence was dedicated.

The attractive modern building, of the same architectural style as the Pavilion, has been named the "James Reid pital Committee of the Board of Trustees.

Miss Vivian Moyer, R.N., President of the Nurses Alumnae Association, presented Mr. Foerderer with a check in the amount of $25,000, representing the latest contribution of the Alumnae Association to the Building Fund.

The $1,800,000 building, which will house 336 students, will be air-conditioned on all eight floors and will have a recreation area, a solarium and a roof garden as well as tastefully furnished living quarters for the student nurses. Plans for furnishings and interior decoration have been supervised by the nursing administration, headed by Miss Mabel C. Prevost and Miss Doris Bowman.

Miss Moyer and Mrs. James Reid Martin, widow of the late Dr. Martin, unveiled the cornerstone of the new building to conclude the ceremonies.
DEAN'S LUNCHEON

Two unusual ceremonies highlighted the luncheon which the Dean traditionally gives for visiting Alumni—the portrait of the late Dr. George Allen Bennett was presented by the Board of Trustees to the College, and retiring faculty members were honored.

Dean Sodeman greeted the luncheon guests, among whom were Mrs. Bennett and a group of her friends, and explained that the Board of Trustees had commissioned Mr. Julius Bloch to paint Dr. Bennett’s portrait. He gave a short sketch of Mr. Bloch, who is a teacher at the Pennsylvania Academy of Fine Arts. One of his paintings hangs in the permanent collection in the White House. Others of his works are in the Corcoran Gallery in Washington, D. C., in the Metropolitan Museum of Art in New York City and in the Philadelphia Museum of Art.

Mr. Percival E. Foerderer, Chairman of the Board, presented the portrait to the College and spoke briefly of Dr. Bennett’s dynamic personality and the indelible impression he had made on all who knew him—students, faculty and fellow members of the Administration.

President Kauffman accepted the portrait on behalf of the College, saying that he had considered Dr. Bennett one of his very closest friends from the time he became associated with Jefferson until his untimely death. He said that the painting will hang where Dr. Bennett’s many friends will have the opportunity to view it.

Dr. William Harvey Perkins, Chairman of the Portrait Committee and Dr. Bennett’s two sons unveiled the portrait.
Dr. Sodeman said that it was a great pleasure to have at the luncheon a number of faculty members who, having reached the age of 65, were retiring from their teaching duties as is required by the College. Dr. Sodeman thanked these men for having given so freely of their time and efforts through the years to make Jefferson the great institution it is. By action of the Board of Trustees, these retiring teachers, whose names follow, have been made Honorary Members of the Jefferson faculty: Dr. Creighton H. Turner, Dr. Samuel Jaffee, Dr. William H. Schmidt, Dr. James F. Carrell, Dr. Thomas Morgan, Dr. C. M. Stimson, Dr. Randall MacCarroll, Dr. William Thudium, Dr. Henry O. Sloane, Dr. Arthur J. Davidson, Dr. Howell B. Peacock, Dr. Louis A. Kustin, Dr. Charles E. Towson, Dr. Robert Lukens, Dr. Nolan D. C. Lewis, Dr. A. Edward Colcher,* Dr. Patrick A. McCarthy and Dr. Moses Behrend. Dr. Sodeman then introduced each of the men present and seated at the head table and, following the introductions, the applause of the luncheon guests indicated their sincere appreciation of the services these men have rendered to Jefferson.

Dr. Sodeman then announced that Dr. William Harvey Perkins, Professor of Preventive Medicine and Head of the Department, would retire on September 1, and would at that time, by action of the Board of Trustees, be made Professor Emeritus. He spoke at length of the esteem and affection in which Dr. Perkins is held by his colleagues and associates and the many students he has taught during the years he has been with Jefferson.

ANNUAL ALUMNI DINNER

More than 550 Alumni, members of the Board of Trustees and the members of the Senior Class attended the Alumni Dinner at the Bellevue-Stratford Hotel on Thursday, June 11. Guests assembled for cocktails at 6 p.m. and dinner was served in the Ballroom at 7 o’clock.

Dr. Anthony F. DePalma, President of the Alumni Association, presided at the meeting and, after greeting the assemblage, particularly welcomed the ten members of the “Old Guard” who were present, and asked Dr. Leighton F. Appleman, Class of 1897, to stand and accept this recognition on their behalf. Dr. DePalma also welcomed the newest members of the Alumni Association—the Class of 1959.

He then introduced one of our illustrious Alumni of the Class of 1928—Dr. En Shui Tai, of Hong Kong. Dr. Tai has just been highly honored by his other alma mater, Haverford College, which conferred upon him the honorary degree of Doctor of Laws.

DePalma also commented on the outstanding success of the Jefferson cocktail party in Atlantic City and thanked Dr. Aldrich C. Crowe and Dr. David B. Allman for their efforts in this connection.

Dr. DePalma then introduced the Chairman of the Board of Trustees, Mr. Percival E. Forde rer, who extended the Board's congratulations and best wishes to the graduating class.

Mr. Forderer, in speaking of the present situation at the College, said, "I want to state most emphatically that during my association with Jefferson for over thirty years there has never existed more cohesiveness, greater cooperation and team work among all segments of our organization. We are as one striving for the advancement in every way of our fine old Institution."

Mr. Forderer then paid tribute to President Kauffman for his accomplishments in his ten years with Jefferson and assured him that he takes with him our affection, gratitude and best wishes for his happiness, health and long life.

He spoke of the Board's good fortune in having secured Mr. William W. Bodine, Jr., a prominent young Philadelphian with all the qualifications essential to a top executive, to succeed Admiral Kauffman.

"Now," said Mr. Forderer, "I have the honor and pleasure of introducing our 'baby' member of the Board of Trustees, Mr. Richard C. Bond. Mr. Bond is a graduate of Swarthmore College and Harvard Business School. His life has been spent in the field of merchandising. Upon graduation in 1934 he started as a stock boy at Strawbridge & Clothier, advancing rapidly to buyer and subsequently to Assistant Merchandising Manager at Marshall Field in Chicago. In 1948 he became Vice President and General Merchandising Manager of John Wanamaker, and in 1952 he was elected its President. He has received honorary degrees from Beaver College and Temple University. Besides being a member of the Board of Managers of his Alma Mater, he is a director of many civic activities, among which he is President of the United Fund in Philadelphia. There are many other associations that I could recite but, in closing and introducing him, I just want to comment that if you read the Philadelphia papers you read in them that the slogan of the Wanamaker Store is 'John Wanamaker has everything' which to me is not complete—I suggest it should read 'John Wanamaker has everything and Dick Bond'."

Mr. Bond congratulated the Class of 1959, not only because they have successfully completed their four years of medical school, but because they are being graduated and moving out into the world at a time of great growth and development in our Country, with great opportunities for those who will seize and take advantage of them.

Mr. Bond went on to enumerate some of the changes which are to be anticipated in the roaring '60's, such as advances in science, space travel and electronics.

He commented that we could expect an enormous population increase, with perhaps 200,000,000 people in United States by the end of the '60's. With this population gain, he pointed out, will come attendant problems, such as the need for more physicians—perhaps 2,000 additional a year.

next ten years, such as metropolitan expansion, a higher standard of living with increased productivity, increased emphasis on a college education, inflation, "bigness"—the growing size of business, government and unions—and continuance of the economic war of nerves with Russia.

Mr. Bond spoke of the problems which will accompany each of these changes and then discussed the physician's

The increase in life span will be another factor, since by the late '60's there will probably be approximately 20,000,000 people in this country who will be over 65 years of age. Mr. Bond said that the increased demand for goods and services brought about by population growth could only be met by greater productivity.

He outlined other changes we may anticipate in the role in this connection.

"The first point I should like to make," he said, "is that doctors are not out-going enough. Actually, as a group, physicians seem to me to be almost too modest—you don't realize your own talents, your own strengths and your own influences.

"Two, don't bury your head in the sand. I have the feeling that the average doctor tends to do this and becomes too provincial in his outlook. It occurs to me that he should become more of a complete man, interested in civic and political affairs, in order to stem the flow and drift towards socialism that exists in the Country and to aid in the fight on inflation. One area in which you might be working effectively, both civically and politically, for your own good as well as that of your patients, would be in the area of socialized medicine. If we are not careful this could make us a nation of hypochondriacs, just as in the case of England where it became very fashionable to go to the doctor or dentist for, as the people philosophized, it isn't going to cost anything.

Mr. Bond said that the Federal Government will spend between six and seven billion dollars this year on medical care, with Veterans Administration, the Defense Department, and the Department of Health, Education and Welfare as the recipients. He pointed out that half of the billion dollars which goes to Veterans Administration is spent for non-service connected care; that the Defense Department spends $300 per person per year, yet these men are in the prime of their lives, while the health care of the average citizens is about $100.00 per year. He pointed out that the Department of Health, Education and Welfare spends one hundred million dollars per year, with nearly fifty million people, or one-third of the population, being entitled to free care.

"To fight this," said Mr. Bond, "physicians must assume their proper position in a democratic society. You should, gentlemen, collectively and individually petition your congressman or lobby, if you will. He or they will act largely, I am told, only from what they hear from their constituents. Remember that the medical profession has the rare distinction of not asking for anything for itself. In its basic policy the profession is committed to what is best for the patient and what is best for the citizen—you are not self-seekers, and this should be very refreshing to your councilman, your congressman and your senator."

He suggested, too, that the physician could assume an important role in conditioning our older citizens for retirement, and that perhaps doctors would work with the medical staffs of business and industry in giving advice and psychiatric help to ease the tensions which are bound to exist in a pressure period. Mr. Bond said that the medical profession could also help in the problem of juvenile delinquency by working with church organizations and other agencies.
"What we are really saying here tonight," Mr. Bond concluded, "is that there is a need for every doctor to realize his great strength, his potent influence, to develop a bedside manner on a wider scale. Without realizing it and without asking for it, you are automatically put on a pedestal by many, many people. Why not seize this unique position you are in and capitalize on it for the good of the individual and for the Country as a whole. This is something that surely cannot be done in Russia, and since we are in a great struggle with the Russians, perhaps we could substitute a combination of government agencies, religion and the medical profession for the power of the ruthless state, for in Russia only the state is important and only the state gets credit. Here freedom and the individual stand supreme and because they do we can look forward, I believe, to the '60's ready to meet the excitement and the challenge, confident that we will be steadied along the road and by the way by the helping hand of the great medical profession of which you are a part."

Dr. DePalma then introduced Admiral Kauffman, saying "I am about to present to you Admiral Kauffman as your President for the last time. Those of us who have been closely associated with the Admiral have become aware of the tremendous personality with which we deal. He is a wise administrator, he has grasped the situation at Jefferson with ease and he is known among us as a man who sets out to do a job and does it promptly. The impact of this personality has been felt by everyone at Jefferson at all levels. I don't know how to praise Admiral Kauffman except to say he will be, I am sure, a legend at Jefferson."

President Kauffman responded humorously to Dr. DePalma's introduction. "Some of the customs in the countries I have visited," he said, "are quaint and attractive, and I have often thought we might adopt them; others I have thought most inappropriate for us. For instance, in the South Seas there is a tribe with a very original custom—just as soon as a new chief or head man has been selected, the predecessor is immediately shot, the reason being to eliminate all possibilities of a farewell speech. Mine will not be a farewell speech—just a few observations about the present and the future."

Admiral Kauffman then spoke of Jefferson's continued need for State aid, $2,750 per student being the amount requested this year, or a total of $3,264,000 for the bimennium. He thanked the Alumni for their continued financial support, without which the College would have had great difficulty in meeting salary increase requirements for preclinical departments.

"In the last ten years," Admiral Kauffman stated, "the salaries of the senior members of the faculty in the preclinical departments have increased exactly 100% and our salary figure today is absolutely essential if we are to have a high caliber of men in the important teaching positions."

He spoke of the changes that have taken place at Jefferson and pointed out that the most important change in his mind has been the development of the splendid esprit de corps which now exists among the faculty, the attending staff of the hospital and the administration. He gave full credit to Mr. Foerderer for his part in having helped to make possible the material improvements and in developing the close cooperation now existing. Admiral Kauffman said that he believed there is no college or hospital board in the country on which the men have devoted as much time and effort to the interests of their institution as have our Board members.

In closing Admiral Kauffman said that the past ten years have been for him a rewarding and interesting experience, but that since he has had 55 years of uninterrupted employment, it was probably time that he should retire.

Dr. DePalma then introduced the President-elect, Mr. Bodine, who said that during the three short months of his association with Jefferson he has heard much of her past accomplishments, challenging improvements and future hopes and aspirations, but that one thing had been apparent even on his first day—that the very foundation upon which this great Institution stands is the loyalty, the interest and the constant support of its Alumni.

Mr. Bodine compared himself with the Senior Class in that both are embarking on a new career of serving the sick and needy and said that he had been pleased to learn that fifteen of the Class of 1959 were remaining at Jefferson for their internships. To the rest, who are scattering to the four corners of the earth, he extended his best wishes, and to all he said, "When we think and when we speak of our Jefferson Medical College of Philadelphia, hold your heads and hearts high for you are the finest product we have to offer the medical profession and all those that it serves throughout the free world."

Dr. DePalma then called upon Dean Sodeman, who reported on progress during the past year and discussed the problems facing us in the days to come.

He first told of the following changes in the Executive Faculty: Dr. William Harvey Perkins will be retiring on September 1, having reached the age of 65, and at that time will become an Emeritus Professor, since the dinner last year, two new Department Heads have been appointed: Dr. Philip J. Hodes, as Professor of Radiology and Dr. Robert I. Wise as Magee Professor of Medicine.

He then announced the appointment by the Board of Trustees of Dr. Herbert A. Luscombe as Professor of
Dermatology and Head of the Department, to fill the chair vacated by Dr. Henry B. Decker upon his retirement last June.

Dr. Sodeman reported the following deaths among the Faculty since the last Dinner: Dr. John D. Reese, Clinical Professor of Plastic and Reconstructive Surgery; Dr. Paul Oaks Chatfield, Assistant Professor of Neurology; Dr. Samuel A. Loewenberg, Clinical Professor of Medicine; Dr. Edward J. Donnelly, Associate Professor of Clinical Ophthalmology, and Dr. Harold S. Rambo, Instructor in Urology. A moment of silence in memory of these men was observed by the guests.

In speaking of changes at Jefferson, Dr. Sodeman first explained those in the curriculum for the Senior Class. The term begins on June 15, rather than next September, but the students will be in school only 40 weeks, with their ten weeks vacation being spread throughout the year.

"This program," Dr. Sodeman said, "has given us a chance to expand our teaching—as for example in Psychiatry—and has 'loosened up' time, so to speak, to leave room for specialties.

"We are going to do some other things with the Juniors—we are going to have more Forensic Medicine than we have had before, and I think this is important. We are going to add some discussions on Ethics, and this has been a deficiency in our curriculum in past years. Next year we are going to have a period for the Juniors from 1:30 to 2:30 every Wednesday which will be called the 'Dean's Clinic'. This time will be set aside for a number of purposes—special guest lectures for example, since we have a number of lecture ships which are endowed, and we expect to be able to find men to come here from various parts of the Country to bring us messages on medical advancement. This time will also be used for the introduction of discussion on some subjects which we do not cover at all—for example, Medical Genetics.

"Our most serious problem at Jefferson, however, has to do with research. Our figure in research is going up all the time in funds and grants; this year we have over a million dollars in activity going on but this is not enough—it should be twice this amount. Sound teachers, particularly those who spend full time in teaching, whether it be preclinical, or clinical, are basically interested in research, and to get sound teachers who can expound in the areas in which we need help greatly in our teaching program, we have to provide space in which they can work and carry on their research programs. The ability to supply such space, therefore, is essential to our program.

"We need a building for Medical Sciences and Medical Research, which would have to be, I suppose, located around 11th and Locust Streets. Basic sciences and re-
Dr. Robert B. Nye, immediate past President of the Alumni Association, then presented the commemorative gavel to Dr. DePalma, and after this ceremony Dr. DePalma introduced the Board members present: Mr. William Potter Wear, Mr. Revelle W. Brown, and Acting Secretary of the Board, J. Warren Brock, Esquire. He also introduced Dr. Hodes and Dr. Wise for the benefit of those who had not yet had an opportunity to meet them.
Mr. James R. Wiant, President of the Senior Class, then spoke briefly, thanking the faculty and administration on behalf of his classmates for their support and confidence.

Dr. David H. B. Ulmer, representative of the Class of 1909, reminisced about the days he and his classmates attended Jefferson. He said that the records indicated that 150 men matriculated in the Class of 1909, but only 139 were graduated. Of these, 52 are living and 16 present at the Dinner. He said that as far as he could determine most of the class members have been successful, and a few outstanding. He pointed out that of the latter group, Dr. George F. Lull, President of the American Medical Education Foundation, is present at the Dinner.

Dr. Ulmer said that Dr. Lull and he had entered Jefferson after graduation as Residents, there being no interns at that time, and he went on to describe Jefferson Hospital as it was then.

"The service at that time was from 22 to 28 months," said Dr. Ulmer, "depending upon your grades, your hospital examination, etc. There was a staff of sixteen residents, and we immediately relieved the house staff, who were leaving the men and women's wards for vacations. Of course we didn't need a vacation. There were about 70 nurses under the guidance of Miss Lockland and about 12 chiefs with many associates and assistants. The maternity was entirely independent and located at 7th and South Washington Square. It was run by Miss Martin; Dr. E. P. Davis was the overlord and Dr. George E. Ulrich was the work horse—a man Jefferson will never forget.

"The present old building, which was the new building at that time, had just opened in April and was comprised of about 325 beds. The very efficient head of it all was Dr. W. M. L. Coplin. We were very fortunate for we lived in an era of such teachers as John Chalmers DaCosta, John H. Gibbon, Sr., Hobart Hare, H. A. Wilson, E. E. Montgomery, J. T. Rugh, S. MacCuen Smith, F. X. Dercum, Fielding O. Lewis, Solomon Solis-Cohen, and Hiram R. Loux. Many assistants followed in their footsteps and many became outstanding teachers.

"As we of the Class of 1909 tonight look over the wonderful Class of 1959, with all their enthusiasm and hopes, we wish them God speed and God bless them. I wish to leave with the Class of '09 the words taken from the brass plate on the walls of a corner in Peking, China. The translation reads 'Enjoy yourself—it's later than you think.'

"Now to end these few remarks, I quote the toast which Dr. Oliver Wendell Holmes offered at his 50th Class Reunion at Harvard University. He rose, raised his glass and said, "Here is to our boyhood, its gold and its grey, the stars of its winter, the dews of its May, and when we are done with our life lasting toys, dear Father, take care of thy children—the boys."

Dr. Joe H. Coley then spoke for the Class of 1934 which is celebrating its 25th Reunion. He said that when he was a student here he had heard Dr. John Chalmers DaCosta, during a lecture, speak of Jefferson alumni and comment that few institutions are great—most never achieve greatness—and it seemed to Dr. Coley that DaCosta was convinced that within great institutions there must be someone with fire, enthusiasm and foresight who passed the spark down through the years as long as those next in line were receptive.

In analysing the reasons for Jefferson's greatness, Dr. Coley said that he felt the one most important factor is pride. He spoke of his father who, until his death last year, had been for some time our oldest living graduate.

"My family's interest in Jefferson dates back to 1865," Dr. Coley said, "at the time of the conclusion of the great conflict between the States. My father had heard of J. Marion Simms, who had lived and practiced a few miles from my grandfather's home. He was soon to hear of the mighty Gross, the brilliant Bartholow, the illustrious Pancoast and the father of American medicine, J. M. DaCosta, and so some 13 years after the hostilities between the States he came North from a ravaged land, full of knowledge, proud of his background, and anxious for an education from this wonderful College and her marvelous Faculty that he had heard so much about and with whom he knew rested the knowledge, pride and authority of medicine in these United States.

"He enrolled here in the year 1878-79, receiving his degree in March 1880. This evening I have in my hand some cards which were known as tickets of enrollment in those years. Each ticket was for one subject, and some of them were signed by these magnificent teachers. Why do I mention these things—it is pride—it is pride of heritage. As time goes on I shall pass these tickets, together with my own four receipts, on to my son who too knows of all of these fabulous men and who is being taught by repetition the history and lore of our mighty school."

Dr. Coley said that a recent statement by the President of one of our great industries, to the effect that man is motivated by love, sex and power, omitted the ingredient of pride.

"Without pride," said Dr. Coley, "neither love, sex nor power can lift a man above the common herd. Pride in one's self, one's family, one's background, friends and—yes—one's school is necessary for ultimate success.

"What stimulates or compels man must also apply to endeavors such as organizations, companies, corporations or institutions. It is this spark, this intangible force, of which Dr. DaCosta spoke. It was pride that drove Dr. George McClellan to accomplish the great feats in his life. This was the force that he instilled into this school and the students who came under his guidance. It was this force that stimulated the mind and the soul of the mighty Gross, the two Pancoasts, the DaCostas, McCrae, Bland and all the faculties from 1825 to the present date.

"This spirit is both infectious and contagious," continued Dr. Coley. "It is a driving force here tonight—the pride of belonging, the pride of being a member of this great organization, the pride in the knowledge that each of us feels that the Faculty in our own time as a student was always the greatest and that the present is second to none in all our glorious history.

"We, of the Class of 1934, wish this evening to reaffirm our place along with all of the rest of our Grand Alumni and to hurl a challenge to all of the oncoming classes to keep our faith."
Dr. DePalma then called upon Dr. Edward L. Bauer, Emeritus Professor of Pediatrics, to perform a rather unusual duty.

"In the summer of 1916," Dr. Bauer began, "three thousand cases of poliomyelitis were admitted to the Philadelphia Hospital for Contagious Diseases. Members of the staff were overtaxed, but they carried on valiantly during long hot days and sleepless nights. One of our graduates of the Class of 1914 labored to the point of exhaustion and died of bulbo-spinal meningitis—respirators came years too late. I am sure his spirit would encourage all of us to follow Salk in his campaign.

"A memorial plaque was mounted in the administration building of the Municipal Hospital honoring him—Dr. Earl Curtis Peck. It was taken down and became homeless when the hospital was altered and became a center for delinquent children. I had this memorial located through the good offices of Mr. Leo Riordan and obtained for it a fitting permanent home in Dr. Peck’s alma mater."

Dr. Bauer then presented the plaque to Dr. Sodeman, who accepted it on behalf of the College.

The final speaker of the evening was Dr. John H. Gibbon, Jr., President-elect of the Alumni Association and Chairman of the Annual Giving Fund Committee, who reported on the 11th Drive.

Before giving the figures for the Drive, Dr. Gibbon remarked that having heard Dr. Coley speak, he felt impelled to say that he had experienced that same sense of pride in Jefferson when, on the prior day, in participating in the Centennial Celebration of the Section of Surgery of the American Medical Association, he had heard the surgeons of Jefferson given a very prominent place in the history of surgery in United States. "I was also amused," Dr. Gibbon said, "to hear Alton Oshsner, of New Orleans, try to claim Samuel D. Gross as a southern surgeon, because he had been at Louisville before he came with us for sixteen years.

"I would like, first of all," Dr. Gibbon continued, "to thank all the Class Agents who worked so hard this year, and to tell you something about the changes which we have had in administration of our Annual Alumni Giving Fund. Mr. Rake left our organization, as you know, last winter and his work has been ably taken over by Mrs. Mulone, our Alumni Secretary. Although at the time of this changeover Annual Giving Letters were somewhat behind schedule, I am happy to say that we have again made and exceeded our goal, which was $110,000. As of about ten minutes ago we had $111,380, which is more than a thousand over our goal. This, as you know, mostly goes to support salaries in the pre-clinical years, which is certainly an excellent cause for us to support. The total number of givers, out of our some 6,000 or more living Alumni, to date is 3,123, which once again should place us high in percentage of giving.

"Now the leading classes: under the able leadership of Dr. Mario A. Castallo, the Class of 1929 which is celebrating its 30th Reunion places first in amount with a total of $4,350, and I am pleased to present Dr. Castallo with this plaque.

"It seems to me that, as usual, it is the Non-graduates, who are honorary members of this Alumni Association, who always place first in numbers! This is probably an unfair advantage, but with Dr. Peter Herbut, President of our Faculty, as Agent, they have again succeeded in having the most in numbers—127—so that this plaque is awarded to the Non-graduates.

"Finally, and one of the most important categories from the point of view of spirit and loyalty is that of the percentage of givers, and in that category it is the Class of 1956 with 71% contributing which places first. I am delighted to award this plaque to the Class Agent, Dr. Eugene Bonacci."

Dr. DePalma announced that Dr. Gibbon’s report ended the business for the evening. He thanked the audience for its attentiveness and wished all God speed and good health for the coming year.

On Friday, June 12, at the Academy of Music, 166 members of the Class of 1959 were awarded the Degree of Doctor of Medicine by The Jefferson Medical College; five graduate students received Doctor of Philosophy Degrees and two received Master of Science Degrees.

Honorary Degrees of Doctor of Humane Letters were conferred on the Honorable David Leo Lawrence, Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, and Dr. Lewis Cass Scheffey, Professor of Obstetrics and Gynecology, Emeritus. Honorary Degrees of Doctor of Laws were awarded to Dr. Detlev W. Bronk, President of the Rockefeller Institute, and to Admiral James Laurence Kauffman, President of our College.

The Citation accompanying Governor Lawrence's Degree was read by Mr. Foerderer, and honored Mr. Lawrence for his "distinguished service in the science of government, an area which embraces education at all levels." It outlined highlights of Mr. Lawrence's career as a public servant, giving much credit for his accomplishments in the renaissance of the City of Pittsburgh, for which he received the Distinguished Public Service Award in 1955 from the United States Mayor's Conference.
Dr. Thaddeus L. Montgomery, Chairman of the Department of Obstetrics and Gynecology, read the following Citation of Dr. Lewis Cass Scheffey:

"Doctor Scheffey had his early rearing and early education in Reading, Pennsylvania. His pre-medical studies were conducted at the Philadelphia College of Pharmacy and Science, and his degree of Doctor of Medicine was earned at the Jefferson Medical College in 1920.

"Upon graduation and upon completion of an internship at the Jefferson Hospital in 1922, Doctor Scheffey was invited to join the faculty of the Jefferson Medical College and Hospital as Clinical Assistant in the Department of Gynecology.

"He rose successively through the various ranks of this department to the position of Professor and Head of the Department in 1940. He continued in this status, and subsequently in the position of Professor and Head of the Department of Obstetrics and Gynecology, until his retirement from formal pedagogy in July, 1955.

"At an early stage in his career Doctor Scheffey manifested special interest in the problems of pelvic cancer. He organized the Pelvic Malignancy and Follow-up Clinic of the Department of Gynecology and played a major role in developing methods of cancer therapy.

"Doctor Scheffey's solid and important contributions in the field of pelvic cancer became recognized throughout the medical world. Positions of honor were bestowed upon him: Presidencies of the County Medical Society of Philadelphia, the Obstetrical Society of Philadelphia, the College of Physicians, the Inter-Society Cytology Council, the American Cancer Society-Philadelphia Division, and the American Gynecologic Society.

"In the meantime he contributed liberally of his energy, abilities, and resources to his beloved department at Jefferson and to the activities and progress of The Jefferson Medical College. He soon became known for his thoughtful interest in students and young men of the staff, his perseverance in purpose, and his unswerving devotion to principle.

"The Alumni of Jefferson, the members of the Obstetric and Gynecologic Department, the members of the Faculty of The Jefferson Medical College and doubtless many thousands of grateful patients join in this tribute to a long and faithful service in their behalf."
The Citation of Doctor Detlev W. Bronk was read by Dr. Bernard J. Alpers, Professor of Neurology and Head of the Department, and it characterized Dr. Bronk as a "scientist, teacher, educator and administrator," tracing his career from his Professorship of Biophysics in the Medical School of the University of Pennsylvania, through his position as Professor of Physiology at Cornell University Medical School, his Presidency of Johns Hopkins University to his present position as President of the Rockefeller Center for Medical Research and Director of the National Science Foundation.

The Citation eulogized Dr. Bronk for his pioneering in the physiology of the nerve axone and for the influence he has had, through his teaching and training, on young scientists who have gone on to enlarge his thinking in many aspects of the field of nerve physiology. The Citation saluted Dr. Bronk as "a man of learning and action."

The Honorary Degree of Doctor of Laws was conferred on President Kauffman, with Dean Sodeman reading the following Citation:

"For the past ten eventful and significant years he has been our distinguished leader and stimulating colleague. Now, as his term of office as our first full-time president draws to a close, he continues to be, as in years past, an inspiration to those who have witnessed his outstanding administrative ability and conscientious devotion. Native of Ohio, trained at the United States Naval Academy, he served with distinction for forty-five years as an officer in the United States Navy. His capability and accomplishments in assignments of the gravest responsibility have been suitably acknowledged by citations and decorations, including the Navy Cross, Distinguished Service Medal and three Legions of Merit. His has been and is a career of service to his country and his fellow men. He has earned richly the accolade now bestowed upon him by the institution he has served so well."

Dr. Sodeman then awarded the various prizes to Senior Students who had done outstanding work in various fields. Seven of these awards, as well as two honorable mentions went to one student, Thomas John Liddy: The Henry M.

Phillips Prize in Surgery, the Clinical Surgery Prize, the Gynecology Prize, the Lowell Ashton Erf Prize, the W.B. Saunders Company Prize, the William Potter Memorial Prize, The Albert Einstein Medical Center Award, and the Alumni Prize, with Honorable Mention for The Edward J. Moore Memorial Prize in Pediatrics and the Pediatrics Prize. Another student, Sandy Anselm Furey, received four of the Awards: the Solomon Solis-Cohen Memorial Prize, the Urology Prize, the Albert Strickler Memorial Prize, and the Pediatrics Prize. Other awards were: The Henry M. Phillips Prize in Medicine to Joseph Wetherill Eschbach, the Practice Prize to Nathaniel Pau Hen Ching, the Surgery Prize to Siamak Adibi, Obstetrics and Gynecology Prize to Casimar Joseph Wancazyk, The Pascal Brooke Bland Memorial Prize to Raymond Jack Schiffman, Orthopedic Surgery Prize to Charles Lindsay McDowell, Neurology Prize to William Fred Larson, The Edward J. Moore Memorial Prize in Pediatrics to Ronald Elliot Cohn, The Henry Keller Mohler Memorial Prize to James Vincent Gainer, Jr., The C. V. Mosby Company Prizes to Ronald Joseph Centrone, Paul Leo Flicker, Gerald Alan Perch, Gary Philip Romisher and Raymond Jack Schiffman, and the S. MacCuen Smith Memorial Prize to John Joseph Schubert. Honorable Mentions were as follows: Surgery Prize, Gaetano Francis Gumina, Jr. and Nahum Malcolm Balotin; Clinical Surgery Prize, Gary Philip Romisher; Solomon Solis-Cohen Memorial Prize, Siamak Adibi; Gynecology Prize, Gary Philip Romisher; Orthopedic Surgery Prize, James Vincent Gainer, Jr.; Urology Prize, Paul Leo Flicker; The Albert Strickler Memorial Prize, Alan Isa Snyder; and the S. MacCuen Smith Memorial Prize, Herbert Jerome Somers.
Governor Lawrence delivered an inspiring and challenging address to the Graduating Class. He spoke first of the deep respect in which laymen hold the medical profession.

"Medicine is a challenge to the doctor;" he said, "it is a mystery to the laymen. For those of you who hold the key to the mysteries of medicine, we have a respect which you share with no other profession.

"In society, the role of leaders of government has always been subordinate to the role of the physician. Although some happy millenium may produce a social order that has dispensed with the necessity of government, there will still be a need for the doctor."

He then discussed the pressing problem of providing adequate medical care and facilities for an ever-expanding population.

"The coming population explosion," Governor Lawrence stated, "is the greatest challenge which medical men have had to face in this century. It is a challenge to all of you being graduated today, because you will have to face it and do something about it. It is your challenge and in it lies your opportunity."

"It is estimated," he continued, "that by 1975 we will need thousands upon thousands more physicians. In this Nation, at this moment, we are short 101,000 nurses, 13,000 dentists, 15,000 medical technicians, 2,000 medical record librarians and 5,000 occupational therapists."

He then urged the Graduating Class to consider public health as a future field of endeavor.

"I speak for Pennsylvania and its citizens," said Governor Lawrence, "when I ask that one of you—or all of you—become part of government in the public health service."

On behalf of the citizens of Pennsylvania he thanked men of medicine for their present contribution to the daily life of all of us, and for the contributions to be made in the future.

"We owe you much," Governor Lawrence concluded, "for the tradition of your past, and expect much more out of your vision of the medicine of tomorrow."

A bell, which had hung for many year in White Haven Sanatorium, was shipped during the week of June 22, 1959 to the Presbyterian Mission in Korea, in honor of the late Dr. Robert Charr. This was done in accordance with the last wishes of the late Dr. Frank A. Craig, formerly the Director of White Haven Sanatorium, and the following is his account of the Bell.

In the early days of the White Haven Sanatorium near the original barn there hung a large bell. This was rung to call the patients for their milk and egg diet noon meal, and to have their temperatures taken. In that period of the Sanatorium's history only ambulant patients were admitted, as no provision had been made for bed-ridden patients.

When the Sanatorium closed its doors the bell was in the possession of the Board of Trustees of the Jefferson Medical College. They very generously and kindly gave us this bell and it has been resting in the library of the Henry Phipps Institute of the University of Pennsylvania which had also been developed by Dr. Lawrence F. Flick.

An article in Presbyterian Life (February 15, 1959) called our attention to the dire need for bells in many of the restored churches in Korea, not only to call the church members to the services, but as a means of keeping the neighboring people aware of the correct time.

Because Dr. Robert Charr, who came from Korea, had been connected with the White Haven Sanatorium as patient, resident and visiting physician, it was thought appropriate to send this White Haven Bell to some church in Korea in his memory.

DR. ROBERT CHARR
August 8, 1904-January 29, 1956

About 50 years ago in the small Korean community called Sen Chen in which there was an active Presbyterian missionary group, a young Korean widow with an only son became a Christian. In the intervening years, until her death in February of 1958, she gave generously of her time and money to the Presbyterian Church in Korea. Her son, who grew up in this atmosphere and who attended Mission Schools, was Robert Charr. His mother was not a "lip-service" Christian—she was a Bible woman who went out and preached and at one time in her life she was in jail because she would not bow down at the demand of the Japanese to their Shinto gods. She was a life-long friend of Presbyterian missionaries in Korea.

When Robert Charr was fifteen, he went to China to attend school there, at the University of Nanking. In 1924 he wanted to come to America, and he was encouraged by Dr. George Shannon McCune, who had been head of a Mission School in Sen Chen. In 1924 Dr. McCune, who had been banished from Korea by the Japanese, was President of Huron College in Huron, South Dakota.

Robert came to this country, went to Dr. McCune in Huron, and completed his college work there, graduating in 1927. His first thought was to study agriculture so that he would be better prepared to return to Korea and manage the family land, which comprised many acres in North Korea. He was interested in medicine and when he spoke to Dr. McCune about it, Dr. McCune advised him to study
Since in this field he could be particularly useful in Korea. He was accepted at Jefferson Medical College in September 1927 and he completed the course, graduating in 1931. During these four years of his medical course, he realized that all the Korean students who had prepared in various fields in this country and returned home were not permitted by the Japanese to work in their chosen fields—some were in jail—and he decided that he would stay in America until conditions improved—if ever—in Korea. He completed his internship and was just starting in private practice in Internal Medicine in Germantown, Philadelphia, when he developed pulmonary tuberculosis and was sent to White Haven Sanatorium by Dr. Thomas McCrae, then Professor of Medicine at Jefferson Medical College.

As his health improved, he began part-time work in the laboratory at White Haven Sanatorium. Finally he became well enough to work full time, and he was appointed Resident Physician at White Haven. During this time he did some research work and wrote a number of papers on various phases of the diagnosis, pathology and treatment of tuberculosis. In 1935 he wished to go to Frankfurt, Germany to study lung and other diseases and White Haven Sanatorium made his going possible by advancing his expenses and sending him off with good wishes.

While in Germany, his mother wrote and asked him to come home to see her in Korea. She sent him a ship's passage on a Japanese liner sailing from London. Because he was a Korean, but travelling on a Chinese passport, the purser confiscated his passport, and it was only with the help of some English passengers that he was able to leave the boat at Hong Kong. Then the decision had to be made whether to return to Germany or try to get to Sen Chen to see his mother. He decided to go to Korea, taking the chance that the Japanese would allow him to leave the country after his visit. He got out of Korea through a ruse which sent him on a medical visit to Peiping University—and he sailed for America from China. He returned to White Haven and continued his work there until 1939, when he resigned to take up private practice in Philadelphia, principally because he wanted to do some teaching at his Alma Mater. He rose through the various steps in the Department of Medicine to the rank of Assistant Professor of Medicine. He was active in the First Presbyterian Church of Philadelphia and was an Elder in the Church at the time of his death, January 29, 1956.

His mother visited this country in 1951. It was thought that she had come to stay permanently because she lost everything at the time of the Communist occupation of North Korea, but she wished to return to South Korea to do what she could for the children, the poor, the homeless and the sick, of whom there were many thousands as the result of the war. She worked with the missionaries, with other relief workers and alone until she learned of Robert's illness and death. She was so grief-stricken that she could not continue with this relief work, and then she herself became ill with cancer, and she died on February 17, 1958.

At the end she was surrounded by the devoted and faithful members of her church, and she is buried in the Churchyard Cemetery of Yung Lak Presbyterian Church, which is about 20 miles southeast of Seoul.

The Bell has a small brass plate affixed to its supporting frame, on which is the inscription "White Haven Bell in Memory of Dr. Robert Charr 1904-1956."
On May 15, 1959 the Class of 1959 paid high tribute to a member of the Jefferson Medical College Faculty when they presented to the College the portrait of Dr. Bernard J. Alpers, Professor of Neurology and Head of the Department.

Dr. Abraham Cantarow, Professor of Biochemistry and Head of the Department sketched Dr. Alpers' background and career in a most entertaining manner, presenting him as a case history.

"This 59 year old man, B.J.A.," Dr. Cantarow began, "enters the hospital today, as indeed he does every day, with two chief complaints, both of long duration: (1) there are but 24 hours in each day; (2) the Boston Red Sox are not doing very well.

"We obviously can do nothing to remedy these difficulties. Let us therefore do what is done commonly under such circumstances; ignore the disease and, since the patient has gone to considerable trouble in coming here, pretend to be interested in his complaints while taking the opportunity to study him as an interesting subject.

"On further questioning, we learn that he was persuaded to allow us to present him here by certain members of the Fourth Year Class, 167 of them I believe. He was rather vague concerning the reasons for their interest in him, but was inclined to feel that it was probably all a mistake. Although I have not been informed on this point by these young men, I have conducted a careful investigation which has led me to certain conclusions that I have no doubt are entirely correct.

"I am sure they did not want him here merely because he is the distinguished President of the American Neurological Association, and Past President of the American Association of Neuropathologists and of the American Board of Neurology and Psychiatry. Nor were they motivated, I am sure, by his numerous contributions to knowledge, which have established his enviable reputation in the field of neurology; nor because of his many academic and professional accomplishments and honors, which are listed in almost every current 'Who's Who in What'.

"I feel certain that he is here rather because of what he is than because of what he has done. What then are those qualities in him that have brought us together this afternoon.

"Bernard Jacob Alpers was born in Salem, Massachusetts, March 14, 1900. We may assume that his preliminary education was fairly satisfactory, at least by New England standards, for we find him entering the Harvard Medical School from Harvard College in 1919.

"According to him, he was attracted to neurology as early as his second year by the logical and rational approach to the diagnosis of organic lesions of the nervous system. But of course we know better than to accept such seemingly simple and reasonable explanations for human motivations. Probing further, the highly significant fact is disclosed that in 1692 the future birthplace of our subject was swept by a wave of witchcraft delusion as a result of which 19 women suffered fatal brain-stem lesions induced by vertebral fracture due to hanging. This combination of psychiatric and neurological phenomena was undoubtedly impressed deeply upon the subconscious of a sensitive boy, reared in this historic atmosphere, producing a guilt feeling which furnished the true motivation for his subsequent professional career.

"The 15 years following his graduation, in 1923, were busy ones. After a three year residency at the Boston Psychopathic Hospital, he went to the University of Pennsylvania, to be associated, over the next 12 years, as Resident, Fellow and Assistant Professor of Neurology, with Dr. Weisenburg, Professor of Neurology, and Dr. Frazier, Professor of Surgery. He developed rapidly in this stimulating environment; after only one year, he displayed qualities of unusually good judgment and rare discrimination in marrying Lillian Sher, a charming recent Philadelphia import from the Medical School of the University of Toronto, who has enjoyed, with him and their three fine sons, a full and happy life. During this period he had an unusual experience in neuropathology, effectively abetted by the activities of neurosurgeons who, at that stage of development of their specialty, provided him with an abundance of autopsy as well as surgical pathological material. A particularly profitable year was spent as a Traveling Fellow in Germany, and mainly in Spain, where he had the invaluable opportunity of studying with Cajal and Ortega.

"By 1938, his reputation and accomplishments were such that he was offered the Headship of the Department of Nervous and Mental Diseases at Jefferson which, fortunately for us, he accepted.

"There is an old saying that, too frequently, when a man gets a professorial chair he uses it to sit in. Dr. Alpers was so little concerned with the utilitarian possibilities of his comfortable new chair that he readily agreed to have split off a Couch of Psychiatry, leaving him the present Chair of Neurology. This he has occupied with distinction, but certainly not as a seat, for 21 years. He rapidly won the respect and admiration of his colleagues and the affection of a widening circle of friends. Particularly fortunate are the more than 3000 Jefferson students whose lives have been touched and influenced by him.

"He exemplifies what a teacher should be. A full and personal, first-hand knowledge of his subject is, of course, required, and should be taken for granted; but what a teacher is, is of vastly more worth than what he knows.
It is not his knowledge, eloquence, and skill that are the true educational forces, but the man himself, his mind, his character. Dr. Alpers has what Osler said a teacher must have, 'first, enthusiasm, that deep love of a subject, that desire to teach and extend it, without which all instruction becomes cold and lifeless.' Luschan might have been describing him when he said, 'The chief concern of a teacher cannot be with imparting anything to human minds, however valuable it may be, but rather with how to open them to the light, how to give them flexibility, how to make them self-active.'

'These qualities students immediately perceive in Bernard Alpers, and, in addition, gentleness, kindliness, modesty, and a delightful sense of humor, a rare combination, indeed.

'Professional activities which frequently occupy his day from 6 a.m. to 8 p.m., the ever-increasing responsibilities and obligations that are the inevitable penalties of professional eminence, and a deep interest and active participation in civic, educational and religious institutions, leave little time for diversion. A mountain climber in his youth, he now takes his physical exercise vicariously, in an arm chair, following the fortunes of the Boston Red Sox, and the remarkable exploits of Simon Templar and other energetic fictional adventurers, criminals and detectives.'

'For relaxation he turns to music and books. It has been said, 'Show me a man's library and I will tell you much of the man, of his habits, his needs, his learning, his moods, his tendencies.' In the Alpers library, the volumes most frequently off the shelves are those of biography and history, reflecting his interest in men and mankind.

'This is the man you have chosen to honor today. In so doing you honor yourselves and have earned the gratitude of his friends, colleagues, students, past, present and future, and of the institution he has served so well. You could not have chosen better.'

Mr. James R. Wiatt, President of the Senior Class, presented the portrait and it was unveiled by Mr. Joseph W. Eschbach, Chairman of the Portrait Committee. In the absence of President Kauffman, who was unable to be present, Mr. William W. Bodine, Jr., President-elect, accepted the Portrait on behalf of the Administration.

Mr. Bodine said that he felt that it was a very special privilege for him, as the newest member of the Jefferson family, to have the opportunity to speak on behalf of the Board and the Administration. He told the Class of 1959 that in honoring Dr. Alpers, they were doing more. "For," said Mr. Bodine, "while it is hoped that Dr. Alpers will be here for many more years, when the time comes that he is no longer with us, we will have this fine portrait looking down on future generations, molding their minds and steps as he has done for you."

Dr. Alpers thanked the Class of 1959 for the great honor as well as others who helped to make the occasion a memorable one. He expressed his gratitude to the artist, Mr. Alden Wicks, and said that during the sittings he had greatly enjoyed their conversations on many subjects. Since, in making preliminary sketches, Mr. Wicks had attended a number of his classes, Dr. Alpers said that Mr. Wicks had gained a knowledge of brain tumors, nervous diseases and epilepsy which "while it might not make him a better artist, would make him a more interesting one!"

Mr. Eschbach then told the audience some of Mr. Wicks' background. He resides in New Hope, Pennsylvania, was educated at Princeton, from which he graduated magna cum laude, Munich and the Sorbonne. He has taught at Hunter College, Princeton, and presently at Temple University, Friends Central and Tyler School of Fine Arts. His works are included in private and public collections and have been shown in many national exhibits.

Mr. Eschbach said that because Mr. Wicks attended classes in the Amphitheatre to make sketches and plan the painting, the Class felt they had been an integral part of the project, since they had been able to observe the progress of the portrait.

Mr. Wicks then spoke briefly of the pleasure he had derived from the association with Dr. Alpers. He said, "Rarely has a Princeton man had a Harvard man so much at his mercy and I hope I have not abused this power!"
Herbert A. Luscombe, M.D.

The Board of Trustees of the Jefferson Medical College and Hospital has announced the appointment of Dr. Herbert A. Luscombe as Professor of Dermatology and Head of the Department, succeeding Dr. Henry B. Decker, who retired last June.

Dr. Luscombe was born in Johnstown, August 9, 1916 and attended Johnstown Catholic High School. He received his pre-medical education at St. Vincent's College and was graduated from Jefferson in 1940.

Immediately after graduation he entered the service, and for two years was at the Fort Meade Reception Center. He then spent 18 months in England, France and Germany as a Captain attached to the 115th General Hospital. Upon his discharge in 1946, he returned to Jefferson for his residency, and then took graduate work at the University of Pennsylvania Graduate School of Medicine.

Dr. Luscombe became a member of the Jefferson Faculty in 1949, and at the time of his appointment to the Dermatology Chair he was Assistant Professor of Dermatology. He is also Visiting Lecturer at the University of Pennsylvania Graduate School of Medicine, Attending Dermatologist at the Veterans Administration Hospital, Philadelphia, Dermatologist for the Philadelphia Municipal Association and Dermatologist at the Franklin Clinic, Pennsylvania Hospital.

Dr. Luscombe was recently elected President of the Philadelphia Dermatological Society, and is a member and The Philadelphia College of Physicians. He is also Treasurer of the Jefferson Medical College Alumni Association.

He is married to the former Sally T. McHugh, R.N., who is a graduate of the Jefferson Hospital School of Nursing. The Luscombes have three children, Herbert J., 16; Susan 12, and Jill, 6. They reside at 600 Old Gulph Road, Penn Valley.
Dr. John W. Goldschmidt, (Jefferson 1954), has been appointed to the faculty as Associate in Physical Medicine and Rehabilitation in the Department of Medicine, and as director of that division. He succeeds Dr. William H. Schmidt, under whom he studied as an honor student at Jefferson.

An alumnus of St. Joseph's Preparatory School, Dr. Goldschmidt was graduated from Villanova University with a B.S. in 1950, after three years of service as an army medical corpsman. After internship at Fitzgerald Mercy Hospital, Upper Darby, and residencies and fellowships at Jefferson and Lankenau Hospitals, he entered the University of Pennsylvania Graduate School of Medicine in 1957. He then took additional advanced work at New York University.

From 1957-59 he was a fellow of the National Foundation at the Hospital of the University of Pennsylvania, and in those same years he taught Physical Medicine and Rehabilitation in the University's Graduate School of Medicine, and also was on the faculty of the School of Allied Medical Professions at the University.

He has also lectured in Geriatrics for the U. S. Army Ordnance Corps.

He is a member of the Philadelphia County Medical Society, the Pennsylvania State Medical Society, the Pennsylvania Academy of Physical Medicine and Rehabilitation, and the Gerontologic Society.

He is married to the former Marion Frances Stodder. They have four children, Christine Lee, 7; Marian, 5½; Susan, 3; and John W., Jr., 1. They live at 215 Cornwall Drive, Broomall.
Dr. William H. Schmidt Retires — Is Honored at Dinner

Dr. William H. Schmidt, who is retiring from his position as Associate Professor of Physical Medicine, was honored by some 30 of his colleagues from Jefferson and other medical colleges and hospitals at a dinner at the Union League, June 24, 1959. He was given a silver tray as a memento of 42 years of service to Jefferson, Dr. William A. Sodeman, Dean, making the presentation.

Dr. George Morris Piersol, Emeritus Professor of Physical Medicine, at the University of Pennsylvania School of Medicine, was toastmaster. The Committee also included Dr. William J. Erdman, successor to Dr. Piersol; Dr. Albert Martucci, Philadelphia General Hospital; Dr. Francis J. Bonner, Jefferson; and Dr. John W. Goldschmidt, the new director of the division of Physical Medicine and Rehabilitation at Jefferson, and faculty member with the rank of Associate.

Dr. H. L. Rudolph of Reading, sketched Dr. Schmidt's career in an impressive address.

The speech-making was interrupted at 9:05 so that the guests could listen to a tribute to Dr. Schmidt on the "Salute" program over radio station WPEN.

Dr. Schmidt, who has served on the faculty at Jefferson for 42 years is a pioneer in Radiology and in Physical Medicine. He began to use X-ray in 1908, when X-ray machines were energized by static electricity. He helped to organize the Department of Physical Medicine at Jefferson in 1917 and has taught more than 6,000 students during these years. Many of these students have entered
Dr. Schmidt has been widely honored for his work in this field. In 1954 he was selected by the American Congress of Physical Medicine and Rehabilitation to deliver the Fifth Annual Doctor Stanley J. Coulter Memorial Lecture. In the same year, he was given the Presidential Award for Pennsylvania, in recognition of his outstanding contribution to the employment welfare of the physically handicapped of the State. In 1957 the American Congress of Physical Medicine and Rehabilitation bestowed its highest award on Dr. Schmidt—the Gold Key Award for distinguished achievement in the field of Physical Medicine and Rehabilitation.

In addition to his private practice and teaching duties at Jefferson, Dr. Schmidt served as Radiologist to St. Mary's Hospital in Philadelphia for 37 years until his retirement a year ago. He is also Consultant in Physical Medicine and Rehabilitation to the Philadelphia Veterans Hospital.

He is certified by both the Boards of Physical Medicine and Rehabilitation and Radiology. He is a charter member of the American Board of Physical Medicine and Rehabilitation and served as Vice-Chairman in 1954. He has been past president of both the American Congress of Physical Medicine and Rehabilitation and the American Academy of Physical Medicine and Rehabilitation, and is a member of the Philadelphia County and Pennsylvania State Medical Societies, the Pennsylvania Academy of Physical Medicine and Rehabilitation, American Radium Society and the American Medical Association.

Dr. Schmidt has three daughters and a son, Dr. William C. Schmidt, who was graduated from Jefferson in the Class of 1952. He is also very proud of his 17 grandchildren.

After presentation of the silver tray, Dr. Schmidt spoke briefly, remarking that "the young physician graduating today will find that 50% of his practice will consist of patients suffering from chronic degenerative type diseases for which we have no miracle drug, and for which Physical medicine and rehabilitation alone will help. All general hospitals in the future must have well equipped and directed departments of Rehabilitation. Only one out of 10 hospitals are adequately equipped now."

Dr. Schmidt, who will continue to be active in private practice, has been made an honorary member of the Jefferson faculty.

Faculty and Alumni on AMA Program in Atlantic City

Jefferson Medical College was well represented at the Annual Meeting of the American Medical Association in Atlantic City. Faculty members and alumni were prominent on the program, both as lecturers and exhibitors.

On Wednesday, June 10, Dr. David B. Allman, Class of 1914, introduced the session on "New Concepts in Aging", and acted as Moderator of the panel "Diseases Among the Aged". In the same session, Dr. Edward L. Bortz, Associate Professor of Medicine, presented a paper entitled "Positive Health, a Practical Objective".

Dr. Henry L. Bockus, Class of 1917, together with two of his University of Pennsylvania colleagues, had an Exhibit on the "Life History of Non-Specific Ulcerative Colitis: Relation of Anatomical Types and Clinical Course to Prognosis."

Dr. Francis J. Braceland, Class of 1930, spoke on "Psychiatry, Some Reflections on its Future".

Dr. Robert L. Breckenridge, Class of 1944-J, served on the Committee responsible for arranging an Exhibit on Fresh Tissue Pathology, while Dr. Frank W. Konzelmann, Class of 1919, was co-Chairman of the local Committee in charge of the Exhibit.

Dr. Richard T. Cathcart, Assistant Professor of Medicine; Dr. Burgess L. Gordon, Class of 1919, and Dr. Peter A. Theodos, Class of 1935, Assistant Professor of Clinical Medicine, were among the group which developed a special Exhibit on "Pulmonary Function."

Doctors Cathcart and Theodos, together with Dr. William Faimow, Assistant in Medicine, exhibited on "Anthracosilicosis; Selected Aspects Related to the Evaluation of Disability, Cavitation, and the Unusual X-Ray".

Dr. Oscar L. Creech, Jr., Class of 1941, with four of his associates, presented a paper entitled "Chemotherapy of Cancer: The Perfusion Techniques" and to illustrate the presentation they also had a scientific Exhibit on the subject.

Dr. J. C. Cwik, Class of 1951, and two of his Conemaugh Valley Memorial Hospital colleagues, had an Exhibit on "Epidural Analgesia in Therapeutics, Diagnosis and the Management of Pain."
An Exhibit entitled "Autogenous and Homogenous Osteocartilagenous Femoral Cap (Head) Transplants" was presented by Dr. Anthony F. De-Palma, Class of 1929, James Edwards Professor of Orthopedic Surgery; Dr. J. David Hoffman, Class of 1956 and Dr. Blackwell Sawyer, Jr., Class of 1956 Orthopedic Residents.

Dr. John H. Gibbon, Jr., Class of 1927, Samuel D. Gross Professor of Surgery and Head of the Department, spoke on "The Development of Surgical Research in the United States" during the session on Surgery, General and Abdominal.

Dr. Burgess L. Gordon, Class of 1919, served as a Demonstrator for the "Lung Station" Exhibit on Tuesday, June 9.

Dr. Everett J. Gordon, Class of 1937, with a colleague from Veterans Administration in Washington, D.C., had an Exhibit on "Clinical Experiences with the Sach Foot."

On Tuesday, June 9, Dr. Philip J. Hodes, Professor of Radiology and Head of the Department, participated in a Panel Discussion on "Abnormal Air Collections in the Thorax."

Dr. J. Rudolph Jaeger, Professor of Neurosurgery, presented an Exhibit on "Tic Douloureux: Permanent Cure by Injecting Hot Water."

Two members of the Class of 1928, Doctors Archibald K. Maness and Herschel S. Murphy, together with four other physicians, collaborated on an Exhibit entitled "Treatment of Threatened Abortion."

Dr. Nicholas A. Michels, Professor of Anatomy, spoke on "The Newer Anatomy of the Liver, its Variant Blood Supply and Collateral Circulation," with Dr. Moses Behrend, who recently retired as Associate in Surgery, opening the discussion of the paper.

Dr. Anthony Ruppersberg, Jr., Class of 1933, with another member of the Columbus Obstetric-Gynecologic Society, presented an Exhibit on "Maternal Mortality in Franklin County. A Decade of Maternal Death Studies."

Dr. Walter SuSSman, Class of 1926, had an Exhibit on "Detection of Gynecological Cancer by Fluorescence Microscopy."

Dr. Robert I. Wise, Magee Professor of Medicine and Head of the Department, participated in a Panel Discussion on "Changing Etiology of Infection."

MR. LENTZ ELECTED PRESIDENT-ELECT OF MEDICAL LIBRARY ASSOCIATION

Mr. Robert T. Lentz, Jefferson Medical College Librarian, was elected Vice-President and President-Elect of the Medical Library Association on June 18, 1959 at the annual meeting in Toronto, Canada. This is an international organization of medical librarians from medical, dental, pharmacy and nursing schools, hospitals, medical societies and pharmaceutical houses of the United States, Canada, Africa, England, Finland, China, Lebanon, Brazil and Australia. In April of this year he was also elected to serve as the 1959-60 Chairman of the Medical Library Association, Philadelphia Regional Group.

Next fall Mr. Lentz shall start a series of lectures at the Drexel Institute of Technology School of Library Science, from which he holds a Master's Degree.

Dr. Sodeman Honored by Commonwealth of Pennsylvania and by Villanova University

Dean William A. Sodeman has recently been the recipient of two signal honors.

On April 6, 1959 the Senate of the General Assembly of Pennsylvania, by formal Resolution, extended its "felicitations to the Jefferson Medical College upon its commendable selection of Dr. William A. Sodeman, a great medical luminary, as the Dean of the institution, and to Dr. Sodeman, its fervent wishes that he will successfully continue his indefatigable services as one of the healers for the benefit of humanity."

The Resolution, which was offered by the Honorable William J. Lane and the Honorable Frank W. Ruth, began with the following paragraph:

"The People of Washington County are signally honored that another one of our native sons rose to the stature of leadership, about whom it can be figuratively stated that he is a towering luminary fit 'to match our mountains.' Dr. William A. Sodeman, who was appointed on April 21, 1958, as the Dean of the Jefferson Medical College, was born in Charleroi, Washington County, Pennsylvania, and now, after years of dynamic leadership, at several seats of medical learning, as a renowned educator par excellence and a leading authority in many branches of medical endeavor, returned to Pennsylvania to continue his services as a man of many medical abilities—physician, teacher, research worker, writer, speaker and counsellor."

It continued with a review of Dr. Sodeman's career and a recitation of his accomplishments. The Resolution then paid tribute to Jefferson, saying:

"The Jefferson Medical College, the seventh in age of the country's medical schools, has been a fountain of medical education that not only enriched our own state but spread medical leadership throughout the United States and even in many countries abroad.

"The People of Pennsylvania owe a debt of gratitude to the Jefferson Medical College for its leadership in all fields of medical endeavor and superb research that brought many blessings upon Mankind. The People of Washington County are now most gratified that one of its illustrious sons is leading and will lead this great seat of medical learning to even higher pinnacles of attainment and success."

The second honor for Dr. Sodeman came on June 1, 1959 when Villanova University conferred on him the honorary degree of Doctor of Science. The Citation accompanying the Degree read as follows:

"Since receiving your Doctorate in Medicine you have progressed with large strides in the acquisition and in the sharing of your knowledge in the most beneficial of all the humane sciences. Your studies have qualified you to the extent that you have most deservedly received a Fulbright Professorship in Calcutta and, more recently, the Magee Professorship and Deanship of Medicine at Jefferson Medical College. These appointments are indeed triumphant symbols to the world at large; but those who know you well understand how adequately you represent the happiest kind of academic unity: you have attained an eminence in learning and you have made an educational career of imparting that information to medical students. Your scholarship encompasses such diverse but essentially important fields as tropical disease and preventive medicine. As consultant to national medical agencies you have benefited our nation with a degree of proficiency that can be explained only by a real patriotism and by the respect of those in the highest medical positions who recognize well your singular qualifications. And the translation of your book on pathologic physiology into five other languages suggest a tribute to your ability of the soundest type of criterion.

"With complete satisfaction Villanova University felicitates you on your medical achievements. In the name of the Board of Trustees of Villanova University I confer on you 'honoris causa' the degree of Doctor of Science with all the rights and privileges pertaining thereunto."

Initial Meeting of New Philadelphia Neurosurgical Society Held at Jefferson

The newly formed Philadelphia Neurosurgical Society held its initial meeting at Jefferson Medical College on May 15, 1959 with Dr. J. Rudolph Jaeger, Professor of Neurosurgery, acting as official host.

The new organization is made up of surgeons specializing in the treatment of brain, spinal cord and nervous system diseases, and although it is called the "Philadelphia Neurosurgical Society," actually it includes members from Pennsylvania, lower New Jersey, Delaware, Maryland and Washington, D. C.

Dr. Francis C. Grant is President of the Society; Dr. Temple Fay, Vice President and Dr. Frederick E. Murtaugh, Secretary-Treasurer. In addition to these Officers, there is an Executive Council composed of Dr. Jaeger, Dr. Robert A. Groff, Dr. Axel K. Olson and Dr. Michael Scott, who will help to guide the affairs of the Society.

Jefferson Medical College was selected as the site for this initial meeting because the first operation for the complete cure of a brain tumor was performed here by Dr. W. W. Keen in 1877. Dr. Keen, who was Professor of Surgery at Jefferson, removed the tumor under the then new surgical technical precaution known as the Listerian Antiseptic Method. The operation was successful and the patient lived for some 30 years following the removal of the tumor. Dr. Jaeger had arranged an exhibit of this preserved tumor and the brain from which it was removed, as a feature of the meeting.

The Society's first meeting began with operative clinics.
at various medical college hospitals throughout the city. Operations of unusual interest to the neurosurgeons were observed during the morning. After luncheon, Dr. Francis C. Grant, the President, delivered an inaugural lecture on the "Control of Intractable Pain." Dr. Jaeger then led a panel discussion on the same subject, with other members of the group participating.

After the scientific session, there was a business meeting for the purpose of organizing the group more closely and for a review of the factors leading up to the formation of the Society.

A dinner was held that evening making it possible for the Neurosurgeons to become better acquainted. This should enhance possibilities for an exchange of ideas and a discussion of methods which will aid in a more thorough dissemination of information pertaining to this specialty.

"JOGERS" HOLDS ANNUAL MEETING

The Annual Meeting and Dinner of The Jefferson Obstetric-Gynecologic Ex-Residents' Society (JOGERS) was held on April 16 in the Claridge Hotel, Atlantic City, New Jersey, during the American College of Obstetricians and Gynecologists convention.

Following a fellowship hour with cocktails and a delightful dinner, a short business meeting was held, with election of officers. In the poll, new officers Dr. C. Brinley Bland, President; Dr. William Hargreaves, Vice President; Dr. Burton Wellenbach, Secretary-Treasurer, succeeded respectively Dr. Anthony Ruppersberg, Jr., Dr. James Webster and Dr. Joseph Stella.

The affair was well attended by members from far and near, and guests included faculty members and residents from the OB-Gyn Department of Jefferson.

TWO NEW HONORS AWARDED
DR. JOHN H. GIBBON, JR.

Dr. John H. Gibbon, Jr., Samuel D. Gross Professor of Surgery and Head of the Department, was made an honorary Fellow of the Royal College of Surgeons at ceremonies held in London, England, on May 14, 1959.

The number of honorary Fellows of the Royal College of Surgeons is limited to 50 from all over the world so that Dr. Gibbon's inclusion in this distinguished group is indeed an honor.

During his stay in London Dr. Gibbon also delivered a paper before the London Postgraduate School of Medicine on the investigative work in surgery which is being carried on at Jefferson.

Dr. Gibbon was also honored by the University of Buffalo when he was given the honorary degree of Doctor of Science at its Commencement Exercises on June 7.
Final Report of the 11th Annual Giving Fund Drive

JOHN H. GIBBON, JR., M.D., Chairman

This is my last report as your Annual Giving Fund Chairman, and I am delighted that it is a favorable one. Our goal of $110,000 for the 11th Drive was reached and exceeded, our closing figure being $112,782.42 from 3,134 contributors.

In the years during which I have headed the Committee responsible for these Drives, I have gotten to know many of you personally and have corresponded with many others of you. I have been continually impressed by your loyalty to the College and your intense interest in its welfare and progress.

It has been most gratifying to read letters accompanying contributions which say "I feel it is a privilege and not an obligation to give to Jefferson"—and—"Our alma mater gave me so much, I feel that whatever I can give to her is inadequate to repay the debt." Expressions of gratitude to and affection for Jefferson such as these have not been uncommon and they have made my job a most pleasant one.

During my terms as your Annual Giving Fund Chairman I have been assisted by most able and hard working Committees, whose recommendations of Annual Giving Fund policy to the Executive Committee have been thoughtfully and carefully conceived for the overall good of the College.

To all of our Class Agents, I offer my sincere thanks and congratulations for a job well done. As I have said repeatedly, without their continued conscientious efforts, our Drives would have been vain endeavors. While the tangible results produced by these Agents in the form of contributed funds are of great importance, we must never overlook their intangible accomplishments which, while they cannot be measured in dollars and cents, mean a very great deal to Jefferson. By this I mean the maintenance of communication and interest by the Class Agents between the Alumni themselves and between Alumni and the College. The College gains by this communication and, in turn, the Alumni profit, at least indirectly, by Jefferson’s progress. No college can attain its goals without the support, both financial and moral, of a strong Alumni body. By the same token, the standing and reputation of his alma mater reflect to some extent on an alumnus and he has every right to wish to feel justly proud of his school.

All of you who have contributed in any amount to Annual Giving have helped to make Jefferson a medical college of which we can be justly proud, and I know that the coming years will see us attain even greater heights.

I know, too, that under the leadership of Dr. Carroll R. Mullen, the new Annual Giving Fund chairman, the 12th Drive will go forward with impressive impetus.

Working with all of you has been a rewarding experience, and to each of you I extend my thanks and sincere best wishes.

Positions Available

WANTED: Millville, New Jersey—Excellent opportunity for one or two young graduates just starting out in General Practice.

WANTED: Shirley, Massachusetts—Very fine opening for General Practitioner interested in rural practice. Shirley is a town of some 3,500 inhabitants with two fairly large industries in the immediate area. There are two small accredited hospitals in the immediate vicinity and three larger hospitals in Clinton, Leominster and Fitchburg. Shirley is a member of the Nashoba Associated Boards of Health which coordinates the public health units of some 17 towns in the area. The town of Shirley usually expects to appoint its resident doctor as medical officer for the Board of Health and for the School Department at customary stipends. The Shirley Industrial School for Boys (State of Massachusetts) also plans that a qualified doctor settling in the town would be eligible to be the medical doctor for the school.

WANTED: Wilmington, Delaware—Opportunity for young graduate interested in General Practice.

WANTED: Lakewood, New Jersey—Associate (to eventually become an equal partner) to assist in an extensive general medical practice. The practice stresses an holistic approach to family medical care with interest in psychosomatics, hypnotic conditioning and preventive medicine. A full time laboratory technician is employed.

WANTED: Erie, Pennsylvania—Director of Medical Education for hospital located in Erie. 427 adult beds, 65 bassinets. Salary based on experience.
Dear Friends:

Once again it is a great pleasure for me to congratulate all of the Alumni of The Jefferson Medical College, the Alumni Association officers, the Class Agents, and the Annual Giving Fund Committee on the success of the 11th Drive.

As my association with Jefferson continues, and as I get to know more of you each year, my pride in this association grows. It is indeed a fine thing for a Dean to have the assurance of interest and support from an Alumni body such as ours, and you have been most generous in your expressions of this support.

It has long been apparent to me that providing the best in medical education for our students is, particularly in these times, a task of too great magnitude for any one group of men. The Administration, to accomplish this task, must have the help and guidance of the Alumni. If we work as partners and share the problems involved in keeping the standards of Jefferson high, we will, I am confident, achieve this goal.

There are a number of ways in which you, as Alumni, are of inestimable aid to your alma mater. First, the reputation gained by the College through your personal successes and achievements helps in attracting a high caliber of students who, in turn, go on to bring greater fame to Jefferson.

Second, your financial support enables us to have the finest teachers in their respective fields and this is probably the most important single requisite for a medical college.

Third, as a corollary to the previous point, your contributions help us in obtaining funds from outside sources, since the evidence of your support and loyalty is a strong influence on the thinking of those administering foundations, grants and public funds.

I have outlined what the Alumni can do and what a large number of you do for the College. We should now consider what the College can do for the Alumni.

It seems to me that our first responsibility is to keep the academic standards at the highest possible level, so that you may all be as proud of the young men graduating today as you were of your classmates on your own commencement day.

We have a responsibility to encourage research and the discovery and development of new medical techniques so that the College and its faculty may gain renown throughout the world, since this renown will accrue to all of you as well.

I think too that we have the responsibility of keeping all Jefferson Alumni fully informed as to the affairs of the College. Not only does this foster the close ties we hope for between Alumni and Jefferson, but I am sure it gives all of you a feeling of "belonging" when you return for reunions, dinners and meetings.

I hope that whenever any of you are in Philadelphia you will not fail to visit the College, for I assure you that I am always delighted to meet and talk with you about Jefferson's affairs, and I look forward with keen anticipation to the occasions when I have such opportunities.

The Administration welcomes suggestions from its Alumni, for it is our sincere desire that you continue to feel as much a part of the school as you did when, as students, you listened to lectures in the "Pit," and crammed for examinations.

My very best wishes to all of you, and I shall look forward to the next occasion on which we may meet.

Dean Sodeman and Dr. DePalma Congratulate Alumni on Success of 11th Fund Drive

My Dear Fellow Alumni:

The attendance of the Jefferson Alumni at the Annual Banquet of our Association and the profound interest exhibited by those members present were most gratifying. It was an amazing demonstration of the spirit, loyalty and lasting concern that each alumnus has for his parent institution. To those who were unable to attend this meeting I wish to express my regrets for your absence and wish to extend to you my solicitations.

After the usual festivities, the business part of the meeting was punctuated by several highlights; these are worth recording in our Bulletin. Mr. Richard C. Bond, a member of the Board of Trustees, gave a timely and masterly talk on the role that the present day physician should assume in his community. He emphasized the weight of influence that we as physicians can bring to bear on the lives of our fellow men in this fast changing world. He exhorted us to set aside our shyness and utilize this influence to elevate our environs and to become leaders in communal life; we must cease to be "onlookers," it is imperative that we become "doers."

A sad note was struck in the meeting when the announcement of the retirement of our President, Vice Admiral James L. Kauffman, was made. All of us have felt the import of this competent administrator; all of us sincerely regret this loss to the institution. On the other hand, a bright note was struck by the introduction of President-Elect William W. Bodine, Jr., whose background of achievement in many civic areas makes him a worthy addition to the Jefferson family.

Report of the Eleventh Annual Giving Fund Committee made by the chairman, Dr. John H. Gibbon, Jr., was enthusiastically received. The goal was not only reached but exceeded. This again points out in a very materialistic manner the loyalty of our Alumni. This committee deserves special commendation; its tireless efforts are appreciated by all. At this point I wish to put forth a few suggestions to which I hope you will give some thought to and about which I hope you will give some expression. The Alumni Giving Fund at Jefferson is an established and well organized function of the Jefferson Alumni. However, for the past ten years, in spite of the fact that eleven more classes have graduated since the initiation of this venture, the response has been about the same. I cannot help but be concerned about this attitude and I feel that all of us should give this area a "new look." I am certain that as the years go by and we progress in our various disciplines all of us must become more and more cognizant of the important role that our Alma Mater played in providing us a broad educational base in making us ready for the challenges we encounter daily, for the social and professional success we achieve and for the very way of our lives. If this is our debt to Jefferson, it can never be paid; on the other hand our gratitude to Jefferson can be demonstrated in many ways. The Alumni Giving Fund is one avenue into which we can channel this gratitude. It would seem to me that year by year there should be a steady, progressive rise in our "alumni giving" returns. Perhaps too many of us have failed to give this obligation to Jefferson its due consideration; perhaps too many of us have failed to realize the progressively growing demand on our institution in its attempts to perform adequately in old and new areas of medical education. Therefore, is it not time that we give this matter a "new look"? Is it not time that new and higher goals are set and met? Is it not time for all of us to "dig deeper"?

Let me express, at this point, my gratitude to the numerous committees and their chairmen for the effort they expended in making the many functions of Commencement Week at Jefferson so complete and outstanding. I hope all of you will forever maintain the interest and feeling you have demonstrated on this last occasion.

May this year bring you health, happiness and progress. I hope you will all be with us next year.

Dr. Abraham E. Colcher Dies

Dr. Abraham E. Colcher, Associate Professor of Radiology, Honorary, died on June 28, 1959 in the Atlantic City Hospital at the age of 65.

Dr. Colcher retired in June of this year and was honored, along with other faculty members, at the Dean’s luncheon during Reunion activities.

He was a native of Ohio and received his medical education at the Medico-Chirurgical College in 1916. He served internships at the Hospital of that College and at the Philadelphia Hospital for Contagious Diseases. He did graduate work at the Military School of Roentgenology of Cornell Medical School and was certified by the American Board of Radiology. He was Director of Radiology at Doctors’ Hospital from 1939, and in 1944 helped to develop a device, known as the “Colcher-Sussman Pelvimeter,” which permits accurate pelvic measurement by X-ray in the study of the pregnant abdomen and pelvis.

Dr. Colcher came to Jefferson in 1955 as Associate Professor of Clinical Radiology, and served for a short time as Acting Head of the Department.

He was a member of the American Medical Association, the Philadelphia County and Pennsylvania Medical Societies, Past President of the Southeast County Medical Society and Past President of Physicians and Surgeons of the Pennsylvania Railroad. He was also a Fellow of the Philadelphia College of Physicians and a member of the American College of Radiology.

Dr. Colcher, who lived in the Rittenhouse Square area of Philadelphia, is survived by his widow, his son, Dr. Robert E. Colcher, who was graduated from Jefferson in 1950, a daughter, and a sister.

ACTIVITIES OF THE DEPARTMENT OF PEDIATRICS

Dr. Hans G. Keitel, Professor of Pediatrics and Head of the Department, discussed “Infant Feeding” before the Annapolis County Medical Society on March 18th, and with Doctors James V. Mackell, Assistant Professor of Clinical Pediatrics, and William M. McFadden, Associate in Clinical Pediatrics, he presented “Pediatric Emergencies” over WFIL TV on the 9th and 16th of March.

Dr. Felix Karpinski, Clinical Professor of Pediatrics, attended the Governor’s Convention on medical problems pertaining to the population explosion in Harrisburg on March 18th.

On March 30th and 31st Dr. Robert Brent, Associate Professor of Pediatrics, attended the Third Teratological Meeting in Portland, Oregon.

On April 3, 1959 Dr. William McLean, Associate in Pediatrics, presented a paper to the Philadelphia Neurologic Society.

Doctors Felix Karpinski and Robert Brent spoke at the Postgraduate Institute held in Johnstown, Pennsylvania, April 9, 1959. They discussed “New Problems in the Treatment of Infectious Disease.”

The May meetings of the Society for Pediatric Research and the American Pediatric Society were attended by Doctors Keitel, Karpinski, McLean, Kane and Brent. Both Doctor Keitel and Doctor Brent submitted papers for presentation.

Dr. Robert Brent presented a paper to the Radiation Research Society on May 18th-20th in Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania. The topic concerned the role of the placent in radiation Teratogenesis. Dr. Brent also participated in a symposium dealing with the psychological and teratological effects of embryonic irradiation. The two day meeting, May 21st and 22nd, 1959, was sponsored by the American Institute of Biological Sciences under contract with the Atomic Energy Commission and was held in Washington, D. C.

On Thursday, June 18th, Dr. Henry H. Perlman, Clinical Professor of Pediatrics, addressed the members of the Central New Jersey Pediatric Society at Asbury Park. He spoke on “The Diagnosis of Common Dermatoses in Children with Special Reference to Differential Diagnosis and the Modern Management,” illustrated with lantern slides.
ACTIVITIES OF THE DEPARTMENT OF SURGERY

On May 19, 1959 Dr. George J. Haupt, Instructor in Surgery, spoke to the Northampton County Medical Society, his subject being "Recent Advances in Vascular Surgery."

Dr. Thomas F. Nealon, Jr., Associate Professor of Surgery, lectured on "Problems in Surgical Management of Patients with Pulmonary Insufficiency" at the Postgraduate Seminar of the American College of Chest Physicians in Atlantic City, June 3, 1959.

On June 7th, Dr. Charles Fineberg, Associate in Surgery, presented a paper entitled "Sham Coronary Endarterectomy with and without Coronary Artery Perfusion" to the Society for Vascular Surgery at their annual meeting in Atlantic City.

Dr. John Y. Templeton, III, Clinical Professor of Surgery, Dr. Thomas F. Nealon, Jr., Dr. Franz Goldstein, Instructor in Medicine, and Dr. C. Wilmer Wirts, Associate Professor of Medicine, conducted a seminar on Diseases of the Gastrointestinal Tract at the First Annual Institute of the University of Scranton, which was held in Scranton on June 13, 1959.

The following grants have been awarded to:

Dr. John Y. Templeton, III and Dr. Thomas F. Nealon, Jr., for studies of Deep Hypothermia by the Heart Association of Southeastern Pennsylvania.

Dr. John H. Gibbon, Jr., Samuel D. Gross Professor of Surgery and Head of the Department, Dr. John Y. Templeton, III, and Dr. Thomas F. Nealon, Jr. to study Homeostasis During Cardiopulmonary Bypass during the next two years from the National Heart Institute.

The Department of Surgery for a two year period, beginning July 1, 1959, from the American Heart Association for a Physiological Study of Myocardial Changes in Induced Cardiac Arrest.

ACTIVITIES OF THE DEPARTMENT OF ANATOMY

Dr. Nicholas A. Michels, Professor of Anatomy, spoke on "The Newer Anatomy of the Liver, Its Variant Blood Supply and Collateral Circulation" at the Vancouver Medical Association, Vancouver, B. C., on April 7 and on April 17 at the University of Missouri Medical School, Columbia, Missouri (as the Phi Beta Pi lecturer); also on June 9 at the American Medical Association meeting in Atlantic City.

Several members of the Anatomy staff attended and presented papers at the annual meeting of the American Association of Anatomists in Seattle, Washington, on April 1, 2, 3, 1959. Doctors J. Lawrence Angel, Associate Professor of Anatomy and Physical Anthropology, spoke on: "Femoral Neck Markings and Human Gait;" Robert J. Merklín, Assistant Professor of Anatomy, discussed: "The Adrenal Venous System;" Nicholas A. Michels, Professor of Anatomy, presented: "Variants of the Anterior Pancreaticoduodenal Arcade;" Charles G. Rosa, Assistant Professor of Anatomy, reported on: "Localization of Oxidative Enzymatic Activity in Exfoliated Cells of the Female Reproductive Tract;" A. W. Sedar, Assistant Professor of Anatomy, discussed: "An Attempt to Correlate the Fine Structure of the Parietal Cell with Functional State of the Gastric Mucosa;" and Sigfrid Zitzl sperger, Assistant Professor of Anatomy, demonstrated his newly devised stress models of the human vertebral column in the erect position.

DR. BOWERS RECEIVES AWARD FROM BUCKNELL UNIVERSITY

Dr. Paul A. Bowers, Assistant Professor of Obstetrics and Gynecology, was the recipient of Bucknell University's Alumni Award for 1959. The Citation and Medallion in recognition of Meritorious achievement is awarded each year to an Alumnus who has achieved renown in his chosen field.

The Citation which accompanied the Medallion stated that Dr. Bowers had been chosen for this honor because of his outstanding work in the field of maternal welfare, and "his associates in the medical field," it continued, "term him a pioneer in natural childbirth and other phases of physiologic obstetrics."

The Citation was read by John Shott, Secretary of the Alumni Association, and the presentation was made by Dr. Charles F. Fox, Jr., President of the Alumni Association.

Dr. Bowers was graduated from Bucknell University in 1932.

Dr. Bowers Holds Certificate awarded by Bucknell University
At the recent meeting of the Medical Society of New Jersey a certificate of merit was awarded to Dr. MARIO A. CASTALLO, Clinical Professor of Obstetrics and Gynecology, Dr. NICHOLAS A. POLICARPO, Instructor in Obstetrics and Gynecology, and Dr. AMOS S. WAINER, Assistant Professor of Obstetrics and Gynecology, for their scientific exhibit on "Fallopian Tuboplasty—Critical Evaluation."

DR. LOUIS H. CLERF, Professor of Laryngology and Broncho-Esophagology, Emeritus, was the principal speaker at the 64th Annual Commencement of St. Martin's College, Olympia, Washington. Dr. Clerf is Honorary President of St. Martin's Alumni Association.

DR. SAMUEL S. CONLY, JR., Assistant to the Dean, was guest speaker at the recent Dinner Meeting of the Chester Exchange Club. His topic was "Aviation Physiology."

At a recent meeting of the Boyd County (Kentucky) Medical Society Dr. J. WALLACE DAVIS, Associate in Plastic and Reconstructive Surgery, spoke on the "Psychological Aspect of Plastic Surgery."

At the meeting of the American Association for Thoracic Surgery held recently in Los Angeles, California, Dr. JOHN H. GIBBON, JR., Samuel D. Gross Professor of Surgery and Head of the Department, was elected Vice-President. The Vice-President automatically succeeds to the Presidency the following year.

On June 18, 1959, Dr. FRANZ GOLDSTEIN, Instructor in Medicine, participated in the presentation of a graduate course on gastrointestinal disease before the Monroe County Medical Society in Stroudsburg, Pennsylvania.

DR. DAVID J. LAFIA, Assistant in Neurosurgery, has been awarded a special Traineeship from the National Institutes of Nervous Diseases and Blindness. This will enable him to spend one year at Johns Hopkins Hospital working under Dr. A. Earl Walker in Neurosurgery and Neurophysiology. Dr. LaFia has been granted a year's leave of absence from Jefferson to extend from July 1, 1959 to July 1, 1960. He plans to work on a project related to temporal lobe epilepsy.

On April 27 Dr. LaFia presented a paper to the Harvey Cushing Society, which is a national organization of Neurosurgeons. This paper was the result of research work done by Dr. LaFia and Dr. Harold Chase on the effects of respiratory obstruction on the brain.

From June 8 to 18, 1959, DR. WARREN R. LANG attended a Summer Institute on Medical Teaching at the University of Buffalo, Buffalo, New York.

DR. WILLIAM V. McDONNELL, Associate Professor of Pathology, was guest speaker at the annual installation banquet of the Lackawanna County Medical Assistants Association held June 13 at the Hotel Casey, Scranton, Pennsylvania.

DR. JOSEPH MEDOFF, Associate in Clinical Medicine, was recently notified of his election to Resident Fellowship in the College of Physicians of Philadelphia.

DR. CARROLL R. MULLEN, Professor of Ophthalmology and Head of the Department, was appointed to the Board of City Trusts of Philadelphia.

DR. A. EDWARD O'ARA, Associate in Radiology, spoke at the Annual Meeting of the American Association for Cleft Palate Rehabilitation.

DOCTORS KARL E. PASCHKIS, Associate Professor of Medicine and Physiology, ABRAHAM E. RAKOFF, Clinical Professor of Obstetric and Gynecological Endocrinology, and JOSEPH J. RUPP, Assistant Professor of Clinical Medicine, participated in the 8th Annual Seminar of the Divine Providence Hospital in conjunction with the Lycoming County (Pennsylvania) Medical Society, held April 24, 1959 at the Williamsport Country Club. The scientific program dealt with "Some Newer Aspects of Endocrine Disease," Dr. Rakoff covering "Ovary," Dr. Paschkis "Adrenal" and Dr. Rupp, "Thyroid."

DR. WILLIAM A. SODERMAN, Dean, was recently appointed by Governor David L. Lawrence to the Commonwealth Research Foundation.

At a special dinner meeting of the Chester County (Pennsylvania) Medical Society Dean Sodeman discussed "Pericarditis."

DR. PETER A. THEODOS, Assistant Professor of Clinical Medicine, was a panelist at the opening session of the Pennsylvania Tuberculosis and Health Society's Annual Three-day Meeting in Scranton.

On April 2, 1959 DR. BURTON L. WELLENBACH, Instructor in Obstetrics and Gynecology, spoke in Allentown, Pennsylvania, to a group of Physicians sponsored by the Pennsylvania Academy of General Practice. The topic of h is speech was: "Use and Abuse of Female Sex Hormones by the General Practitioner."

Dr. C. Wilmer Wirt S, Associate Professor of Medicine, participated in a panel discussion on "Malabsorption Syndrome" at the annual meeting of the Connecticut State Medical Society held recently in New Haven.

On May 6th Dr. Wirts addressed the Montgomery County (Pennsylvania) Medical Society in Norristown on "Diagnosis and Management of Ulcerative Colitis," and on May 20th he addressed the New Jersey Gastroenterological Society, his topic being "The Evaluation and Management of Sequelae Following Gastric Surgery."

Dr. Wirts was elected President of the American Gastroscopic Society at its annual meeting, June 7, in Atlantic City, New Jersey.

On June 18 he participated in a graduate course on gastro-intestinal disease before the Monroe County Medical Society in Stroudsburg, Pennsylvania.

Dr. Robert I. Wise, Magee Professor of Medicine and Head of the Department discussed "Steroids in Infectious States" at the third Annual Medical Symposium held Wednesday, May 20, 1959, at the Abington Memorial Hospital, Abington, Pennsylvania.

WASHINGTON, D. C. CHAPTER DINNER

The Spring meeting of the Washington, D.C. Alumni Chapter was held on May 2, 1959 at the Army-Navy Club in Washington. The affair consisted of a formal dinner dance preceded by a cocktail party. Dr. Anthony F. DePalma, who was our scheduled speaker, was unable to appear because of a last minute cancellation due to illness. Fortunately, however, two of our talented members, Dr. and Mrs. Richard Bauer, were able to provide impromptu entertainment in the form of a theatrical skit—a satire on a political speech—which was hilariously received.

The program for the coming year was discussed and it was decided to have a cocktail buffet supper affair in a member's home with the ladies, in addition to the yearly stag meeting. The president, Dr. Everett J. Gordon, has extended an invitation for the group to meet in his home next Fall. Members present were Dr. and Mrs. John Lynn, Dr. and Mrs. William Stecher, Dr. and Mrs. Richard Bauer, Dr. and Mrs. Aaron Dietz, Dr. and Mrs. Simon Weiner, Dr. and Mrs. Stacy Rollins, Dr. and Mrs. William Ross, Dr. and Mrs. William Weintraub, Dr. and Mrs. Arthur Sims, Dr. and Mrs. Adolph Friedman and Dr. and Mrs. Everett Gordon.

FLORIDA CHAPTER HOLDS LUNCHEON MEETING IN BAL HARBOR

The Florida Chapter of the Jefferson Alumni Association held a luncheon meeting on May 4, 1959 in the Barbados Room of the Americana Hotel in Bal Harbor, Florida. It was held in conjunction with the annual meeting of the State medical society, of which Dr. Leo M. Wachtel is President-elect.

Dr. Philip J. Hodes, Professor of Radiology and Head of the Department, spoke at the meeting and his address was enthusiastically received.

After the luncheon there was a short business meeting, at which time it was decided to have another luncheon next year in Jacksonville, again at the same time as the meeting of the Florida Medical Association.

At the business session Dr. Leo M. Wachtel was elected Chairman of the Chapter to succeed Dr. Joseph Lomax.

NORTH CAROLINA CHAPTER
MEETS DURING STATE MEDICAL SOCIETY CONVENTION

The North Carolina Chapter of The Jefferson Medical College Alumni held its Annual Luncheon Meeting at the Battery Park Hotel, Asheville, North Carolina on Wednesday, May 6, 1959, thus following the established custom of having its meeting each year in conjunction with the annual meeting of the North Carolina State Medical Society.

Dr. Bruce Nye, representing the Dean’s office and Dr. Anthony F. DePalma, President of the Alumni Association, both addressed the meeting. Dr. Nye brought the group up to date on admission policy at Jefferson, while Dr. DePalma talked of matters relating to teaching practices and curricular changes at the College.

The new slate of officers proposed by the nominating committee for 1960 was voted unanimously and they are: President, Dr. Charles K. Padgett, Shelby, North Carolina; Secretary and Treasurer, Dr. Howard Wilson, Raleigh, North Carolina.

Faculty Members Are Guest Speakers at Northeastern Pennsylvania Chapter Meeting

The Annual Dinner Meeting of the Northeastern Chapter of the Jefferson Alumni Association was held at the Fox Hill Country Club on May 27, 1959.

Dr. L. C. Druffner of Avoca, Pennsylvania, President and Dr. Roy Davis of Susquehanna, Secretary and Treasurer, presided.

Fifty-six members attended.

Dr. William Sodeman, Dean and Dr. Thomas Nealon, Jr., Associate Professor of Surgery represented the faculty.

Dr. Druffner welcomed the members with a few remarks about our illustrious faculty and the characteristics that give the alumni body its reputation. He also gave a pep-up talk urging members to give to the Annual Alumni Giving Fund, especially to the Century and 500 Club.

Dr. Druffner then introduced Dr. Sodeman, who gave a very commendable discourse on the requirements at Jefferson and what he expects to accomplish while Dean. Dr. Nealon also rendered timely remarks.

Dr. J. Norman White, Class of 1904, announced that this was the Fiftieth Anniversary of the founding of the Northeastern Chapter at Scranton, Pennsylvania, on April 19, 1909, and that he was present at the organization meeting and was named Secretary, and Dr. Gabick was named President.

Dr. Roy Davis rendered an account of his stewardship as Secretary-Treasurer.

Election of officers was made for 1959-60.
President—Dr. Samuel R. Kaufman—Wilkes Barre
Secretary-Treasurer—Dr. Roy Davis—Susquehanna, Pa.

It was unanimously agreed that next year’s meeting would be held at the same place.
Ohio Chapter Holds Successful Dinner Meeting

The 9th Annual Jefferson Alumni-Ohio Dinner meeting was held in Columbus on Tuesday, April 21, 1959, in conjunction with the annual Ohio State Medical Association meeting.

This year, again, the University Club was the meeting place. During the twilight hours Alumni, their wives and guests gathered in the homey atmosphere of the spacious lounge and library to sip sparkling cocktails and "swap short stories" about Alma Mater.

At 7:30 p.m. the largest of similar groups adjourned to the beautiful main dining room, where candles lit the spacious tables bearing floral pieces.

Sixty-six deluxe dinners were served in this restful atmosphere.

Announcements and roll call revealed Alumni and friends from all portions of the Buckeye State. The date seemed particularly significant; one year had elapsed since Dr. William A. Sodeman had been installed as Dean it was his 31st wedding anniversary, and it also gave us opportunity to wish Mrs. Sodeman "Happy Birthday."

Afterwards, Dr. Sodeman, presented highly interesting "News from Jeff;" he mentioned the new individuals appearing on the scene, changes in the curriculum, elevation of academic standards for students, departmental expansions, and the new nurses' residence.

Dr. Robert Irby Wise, new Magee Professor of Medicine, then proceeded to give us "News in Medicine." Dr. Wise reviewed plans for improvements of records, correlation in inter-department research, and development of new specialty sections within the Department of Medicine. He outlined plans for a closer evaluation of each student on a day-to-day basis, and described plans for new laboratories.

Jefferson Alumni-Ohio manifested keen interest in this "news" and asked many questions. The success of the evening was attributed to the splendid attendance and to the close teamwork of the nine-man committee.

After announcement of the 10th Annual Meeting of Jefferson Alumni-Ohio to be held Tuesday, May 17, 1960, in Cleveland, the meeting was duly adjourned.

50th Reunion, Class of 1909

From the original number of 139 graduates, of the Class of '09, fifty-two are still living and nineteen attended the Class Reunion and Annual Banquet.

We met in the Pink Room of the Bellevue-Stratford Hotel at 12:30 on June 11th for luncheon. It was a memorable occasion, looking back over the past fifty-years, reviewing the Class Book and reading the communications from those who could not be present. All in all, it was a most enjoyable and long-to-be remembered occasion.

GEORGE T. FARIS, M.D.
Chairman

45th Reunion, Class of 1914

The Class of 1914 had its Reunion Luncheon Wednesday, June 10, at the John Bartram Hotel. The following were present: Doctors MacCollum, Van Laughlin, Blair, Gilhool, Griffin, Sprague, Castlebury, Nixon, Bauer, White, Armitage, Winston, Haines and Deck.

On Thursday at 5:00 p.m. we had a pre-banquet cocktail party and a very enjoyable time. Some of the boys brought their wives; so there were present Mrs. Gilhool, Mrs. Sprague, Mrs. Haines, Mrs. Williams, Mrs. Bauer, Mrs. Armitage and, of course, Mrs. Deck. After the ladies had had dinner together in the Hotel, they went up to the balcony and watched us perform at the banquet.

Dave Allman and George Lull came to the cocktail party and we were delighted to see them both. There wasn't a large group of the Class of 1914, but we had a delightful time and the wives seemed to enjoy it as much as we did.

ROY DECK, M.D.
Chairman

40th Reunion, Class of 1919

The 40th Reunion of the Class of 1919 was held on June 10th at the Barclay Hotel. It was a huge success—an event we'll all remember till our 45th in 1964.

Those present were: E. Lloyd Jones, Virginia; A. L. Jones and wife, Virginia; W. A. Hill and wife, Pennsylvania; L. B. Andrews and wife, Arkansas; William E. Wrang and wife, Connecticut; Harry Frist and wife, California; C. H. Baumgart and wife, Wisconsin; D. Russell Perry, Sr. and Jr., North Carolina; John Brinkman, New York; Guy Bashore, Pennsylvania; William Jacoby and wife, Pennsylvania; Ronald Moore, Pennsylvania; George Lundberg and wife, Connecticut; Thomas Copeland, Ohio; Milton B. Emanuel, Pennsylvania.

Andrews, Bashore, Russ Perry and Emanuel livened up the festivities with a series of funny stories. Drinks flowed freely—the food was excellent.

On the following night, while the men attended the Alumni Banquet, the women were taken by car to the Playhouse in the Park where they saw an excellent play. Mrs. Emanuel was hostess to the ladies for the evening.

Many letters of regret were sent in and those of us who were present were sorry they couldn't attend. We were sorry to hear about Sol Herman; he's been a very sick fellow. Lots of luck to him. Emery Herman recently had a stroke; speedy recovery, Em.

During the year our good friend and classmate, Bill Dixon, passed away.

MILTON B. EMANUEL, M.D.
Reunion Chairman

35th Reunion, Class of 1924

Our 35th Reunion proved to be one of the most successful. There were 38 present and all seemed to be in the right frame of mind for a real party and we promptly proceeded to have just that.

Cocktails started at 7:00 P.M. followed by a fine Banquet and cocktails again until the wee hours. It gave us an opportunity to renew old friendships from our college days and to realize that Jefferson had given us all the success of which we ever dreamed. It was a fitting climax after the visiting of the "old grads" to their Alma Mater; at which occasion John Orris so ably represented our Class in his address to them on the past and present aspects of surgery.

Each member present rose to his feet and spoke words of wisdom that could only have been equalled by Socrates. Our only disappointment was that we could not have the rest of our one hundred and four living members present.

It was unanimously agreed that we would turn out another yearbook, bringing our history up to date for our 40th reunion. Each member of the Class is to have his picture taken and send it, along with an autobiography covering the period since graduation, to Aaron Capper at Jefferson Hospital.

Get ready, Fellows, for the 40th Reunion is going to be the very ultimate.

LEWIS H. BACON, M.D.
Chairman

25th Reunion, Class of 1934

The Class of 1934 gathered for a class luncheon at the Cherry Hill Inn, Haddonfield, New Jersey, on June 10th. Dr. J. Parsons Schaeffer was the guest of honor, and after all of the class members had introduced themselves and spoken of their various activities, Dr. Schaeffer gave a talk on his years at Jefferson. All of the class were extremely gratified at Dr. Schaeffer's participation and enjoyed his reminiscences very much.

On the evening of June 10th, the class members, with their wives, gathered at the Barclay Hotel for a most enjoyable dinner dance. The entertainment lasted well into the evening and everyone present had a happy evening.

F. JOHNSON PUTNEY, M.D.
Chairman

30th Reunion—Class of 1929

I am pleased to report that there was an excellent turn-out for the 30th Reunion, Class of 1929. We all have obligations to meet during this time, but we unselfishly gave enough time to reminisce with our fellow classmates.

The outing at Silver Lake Inn was very informal and afforded opportunities for everyone to visit casually with men they had not seen for sometime. The Dinner-Dance was a social success, and Dr. Patrick Pasquariello lead the dancing with enthusiasm and youth. Dr. Bartlett's remarks were very timely and inspiring.

I want to congratulate my Committee for their splendid co-operation in making our 30th Reunion a success.

ALFRED E. TRONCELLITI, M.D.
Chairman

On June 11th, those members interested in golf were taken to the Seaview Country Club in Absecon, New Jersey, by Dr. Louis K. Collins, and the reports were enthusiastic about the golfing. Prior to the Alumni dinner, a cocktail party was held at the Bellevue Stratford Hotel and some of the members of the class attended this who were not present at the previous functions.

It was suggested by some of the members that the 30th Reunion should be even bigger and better than the 25th, and the possibility of having the reunion at the Seaview Country Club in Absecon, New Jersey, was favorably received by the men present.

F. JOHNSON PUTNEY, M.D.
Chairman

20th Class Reunion
Class of 1939

Wednesday, June 10, 1959, the twentieth reunion of the Class of 1939 had its official beginning with the "Class Reunion Day Clinics" in the Jefferson Clinical Amphitheatre. Classmate "Willie" White, taking time out from his practice of plastic surgery in Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania, highlighted this gathering with a splendid talk "The Surgical Rehabilitation in Leprosy."

For luncheon, this group of thirty-five latter-day graduates were joined by their wives at Lou Tendler's Restaurant on Broad Street. "1939" collegiate hats, a good meal in one of the private dining rooms and the renewing of old friendships sparked the social activities to a good start. The real social entre, however, was the visit to the Doylestown farm of Grace and Paul Fried. We shall never forget the delight of the swimming pool in the 95 degree temperature, the fancy diving, the dart board experts, the unlimited refreshments, the long tables on the spacious lawn, the steamed clams with all the trimmings, the late evening dancing, and the graciousness of our hosts.

The following day we were pleased to see that some men and their wives who were unable to attend the previous day's festivities were able to join us at the cocktail party at the Bellevue-Stratford and to attend the Annual Alumni Banquet.

It was particularly pleasing to see those who traveled long distances to attend the reunion. Included among these were the Al Maisels' from New Mexico, the Wayne Geib's from South Dakota, the Paul Kennedy's from Buffalo, New York, the Fred Sullivan's from Fall River, Massachusetts, and the many others from points in between.

We hope that everyone shall have the pleasure of attending the next reunion. Our deep appreciation to our Co-Chairmen Paul Fried and Jim Carty for making this a happy and successful reunion.

JOHN H. HODGES, M.D., '39

15th Reunion, Class of S-1944

The Fifteenth Reunion activities of the S-'44 Class members and their wives centered around a headquarters room, cocktail party and dinner. All of these functions took place in the Bellevue-Stratford Hotel.

In addition, highlighting the Class Reunion Day agenda on June 10th in the Pit, our class President, Fred Weiland, expounded humorously, philosophically, yet seriously concerning radiography of the nasal bones.

The headquarters room, conveniently located on the second floor of the Bellevue, served as an area for meeting, relaxing, thirst-quenching and catching up on happenings in the past fifteen years. The room was available all day Wednesday and Thursday, June 10th and 11th.

The cocktail party and dinner were held on Wednesday evening, June 10th, in the lovely air-conditioned surroundings of the North Roof Garden on the 18th floor of this Hotel. The ladies were particularly lovely and the men more handsome and distinguished than ever. There were no speeches, but everyone arose in turn and related place of residence, area of professional interest, number of children and other points of interest.

SAMUEL S. CONLY, JR., M.D.
Chairman
15th Reunion, Class of J-1944

The Class of January 1944 held its 15th Class Reunion on June 10, 1959, in the Mirage Room of the Barclay beginning with cocktails at 6:30 p.m. A total of 76 Class members and wives attended this very pleasant affair. Of interest is the fact that three came from as far away as our new State, Hawaii, these being Dr. and Mrs. James T. S. Wong and Dr. Richard D. Moore.

Those who attended the Alumni Dinner on Thursday evening assembled before going into the dining room to don identifying brown derbies.

ROBERT L. BRECKENRIDGE, M.D.
Chairman

10th Reunion, Class of 1949

The Class of 1949 held its Tenth Reunion on June 10, 1959 in the Mirror Room of the Warwick Hotel. Many old friends met again for the first time in ten years during the cocktail hour. It was astonishing how our classmates seemed to have changed on first glance, and then it seemed that we had never been separated for more than a year.

Cocktails were followed by a really wonderful dinner and then by a dance. There were no speeches and everyone thoroughly enjoyed himself. Eighty classmates and wives attended.

The evening could not have been nicer or more pleasant.

ROBERT G. JOHNSON, M.D.
Chairman

5th Reunion, Class of 1954

The Class of 1954 held a dinner-dance at Drexelbrook on June 10th for members and their wives. Following this a large segment of the 28 people present continued the party at the Media Inn.

Thirty-eight members and their wives were present at a cocktail party at the Bellevue-Stratford prior to the Alumni Dinner on June 12th.

Those travelling the longest distances to join us were Dr. and Mrs. Joseph Phifer from Illinois, Dr. and Mrs. John Hamilton from Alabama, and Dr. Joseph White from California.

JOSEPH J. A. McMULLIN, M.D., 4587—7th Street, Riverside, California, writes: "Mrs. McMullin and I recently returned from a two months' trip to Japan. We enjoyed the ocean travel on Navy transports and numerous sight seeing excursions on one or two day trips out of Tokyo. We also dutifully visited the tourist attractions in Tokyo, and I enjoyed visits to three of the hospitals: Tokyo University, Jikei-Kai Medical College, and St. Luke's. Most of the doctors spoke English, and I was favorably impressed by their competence and friendliness.

MARSHALL C. RUMBAUGH, M.D., 10 W. Dorrance Street, Kingston, Pennsylvania, was a patient for a short time at Jefferson Hospital, but his many friends will be glad to know that he is now at home and enjoying a good rest and recuperation at his summer place at Harvey's Lake.

FRANCIS ST. CLAIR REILLY, M.D., 102 Brown Street, Blairsville, Pennsylvania, writes: "I received today the gold 50-year button. I regret my inability to be present at the Alumni Dinner and wish to express my appreciation and thanks. My local county society (Indiana) made quite a thing of it and gave a testimonial dinner to three members who were 50-year men."

1917
HENRY L. BOCKUS, M.D., 250 S. 18th Street, Philadelphia 3, Pennsylvania,—
More than 180 practicing physicians from the United States, Europe, Africa, the Near and Far East, and Latin America attended the first annual meeting of the Bockus International Alumni Society of Gastroenterology at The Barclay, Philadelphia, on June 3.
The society was organized in the spring of 1958 in honor of Dr. Henry L. Bockus, Professor and Chairman of the Department of Medicine of the University of Pennsylvania Graduate School of Medicine, by gastroenterologists from all over the world who have trained under Dr. Bockus' direction.

His former graduate students presented a portrait of Dr. Bockus to the University on the occasion of his retirement from the department chairmanship July 1, after 30 years. They also presented to Dr. Bockus a specially designed map of the world, showing the location of the 325 gastroenterologist-alumni of his program.

WILLIAM E. WRANG, M.D., 294 Main Street, Middletown, Connecticut—
A testimonial dinner was recently given in honor of Dr. Wrang as Middletown's Man of the Year.
Some 450 friends, from all walks of life, turned out for the dinner, including a former classmate, Dr. Louis Loffredos, Louis Perini, Chairman of the Board of Directors, The Milwaukee National League Baseball Club, and Vernon Gomez, former New York Yankee pitcher.

1920
CLYDE L. MATTAS, M.D., Scranton National Bank Bldg., Scranton, Pennsylvania, was recently installed as President of the Lackawanna (Pennsylvania) County Heart Association.

1922
MARSHALL R. METZGAR, M.D., 41 N. 7th Street, Stroudsburg, Pennsylvania, was honored by the Exchange Club of East Stroudsburg at its 11th Annual Golden Deeds Award Banquet on June 1. Dr. Metzgar received the award for his lifetime of service to the community.
For 35 years a country doctor in Monroe County, Dr. Metzgar has been a member of Stroud Union School Board over 20 years, is a trustee of Lafayette College and has delivered over 4,100 babies during his medical practice, which began in Stroudsburg in 1924.

In 1929 Dr. Metzgar married the former Edith Jennings, a nurse, from Hackettstown, New Jersey. They have two sons, Marshall T., who is a doctor at the Lankenau Hospital in Philadelphia, and Robert L., who is a student at Drexel Institute, Philadelphia.

JOHN JOSEPH BURNS, M.D., 4705 Springfield Avenue, Philadelphia 43, Pennsylvania, writes:
"Since the day of graduation, my interest, affection and esteem for my Alma Mater and my Class have never waned."

1925
HERBERT T. KELLY, M.D., 1900 Spruce Street, Philadelphia 3, Pennsylvania, discussed the subject "Medical Significance of Equilibration of the Masticating Mechanism" before the American Equilibration Society in Chicago, Illinois, and subsequently was elected to membership.

1926
GERRIT J. BLOEMENDAAL, M.D., Ipswich, South Dakota, writes:
"Had a nice trip to Europe last year. Gladys (Mrs.) and Nancy (daughter) went along. Bought a second-hand car and toured through Netherlands, Belgium, France, Italy, Switzerland, Austria, Germany, Luxemburg. Left the car in Holland. Bill, the oldest boy, is a resident in Orthopedics and Bob, the second one, is interning in Minneapolis General Hospital, Minneapolis."

D. GEORGE BLOOM, M.D., 320 Market Street, Johnstown, Pennsylvania, was recently re-appointed by Governor Lawrence to the State Board of Medical Education and Licensure. Dr. Bloom was first named to the board in 1957 by Governor Leader. Dr. Bloom practiced in Johnstown from 1927 until he was commissioned in the Army Medical Corps in 1942. He served in New Guinea during World War II and resumed his practice in Johnstown in 1946. He is a member of the International College of Surgeons.
BERNARD A. HIRSCHFIELD, M.D., 375 W. State Street, Trenton 8, New Jersey, was one of five physicians who performed an emergency operation with a penknife on a diner in a Trenton restaurant on Friday May 29. He had aspirated a piece of steak, and was unconscious when the doctors intervened. They used whiskey for sterilization in opening the man's trachea.

EDMUND T. LENTZ, M.D., who has been in the Navy for sometime, is retiring from that service and will become Chief Examiner at Norfolk Navy Shipyard. Dr. Lentz was recalled to the service in 1950 and has been stationed in New York, Conn. 3 Staff, as Assistant District Medical Officer.

PASCAL F. LUCCHESI, M.D., Executive Vice-President and Medical Director of Albert Einstein Medical Center, York and Tabor Roads, Philadelphia, Pennsylvania, was elected Vice-President of the Hospital Association of Pennsylvania at the Association's annual meeting in Atlantic City.

Dr. Lucchesi was the first physician to be elected to office in the association since 1943, and the first Philadelphian to be so honored since 1955. The association has 260 members throughout the State. Dr. Lucchesi has been associated with Philadelphia hospitals for more than 30 years and has received a number of awards for his contributions to medical education and public health. He has been executive head of the Einstein Medical Center since 1952.

1927

ORVILLE C. KING, M.D., 330 S. 9th Street, Philadelphia 7, Pennsylvania, has been named Director of the Division of Surgery for The Pennsylvania Hospital, Department for Sick and Injured, 8th & Spruce Streets. This announcement coincides with Dr. King's appointment as Professor of Clinical Surgery, University of Pennsylvania School of Medicine.

1929

ISIDOR S. GEETER, M.D., 92 Fern Street, Hartford, Connecticut, writes:

"You know how proud I am of the members of our Class of '29 and how delighted I am always to be with them. To be absent from our 30th Reunion, therefore, truly saddened me."

Although Dr. Geeter was unable to attend his Class' 30th Reunion because of an obligation he had assumed with the New England Hospital Assembly, he was able to get here for Commencement, when his son David graduated.

1930

FULLER G. SHERMAN, M.D., 204 Delaware Street, Woodbury, New Jersey, has joined the Courtesy Staff of Underwood Hospital, and DON B. WEEMS, M.D., Wenonah, New Jersey, has been transferred from the Courtesy Staff to the Active Staff.

Dr. Sherman has practiced in Woodbury since 1931. He has been on the Medical Staff of Pennsylvania Hospital since 1934 and was recently promoted to the Adjunct Medical Staff of that hospital.

Dr. Weems, who has practiced in Wenonah for 29 years is a trustee of the American Heart Association and of Memorial Hospital.

AARON DEITZ, M.D., 4314 Gallatin Street, Hyattsville, Maryland, began on May 1st a six year term of office as a member of the Maryland State Board of Health.

A native of Hyattsville, Dr. Deitz has practiced medicine in Hyattsville since 1932, except for the time he served in the United States Navy Medical Corps during World War II. He was instrumental in obtaining the original grant to build the Prince George's General Hospital in Cheverly, and he has served three terms at the hospital as President of Staff, a member of the Board of Directors and is now Chief of General Medicine.

Among Dr. Deitz's many activities, he has served as Health Officer of Hyattsville, Medical Examiner of the Draft Board, President of the County Medical Society, President of the Social Service League of the County, a member of the Committee of the Prince George's Heart Association and organiser and President of the Washington Chapter of the Alumni Association of The Jefferson Medical College.

Dr. Deitz is married and has two children; Beverly, a junior at American University, and Robert, a graduate of the University of Pennsylvania, who has been accepted for admittance to Jefferson.

1933

ANTHONY RUPPERSBERG, JR., M.D., 500 S. Drexel Avenue, Columbus, Ohio, together with Richard L. Meiling, M.D., presented a scientific exhibit entitled "Maternal Mortality in Franklin County—A Decade of Maternal Death Studies" at the annual meeting of the Ohio State Medical Society, and it was awarded the "Certificate of Merit." The exhibit was also shown at the Convention of the A.M.A. in Atlantic City where it attracted much attention.

1934

ROSCOE P. KANDLE, M.D., 243 Demorest Avenue, Staten Island, New York, was recently appointed New Jersey State Commissioner of Health. He will assume his new duties July 1.

Since 1954 Dr. Kandle has served as Deputy Commissioner of the New York City Department of Health. He is one of the country's leading authorities on public health, and has played a major role in the three-and-a-half-year task of completely revising and modernizing the New York City Sanitary Code.

Dr. Kandle is a member of the executive committee of the National Health Council and of the faculty of the Department of Public Health, School of Medicine, Yale University.

DAVID ECKSTEIN, M.D., 725 Greenwood Avenue, Trenton 9, New Jersey, was elected 1939 Chairman of the Medical Board of the Home for the Aged, Sons and Daughters of Israel, of Trenton.

LEO M. WACHTEL, M.D., 2708 St. Johns Avenue, Jacksonville 5, Florida, has been elected to the office of President-elect of the Florida Medical Association and will take office next spring.

1940

JOHN M. WILLIS, JR., M.D., 3113 N. Trinidad Street, Arlington, Virginia, writes:

"My tour in the Pentagon is drawing to a close. In July, I leave for Korea to serve as the Surgeon of the Korean Military Advisory Group. It is a 13 month tour, so I will miss our 20th reunion. My wife and children remain here."

1945

WILLIAM C. GAVENTA, M.D., Eku Baptist Hospital, Eku Via Sapele, Nigeria, West Africa, writes:

"We are heading home in June, via the Continent for three weeks. We fly to Rome, then to Frankfort to collect a Volkswagen. Then we'll have three weeks in the Alps, and sail home from Rotterdam."

JOHN C. SANDER, M.D., 330 N. Bromley Avenue, Scranton, Pennsylvania, spoke at the first session of the special baby sitting training course sponsored by Allied Services for the Handicapped held in the Chamber of Commerce Building, Scranton.

Dr. Sander, vice-president of the Lackawanna County Association for Retarded Children, discussed "The Causes and Effects of Handicaps in Children," dealing mainly with the various types of mental retardation.

1946

M. O. LEWIS, M.D., 506 Dudley Avenue, Narberth, Pennsylvania, writes:

"As you know, I've been on surgical assignments in U.S. Public Health Service Hospitals at Staten Island, Fort Worth, Boston and Memphis. I’ve long felt the need for a thorough re-grounding in basic sciences, for I had been working in busy spots with almost no time for reading. I have been fortunate in being able to get away for 8 months to attend the University of Pennsylvania Graduate School of Medicine. Their course in ‘correlated basic sciences’ is a dandy. For a few months I felt like I did freshman year—do you remember the full days with insufficient time (or strength left) at night to study? The course is crammed into 46 hours a week for 16 weeks. Then the same in surgery, another 16 weeks.

"Next job is to run a 70-bed PHS Indian Hospital in Tahlequah, Oklahoma. It is in a college town in a wooded section of Eastern Oklahoma that promises to be a fine place for the four children (now 8 to 13). They are looking forward to horses, hunting, etc. I’ll be doing the surgery, and have three younger physicians and a dentist on the staff. There are some 30,000 Cherokees in the area and the institution has been a busy one. I’ve spent the winter studying surgery, and now I’d better get to reading Obstetrics and Pediatrics."

Joseph L. Mellick, M.D., 1152 N. 63rd Street, Philadelphia 31, Pennsylvania, writes:

"I am a Diplomate of the American Board of Obstetrics and Gynecology and a Fellow of the American College of Obstetricians and Gynecologists as well as of the American College of Surgeons.

"I practice in West Philadelphia and suburbs and on June 1, 1959 I opened an additional office at The Broomall Professional Building, 2633 West Chester Pike, Broomall, Pennsylvania, retaining my Philadelphia office, however.

"My daughter is 6, a son is 5, and a baby son is over a year old. The five of us live in Haverton."

1948

Joseph L. Carroll, M.D., was appointed Attending Physician in Gastroenterology at the recently opened Holy Redeemer Hospital, Meadowbrook, Pennsylvania. He is now residing and practicing at 1404 Huntingdon Pike, Huntingdon Valley, Pennsylvania.

Murray Kahn, M.D., has returned to active practice, limited to the field of Dermatology, at 214 Engle Street, Englewood, New Jersey.

C. Jules Rominger, M.D., Misericordia Hospital, Philadelphia, Pennsylvania—At the 44th Annual Meeting in Harrisburg, the Pennsylvania Radiological Society awarded first prize in the therapy section to Dr. C. Jules Rominger and Dr. S. Gordon Castiglione.

Dr. Rominger and Dr. Castiglione submitted a revolutionary new field shaping device for use with super-voltage X-ray and cobalt beam therapy. By using finger-tip controls and sliding glass panels the new device eliminates difficult measurements and cumbersome movements of lead bricks used to shield off excess X-rays.

Since 1954 Dr. Rominger has been Associate Radiologist at Misericordia Hospital. He has also been an associate of Dr. Castiglione, who is Chief of the Radiation Therapy Section at American Oncologic Hospital.

1949

E. J. Chmelewski, M.D., 22 E. Pine Street, Millville, New Jersey, writes:

"I've finally gotten into the swing of things since getting out of the Navy in February '57. Practice, like the weather in Southern New Jersey, is great.

We have six children now—four girls and two boys. They certainly keep Jane going 24 hours a day."

George R. Farrell, M.D., 4747 Mission Blvd., San Diego 9, California, writes:

"Things are very busy out here—I am still in General Practice. The family has not increased in size, still four babies and one dog, poodle type.

"I see Bill Kuzman all the time since he only lives a block away from me. He reads my EKG's for me. Read with interest the note about Harry Hurley becoming Professor of Dermatology at Hahmemann. I expect to see Johnny Mills for the week-end of May 23 while in Long Beach for American Heart Association, local convention. Will probably run into R. Z. Hart in July on my way to Las Vegas for a week-end. Stayed with the Winches in April while attending the National A.A.G.P. convention in San Francisco. While there I ran into Conrad March, Conrad Zagory and Joe Gormley."

Frederick A. Feddeman, M.D., 403 S. Jackson Avenue, Lexington, Virginia,—

Mrs. Feddeman writes that Dr. Feddeman "is enjoying his role of Washington and Lee University physician with a General Practice partnership to boot. He and his partner are also county medical examiners, so life is seldom dull.

Our four children (3 boys and 1 girl) are fine, healthy specimens. We built a home a mile out of town two years ago, and they did not appreciate moving away from their playmates, but now the town is enlarging out this way so things are improving."

Stanley J. Gusciora, M.D., 301 Lexington Avenue, Passaic, New Jersey, has been made a Diplomate of the American Board of Obstetrics and Gynecology. He is chief of the third gynecologic division and on the associate obstetrical division at St. Mary's Hospital, Passaic.

Dr. Gusciora started practice in Passaic in 1954. Last year he was elected a Fellow of the American College of Obstetricians and Gynecologists.

Robert E. T. Stark, M.D., 2021 N. 24th Street, Phoenix, Arizona, writes:

"I continue to enjoy receiving the quarterly Alumni Bulletin, and keeping track of Jefferson’s affairs and progress.

"There are not too many Jefferson Alumni out in Arizona who graduated recently. There are some like Joe Bank and Mayo Robb who graduated in the early 20's, but other than Paul McFarland, 1939, I don't think there are any other Jefferson graduates in Phoenix. I see my classmate, Ted Von Dedenroth, several times yearly—mostly when he comes up to Phoenix for visits.

"At the present time, I am about to bring in an associate to share my general practice of medicine. I have just added on to my medical building, and now have 2,500 square feet of space with nice laboratory and x-ray facilities.

"For the past year I have been president of the Maricopa County Catholic Physicians Guild, vice-president of the Maricopa County Chapter of the American Academy of General Practice, and I am on the General Practice Committees of two of our five local hospitals.

"In the family department, there have been no additions in the last three and a half years to our five boys and a girl."

1950

Donald K. Sass, M.D., 169 East Avenue, Woodstown, New Jersey, recently passed his Boards in Obstetrics and Gynecology. He is now a Diplomate in Obstetrics and Gynecology and specializes in those fields in Salem, New Jersey, where he has set up his practice.

Dr. Sass served as a Captian in the United States Army for two years and did postgraduate work at Jefferson Hospital.

1952

Leo C. Partyka, M.D., 6160th U. S. A. F. Hospital, A.P.O. No. 929, San Francisco, California, is to be congratulated on passing his boards in general surgery.

Dr. Partyka will be in Japan for three years, and would appreciate very much hearing from some members of his Class while he is overseas.
1953

Harold Y. Allen, M.D., has been appointed to the newly-created position of Medical Director of the New York, New Haven & Hartford Railroad, with home office in New Haven, Connecticut. The primary responsibility of this position is to organize and develop a Medical Department within the concept of Preventive Medicine. He assumed his new duties June 1, 1959. After graduation and internship at Jefferson and a year of General Practice, Dr. Allen studied Industrial Hygiene at the Graduate School of Public Health, University of Michigan. In February, 1957 he became Medical Director of the Buick-Oldsmobile-Pontiac Assembly Division, General Motors Corporation, Kansas City.

A fifth child, fourth son, Dann Thomas, was born to Dr. & Mrs. Allen on April 17, 1959.

1954

David H. Schonholz, M.D., writes that he is going into practice of Obstetrics and Gynecology at 111 Park Avenue, New York City, and will be affiliated with Mt. Sinai Hospital. He is also doing Obstetric and Gynecological Endocrinology and Biochemistry on a Fellowship.

E. Franklin Stone, Jr., M.D., is presently serving a Pediatric Residency at St. Christopher’s Hospital, Lawrence & Huntingdon Streets, Philadelphia 33, Pa.

Richard H. Schwartz, M.D., Dartmouth House J-2, 325 Dartmouth Avenue, Swarthmore, Pennsylvania, was honored by The Philadelphia Obstetrical Society recently for his research work in connection with shock due to overwhelming infection.

Dr. Schwartz is a Resident in Obstetrics and Gynecology at the Philadelphia General Hospital.

F. William Sunderman, Jr., M.D., who is head of the Chemistry Branch of the United States Naval Medical School, Bethesda, Maryland, has been appointed Consultant in Clinical Pathology to the National Institutes of Health.

1956

Edward D. McLaughlin, M.D., Foulk Road, Boothwyn, Pennsylvania, recently won a $250 second-place prize for scientific exhibits at the 9th Annual Student Medical Association Convention in Chicago. The prize was in the inter-resident group. The contest is held to encourage the use of exhibits to dramatize medical research.

Joseph L. Magrath, M.D., 19 Elliott Avenue, Bryn Mawr, Pennsylvania, was released from active duty in the United States Navy and began a residency in surgery at the Bryn Mawr Hospital on July 1st.

Bertram H. Shapiro, M.D., 1414 N. 4th Street, Philadelphia 22, Pa., who is now a Captain in the Army of the U.S.M.C. stationed at White Sands Missile Range, New Mexico, will begin his Residency in Anesthesiology at the Columbia Presbyterian Medical Center, New York City, September 1, 1959.

Dr. and Mrs. James R. Stull were recently commissioned Medical Missionaries to Africa by the United Lutheran Church of America. As of July 1 their address will be: Lutheran Mission, Monrovia, Liberia, Africa.
