ALUMNI ASSOCIATION HOLDS

Dr. Benjamin Haskell

Dr. Benjamin Haskell assumed the Presidency of the Jefferson Alumni Association at its Annual Business Meeting and Dinner on February 28, 1963. The dinner was held in the Mirage Room of The Barclay and 90 alumni and guests attended.

Dr. Willauer opened the meeting by welcoming the guests and spoke of the great pleasure it had been, despite trials, tribulations and travels, to serve as President of the Association during the past year.

He then asked Mr. James A. Large, Chairman of the Board of Trustees, to tell the guests of progress in Jefferson's building program.

Mr. Large first congratulated Dr. Willauer on the Association's accomplishments and progress under his leadership during his term of office. He said that he continues to be deeply impressed by the devotion and dedicated interest evidenced by Jefferson Alumni.

Chairman Large spoke also of the benefit the Board of Trustees has derived from the two meetings with the Alumni Advisory Council. The direct communication and free exchange of ideas and suggestions which are possible at these meetings have proven helpful to both the Board and the Council.

Mr. Large commended the Annual Giving Fund Committee and Dr. Fry, its Chairman, for the record amount given by Jefferson Alumni last year and for having won the American Alumni Council's award for our 13th Drive. He also commented that he felt the decision to continue Annual Giving during the capital campaign was a wise one.

In discussing the Building Fund Campaign, Mr. Large said that the Jefferson and Philadelphia phase of the Drive has been underway approximately two months, with some four months to go if it is to be concluded by June 30 as planned.

"At this time," he said, "we are pleased with the results up to this point. We feel that success is in the air!"

Mr. Large announced that Mr. Casimir A. Sienkiewicz, Chairman of the Board of Central-Penn National Bank, has accepted the general chairmanship of the campaign. Three members of the Board of Trustees, Messrs. J. Howard Pew, Lessing J. Rosenwald and Percival E. Foerderer are serving as honorary chairmen, with D. Hays Solis-Cohen, Esquire and William F. Kelly as vice chairmen. He said that, of course, the entire Board is behind the campaign and the 15 members have indicated that some $2 million in pledges from companies and foundations with which they are associated, as well as from their personal resources, will be forthcoming for the campaign.

Mr. Large reported the fine response—total subscriptions of more than $103,000 by the non-faculty employees of the College and Hospital.

The faculty solicitation is underway, with Dr. Theodore R. Fetter as chairman and Dr. Peter A. Herbut as vice chairman. The goal for the faculty division has been set at $700,000.

Mr. Large said that Mrs. Michael Foley has accepted the Chairmanship of the Women's Board which has a goal of $225,000, of which some 70% has already been subscribed.

Alumnae of the School of Nursing are beginning to organize under the leadership of both the President of the Association, Mrs. Perma E. Davis, and Mrs. Henrietta Spruance, who will be campaign chairmen.

Mr. Large reported that the following additional campaign divisions have been organized: the Corporate Division, headed by Mr. Ned Ramsey, President of Philadelphia Electric Company, with a goal of $1 million; the Commercial-Industrial Division, headed by Mr. Thomas C. Pillion, President of the Albert M. Greenfield Company, with a goal of $500,000 to $600,000 and the Foundations Division, headed by Frank N. Mancill, Esquire. A goal has not yet been established for this Division but it is hoped that the response from foundations will be very good.

He commented that it is still too early in the campaign to give significant totals but in recent weeks we have received a pledge of $250,000 from a family foundation, $150,000 from a large neighboring utility, $125,000 from two pharmaceutical houses, $60,000 in pledges from two family trusts handled by Central-Penn and substantial commitments from each of our banking institutions.

"Finally," Mr. Large said, "under our timetable, all Alumni, except those on faculty and staff, will be solicited during 1963-64. We have discussed plans for this solicitation with Association officers and with the Advisory Council and intend to follow their suggestion that we work, as far as possible, through Alumni Chapters."

Dean Sodeman then told the guests of the new plan which has been worked out with Pennsylvania State University, whereby a student can earn an undergraduate degree and a medical degree in five years. (A full explanation of the plan will be found in a separate article on page 34 of this issue.)

Dr. Sodeman pointed out that there is a growing trend in all colleges toward accelerated courses, trimesters, etc. and because of this trend it becomes increasingly important to indoctrinate students as to Alumni work and responsibilities while they are still students.

He said that both the college student and the graduate student have changed. They are no longer much interested in extra-curricular activities—in fact, it has been predicted that within ten years there will be no more college football. Many students are married and have children so they are no longer interested in fraternities. With accelerated courses and plans such as ours with Penn State, even the class structure is threatened.

Dr. Sodeman said that he is aware that our Alumni Association contacts the students several times during their four years at Jefferson, but he urged that consideration be given to even more and closer contacts in an effort to strengthen the students' future ties to the College.

President Willauer then opened the business portion of the Annual Meeting by calling on the Secretary and Treasurer for their reports. Reports by Chairmen of the Standing Committees followed and, at their conclusion, were unanimously accepted by the members present.

Dr. Thaddeus L. Montgomery, the Necrologist, read the names of the Alumni who had passed away during the past year and a moment of silence in honor of their memories was observed.

Dr. Marshall C. Rumbaugh, Chairman of the Nominating Committee, then read the slate of Officers, Executive Committee members and nominees for the Alumni Advisory Council's three vacancies. There were no nominations from the floor and the Officers and Executive Committee members were unanimously declared elected. In the case of the Advisory Council, ballots will go out to the entire Alumni Association in the Spring.

Dr. Abraham Cantarow, Class of 1924, is President-elect. Vice Presidents are: Doctors John H. Hodges, '39, Kenneth E. Fry, '31, Paul A. Bowers, '37 and Hammell P. Shipps, '26. Dr. Herbert A. Luscombe, '40, was re-elected as Treasurer and Dr. John N. Lindquist, '43, was elected as Secretary of the Association.

Dr. Willauer introduced Dr. Cantarow to the guests and then escorted the new President, Dr. Haskell, to the podium and turned the meeting over to him.

Dr. Haskell said that he was deeply honored at having been chosen to serve as President and that he is looking forward to the coming year with keen anticipation and pleasure. Following these closing remarks, he adjourned the meeting.
Dr. Benjamin Haskell took office on February 28 as 1963-1964 President of the Alumni Association of Jefferson Medical College.

Born in Norfolk, Virginia, Dr. Haskell completed his pre-medical training at Temple University in 1919 and received his medical degree from Jefferson Medical College in 1923. He served his internship from 1923-1926 in the Jefferson Medical College Hospital, and a residency in Pathology at Jefferson from 1923-1924.

In 1927, Dr. Haskell was appointed Clinical Assistant in Jefferson's Department of Proctology, a post he held until 1938 when he was named Chief Clinical Assistant in Proctology. In 1946, he was promoted from Associate in Proctology to Assistant Professor. In 1950, he was appointed an Associate Professor and, two years later, assumed the post of Clinical Professor of Proctology.

Dr. Haskell has served as Chief of the Out-Patient Proctology Clinic at Jefferson Hospital since 1937 and, from 1946 to 1956, was Attending Proctologist to Mount Sinai Hospital in Philadelphia. From 1934-1938, he was affiliated with Northwestern Hospital in the city.

Dr. Haskell has been certified by the American Board of Surgery in Proctology and the American Board of Proctology. He served as President of the Pennsylvania Proctologic Society in 1956, and currently is a Fellow of the American College of Surgeons, American Proctologic Society, and College of Physicians of Philadelphia. He has contributed widely to scientific journals in his field.

He has served the Alumni Association actively for many years in a number of capacities. For some time, he has been a member of the Executive Committee of the Alumni Association and, at one time, was Class Agent for the Class of 1923 in the Alumni Annual Giving Fund Drive.

Dr. Haskell and his wife, Gertrude, reside at 250 South 17th Street in Philadelphia. Their three children are Jean, the wife of Dr. Richard J. Feinberg, Assistant Professor of Pediatrics at Georgetown University; Dr. David S. Haskell, a graduate of Jefferson Medical College, Class of 1960, who is serving a residency at Waringham Park Hospital, Surry, England; and John Haskell, who resides in New York.
NECROLOGY
DEATHS REPORTED SINCE LAST ANNUAL BUSINESS MEETING
FEBRUARY 15, 1962

OMNIPOTENCE

There may be other creatures with immortal souls,
In some remote abode in distance space;
There may be people there with lofty souls,
Aspiring members of a human race.

I may not rise above the ties that bind me close to earth,
I may not travel far aloft to some celestial sphere,
But Thou, O Lord, art with me on the planet of my birth,
Creator and the Master of all planets far and near.

MEMBERS of the Alumni Advisory Council visited the College on January 13, 14 and 15 for their semi-annual meetings with the Administration, Faculty and Alumni Groups. Seven of the nine members, Doctors Allman, Bockus, Braceland, DeTroia, Johnston, Rumbaugh and Ruppersberg were present. Doctor Amerise and Doctor de los Reyes unfortunately were unable to come.

Agenda for the group began with a dinner with the Dean on Sunday, January 13, at which overall College problems were discussed. On Monday morning, after an orientation discussion, the Council members were assigned to visit specific College Departments. Dr. Bockus visited the Department of Medicine, Dr. Rumbaugh the Department of Microbiology, Dr. Ruppersberg the Department of Neurology, Dr. DeTroia the Department of Pathology, Dr. Allman the Department of Preventive Medicine, Dr. Johnston the Department of Surgery and Dr. Braceland the Department of Psychiatry.

Following these visits the Council lunched with members of the Executive Faculty and continued discussions of the various College Departments.

On Monday afternoon members of the Faculty brought the Council up to date on Jefferson’s building program and showed departmental plans for the Basic Science—Student Commons Building.

The Council was told of the Clinical Research Center which is being established and were then taken on tours of the new Rehabilitation Center and the Department of Radiology.

On Monday evening the visitors attended a dinner with officers of the Alumni Association and discussed Alumni activities and plans.

At 9:30 a.m. on Tuesday, the Council met with President Bodine, Mr. Erfit, Mr. Busick and Mr. Machesney, of Ketchum, Inc. and the overall plans and scheduling for Jefferson’s $41 million expansion program were outlined.

At noon the group lunched with members of the Board of Trustees, President Bodine and Dean Sodeman in the Board Room of the Foerdener Pavilion.

During the remainder of the afternoon the Council members discussed the various aspects of their meetings and inspection tours and, with Dr. Rumbaugh as Chairman of the Council and with Dr. DeTroia acting as Secretary in the absence of Dr. de los Reyes, the Council formulated the following report which was submitted to Mr. Large, Chairman of the Board of Trustees:

"Present were: Marshall C. Rumbaugh, M.D., Chairman, David B. Allman, M.D., Henry L. Bockus, M.D., Francis J. Braceland, M.D., Frederick C. DeTroia, M.D., David A. Johnston, M.D., Anthony Ruppersberg, Jr., M.D."
Members of the Executive Faculty discussed departmental problems with Council members at the luncheon on Monday

"Absent were: Anthony D. Amerise, M.D., Joseph de los Reyes, M.D.

"The meeting was called to order by the Chairman, Dr. Marshall C. Rumbaugh. In the absence of Dr. Joseph de los Reyes, the Secretary, Dr. Rumbaugh appointed Dr. Frederick C. DeTroia as Secretary Pro Tem.

"After completing two days of inspection and tours of both physical plant and Departments in groups, the Council members reviewed their observations.

"The plans for future expansion were studied and phases for future development of Jefferson Medical Center were noted and discussed.

1. The Advisory Council feels that talks should be continued toward a possible affiliation with a large university.

2. The Advisory Council looks forward to the time when it will be feasible to follow the method of selection of Heads of Departments in use in some universities. This means that after a selection has been made by the ad hoc committee, approval be sought from the executive council of the faculty, before final appointment by the Board of Trustees.

3. The Council is gratified that its recommendations concerning the Basic Science—Student Commons Building have been successfully executed.

4. The Council is happy with the attempt to properly balance the teaching and research programs in the College. We of the Council hope, with the new developments now going on in the renovations and the proposed new buildings, there always will be this fine balance of teaching and research.

5. The Council notes with favor the possibility of the establishment of an Institute of Human Relations under the aegis of the Department of Psychiatry. Such institution would fill an obvious need and will round out Jefferson's well known intention of the treatment of the whole man.

6. The Council wishes to express its availability for consultation at any time to the Board of Trustees.

7. The Council appreciates the opportunity of acting as liaison to express the philosophy of the Jefferson Alumni to the Board of Trustees.

8. In our Departmental visits we were pleased to note the increased number of young capable physicians who are equally facile in research and clinical teaching.

9. This group has utmost confidence in the President, the Dean, the Executive Faculty and Board of Trustees in administering a difficult task in an excellent and effective manner.

The meeting adjourned at 3:00 p.m., January 15, 1963."

Dr. Rumbaugh, Chairman of the Council, gives a preliminary report to President Bodine and Board Members at a luncheon in the Foerderer Pavilion on Tuesday
Willis F. Manges, M.D., Jefferson's first Professor of Radiology, 1904-1936
"In 1935 approximately 13,500 patients were admitted for examination or treatment. This is in sharp contrast to the 500 patients treated by us in 1903."

To these words, taken from Professor Willis F. Manges' history of the Department of Roentgenology published in The Clinic of the Class of 1936, one may now add, "... which is in sharp contrast to the 65,000 patients seen in 1962."

"The first X-ray equipment was installed ... in 1898. ... The apparatus was moved ... to an irregular space under the old amphitheater. In one corner ... a booth, no larger than a telephone booth, was built to serve as a developing room."

Again, to these words, also taken from Professor Manges, one may add today, "... which is in sharp contrast to the more than 50,000 square feet now occupied by the Department of Radiology in ten different areas scattered throughout the Jefferson Medical Center."

"At first the work was limited to fractures, bone diseases, foreign bodies, large kidney stones and gross lung lesions, mostly surgical conditions," said Professor Manges. To these, too, we may add that in 1963 "... radiology is more concerned with altered physiology, early minute morphologic changes particularly vascular and lymphatic, radioactive isotopes, radiologic physics, and radiation biology."
"Hospitals might be classified as having either a national or a local orientation. The hospital with a national orientation will measure itself against the medical world in general to determine its standard of performance. Its most cherished values are the quality of its research, the kind of training it offers, and the prestige of its staff."*

Professor Philip J. Hodes, Head of the Department of Radiology, came to Jefferson four years ago. His imaginative planning plus an ability to surround himself with cooperative and thoughtful associates of tremendous ability is rapidly regaining for Jefferson the leadership in radiology that it once had.

The hallmark of a modern medical school department is its ability to blend the new with the old, to create new knowledge as it uses the old for the best interest of the sick and the education of those dedicated to their care. To achieve an orderly integration of clinical radiology with teaching and research and to provide an optimal environment for their growth and development, Dr. Hodes structured his department in the following manner:

PROFESSOR AND HEAD OF THE DEPARTMENT
P. J. Hodes, M.D., D.Sci.

PROFESSOR OF RADIOLOGY

DIVISIONS OF

- RADIATION THERAPY
  Simon Kramer, M.D.

- RADIATION BIOLOGY

- ROENTGEN DIAGNOSIS
  G. D. Dodd, M.D.

- RADIOLOGIC PHYSICS
  R. O. Gorson, M.S.

In all, the "full time" staff numbers 167 individuals. Of these, ten are physicians, two radiological physicists, and 21 residents in radiology. Advantage, too, has been taken of a group of ten dedicated superior physicians and physicists who have volunteered their services to the department.

Professor Simon Kramer, Chief of the Division of Radiation Therapy, has brought Jefferson pre-eminence in the field of cancer therapy. Invited regularly as "Visiting Professor" to major therapy centers throughout the country, Professor Kramer's research interests are now being directed toward the effects of radiation upon normal adult and juvenile lungs, protein metabolism in cancer patients with particular reference to the "wasting phenomenon" in advanced malignant disease, the long-term effect of irradiation upon brain tissue, and the effect of radiation therapy in combination with chemotherapy.

"I'd rather do it myself, Dr. Kramer," says second year resident, Dr. Gerald Murdock, discussing a thyroid carcinoma.

The 5000 curie radioactive cobalt "bomb" used by Dr. Kramer for clinical therapy is one of the largest in use. (below) Dr. Kramer prepares to treat a child with a cerebral lesion as he discusses the record with his chief therapy technician, Miss Maureen Gardner, and second year resident, Dr. Martin Podolnick.

Dr. Mansfield goes to England for further training next year and will return thereafter to Dr. Kramer. Dr. Mansfield is the first National Cancer Institute Fellow in Radiation Therapy being trained under the $90,000 award recently received by Dr. Kramer for this purpose.

Walter G. Gunn, M.D., whose major interest is cancer in children, came to Jefferson from San Francisco in 1962. Dr. Gunn assists Dr. Kramer and is the Ethel R. Chernicoff Fellow in Radiation Therapy.

Helping a resident prepare a cancer of the ear for superficial radiation therapy
Appreciating the need for additional research in radiation biology, the Eleanor Roosevelt Cancer Research Foundation in 1961 granted Jefferson $167,000 to help build a research laboratory. With an equal amount of "matching funds," plans have been completed for construction of the Eleanor Roosevelt Cancer Research Institute within the Department of Radiology. This basic research laboratory will be directed by Dr. Robert Brent. Certified in Pediatrics (also Ph.D. in Radiation Biology), Dr. Brent holds a dual appointment. Previously associated with Professor Hans Keitel as Professor of Pediatrics, Dr. Brent now is also Professor of Radiation Biology in the Department of Radiology.

An excellent animal facility is the heart of any radiation biology laboratory. Dr. Brent uses pathogen-free mice bred and carefully cared for by his staff. (left) Mr. Booker Bolden, seen here inspecting a special cage, has been with Dr. Brent since his days as radiation biologist at the Walter Reed Army Medical Center. Mr. Bolden knows the absolute importance of "pure strains" and "controls" in embryogenesis.
(right) Dr. Gary Shaber, first year resident in radiology, has prepared this animal for conditioning in order to evaluate low level exposures to radiation. Fine metal electrodes have been placed by Dr. Shaber in the hypothalamus and the animal has been conditioned to respond to electrical stimuli applied under varying conditions.

The present Eleanor Roosevelt Laboratories are located in several areas on the 11th floor of the College building which houses the Director, his secretary, ten research associates, one assistant, and one animal caretaker. In addition, there are two part-time research fellows, four medical students, and a part-time graduate student, all contained in 1400 square feet of space.

The interests of the Eleanor Roosevelt Laboratory and its Director, Dr. Brent, include cancer chemotherapy, radiation biology, radiation embryology, experimental embryology, immunology, and tissue culture.

Using mice and special techniques developed by Dr. Brent for the study of embryogenesis, competence in many laboratory disciplines is mandatory.

(left) For separating and preparing pure samples of biologically active proteins ion exchange resin chromatography is employed.

(right) A completely staffed histology laboratory is essential for the total evaluation of many experiments in radiation biology.
Embryonic malformations, readily induced by radiation and other physical agents, represent an excellent system for the study of biologic effects. Careful inspection of all post mortem specimens plus careful statistical analysis are constantly demanded.

Whereas the use of tissue culture techniques is relatively new in radiation biology, it offers unusual experimental conditions for evaluating the effects of radiation upon single and multiple biologic systems.

These technicians are preparing and transferring culture media for these purposes.

Among its prime responsibilities, Radiologic Physics lists radiation safety, health physics, isotope control, the calibration of all sources of ionizing radiation (diagnostic, therapeutic, radon seeds, radioactive isotopes) plus the teaching of radiologic physics to medical students, interns, residents, and post-graduates. It teaches physicians of the staff other than radiologists how to handle, control and measure radioactive isotopes so they may be used by other medical disciplines for clinical or research purposes.

The Jefferson Medical Center has been issued a "broad license" for the use of radioactive isotopes by the Atomic Energy Commission. Thus, Jefferson is held responsible for everything in this regard including licensing of users, control of purchasing, radiation safety, disposal of radioactive wastes, etc. To maintain standards and safeguard its "broad license," the Executive Faculty and Attending Staff established "Isotope" and "Radiation Safety" Committees. As one might expect, the Division of Radiologic Physics is intimately involved in these responsibilities.

Miss Dorothy Driscoll, Assistant in Radiologic Physics, is using a scintillation spectrometer to measure the radioactivity in a sample of milk submitted to the physics department by the Philadelphia Department of Health
It is not easy to be licensed to use radioactive isotopes at Jefferson. Those interested must prove competence. Lacking competence, one is taught by the radiologic group. The physical location where it is proposed that the radioactive isotopes are to be used also comes under surveillance, for one must be sure health safety is maintained. It takes almost the full time of one secretary to keep the records required by the Atomic Energy Commission, for Jefferson now has at least forty scientists who use radioactive isotopes.

All shipments of radioactive isotopes are received in the "hot" laboratory of the Physics Division (pictured below) located in the basement of the College. Here they are diluted and distributed. Here, too, radioactive waste material is allowed to decay.
The exploding use of electronic equipment makes a specialist in this discipline an important member of the team. In addition to matters electronic, Mr. Nagalingam Suntharalingam is continuing his studies in medical physics.

For designing new equipment and minor maintenance, a modern machine shop is essential. Mr. Thomas Simpson works here during the day and continues his education at Villanova University at night.

Danger! Low beam! Getting from one physics area to another means walking underground, past boilers, transformers, and under pipes. Physicist Gorson and assistant, carrying electronic equipment from the College to the Hospital Annex, try to keep from fracturing their skulls.

X-ray departments are called, by some, the "hospital crossroads." There, one normally finds intern, chief, resident, medical student and visitors, all interested, consulting, comparing findings as they review their patients' films.

RESIDENT TRAINING IN RADIOLOGY

To qualify for Board Certification in Radiology requires three formal years of training plus a fourth year, during which the candidate does as he pleases. At Jefferson, no one spends less than four years training unless the candidate has had some radiologic training elsewhere. Occasionally, candidates will be accepted for training only in roentgen diagnosis or only in radiation therapy when a minimum of three years are required. The following physicians are now in training:

Program Launched by Jefferson, Penn State
To Cut Medical Training to Five Years

An experimental program to cut three years from the time normally required to obtain undergraduate and medical diplomas will be launched this summer by Jefferson Medical College and The Pennsylvania State University.

Twenty-five carefully selected students will participate in the around-the-calendar program. Successful candidates will receive the Bachelor of Science degree from Penn State between the third and fourth years, and the medical degree from Jefferson at the end of the fifth full year.

In a joint statement, Dr. Eric A. Walker, President of Penn State, and Dr. William A. Sodeman, Dean and Vice President for Medical Affairs at Jefferson, said the program would determine whether both the cost of medical education and the time to obtain it could be reduced while maintaining the quality of training.

"A growing shortage of doctors requires greater use of additional facilities," they said. "Moreover, we believe, a shortened period of more intensive training will attract many gifted students who now shy away from the profession because of the heavy money outlay and excessively long training period required."

Physicians normally must receive at least two and usually three or four years of training beyond the medical degree before they enter practice. The cost and time required for training are believed to be the major factors in a thirty percent decline in medical school applications that took place in the late 1950's. Applications are now considered to be at a dangerously low level to maintain the quality of medical service in the face of a growing population.

In the Penn State-Jefferson program, the first group will enroll at Penn State for the 1965 summer term. Following five straight terms at Penn State, the students then will enroll at Jefferson for the 1964 fall semester. In addition to medical training, students will be taught one course each semester by Penn State professors during the first two years at Jefferson.

The students will return to University Park for the 1965 summer term of academic work, and re-enroll at Jefferson for the second year of medical school in the fall. They will return to University Park for the 1966 summer term, receiving the Bachelor of Science degree at the end of the term and enter their final two years of medical school that fall.

The M.D. degree will be awarded by Jefferson in June 1968. Both Dr. Walker and Dr. Sodeman emphasized that the program would be limited to superior students with exceptional intellectual abilities.

It is offered as an addition to the program of both institutions. Penn State will continue its regular four-year premedical curriculum for more than 250 students who are preparing for admission to medical schools throughout the East. Jefferson's student body of 700 is likewise drawn from many undergraduate schools. The usual policy of admission to Jefferson from other undergraduate colleges will continue.

Students entering the program will be admitted through the office of Dr. Robert G. Bernreuter, Dean of Admissions at Penn State, cooperating with the Admissions Committee at Jefferson.

Medical Education for National Defense

Medical Education for National Defense, commonly known as MEND, has been the focus of increasing attention since its inception in five United States medical schools in 1952. Today, each of the eighty-six American medical schools is participating. A national coordinator in Washington, D. C., is overseer, and each school has its own local coordinator. The prime purpose of the program is to acquaint faculty and students with military and disaster medicine. Each year, symposia, meetings and special courses are attended by members of the faculty.

Jefferson Medical Center is no exception. It has participated in the program since October 1959, with Dr. John H. Gibbon, Jr., as its first Coordinator. In July 1960, Dr. Samuel S. Conly, Jr., Assistant Dean, took over the duties as Jefferson's Coordinator and presently serves as Chairman of the MEND Coordinators of the Philadelphia Medical Schools.
Jefferson's present MEND program was launched at the beginning of the current school year with plans for MEND-sponsored trips and the organization of MEND activities in the Medical Center.

To date, two faculty members have attended a symposium on "CBR Warfare" in Cincinnati, Ohio, and two others went to a symposium on "Environmental Health in Disaster," held in Washington, D.C. Two faculty members attended and reported on the "Mass Casualties" Course at Walter Reed Army Institute of Research, Washington, D.C., from October 30–November 1, 1962. This month, one faculty member travelled to the Medical Field Service School at Brooke Army Medical Center, Fort Sam Houston, Texas, to participate in a one-week symposium. Dr. Conly, accompanied by Jefferson students, has travelled to several MEND activities throughout the country, returning with valuable information to help further the College's MEND program.

The program at Jefferson is related to disaster planning in the Medical Center. A newly formed committee, the Disaster Planning Committee, straddles the Hospital and College, and consists of the heads of the Departments of Radiology (Chairman), Medicine and Surgery. The MEND Coordinator is Chairman of an Ad Hoc Working Committee which recently has reviewed and revised, for senior committee approval, the disaster plans of the Jefferson Hospital and Medical Center.

Various aspects of disaster and military medicine are being taught in appropriate courses; for example, Aerospace Medicine was included in the Physiology course, Chemical Warfare Agents in the Pharmacology course, etc.

In May 1962, Jefferson Hospital participated in a city-wide disaster drill. Medical students served as casualties, litter-bearers and observers. Walkie-talkie equipment and wound-simulating moulages, procured through the MEND program, contributed to the educational aspects of the drill.

In November 1962, a 200-bed Civil Defense Emergency Hospital was on display in the College's McClellan Hall for one week. Opened to the public, it attracted civic groups, staffs of other Philadelphia hospitals, groups of service men, civil defense workers, and a large number of out-of-town and out-of-state visitors.

Two MEND speakers, both Alumni of the College, spoke at the Dean's Hour on the topic of "Mass Casualties." On December 5, 1962, Colonel George F. Rumer, M.D., Class of 1943, spoke, and, on December 12, Colonel Richard H. Ross, M.D., Class of September—1944, addressed the students and faculty.

As part of the MEND program at Jefferson, four hours of instruction in First Aid have this year been given to the Freshman Class. The Junior and Senior classes have received copies of "Emergency War Surgery NATO Handbook." The Freshman and Sophomore classes will receive copies of the new American Medical Association First Aid Manual.

A MEND shelf has been assigned in Jefferson's library, where reprints and brochures on recent developments in military and disaster medicine are on file. Another visual aid is a set of slides, purchased with MEND funds, which illustrate the Emergency War Surgery NATO Handbook.

For closer liaison with students, there is a newly formed Committee of Student Council, whose representative works closely with Dr. Conly on all MEND activities.

In January, Dr. Conly attended the MEND Coordinators Conference, held in San Juan, Puerto Rico, chairing a discussion group on "Radiation Medicine in Relation to MEND." From October 15 to 19, 1962, Dr. Conly and Mr. Marvin Hyett, Chairman of the Student Council MEND Committee, attended the 11th Annual National Conference of the United States Civil Defense Council in Knoxville, Tennessee.

Jefferson representatives will participate in other MEND activities which appear on the 1962-63 calendar of events. These include:

1. Management of Mass Casualty Courses
2. Symposium: "Environmental Aspects of Defense Against CBR Warfare"
3. Symposium: "Infectious Diseases in Biological Warfare and Global Medicine"
4. Symposium: "The Medical Aspects of Missiles and Rockets"
5. Symposium: "Radiological Defense and Treatment of Radiation Injury"
6. Civil Defense Meetings
7. Special Course: "The Pathology of Radiation Injury"
8. Special Course "Surgical and Orthopedic Aspects of Trauma"
9. Special Course: "Pathology of Tropical and Other Exotic Diseases"
10. Courses in Public Health and Medical C. and B. (Chemical and Biological) Defense

Complex as it is, the MEND program at Jefferson is highly organized and efficiently carried out as part of the entire national program. Faculty members are becoming increasingly aware of MEND by actual participation in the activities and by representing Jefferson at these activities throughout the United States. Students are being made to realize the importance of MEND training both in their regular courses and through special functions.
News of College Departments

ADMINISTRATION

Dr. William A. Sodeman, Dean and Vice-President for Medical Affairs, participated in the 14th annual scientific meeting of the Mississippi Chapter of the American Academy of General Practice, held in Jackson, Mississippi, September 26-27, 1962. He was one of several outstanding medical speakers featured at the meeting.

Dean Sodeman collaborated with the deans of five other Pennsylvania medical schools recently in preparing a report, issued in January, on "Medical Education in Pennsylvania: Past, Present, Future." The deans acted as a panel of expert consultants at the request of the Joint Appropriations Committee of the Pennsylvania State Legislature and the Council on Higher Education of the Commonwealth.

Dr. Samuel S. Conly, Jr., Assistant Dean, accepted, on behalf of Jefferson Medical College, a salute from the Philadelphia Chapter of the American Cancer Society and the City of Philadelphia, recently. He acknowledged the honor by signing the Society's salute guest book at their Philadelphia Cancer exhibit. Dr. William B. Kennedy, Director of the local Society, and Associate Dean of the University of Pennsylvania School of Medicine, presented the honor.

BIOCHEMISTRY

Dr. Abraham Cantarow, Professor of Biochemistry and Head of the Department (Jefferson, 1924), has been appointed representative of the American Association of Cancer Research on the Program Committee of the Fifth National Cancer Conference, to be held in September 1964.

Dr. Romano H. De Meio, Associate Professor of Biochemistry, spent a month at the Institute for Cellular Biology of the University of Cordoba (Argentina) in the latter part of October and beginning of November, 1962. While there, he initiated research work on sulfur metabolism of the chicken embryo which will be continued with the advice and cooperation of his laboratory at Jefferson. He also delivered lectures at the Cordoba Academy of Sciences and at the Faculty of Sciences of the University of Buenos Aires on the role of "active sulfate" in sulfur metabolism.

MEDICINE

Dr. Robert I. Wise, Magee Professor of Medicine and Head of the Department, attended the ninth annual General Practice Review of the University of Colorado Medical Center in Denver, from January 13-19, 1963, and spoke on "The Selection of Antibiotics in Infectious Disease." The review course, which attracted physicians from all parts of the country, is sponsored jointly by the Colorado Academy of General Practice and Lederle Laboratories. Dr. Wise was one of six nationally recognized authorities in various fields who were invited to address the course participants.

On January 21, Dr. Wise spoke to members of the Montour (Pa.) County Medical Society at their regular meeting in Danville, Pennsylvania. His topic was "Selection of Antibiotics."

Dr. C. Wilmer Wirts, Professor of Clinical Medicine (Jefferson, 1934), addressed the staff of Harrisburg (Pa.) Polyclinic Hospital, November 13, 1962, on "Nutritional and Drug Therapy of Gallbladder Disease and Pancreatic Insufficiency."

On November 26, he participated in a program sponsored by the Section on General Medicine of the Philadelphia College of Physicians, discussing "Cytologic Diagnosis of Gastrointestinal Malignancy."

On February 13, 1963, he addressed the staff of Easton (Pa.) Hospital on the topic of "Chronic Biliary Tract Obstruction and Pancreatitis."

Dr. Edward L. Bortz, Honorary Clinical Professor of Medicine, spoke at the annual meeting of the American Medical Women's Association in Los Angeles, California, on November 29, 1962. His subject was "The Family Unit and the Physician."

Dr. Harold L. Israel, Clinical Professor of Medicine (Jefferson, 1934), spoke on "Thromboembolism and Chronic Bronchitis" in a post-graduate symposium at Cedars of Lebanon Hospital in Los Angeles, California, January 20, 1963, and served the following week as physician-in-residence at the San Fernando Veterans Administration Hospital.

DR. F. WILLIAM SUNDERMAN, Clinical Professor of Medicine and Director of the Division of Metabolic Research, has been elected to the Executive Committee of the Association of Clinical Scientists, and also serves as Director of Education for the Association.

He recently directed an applied two-day Seminar held at Washington (D.C.) Hospital Center, and attended by 250 physicians. The title of the Seminar was "Clinical Pathology of Hemoglobin, Its Precursors and Metabolites."

Dr. Sunderman delivered two lectures on Thanksgiving Day at the University of West Indies, Kingston, Jamaica, on "The Increasing Prevalence of Nickel Poisoning" and "Pulmonary Carcinogenesis."

In January, he lectured at the United States Naval Medical Center, Bethesda, Maryland, on "Quality Control in the Clinical Laboratory."

Dr. Sunderman, as Chairman of the Commission on Medical Research for the Pennsylvania Medical Society, spoke at the Congressional Committee Hearings in Washington, D.C., against the Clark-Moulder-Griffith Bills that are being sponsored by anti-vivisectionist groups.

DR. JOHN H. KILLOUGH, Associate Professor of Medicine, discussed "Hypertension—Sensible Approach to Therapy" at the first of three seminars being conducted at Memorial Hospital in Johnstown, Pennsylvania.

DR. DAVID W. KRAMER, Honorary Associate Professor of Medicine (Jefferson, 1912), addressed the Atlantic County Lay Society on Diabetes at the Atlantic City (N.J.), Hospital on December 1, 1962. The general public was invited to hear Dr. Kramer's talk on "What Diabetics Should Know."

DR. RALPH W. MAYS, Associate Professor of Clinical Medicine, was elected President of the medical staff of the Germantown (Pa.) Dispensary and Hospital at the staff's recent annual meeting.

DR. FRANZ GOLDSTEIN, Assistant Professor of Medicine (Jefferson, 1953), addressed the staff of the Wyoming Valley Hospital, Wilkes-Barre, Pennsylvania, on September 12, 1962, on "Laboratory Diagnosis of Jaundice."

DR. CHARLES W. LABELLE, Assistant Professor of Industrial Medicine, has been named a recipient of a research grant by the Tobacco Industry Research Committee.

DR. HOWARD C. LEOPOLD, Assistant Professor of Clinical Medicine (Jefferson, 1932), presented a paper titled "Evaluation of Skin Tests" at the annual meeting of the Pennsylvania Medical Society on October 13, 1962.

At the annual meeting of the Philadelphia Allergy Society on October 23, he delivered his paper on "L. E. Cell Phenomenon in Chronic Bronchial Asthma," which won the Silberman Award for the best paper presented on the program.

On November 13, he spoke at the Princeton Hospital Staff Monthly Meeting on "Emulsion Therapy in Hay-fever."

DR. JOHN N. LINQUIST, Assistant Professor of Clinical Medicine (Jefferson, 1943), represented the Philadelphia County Medical Society at the Buffalo Conference on Aging, held November 2-3, 1962, at the Statler-Hilton Hotel in Buffalo, New York. The Conference was sponsored by the American Medical Association Council on Medical Service Committee on Aging.

DR. PETER A. THEODOS, Assistant Professor of Clinical Medicine (Jefferson, 1935), presented a paper on "Clinical Aspects of the Pneumoconioses" at the Postgraduate course on "Cardiopulmonary Diseases and Occupation," sponsored by the American College of Chest Physicians in Detroit, Michigan, December 6, 1962.

DR. ARTHUR J. WEISS, Assistant Professor of Medicine, participated in a discussion on "Coagulation Defects in Uremia," sponsored by the Section on General Medicine of the Philadelphia College of Physicians on January 28, 1963, as did

DR. JAMES E. CLARK, Associate in Clinical Medicine (Jefferson, 1952), who was also on this panel. With DR. JOHN Y. TEMPLETON, III, Clinical Professor of Surgery, he participated in a discussion on "Small Bowel Dialysis in Chronic Uremia."

On January 31, Dr. Clark was guest speaker at Doctors Hospital Clinical Staff Conference in Philadelphia. He spoke on "Newer Methods of Treatment of Acute and Chronic Renal Failure."

DR. JOHN W. GOLDSCHMIDT, Associate in Physical Medicine (Jefferson, 1954), is in charge of a stroke rehabilitation program sponsored by The Heart Association of Southeastern Pennsylvania in cooperation with Jefferson Hospital. The purpose of the program is to prove that stroke victims can live a normal life. Thirty recent stroke victims from South Philadelphia and Center City will be accepted into the program without charge for a six-month course of hospital-based home care and rehabilitation through a team approach. The project is underwritten by a grant from the Philadelphia Foundation.

Dr. George R. Fisher, III, Associate in Clinical Medicine, participated in a panel discussion, followed by a question and answer period, on January 13, 1963, for the Philadelphia Academy of General Practice. The discussion, which was sponsored by the Pennsylvania Continuation Education Program, was entitled "Isotopes in Medical Diagnosis and Treatment and What the General Practitioner Should Know."

Dr. Sheldon G. Gilgore, Instructor in Medicine (Jefferson, 1956), delivered a lecture on diabetes at the Stroudsburg (Pa.) Hospital recently, and delivered a paper at a meeting of the American Federation for Clinical Research at Johns Hopkins Hospital, Baltimore, Maryland, in December 1962.

Dr. Russell H. Kesselman, Instructor in Medicine (Jefferson, 1949), recently was certified as a specialist in Cardio-vascular Disease by the American Board of Internal Medicine.

Dr. F. William Sunderman, Jr., Instructor in Medicine (Jefferson, 1955), attended the Association of Clinical Scientists' meeting in Washington, D.C., October 27, 1962, and spoke on "Quantitation of Hemoglobins Separated by Starch-gel Electrophoresis."

Dr. Stanley N. Cohen, Assistant in Medicine, has been elected to the staff of Presbyterian Hospital in Philadelphia as Assistant in Internal Medicine in the Out-Patient Department.

NEUROLOGY

Dr. Elliott L. Mancall, Assistant Professor of Neurology, spoke at a seminar held at Montgomery Hospital, Norristown, Pennsylvania, recently. The seminar, sponsored by the Heart Association of Southeastern Pennsylvania and the Pennsylvania Health Department, was opened to all Montgomery County general practitioners with the purpose of acquainting the family doctor with the latest knowledge in treating and rehabilitating stroke patients. Dr. Mancall's topic concerned the immediate management of the patient in acute stages of stroke.

OBSTETRICS AND GYNECOLOGY

Dr. John B. Montgomery, Professor of Obstetrics and Gynecology and Chairman of the Department (Jefferson, 1926), was elected Second Vice-President of the American Gynecological Society for 1962-63. Dr. Montgomery also is a member of the newly-formed Development Committee of Juniata (Pa.) College's board of trustees, assisting in a long-range program to raise $5,350,000.

Dr. Abraham E. Rakoff, Professor of Obstetrics and Gynecologic Endocrinology (Jefferson, 1937), has recorded a description of the "Pap-Test" for the American Cancer Society's "Dial-To-Life" service. The test, which can detect uterine cancer at its earliest and most curable stages, is described by Dr. Rakoff as he would talk to a patient in his office, and can be heard by dialing a center-city Philadelphia number.

On Wednesday, January 16, Dr. Rakoff spoke on "Normal Epithelium and Cytohormonology" at the Residents' Cytology Program, and, on February 6, addressed the same group on the subject of "Cytogenetics."

Dr. George A. Hahn, Clinical Professor of Obstetrics and Gynecology, has been appointed Consultant-Lecturer at the United States Naval Hospital in Philadelphia. He recently received a Distinguished Service Award in the field of Medicine at the St. Matthew A. M. E. Church in Philadelphia.

As President of the local chapter of the American Cancer Society, Dr. Hahn participated in their "Dial-To-Life" service by recording, for telephone transcription, the answer to the question, "Are lumps on an old wrist injury a possible cancer."

Dr. Warren R. Lang, Associate Professor of Obstetrics and Gynecology (Jefferson, 1943), participated in a panel discussion on Gynecological Cytology at the 16th Clinical Meeting of the American Medical Association in Los Angeles, California on November 27, 1962, and spoke on "Hormonocytology."

On December 1-2, he represented Jefferson at the Association of Professors of Gynecology and Obstetrics in Chicago, Illinois.
He addressed the staff of the Pottsville (Pa.) General Hospital on January 17, 1963, on "Problems of the Benign Cervix."

Dr. Lang participated in the Jefferson Residents' Cytology program on January 23, speaking on "Cervical Atypias and Carcinoma of Cervix."

Dr. ALVIN F. GOLDFARB, Associate in Obstetrics and Gynecology, spoke in February at Wilmington (Del.) General Hospital to student and graduate nurses on "The Nurse's Role in Sex Education" and to physicians of the community on "Progestogens, Their Uses in Gynecology." Dr. Goldfarb is a member of the editorial board of the Journal of the International Fertility Association.

Dr. Goldfarb participated in the Jefferson Residents' Cytology Program in January, speaking on "Endometrium."

In April, he will serve as General Chairman of a one-day symposium on "Newer Developments in the Treatment of Menstrual Dysfunctions in Office Practice," to be held in Jefferson's McClellan Hall on the 27th. At the symposium, he will moderate a panel discussion on "Ovulation Control." Cooperating with him at the symposium will be DOCTORS A. E. RAKOFF and JOHN B. MONTGOMERY. Dr. Rakoff will moderate a panel discussing "The Physiology of the Female Reproductive System—Recent Advances." Dr. Montgomery will serve as moderator of the panel discussion on "Therapeutics in Menstrual Dysfunction." DEAN WILLIAM A. SODeman will open the day-long symposium.

Dr. BENJAMIN KENDALL, Assistant in Obstetrics and Gynecology, has been awarded a three-year research grant by the National Institutes of Health for $37,799. The grant will enable him to work with DR. DAVID M. FArell, Clinical Professor of Obstetrics and Gynecology, on the detection of distress in the unborn infant by way of an electrocardiogram of the baby's heart recorded from the undelivered mother, a technique called Fetal Radio-Electrocardiography. Dr. Kendall demonstrated his work at the most recent convention of the American Medical Association in Chicago and won first prize in the division of Obstetrics and Gynecology.

Dr. LEON A. PERIS, Assistant in Obstetrics and Gynecology, has been appointed to the medical staff of Philadelphia General Hospital.

OTOLARYNGOLOGY

DR. JOSEPH SATALOFF, Associate Professor of Otolaryngology, together with an audiologist, presented a two-day course in Occupational Hearing Loss for the Departments of Medicine, Law and Compensation of the Ford Motor Company in its central division in Cleveland, November 26-27.

PATHOLOGY

DR. GONZALO E. APONTE, Associate Professor of Pathology, attended the annual meeting of Markle Scholars held in Williamsburg, Virginia, from October 24-26, 1962. On October 27, he spoke on "Nonhemolytic Hyperbilirubinemas" at a Symposium on Hemoglobin held at the Washington (D.C.) Hospital Center. In December, he attended the meetings of the Educational Council for Foreign Medical Graduates of the National Board of Medical Examiners.

DR. ELWOOD K. HAMMOND, Associate in Clinical Pediatrics, recently spoke on "The Practice of Pediatrics—Fact, Error and Misconception" at Wyeth Laboratories, Radnor, Pennsylvania. The occasion was the fifth annual meeting of the winners of Wyeth Laboratories Pediatric Fellowships which finance two years of advanced study in the field. The 1962 winners included twenty physicians from fifteen states who met to participate in discussions with national authorities on child medical care, nutrition and drug research.

DR. DONALD AKUTAGAWA, Instructor in Pediatrics and Psychiatry (Psychology), has been appointed Consultant Psychologist for the Jewish Center for Child Guidance in Philadelphia.

PHARMACOLOGY

DR. JULIUS M. COON, Professor of Pharmacology and Head of the Department, recently appeared on a local Philadelphia television program presenting his viewpoint on insecticides and pesticides.

DR. WALTER WOLF BAKER, Associate Professor of Pharmacology and Psychiatry (Neuropharmacology), participated in a panel discussion on the "Regulatory Role of the Central Nervous System on Lower Functions" at the Philadelphia Neurological Society last November.

On February 11, 1963, he was a member of a panel on "Neuropharmacology" at Hahnemann Medical College, Department of Medicine, Clinical Pharmacology.
Section. The panel was part of Hahnemann’s postgraduate program on “Animal and Clinical Pharmacologic Techniques in Drug Evaluation.

PREVENTIVE MEDICINE

DR. E. HAROLD HINMAN, Professor of Preventive Medicine and Head of the Department, and DR. HEINRICH BRIEGER, Professor of Occupational Medicine and Director of the Division of Occupational Medicine and Hygiene, attended the conference of the Association of Teachers of Preventive Medicine and the American Public Health Association meetings in Miami Beach, Florida, in October 1962.

Also in October, Dr. Hinman presented the Seventh Annual Arthur Parker Hitchens Lecture before the Public Health Section of the College of Physicians of Philadelphia, and Region I of the Pennsylvania Public Health Association on the subject of “Current Status of Eradication of Infectious Diseases.”

Dr. Hinman was team leader of a joint assessment team from the United States Public Health Service and the World Health Organization sent to Indonesia to make an evaluation of the current status of the malaria eradication program there, from November 1 to December 12. Enroute to Djakarta, he attended the Annual Meetings of the Association of American Medical Colleges in Los Angeles. He stopped at the Regional Offices of the World Health Organization in Manila, November 1-5. Over five weeks were spent principally in the field observing malaria eradication activities on the Islands of Java, Bali and Kalimantan. On his return trip, stops were made in Singapore and Kuala Lumpur to observe research on malaria. A final report was delivered to the World Health Organization at its headquarters in Geneva on December 17.

At the Annual Meeting of the American Society of Tropical Medicine and Hygiene, held in Atlanta, Georgia, October 31 to November 3, Dr. Hinman was elected Vice-President of the Society.

In February 1963, he attended the Congress on Medical Education of the American Medical Association in Chicago, Illinois.

DR. C. EARL ALBRECHT, Professor of Preventive Medicine (Jefferson, 1932), was guest speaker at “Bosses’ Night,” sponsored by the Lancaster (Pa.) Association of Medical Assistants, recently. His topic was “The Practice of Medicine and Surgery in Alaska.”

Dr. Albrecht, who serves as Pennsylvania Deputy Secretary of Health, represented the Commonwealth at a three-day tuberculosis symposium at the Landis State Hospital Auditorium in Philadelphia, January 9-11. The symposium was on the subject of “Rational Therapy and Control of Tuberculosis.”

DR. HEINRICH BRIEGER and DR. CHARLES W. LABELLE, Assistant Professor of Industrial Medicine, attended the National Conference on Air Pollution, sponsored by the United States Department of Health, Education and Welfare and the Public Health Service in Washington, D.C., in December.

In February, they participated in a meeting with a Russian delegation studying air pollution problems in this country.

Dr. Brieger recently was invited to meet with the medical consultants of the Fifth Army at the Presidio in San Francisco, and to a conference at the Occupational Health Division of the Health Department of the State of California.

DR. J. WOODROW SAVACOOL, Associate Professor of Preventive Medicine and Director of the Division of Clinical Preventive Medicine (Jefferson, 1938), attended the MEND Symposium on “Infectious Disease in Biological Warfare and Global Medicine,” held at the Walter Reed Army Institute of Research in Washington, D.C., December 12-14, 1962.

PSYCHIATRY

DR. BALDWIN L. KEYES, Professor of Psychiatry, Emeritus, (Jefferson, 1917), recently spoke at a meeting of the United Republican Club of Pennsauken, New Jersey. His subject was "Criminal Responsibility for Crime."

DR. FLOYD S. CORNELISON, Professor of Psychiatry and Head of the Department, has received a grant of $15,000 from the National Association for Mental Health for his project entitled “Study of Self-Image Experience in Mental Illness.” Dr. Cornelison’s work, which utilizes sound color movies to study the behavior of mental patients as well as for therapeutic measures, was begun at the University of Oklahoma Medical Center, his former post. Through the funds provided by the grant, his project will be continued there with Dr. Cornelison as Consultant Professor of Psychiatry.

Dr. Cornelison participated in a two-day conference on Teaching Psychotherapy which was held earlier this month at Temple University Medical Center.

UROLOGY

Dr. Theodore R. Fetter, Nathan Lewis Hatfield Professor of Urology and Head of the Department (Jefferson, 1926), was elected Delegate to the Pennsylvania State Medical Association from the Philadelphia County Medical Society for a two-year term, January 1963 to December 1965, inclusive.

Dr. David M. Davis, Professor of Urology, Emeritus, attended a conference in Washington, D.C., from November 30 to December 1, 1962, between the National Institutes of Health, the National Research Council, and the Research Committee of the American Urological Association, on “Renal Calculus Disease” and on the “State of Urological Training Programs.” At the conference, he delivered an address on “Undergraduate and Postgraduate Teaching of Urology—Its Future and Its Relationship to the Management of Urological Disease and to the Future Public Welfare.” Also attending the conference was Dr. Paul D. Zimskind, Research Associate in Urology (Jefferson, 1957), representing Professor Fetter.

Dr. Davis has received notification of his election as an honorary member of the Société Hellenique d’Urologie (Greek Urologic Society).

Dr. Willard M. Drake, Assistant Professor of Urology (Jefferson, 1941), was guest speaker at the meeting of the Urologic Section of the New Jersey Academy of Medicine, November 8, 1962, at the Essex House, Newark, New Jersey. He presented a paper on “Athletic Injuries of the Kidney.”

Dr. Nicholas R. Varano, Assistant Professor of Urology (Jefferson, 1936), delivered a lecture on “The Etiology and Modern Concepts of Therapy of Renal Calculi” at the Postgraduate Medical Seminar held November 8, 1962, at the York (Pa.) Hospital.

A number of Department of Urology staff members attended and participated in the program of the Mid-Atlantic Section Meeting of the American Urological Association, Inc., at White Sulphur Springs, West Virginia, November 7-10, 1962. Dr. Theodore R. Fetter took part in the Pyelographic Conference at this meeting. Two papers prepared by the staff were presented: “Statistical Analysis of Patients with Ureteral Calculi” by Dr. Fetter, Dr. Paul D. Zimskind, and Doctors Robert H. Graham and Donald E. Brodie, members of Jefferson’s Class of 1962 who worked with the Department of Urology in their fourth year; and “Studies in Urodynamics: New Light on Ureteral Function” by Dr. David M. Davis, Dr. Zimskind and Dr. Jean-Pierre Paquet, Resident in Urology.

Dr. Fetter represents the Mid-Atlantic Section of the National American Urological Association, Inc., as a member of the Executive Committee.
Faculty Member Organizes Physicians' Music Festival

Dr. Hans G. Keitel, Professor of Pediatrics and Head of the Department, who is a former professional oboist, has called on musical doctors throughout the country to join him in organizing a physicians' national music festival. The week-long jamboree will bring together instrument-playing physicians for seven days of soul-satisfying music making in orchestral, chamber and choral practice. If all goes well, the fete will be climaxed by a public concert—or concerts—given by an orchestra chosen from the best of the medical musicians. Dr. Keitel's plans already have the backing of Eugene Ormandy, director of the Philadelphia Orchestra, who has agreed to serve as festival consultant.

Working with Dr. Keitel on the plans is violinist radiologist Dr. Philip J. Hodes, Professor of Radiology and Head of the Department.

Dr. Keitel, who has performed professionally with the National Symphony Orchestra in Washington, D.C., and the Boston Civic Symphony, urges interested physicians to write to him c/o Physicians Musical Society, 1025 Walnut Street, Philadelphia 7, Pa.

Dr. Sodeman Travels to Middle East for American College of Cardiology

Together with four other United States physicians, Dr. William A. Sodeman, Dean and Vice-President for Medical Affairs, travelled to the Middle East on December 7, 1962, as part of a "Medical Peace Corps." The five, all members of the American College of Cardiology, comprise the third team of specialists sent overseas in a program launched in 1961.

Volunteering their time, and paying all their own expenses except transportation—which is provided by the State Department as part of the United States cultural exchange program—the trip took the physicians to Israel and Turkey where they presented the College's "International Circuit Course in Cardiovascular Diseases."

The group's schedule, during its five days at Jerusalem's Hadassah-Hebrew University Medical Center and its four days at Istanbul's University Medical College, began at eight o'clock each morning with five lectures, each an hour long. During the afternoons, the American team made clinical rounds with host physicians, and the visitors' evenings, which usually ended at about ten o'clock, were devoted to giving clinical or basic lectures.

Dr. Sodeman delivered the following lectures during the course presentations: "'Fine Print' Cardiology—Unusual Types of Heart Disease," "Refactory Heart Failure," "Mechanism of Cardiac Edema," "Digitalis Intoxication—Recognition and Therapy" and "Cor Pulmonale: The Problem in General Medicine."

In Israel, the American College of Cardiology presented its Course upon the invitation of The Ministry of Health, The Israel Heart Society, The Scientific Council of the Israel Medical Association and Hadassah University Hospital. In Turkey, the invitation was extended by The Department of Health of the Republic of Turkey, The Turkish Physicians Association, The Turkish Medical Association and The Medical Faculty of the University of Istanbul.

The purpose of the College's Circuit Courses is twofold: to provide postgraduate education in cardiology for practitioners of foreign lands, and to improve the scientific image of America overseas.

In a letter to the College's Overseas Education Chairman, the Chairman of the host committee in Israel wrote concerning the visit of Dr. Sodeman and his colleagues: "Cardiologists and cardiac surgeons from all over the country attended without exception, and, gathering impressions . . . we vote it as the most fruitful mission undertaken by medical men to this country." In Turkey the audience each day consisted of over a thousand Turkish physicians.

Faculty Wives Club Plans June Dinner

The Jefferson Medical College Faculty Wives Club, in conjunction with the men's June Alumni meetings and reunion parties, is planning a dinner and entertainment for members of the club and wives of all Jefferson graduates returning for the June activities.

The dinner will be held Thursday, June 13, 1963, at the Bellevue-Stratford Hotel, with cocktails at 6:30 p.m., "Dutch Treat," in the Viennese Room. Dinner will follow at 7:00 in the Burgundy Room.

A page for the ladies will be incorporated in the doctors' program which will give further details for dinner reservations. For this reason, it is important that Alumni take their programs home for their wives to see. Reservations should be made as early as possible due to limited seating capacity.
Alumni and Dean Attend Congress on Medical Education

Two Jefferson Alumni and Dr. William A. Sodeman, Dean and Vice President for Medical affairs, participated in the 59th Annual Congress on Medical Education, presented by the Council on Medical Education and Hospitals of the American Medical Association at the Palmer House in Chicago, February 1-5, 1963.

Dr. George A. Silver, Class of 1938, of Montefiore Hospital in New York City, presented "Resuscitation or Reform" at the session entitled "Learning Today for Understanding Tomorrow" sponsored by the Council on Medical Education and Hospitals.

Dr. Andrew M. Gehret, Class of 1929, Chairman of the Delaware Federation of State Medical Boards of the United States, was in charge of the Federation's Annual Examination Institute.

Dr. Sodeman presented "Examination—General Concept of Fitness Testing" at the Federation's Annual Meeting held on Sunday, February 3, 1963.

Jefferson Physicians Elected To County Medical Offices

A number of Jefferson Alumni and Faculty members were elected to offices of the Philadelphia County Medical Society in October, 1962. Results of the election were announced at the annual meeting of the Society held on November 21, 1962.

Elected to the office of Vice-President was Dr. Edmund L. House, Associate in Clinical Medicine and a graduate of the class of 1935. Dr. James F. O'Neill, Class of 1936, is the Society's new Treasurer. Dr. Walter F. Ballinger, II, Assistant Professor of Surgery, was elected to the post of Medical Economics Chairman.

Among the Delegates to the State Society are Dr. Gilson C. Engel, Associate Professor of Surgery, Dr. Theodore R. Fetter, '26, Nathan Lewis Hatfield Professor of Urology and Head of the Department, Dr. William A. Sodeman, Dean and Vice President for Medical Affairs, Dr. Martin J. Sokoloff, '20, Clinical Professor of Medicine, and Dr. Anthony S. Tornay, '31.

Alternate Delegates to the State Society include: Dr. Ballinger, Dr. Henry L. Bockus, '17, Dr. Joseph K. Corson, Associate in Dermatology, Dr. Robert B. Funch, '47, Dr. John H. Gibbon, Jr., '27, Samuel D. Gross Professor of Surgery and Head of the Department, Dr. Frank E. Leivy, '24, Dr. Herbert A. Luscombe, '40, Professor of Dermatology and Head of the Department, Dr. Wallace G. McCune, Assistant Professor of Clinical Medicine, Dr. William M. McFadden, Jr., Associate in Clinical Pediatrics, Dr. Ward D. O'Sullivan, Clinical Professor of Surgery, and Dr. Harold F. Robertson, Associate Professor of Clinical Medicine.

Graduates Appointed to Hospital Staff

Misericordia Hospital in Philadelphia has announced the election of the following Jefferson Alumni as officers of its medical staff: Dr. John A. Pfister, Class of 1942, as Vice-President of the staff, and Doctors James J. Ryan, Class of 1942, and C. Jules Rominger, Class of 1948, to the Executive Committee. Dr. Ryan also is Assistant Professor of Clinical Neurology at Jefferson.

Alumni Named as Officers In Eye Section of County Society

Two Jefferson Alumni were among the physicians elected as officers of the Eye Section of the Philadelphia County Medical Society for 1963. They are Dr. Charles G. Steinmetz, III, Class of 1948 and former Associate Professor of Clinical Ophthalmology at Jefferson, and Dr. Gerard M. Shannon, Class of 1949, presently Associate in Clinical Ophthalmology.

Division of Chronic Diseases Provides Nutrition Grant

In the December 1962 Bulletin (page 23, "Department of Medicine Receives Nutrition Grant"), it was announced that the Department of Medicine had added a full-time nutritionist to its staff as a result of a recent grant. The source of this grant is the Department of Health, Division of Chronic Diseases, Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, rather than the Office of the Aging, as was incorrectly stated in the article.
Current Chapter Activities

Northeastern Pennsylvania Chapter To Meet

The Northeastern Pennsylvania Chapter will hold its annual meeting at the Fox Hill Country Club, West Pittston, Pennsylvania, on May 29, 1963.

Hawaii Chapter Holds Dinner

Dr. Albert Ho, President of the Hawaii Chapter, recently entertained the local Jefferson Alumni at a sumptuous dinner in Waikiki. Dr. William Pratt, Class of 1961, a Surgical Resident at Queen's Hospital, was a guest, as was Dr. Louise Childs of Honolulu, who formerly served on the Pediatrics staff at Queen's.

West Central Pennsylvania Elects Chapter Officers

At a meeting on September 27, 1962, members of the West Central Pennsylvania Chapter elected the following officers for the current year: Dr. Jerry M. James, '18, President; Dr. W. T. Blair, '51, Secretary-Treasurer. Dr. Paul Bowers and Dr. Samuel S. Conly represented the Alumni Association and the College, respectively, as speakers at the meeting.

Washington, D. C. Officers Elected

The Washington, D.C., Chapter met on December 11, 1962, and the following officers were elected: Dr. Adolph Friedman, '43, President; Dr. Arthur Sims, '39, Vice-President; Dr. William Sheely, '48, Secretary. At the meeting, plans for the group's annual formal dinner, to be held May 4, 1963, were made.

May Dinner-Meeting Planned by Ohio Chapter

A get-together for Alumni, their wives and guests, has been arranged by the Ohio Chapter for May 16, 1963, during the 1963 annual meeting of the Ohio State Medical Association in Cleveland. This will be the 12th annual dinner-meeting of the Ohio group.

The meeting will be held in the attractive Navaho Room of the Sheraton-Cleveland Hotel, recently refurnished and remodeled. Activities will commence with a fellowship hour at 6:30 p.m., followed by dinner at 7:30, and brief speeches by representatives from Jefferson at 8:30. Alumni and guests are urged to attend any portion of the program that fits their schedule.

Anyone who plans to attend the dinner portion of the program must secure reservations in advance by sending a card or note to: Doctor Russell S. McGinnis, Class of 1921, Jefferson Dinner Chairman, 10515 Carnegie Avenue, Cleveland 6, Ohio. Tickets may be purchased at the door.

To all admitting physicians—

It has come to the attention of the Executive Committee of the Alumni Association that it occasionally happens that Jefferson Alumni are admitted to our hospital, treated and dismissed without their friends, classmates or the Alumni office having been aware that they were here in Jefferson Medical Center.

The Executive Committee, therefore, requests that when an Alumnus enters the Jefferson Hospital as a patient, the admitting physician notify the Alumni office if the patient wishes to have visitors or phone calls.
High Participation Is Goal
In 15th Annual Giving Fund Drive

In the 14th Annual Giving Fund Drive 55.3% of our Alumni made contributions. This was the highest percentage of participation ever achieved in our Alumni Giving.

We believe we can do even better.

A study of our past Drives shows that 85% of our Alumni have made contributions at one time or another, but that 15% have never given to our Drives.

Last year 3668 of our graduates contributed to the 14th Drive, while 2958 did not. Of these 2958, 994 represent the 15% who have never contributed while 1964 are among those who have given during one or more Drives but did not contribute in the 14th.

This is what we are striving for in the 15th Drive: We would like 10%, or 99 of the "never" givers and 15% or 295, of the "sometimes" givers to join us as contributors this year. If we can accomplish this, our participation will rise to 61% which will make our standing in Alumni participation one of the highest in the nation.

If you are in either the "never" or the "sometimes" giver group, won't you give most serious consideration to helping us better our participation percentage?

I am sure you were proud that Jefferson won first prize among professional schools last year for her 13th Annual Giving Drive in the American Alumni Council's Incentive Program but those who helped us to earn this prize with their contributions undoubtedly experienced greater satisfaction than those who let the others "carry the load." Participation is a great thing and carries with it two-way benefits.

Remember, too, that your Annual Giving dollars do double work, for they serve to impress outside sources as to the loyalty of Jefferson's Alumni. This is extremely important, particularly at this time when appeals for funds are being made to business, industry and foundations for our expansion program.

As of February 13 the total in our present Drive stands at $95,128.18 from 2198 contributors. This is a participation of only 32% to date. We are past the midpoint of the 15th Drive and must show substantial gains during the next three months both in total dollars contributed and in numbers of contributors.

Consider seriously your responsibility to Jefferson and plan to share in her future progress by sending your check to your Class Agent now. Let us number you among the loyal 61% this year.

KENNETH E. FRY, M.D.
Chairman

A. B. C.: indicate leading classes in three categories.
50th Reunion—Class of 1913
Theo W. O’Brien, M.D.
310 Lincoln Avenue
Havertown, Pa.
Walter R. Krauss, M.D.
421 Price Street
West Chester, Pa.

The Class of 1913 will celebrate its 50th Anniversary with a luncheon for class members at the Bellevue-Stratford Hotel on Wednesday, June 12, 1963 at 1:30 p.m.
The Class will have a "Headquarters Suite" at the Bellevue-Stratford on Wednesday (June 12) and Thursday (June 13), and its own table at the Alumni Banquet in the Bellevue-Stratford on Thursday evening.

45th Reunion—Class of 1918
Reynold S. Griffith, M.D.
255 South 17th Street

There will be a dinner for members of the Class of 1918 and their wives on the evening of Wednesday, June 12, 1963. The place will be announced in the May issue of the BULLETIN. On Thursday, June 13, there will be a luncheon and the Alumni Banquet.

40th Reunion—Class of 1923
Walter J. Larkin, M.D.
Medical Arts Building
Scranton, Pa.

On Wednesday, June 12, 1963, the Class of 1923 will hold an informal stag luncheon and a dinner for Alumni and their wives. Complete information concerning these functions will be sent to all members of the Class at a later date.

35th Reunion—Class of 1928
1. S. Hneleski, M.D.
802 South 48th Street
Philadelphia 43, Pa.

Reunion plans for the Class of 1928 include: a hospitality room at The Barclay from Monday, June 10, to Thursday, June 13; on Tuesday, June 11, a cocktail party from 5:00 p.m. to 7:00 p.m.; on Wednesday, June 12, a Dutch-treat stag luncheon at 12:30 p.m., and on the same date a dinner-dance beginning at 6:30 p.m. All three of these events will be held at The Barclay.
In addition, Mrs. William Tourish and Mrs. I. S. Hneleski are planning a program of entertainment for the ladies.
Dr. Henry Davidson, Class Historian, is preparing a class year-book as has been the custom in the past.

30th Reunion—Class of 1933
Leon N. Prince, M.D.
2025 Spruce Street
Philadelphia 3, Pa.

The majority of the members of the Class of 1933 who answered the questionnaire indicated a preference for an evening dinner on Wednesday, June 12, 1963. Arrangements for the dinner are underway, and definite details will be announced in the May BULLETIN. It would be helpful if classmates who have not replied to the questionnaire would do so at their earliest convenience.

25th Reunion—Class of 1938
Solomon Keesal, M.D.
1002 Spruce Street
Philadelphia 7, Pa.
Jacob S. Wiener, M.D.
2408 South Fifth Street

The Philadelphia members of the Class of 1938 are actively engaged in formulating plans for the 25th Reunion. Specific news will follow in the May issue of the BULLETIN. Please plan to be present at the Reunion activities in June.

20th Reunion—Class of 1943
Gerald E. Callery, M.D.
111 Long Lane
Upper Darby, Pa.

Dr. Callery, who was chairman of the 15th Reunion, announces that the program for the 20th Reunion of the Class of 1943 will include activities for both men and wives. It is hoped that a large group will be present in June. Members of the Class will be contacted individually in the near future.

15th Reunion—Class of 1948

John B. Atkinson, M.D.
Chestnut Street and Copley Road
Upper Darby, Pa.

Norman J. Quinn, M.D.
231 Forest Avenue
Ambler, Pa.

Charles G. Steinmetz, III, M.D.
4606 Spruce Street

One winter evening amidst the cold winds and snows of Philadelphia, your devoted Committee, consisting of Charlie Steinmetz, John Atkinson and Norm Quinn, sought out and found a place of warmth and good cheer (The Hoffman House) to discuss plans for our 15th Class reunion. As you will see by checking the “Calendar of Future Events” in this issue, the week of the 10th of June, 1963, is graduation week when many and varied activities for Jefferson Alumni will take place. Being our 15th Reunion, we want to make this a most memorable occasion.

Through the efforts of our classmate Al Fingo (physician and golf pro who shoots in the low 70’s), the facilities of Seaview Country Club will be available for our reunion. Seaview Country Club is nationally known and is located about forty miles from Philadelphia and about ten minutes from Atlantic City. There are two complete and beautiful 18-hole golf courses as well as indoor and outdoor pools, tennis court, etc. The food and overnight accommodations are excellent.

We are looking forward to having a Class of ’48 golf tournament (everyone will win) on the afternoon of June 12, 1963 (those who don’t play golf can swim, play tennis or just plain relax in beautiful surroundings). A cocktail party followed by a dinner-dance will be held in the evening. On Thursday, we can have more of the same, but will plan to be out in time to attend the Annual Jefferson Dinner at the Bellevue in Philadelphia.

Anyone who wishes can stay at Seaview Country Club. For those who would prefer to stay at accommodations in nearby Atlantic City, we can help you with your arrangements. Remember, the annual AMA meetings begin the week of the 16th, which, together with the Reunion, should make a wonderful vacation for all who attend.

10th Reunion—Class of 1953

Joseph J. Armoo, M.D.
557 East Springfield Road
Springfield, Pa.

Norton Hering, M.D.
255 South 17th Street
Philadelphia 3, Pa.

James M. Hunter, M.D.
1223 Hagy’s Ford Road
Penn Valley, Narberth, Pa.

A dinner-dance is scheduled for members of the Class of 1953 and their wives on Wednesday evening, June 12, 1963, in the Spruce Room of the Drake Hotel. Details have been sent to all members of the Class in an individual letter from Dr. Hering.

5th Reunion—Class of 1958

Jerome L. Sandler, M.D.
Jefferson Hospital

Leon P. Scicchitano, M.D.
Jefferson Hospital

The Benjamin Franklin Hotel will be the scene of Reunion activities for the Class of 1958 when members of the Class meet for cocktails and dinner on Wednesday, June 12, 1963. Members will be contacted individually in the near future with more definite details.

Positions Available

MEMBER of the Class of 1951 is looking for an associate of approximately the same age for his general practice in Holmes Beach, Florida. Anyone interested must have Florida boards.

PLYMOUTH State Home and Training School, Northville, Michigan, has the following positions open:
(1) staff physicians—salaries from $10,982 to $16,891;
(2) Chief of Medicine—same salary range;
(3) Director of Professional Services—salary from $16,530 to $19,397. Liberal fringe benefits also available. This is the newest state facility for the mentally retarded in Michigan, with a present bed capacity of 690. Expansion from 1,800 to 2,500 beds is planned. There is also an active Out-Patient Department. In addition to medical services, teaching and research activities are stressed. The Medical Superintendent, who is a Jefferson Alumnus, will welcome applications from pediatricians, general surgeons, neurologists, internists, psychiatrists and orthopedists, as well as general practitioners.

JEFFERSON Alumnus, Class of 1918, is looking for an associate for large general practice in North Philadelphia. No Obstetrics, night hours or weekend work. Present physician will retire within a year, so excellent opportunity for very lucrative practice exists for an ambitious young man.

RESORT town in the Pocono (Pa.) Mountains has an opening for a physician who would like to settle in a scenic rural area, yet within forty miles of the cities of Scranton, Wilkes-Barre, Allentown, Easton and Bethlehem. For many years, two area physicians have been kept busy and financially happy serving the residents and tourists; recently, due to ill health, one has moved from the town. An accredited hospital is only fifteen miles away; the schools are modern and well-staffed, and recreational facilities abound.

LOSSBURG, Tioga County, Pennsylvania, is in need of general practice physicians. Practice in this rural area would include ample opportunity for staff privileges at Blossburg State General Hospital. The hospital has 93 beds and medical staff consists of four physicians, with openings for one or two additional physicians for 40-hour service. Provides excellent opportunity for either a young physician wanting financial remuneration to help get started or an older physician wishing to give up the strain of private practice but not wanting to retire completely.

ATTRACTIVE position available for full-time psychiatrist at Connecticut Veterans' Administration Out-Patient Mental Hygiene Clinic of which Jefferson graduate, Class of 1914, is now Acting Chief.

JEFFERSON graduate, Class of 1957, would be happy to talk to anyone interested in sharing a general practice in White Sulphur Springs, Montana. There is need for another doctor in this area which has some of the finest trout fishing, hunting and skiing in the United States.

WANTED—General Practitioner to associate and then assume ownership of established general practice in Falls Church, Virginia, a pleasant suburb of Washington, D.C. Present owner leaving for specialty training. Well-equipped, modern office; no investment required and reasonable terms.

LARGE pharmaceutical company in New Jersey needs physician for clinical investigation of new products. Duties include fair amount of traveling. Good opportunity for the right man.

Positions Wanted

SURGEON, middle-aged, FACS—Board eligible, desires association with group or in industrial surgery. Experience has included general and traumatic surgery with Veterans Administration and in private practice.

BOARD-ELIGIBLE Orthopedic Surgeon is seeking association with another Orthopedic Surgeon or General Surgeon in Pennsylvania or New Jersey.

PENNSYLVANIA physician, Board eligible, seeks association with a group or an obstetrician-gynecologist.
CLASS NOTES

Dr. J. Norman White, 839 Clay Avenue, Scranton, 10, Pa.
A loyal Alumnus, Dr. White writes: "Never have been sorry I graduated from Jeff. It was the best medical college in the world in 1904 and still is."

1906
Dr. Ellis J. Chapman, 203 Danforth Avenue, Jersey City, N.J.
Dr. Chapman writes: "At the present time, I am in perfect health and am very busy as Medical Director and President of the Board of Directors of Greenville Hospital. We are engaged in raising $1,200,000 for an additional wing to our present building."

Dr. Andrew S. McKinley, 1403 Pennsylvania Avenue, Monaca, Pa.
Dr. McKinley writes: "I was 81 years old on December 23rd. Doing some office work, but no outside calls."

1907
Dr. Paul R. Wentz, 132 West Main Street, New Holland, Pa.
Dr. Wentz was honored in January for his "fifty years of medical service in the New Holland area" by the Young Men's Business League of New Holland. The group presented him with an inscribed plaque at their annual Citation Night Banquet in January. Dr. Wentz, who retired from active practice in May 1962, is the father of four children and the grandfather of eight. His wife, Clara, was present at the dinner in his honor.

1908

Dr. Tuttle writes that he is convalescing slowly from a heart attack which he suffered in 1961.

1914
Dr. George L. Armitage, Jr., 410 S. Chester Rd., Swarthmore, Pa.
Reporting on his activities, Dr. Armitage says, "I retired from practice in November 1961. Still enjoy good health and keep occupied with my garden, hunting and fishing, and some civic activities. Watching the progress of our eight grandchildren—ages from sixteen to three months—brightens our autumn years."

Dr. Mortimer W. Blair, 369 Green Lane, Roxborough, Philadelphia 28, Pa.
Dr. Blair writes: "After 26 years as Ophthalmologist to Memorial Hospital, Roxborough, Philadelphia, my oldest son, Dr. Frank W. Blair, Class of September 1944, was also appointed co-Chief of Ophthalmology in 1950, and we have been doing eye surgery together ever since and our partnership has been a mighty pleasant one. My youngest son, M. Warren, has distinguished himself as Art Director of Smith, Kline and French Drug Company and as President of the Art Directors Club of Philadelphia for two years.

"Incidentally, I have four fine grandchildren, one of them in Gettysburg (Pa.) College."

Dr. Karl B. Pace, Greenville, N.C.
In bringing his Classmates up-to-date on his activities, Dr. Pace writes that he settled in Greenville, North Carolina, in 1916 following his internship at Governor Hospital. After a few months of practice, he spent two years in the Army, most of his service being in France. He has lived in his present house forty years with his one and only wife. Two of Dr. Pace's sons are Jefferson graduates—Dr. Karl Pace, Jr., Class of 1947, who practices in New York
City and Dr. Charles T. Pace, Class of 1949, who practices in Charlottesville, Virginia, and has two sons. Dr. Pace's third son, John Thomas Walter, works in a bank in Winston-Salem, North Carolina, and also has two sons. He reports that Christmas is a big event when they all come home. Dr. Pace is partly retired with a limited practice, and is Consulting Doctor for Union Carbide Consumer Products Company. His extracurricular activities include the Finance Committee of the Methodist Church, the North Carolina Board of Medical Examiners, and Director of the State Bank and Trust Company.

Dr. Paul A. Petree, 1004 West Wind Center, Towson 4, Md.

Dr. Marsteller has retired from active practice.

Dr. Samuel Orr Black, Sr., 392 East Main Street, Spartanburg, S. C.

Dr. Black's son writes that his father "is a patient in the Mary Black Memorial Hospital. He probably will require an operation in the immediate future and will not be able to make a trip for at least three months time."

Dr. Edward I. Salisbury, 539 Manhasset Woods Road, Plandome, Long Island, N.Y.

Dr. Salisbury reports that he spent his 1962 Christmas "snowed in" in Cleveland with his daughter and family. Due to the weather, the Salibursys did not go to Lake Forest, Illinois, to visit their youngest son as they had hoped to do.

1917

Dr. Harry W. Baily, 131 West Broad Street, Tamaqua, Pa.

Dr. Baily writes that in his travels through many countries of the world "Jefferson has the reputation of being the best, so I am proud of being an alumnus of 'Old Jeff'."

Dr. Lewis C. Druffner, 618 Main Street, Avoca, Pa.

Dr. Druffner writes that he has been ill since February 22, 1962, as a result of a coronary. His son, Dr. Lewis C. Druffner, Jr., Class of 1959, has taken over his practice in Avoca, following his discharge from the United States Navy in July 1962. (See "Weddings" for news of Dr. Charles R. Druffner, Class of 1960.)

Dr. Omer R. Etter, 2025 C Central Avenue, Alameda, Calif.

Dr. Etter says that he is looking forward to being with his Classmates in 1967 for their Fiftieth Class Reunion since he had such a good time at the 45th Reunion.

Dr. Albert N. Redelin, 22 West Catawissa Street, Nesquehoning, Pa.

Dr. Redelin writes: "I am still active in general practice in Nesquehoning, and also have been Chief Clinician in the State Tuberculosis Clinic in Carbon County for the past twenty years.

"Harry Bailey ('17) is also in general practice in Tamaqua (Pa.), about ten miles from Nesquehoning. I see him frequently at Medical and Hospital Staff meetings. He looks good for another ten years of active duty."

Dr. Leslie O. Stone, 922 Sycamore Street, Rocky Mount, N. C.

Dr. Stone writes that he retired from the United States Naval Medical Corps in September 1953 with the rank of Rear Admiral. During his career with the Navy, he served at a number of posts which included Norfolk, Va.; Great Lakes, Ill.; the Asiatic Station; Portsmouth, Va.; Banana, Philippine Islands; U. S. Naval Operating Base, Bermuda; New River, N.C.; and New London, Conn. He was stationed on board the United States Ships Zeelandia (1919), Great Northern (1919), Buffalo (1921-22), Palor (1922-23), Relief (1927-29), and New Orleans (1933-35). In 1944, he was assigned the post of Medical Officer in Command of the U. S. Naval Hospital, Pearl Harbor, and continued in that assignment until after the Japanese surrender. He then held a similar post at Aiea Heights, Hawaii, until 1946, when he returned to this country to assume command of the U. S. Naval Hospital, Bethesda, Maryland, where he served until 1949. For the next two years, he held the post of District Medical Officer, First Naval District, Boston, Mass. In 1951, he was assigned to duty as Inspector General, Medical Department Activities, Navy Department, Bureau of Medicine and Surgery. In 1952, he was named Assistant Chief of the Bureau of Medicine and Surgery for Personnel and Professional Operations. From 1953 until his retirement, he served as Commanding Officer, National Naval Medical Center, Bethesda, Md. Among his honors, Dr. Stone has received the Legion of Merit, the Victory Medal (World War I), the American Defense Service Medal, the American Campaign Medal, the Asiatic-Pacific Campaign Medal, and the World War II Victory Medal.

Dr. Stone, who is married and has a son, Leslie Ogbrain, II, is a Diplomate of the American Board of Otolaryngology, a member of the American Academy of Ophthalmology and Otolaryngology and the American Medical Association.

Dr. Milton B. Emanuel, Class Agent for 1919, has submitted the following news concerning his Classmates:

"To date, the Class of 1919 has held up very nicely—among the tops. "I know we are getting older. The following have retired from active practice: Mayo Robb, George Lundberg (partially), and Ralph D. Green.

"The cholecystectomies: Burton Weil—recovering.

"We were distressed to hear of the death of Douglas Cannon in December 1962.

"Bill Jacoby is getting dividends from his son. Junior's success—passed the boards in Internal Medicine.

"My son, Steve Emanuel, is an officer in the Navy at San Diego, California.

"Get ready for the 45th Reunion in '64. Make every effort to be here. A Happy, Healthy, Prosperous New Year to you all from all of us at Jeff."

1920

Dr. Radin and his wife, Selma, have three children: Linda, ten, Mitchell, seven, and Brian, almost two. Dr. Radin writes that "Syracuse has been an interesting and delightful place for the past five-and-a-half years."

DR. HUBERT L. SHIELDS, 206 Pine Street, Essexville, Mich.

Dr. Shields has been practicing General Surgery since 1956 in Bay City, Michigan. He and his wife have two children: Kevin, over one-and-a-half years, and Karen, almost four.

1952

DR. EDWARD W. DITTO, III, 217 West Washington Street, Hagerstown, Md.

Dr. Ditto writes: "I remain active in general practice with continued interest in Anesthesia. We are seriously contemplating the Jefferson seminar in Madrid, Spain. My dad (Dr. EDWARD W. DITTO, Jr., Class of 1920) and I continue to represent Washington County as Deputy Medical Examiners." Dr. and Mrs. Ditto have three children: Betsy, David and Allen.

DR. THOMAS A. GARDNER, Head of Radiology, Franklin Hospital, Franklin, Pa.

Dr. Gardner has accepted the post of Head of Radiology at Franklin (Pa.) Hospital. Until November 1, 1962, he held the position of Associate Radiologist at the Oil City (Pa.) Hospital. In 1957, he was certified by the American Board of Radiology and Nuclear Medicine, and has done postgraduate work in his specialty.

DR. J. MERRILL GIBSON, JR., "Little Whitfields," R.F.D. #2, Westerly, R.I.

Dr. Gibson describes Westerly, Rhode Island, where he has been practicing for almost a year. "It is a very lovely seaside town on the border of Connecticut and Rhode Island. The Westerly Hospital is small—seventy beds or so—but is now building an addition of another eighty beds. It is quite a change from practicing in the "white tower" that is The Rhode Island Hospital. It is, however, an interesting and challenging change. General surgery here is really general surgery and not limited to abdominal surgery. "There are no essential changes in my family other than in their way of life. They are all enjoying the benefits of rural life."

DR. JOHN M. GRASSE, JR., Blooming Glen, Pa.

Dr. Grasse and his family recently returned from Nigeria where he had been serving as a missionary. On their return trip, the Grasse family spent July and August 1962 vacationing in Egypt and the Holy Lands. They met Dr. THEODORE GARFIELD DUNCAN, Class of 1955, in Jerusalem. The Grasse's fourth girl, Martha Jane, was born November 22, 1962.

DR. MILES D. HARRIGER, 2045 State Street, East Petersburg, Pa.

Dr. Harriger writes that he is a general practitioner in East Petersburg, Pennsylvania, and is raising five children. His oldest boy "wants to be an Ophthalmologist. The three girls and the baby, Joseph, seem to be content to wait, and see what life has to offer." Although they missed the 10th Reunion of the Class of '52, Dr. and Mrs. Harriger plan to attend the 15th.

DR. JAMES C. HUTCHISON, 2073 Parkview Avenue, Abingdon, Pa.

Dr. Hutchison writes that he was unable to attend the Class of '52's Tenth Reunion last June due to a new daughter. His family now consists of two boys and a girl. He attended and presented an exhibit at the Las Vegas meeting of the American Academy of General Practice last year.

DR. ANDREW J. MULLEN, 940 Margaret Place, Shreveport, La.

Dr. Mullen writes: "Betty Sherman and I were married March of 1958 in San Diego, California, with Dr. BOB ZWEIG ('52) as best man. A lot has happened since I left Jefferson and I have been living and practicing in Shreveport, Louisiana for the past four-and-a-half years. We are crazy about the town here and we have two additional little children, ages three and two, both girls, which brings us a total of up to ten children in our mutual families, including a foster child whom we are sending to school. I saw Bob Zweig again last summer when I was visiting with the other children who now reside in California. We have 'your' children, 'my' children and 'our' children, and at times, it's quite a dormitory full. "I was fortunate enough to get my Boards in Psychiatry two years ago. I am Consultant to the Veterans Administration, the Air Force, and Assistant Clinical Professor at Louisiana State University Post-Graduate School of Medicine in the Department of Psychiatry. I am fat and forty and very happy. I hear occasionally from DR. JOHN MCGHEE ('52), who is practicing Internal Medicine in Mobile, Alabama. "I have had very little contact with anybody else from Jefferson and would appreciate hearing from such."

DR. JOHN G. O'HURLEY, 140 Woodland Street, Suite 401, Hartford, Conn.

Dr. O'Hurley reports that he and his wife are expecting their fifth child sometime this month and that everything else is fine.

DR. HENRY S. TROSTLE, 659 Connell Drive, Pensacola, Fla.

Dr. Trostle writes of his activities: "After forty months at the Marine Air Corps facility in Japan as the Senior Medical Officer, we're back in the States. I had a thirty-bed hospital with a staff of ten to thirteen medical officers, nine nurses and seventy corpsmen. As a sideline, however, I was able to travel the Far East, Tokyo, Hong Kong and Bangkok. It was a fine tour. I am now stationed at the Naval School of Aviation Medicine in a residency for boards in Aviation Medicine."

1953

DR. JEROME ABRAMS, 323 West Ninth Street, Plainfield, N.J.

Dr. Abrams spoke on the subject of "Successful Pregnancy after Treatment of Cushing's Syndrome" recently at the Annual Meeting of the American College of Obstetricians and Gynecologists, District III, in Philadelphia.

DR. RICHARD W. OLIVER-SMITH, Director of Psychiatric Services, Hunterdon Medical Center, Flemington, N.J.

Dr. Oliver-Smith recently was appointed Director of Psychiatric Services at the Hunterdon Medical Center in Flemington. He succeeds DR. MORRIS PARMET,
Class of 1939, who resigned to assume directorship of the Irving Schwartz Child Center in Philadelphia. Dr. Oliver-Smith, a member of the American Psychiatric Association, took his psychiatric training at Cornell University and at the Psychiatric Institute of Columbia University.

DR. JOSEPH W. SIMPSON, 2391 Hickory Road, Plymouth Meeting, Pa.

Dr. Simpson, who worked for two years in Sumatra, Indonesia, with the Caltex Pacific Oil Company, has returned to this country and presently is a member of the Medical Department Staff at the DuPont Experimental Station in Wilmington, Delaware. He has written some interesting comments concerning his life in Indonesia and, in particular, Christmas in that country. Unfortunately, his letter reached us too late for publication in the December issue, so we are including some excerpts of it here.

Dr. Simpson writes: "Despite being about thirty miles North of the Equator (our chief oil camp located at Rambai, near the small town of Pakaburau), conditions there in the heart of a typical Equatorial Rain Forest (jungle) were quite satisfactory and the intensive general medical and surgical work the most satisfying I have ever experienced."

'I was a lone American physician with, initially, Dutch and English, and, later, completely British colleagues—an opportunity to judge our American standards of practice as compared with those of the Dutch and British, which, to say the least, was most edifying. That we were always understaffed by comparison with an ever-present, overwhelming patient load, with complaints ranging from tiger-induced injuries through tropical diseases and occasional leprosy to the common upper respiratory tract complaints, was as true there as it is in so many similar medical outposts in other undeveloped countries—and always equally challenging and, despite the fatigue, always extremely gratifying.'

Concerning Christmas in Indonesia, Dr. Simpson says, "In a Muslim country such as Sumatra is, though there is no Yuletide spirit per se at that time of the year, all of the Christian expatriots produced . . . the sort of Christmas one experienced at home. I had brought out with me an artificial but realistic looking Christmas tree with the necessary lighting and decorations. On Christmas Eve, the hi-fi system reproduced the carols we all love and the tree transformed a tropical home into an American one back in the States. There were wrapped gifts, that seemed always to have made the month or so passage-time from the States just in time to be there for Christmas Eve, and, if one closed the louvered doors and windows, listened to the carols, and heard the occasional heavy truck or bus going by on the road outside with its chains (used there during the rainy season . . .) why, the sounds and sights of Christmas fairly well duplicated a Pennsylvania one!! "It seemed as though (and so many physicians can say Amen! to this) a good part of each Christmas was spent handling emergencies at our small hospital; but in between, we had the turkey and stuffing and all that came with these—and the true feeling of the day with the time to think of our real home and one's family there. Being away from all that in Pennsylvania made one feel a bit saddened at the separation, but, all in all, Christmas was enjoyed and the feeling it engendered, as always, surpassed that of any other period of the year."

"Now I am again in the States. . . . I had planned to return to Indonesia, but a 'disc syndrome' and subsequent hospitalization cancelled my plans and shortly thereafter, I became a member of the Medical Department Staff for DuPont . . . where I am at present. Although not a jungle practice with all of its busy days and nights and the unexpected always popping up, it is a new field, and one in which I still find the satisfaction and interest never denied me in medical practice since leaving Jefferson in 1953."

DR. DONALD B. STEIN, JR., 3000 Robin Lane, Havertown, Pa.

Dr. Stein has been appointed Pathologist at the new Riddle Memorial Hospital, Media, Pennsylvania. A Fellow of the American College of Pathologists and the American Society of Clinical Pathology, Dr. Stein served a residency in his field at Fitzgerald-Mercy Hospital, Darby, Pennsylvania.

1954

DR. JOSEPH L. ABBOTT, 507 North High Street, West Chester, Pa.

Dr. Abbott is practicing Obstetrics and Gynecology in West Chester and raising six children: Joe, Jr., ten years, Eva Marie, eight years, Louis, six years, Theresa, four years, Andy, two years, and William, over a year.

DR. ROBERT M. ALLEN, U. S. Naval Hospital, San Diego, Calif.

Dr. Allen writes enthusiastically: "It (1962) has been a great year. In June I passed my boards in Radiology and Nuclear Medicine. Later, in November, I was married to Miss Frances DeLuca of New York City. We now live in San Diego where I am assigned to the Naval Hospital."

Dr. Biedlingmaier is practicing Radiology in Michigan. He became a Diplomate of the American Board of Radiology in December 1961. Dr. and Mrs. Biedlingmaier have three children: Paula, six years, Mark, two years, and the latest addition, Tom, approaching one year.

DR. CLYDE E. HARRIGER, 636 Scalp Avenue, Johnstown, Pa.

Dr. Harriger writes: "My practice is going well. I took in a partner two years ago and it has turned out very well. We do general practice—no surgery or specialization, since Johnstown is becoming quite progressive medically—which pleases me no end. We had Dr. JOHN H. KILLOUGH (Associate Professor of Medicine) from Jeff recently speaking on Hypertension and he was well received.

"We’ve started a Jefferson chapter here. Dr. PAUL Bowers (Class of 1937) was up to talk to us and we had a good turnout."

Dr. Hassel writes: "A few things have happened since I last wrote. Our fourth son was born on December 7, 1962. I am also on the part-time faculty of Temple University Medical School at their Skin and Cancer Unit. We now have about 15 residents in Dermatology at Skin and Cancer. It has been a rewarding and stimulating experience to work with this fine group."

DR. ROBERT A. HINRICHS, 423 Fernleaf Avenue, Corona del Mar, Calif.

After passing his boards in Surgery in April 1962, Dr. Hinrichs moved to the West Coast in June. His office is in Newport Beach, California.

DR. GERALD LABRIOLA, 173 Meadow Street, Naugatuck, Conn.

Dr. Labriola is kept busy as the only Pediatrician in Naugatuck, which has a population of twenty thousand. He and his wife have three children—ages five years, two years, and almost one year.

DR. LOWELL D. MANN, P.O. Madhipura, N.E.R. District Saharsa, Bihar, India.

Dr. Mann, who is serving as a missionary at the Madhipura Christian Hospital in India, answered the Publication Committee's request for a letter concerning Christmas customs in his 'adopted' country. Unfortunately, his reply arrived too late for inclusion in the December issue, so we are including the following portions of his letter which should be of interest to his Classmates here at home.

Dr. Mann writes: "Christmas celebrations in Saharsa District, Bihar State, India, are observed by perhaps only one thousand people out of a total population of three million in the district. Most are Hindu by religion.

"My work is in a small twenty-bed hospital with out-patient clinics five days a week averaging 85 patients a day. We do only minor surgery, with relatively few obstetrical cases, and concentrate on tuberculosis, leprosy and parasitic diseases such as kala azar, amebiasis and hookworm. There are two American nurses and one medical technician working with me. In addition, there are eight or nine Indian personnel on our staff.

"Since I have been here, two ten-bed wards have been built; one is a general ward and the other is a tuberculosis ward. Laboratory and X-ray facilities have been established; one laboratory aide has been trained here. Before the wards were built, there were bamboo and thatch wards with mud floors. It was impossible to give nursing care in these.

"During my three years here, I have learned Hindi from the people and have spent two different periods in language school totaling six months.

"Christmas is what we make it. In a radius of twenty-five miles, there is a total of twelve American and Canadian adults and six children. We get together before Christmas to have an American dinner, but go back to our homes to celebrate Christmas Day.

"There is no large city near us; there are no department stores, but the shops have the necessary staples we need to live and are the typical shops found in any Indian bazaar. So there are no decorations, no bright lights; Santa Claus does not arrive the day after Thanksgiving (no Thanksgiving Day); there are no Christmas carols, no snow or Christmas trees, no rush to get your Christmas shopping finished before Christmas Eve.

"There are two evergreen trees in large concrete pots which can be brought in the house for decorating. We bring most of the decorations from the United States; some things can be obtained in Calcutta, Delhi or Bombay for a price. We use our decorations, Christmas music from our record player, Christmas cards and gifts from home to create our Christmas atmosphere. We do have plenty of red poinsettias growing in the yard.

"We invite our friends in for tea and share our special Christmas cookies and candies.

... The church interior is decorated with brightly colored streamers—not only red and green are used, but orange, blue, yellow and purple, too.

... There is a special Christmas Eve church service by candlelight at 6:00 p.m. when the Annunciation story is read from Luke's Gospel. Afterwards, the Indian Christians like to use fireworks like we do in the United States on July 4th. Then the Christians decorate their homes, make special Indian sweets and later go caroling.

"The day after Christmas, we pack sleeping bags and food in the trailer, fill the jeep with people and leave for a two- or three-day camping trip to visit the Christian villages among the aboriginal group called Santals. This trip means we forget all about time and schedules, for our day begins at sunrise. . . . We sleep in a bamboo house plastered with mud in our sleeping bags placed on straw on the mud floor. We often share the quarters with the family's prized possession of chickens. . . . We visit about three or four different villages a day, but stop in the village where we plan to spend the night about 4:00 p.m. . . . After the evening meal, the group settles down for an all-night singing session. I must admit I can't think of a more pleasant way to fall to sleep than to the sound of Santali music!"

DR. ALBERT N. MORGENSE, 454 Parker Street, Newark 4, N.J.

Dr. Morgese has completed one year of a residency in Orthopedics at the New Jersey Orthopaedic Hospital. He has three children, all boys; the oldest is seventeen and has applied for college.

DR. ROBERT A. SMITH, 300 East 9th Street, Chester, Pa.

Dr. Smith maintains his general practice in Chester and Essington, Pennsylvania. In addition to raising two children—Donna, five, and Marcy, three—Dr. Smith and his wife, Elaine, both are private pilots. Recently, he was appointed Medical Examiner for the Federal Aviation Agency.

DR. OTTO YUM-TO AU, 1006 Brooks Street, Ann Arbor, Mich.

Dr. Au attended the annual meeting of the American Society of Plastic Surgery in Honolulu, October 1962, and reports that he had a nice time. While in Kaneohe, he saw Dr. HENRY H. L. YIM (Class of 1956) and says that Dr. Yim is doing very well.

1958

DR. PAUL E. BERKEBILE, 349 Main Street, Meyersdale, Pa.

In December, Dr. Berkebile spoke to the Meyersdale Rotary Club on "Mechanics of Medical Education." He gave a chronological report of his training for the medical profession from the time he was graduated from high school in 1950. through his college training and until the present time, with comments on changes in the medical field. He also discussed drugs for diseases and vaccines, and the testing of drugs.

Dr. Joseph J. Glorioso, Western Pennsylvania Hospital, 4800 Friendship Avenue, Pittsburgh 24, Pa.

Dr. Glorioso is Chief Surgical Resident at Western Pennsylvania Hospital in Pittsburgh. He expects to be called into the Air Force upon the completion of his residency.

Dr. George F. Hewson, Jr., 1241 Anderson Avenue, Palisade, N.J.

Dr. Hewson writes concerning his medical activities: "After internship at St. Vincent's Hospital in New York City, I spent two years in General Surgery there. St. Vincent's is a fine hospital and I accumulated a large experience in trauma, particularly fractures. With this interest in trauma, I abandoned my plans for General Surgery and am now in my second year of a three-year Orthopedic program at St. Luke's Hospital in New York City. . . . I couldn't be happier with Orthopedics—something which never entered my mind back in 1958.

"My wife presented me with a son, our first, Kim Wallace, on July 1, 1962.

"I ran into Dr. Frank T. Carney ('58) and his wife Sue and Dr. Joseph J. Glorioso ('58) at the College of Surgeons meeting in Atlantic City. It was great to see them and we all agreed that we're looking forward to a bang-up reunion party."

Dr. Donald E. Praiss, 1566 Mt. Ephraim Avenue, Camden 4, N.J.

Dr. Praiss recently returned from three years in Germany with the United States Army. He is now in the Graduate School of Medicine of the University of Pennsylvania taking Urology, and will follow this with three years of Urology Residency at the Graduate Hospital of the University. Dr. and Mrs. Praiss are living in Camden.

Dr. Robert P. Shillingford, 409 Oak Lane, Wayne, Pa.

Dr. Shillingford is completing his Pediatric Residency at the University of Pennsylvania Hospital, and expects to start practicing in the Bryn Mawr (Pa.) or Valley Forge area in the Fall of 1963.

1959

Dr. Norman Charles Jablon, Psychiatry Resident, Temple University Hospital, 3401 N. Broad Street, Philadelphia, Pa.

Before going to Okinawa, he was in San Antonio for eleven weeks taking a flight surgeon's course. As a flight surgeon, Dr. O'Rourke reports that he is doing a "fair amount" of flying but as a passenger only. Concerning his activities, he writes: "I have been in Japan four times already and should soon be getting some jet rides as I have now obtained my helmet and the flying equipment. I'm looking forward to this very much but at the same time am a little apprehensive.

"Ran into Dr. George Riffle ('60) shortly after I arrived here and he was as chubby as ever. He has since left and is now stationed at Pensacola, Florida. He is in the Navy Medical Corps...."

"We had a little girl on October 16, 1962, and we named her Jennifer Ann. She's a little doll and we're so proud of her. My wife, Sandy, joined me over here in August which pleased me no end."

DR. GEORGE N. RIFFLE, II, MC, USNR, c/o U.S. Naval Hospital, Pensacola, Fla.

Dr. Riffle returned to the United States in August 1962 after serving one year with the 3rd Marine Division on Okinawa. Did You Know...

Doctor John Revere, M.D., the youngest son of Colonel Paul Revere, the revolutionary patriot, held the Chair of "The Theory and Practice of Physick" at Jefferson Medical College from 1831 to 1841, and served as Dean of Jefferson's faculty in 1839-40.

In 1841, he resigned his teaching position, a post he had held with distinction, and accepted a Chair at the University of New York. Until his death in 1847, he was regarded as one of the most distinguished men in the medical profession.

The association of the Revere family with Jefferson did not end with the resignation of Professor Revere in 1841, but was destined, by a circumstance of fate, to endure another eighty-seven years, terminating upon the death, in 1928, of Lady Grace Revere Osler who, before her marriage to Sir William Osler, was the widow of Doctor Samuel W. Gross. She outlived her first husband by nearly forty years, and, when her will was opened, it was found that she had left 5000 pounds to establish a lectureship on tumors in memory of Professor Gross. This memorial has been designated "The Samuel Gross Lectures on Tumors," commemorating his special interest in malignant tumors.

Grace Linzee Revere, grandniece of Doctor John Revere and great-granddaughter of Paul Revere, met her first husband at a party in Philadelphia given by some mutual friends. Dr. Gross became enchanted by a "vision" in a gown of pink velvet and, begging an introduction from his host, made up his mind to win her. They met again the following summer in Bar Harbor, and were married in Boston in 1876. She was twenty-two years of age and he seventeen years older.

Dr. Samuel D. Gross was delighted with his new daughter-in-law, who often acted as the widower's hostess. The elder Gross was the Dean of American Surgeons, and his house usually was thronged with personal and professional friends. He resigned his chair of surgery at Jefferson in 1882, and his son, with J. H. Brinton, M.D., were elected to hold it jointly.

Along with S. Weir Mitchell, M.D., a graduate of Jefferson, Class of 1850, Dr. Samuel W. Gross had been largely instrumental in persuading Dr. William Osler, whose fame had been spreading, to leave Montreal and accept the Chair of Professor of Clinical Medicine at the University of Pennsylvania. During his four years of residence in Philadelphia, Dr. Osler was a frequent and welcome guest at the Gross home at 1112 Walnut Street.

Grace Revere and Samuel W. Gross remained happily married for thirteen years, until his death in 1899, following a sudden and virulent attack of pneumonia at the comparatively early age of fifty-two.

Dr. Osler was one of three attending physicians of S. W. Gross on his death bed. As he lay dying, he extracted a promise from them that they would look after Mrs. Gross and do all they could for her. Upon Dr. Osler's resignation from the University of Pennsylvania to fill the Chair of Medicine at the newly-formed Johns Hopkins School of Medicine, he stated in his valedictory address:

"We mourn the loss sustained in death of one of her (Jefferson's) most distinguished teachers, a man who bore with honour an honoured name and who added lustre to the profession in this city."

Three years later, the widow Gross married the man destined to become Sir William Osler, Regius Professor of Medicine at Oxford University.

Our appreciation to Dr. Edward C. Britt, Class of 1933, who sent us the above material.
